Founders Day Proclamation

At our recent 42nd National Convention held in Palm Springs, California, Delta Zeta adopted a new structure—a structure that we hope will meet the needs of both our alumnae and collegians as we head toward our 100th birthday and beyond.

For alumnae the new structure allows for the continuation of the traditional structured alumnae chapter. In addition, there are provisions for a non-traditional, unstructured alumnae chapter to be recognized in hopes of involving more of our Delta Zeta alumnae sisters.

The new structure contains revised programming for our collegiate chapters which we feel will better meet the needs of our college women as they prepare to enter the working world.

The Delta Zeta Foundation had a very important and visible role in this 42nd Convention. The Foundation underwrote the cost of our workshop facilitator and our hazing workshop presented at Convention. Beta Xi collegiate chapter, Auburn University, sponsored the opening speaker through a donation to the Delta Zeta Foundation. These events show how our Foundation dollars can be used to educate Delta Zetas in many different ways.

Those in attendance at the Convention enjoyed stimulating speakers, educational and motivational workshops, inspiration, fun, and sisterhood. Sisters left with excitement and renewed dedication to our Delta Zeta. On this Founders Day, I challenge each of you to reflect upon our Founders, our ideals and your own initiation. Delta Zeta IS a lifetime commitment, so renew your pledge to support our Delta Zeta in the way that best suits you — through your active participation as an alumna through one of the new avenues for alumnae, and/or through the Foundation. But DO support Delta Zeta. We need YOU!

Happy Founders Day!

Given under my hand and seal, I proclaim the twenty-fourth of October, in the year of Our Lord nineteen hundred and ninety-six, as Founders Day.

From Dreams to Reality..

From its earliest beginnings as the settlement of the Agna Callente band of Cahulla Indians, Palm Springs has lured the rich, the famous and the nature lover.

Its desert location is a land of extremes — heat and cold, bright lights and deep shadows. There are soft sand dunes and deeply eroded cliffs, golden poppies and spiny cacti, creeping tortoises and soaring golden eagles — viewed against a background of jagged mountains.

Palm Springs and the Riviera Resort lured some 500 Delta Zetas from across the United States and Canada for the Sorority's 42nd National Convention starting on June 21. It took two airports to accommodate the arriving delegates and visitors. Luckier ones landed at Palm Springs, others were bussed from the Ontario airport some miles away. And of course, there was the usual lost luggage, but accommodating sisters loaned everything from opening banquet formals to white initiation clothing!

And finally, our long-awaited Convention was happening! The Grand Ballroom was aglow when the National Council, Past National Officers, Foundation Trustees and Delta Zeta Women of the Year were introduced and escorted to two tiers of head tables.

"From Dreams to Reality . . . Reach for the Stars" was indeed the theme of the evening as keynote speaker Barbara Meshad Dooley, Auburn-BΞ, entertained her audience with humor, much food for thought and a deeply caring attitude.

Barbara, the wife of Vincent Dooley, the legendary football coach of the Georgia Bulldogs, hosts an informal radio talk show from Atlanta, Georgia, three times a week. One of the most popular banquet speakers in the South, she is author of the book, Put Me in Coach (Article in The LAMP, Fall 1992). Barbara did indeed set the tone for the days to come. Her appearance was made possible by a donation to the Foundation from her chapter, Beta Xi at Auburn.

This opening banquet with Vice President of Collegiate Affairs Karly Klemp Burns and National Treasurer Ruth Weider Patterson presiding included volunteer recognition of our "oh, so important" college chapter directors. And there was the Alice Huenefeld Award for Delta Zeta's most outstanding CCD. This year's recipient was Christine Martin, CCD for Beta Tau chapter at Nebraska Wesleyan University.

Florence Hood Miner presented her FHM Award for outstanding juniors to five this year, and Julie Anderson of Beta Tau was there to receive her pendant from our Living Legend herself.

The actual formal opening of Convention was at 8 a.m. on Saturday with National President Sandra McAlister Nesbitt presiding. The meeting started with the introduction of the new college and alumnae chapters of this triennium. The college chapters are Alfred University-OΦ, Brock University-OT, Columbus College-ΛΨ, and Western State (Colorado) College-EA. Columbus and Western are recolonizations of former chapters.

Alumnae chapters introduced include Atlanta-Stone Mountain (Georgia) Bay Area (Texas), Inland Empire (California), Plano-

"GML Girls" at convention included these familiar faces.

Collin County (Texas), Wilson (North Carolina), Morehead Area (Kentucky) and Erie County (Pennsylvania).

Founder Mary Collins is the third founder to be recognized in biennium years before 2002. Reflections on her life and times were given by Florence Miner and Lucile Crowell Cooks.

The "State of the Sorority" address was delivered by Sandra Nesbitt and various committees reported. Among these was the long-awaited report of the Structure Committee, a report seven years in the making. This was presented to the Convention by Past National President Norma Minch Andrisek, assisted by other members of the committee.

That afternoon was devoted to break-out sessions for discussion of the structure report.

A financial seminar later in the afternoon was chaired by Treasurer Ruth Patterson with a representative from Coopers & Lybrand providing additional information.

Ritual Chairman Karen Kind Veitch and members of Iota Upsilon chapter at CSU/Fullerton performed a perfect initiation service for two very special Convention initiates, Missy Blunt Lohrey and Caren Metcalf Hansel, longtime staff members at National Headquarters.

The Initiation Banquet followed, with National Secretary and Director of New Member Education Jeanine Petersen Triplett presiding.

Presentation of the six 1996 Grace Mason Lundy Award winners was by two of our "GML girls" — Director of Membership Services Deborah Raziano and Director of Extension Jamie Hammill Pyne.

Caryatides Awards for new member education programs were presented by Jeanine Triplett and our Convention initiates were introduced by Sandra Nesbitt. Jamie Pyne's delivery of The Legend of the Loving Cup concluded a traditionally special evening of ritual.

Sunday morning brought conventioners to the tennis court bleachers for a panoramic picture taking session and then it was on to a moving memorial service led by NPC Delegate Sandra Sebrell Bailey and Past National Officer Charlotte Davis. Then it was back to more business meeting followed by the Alumnae Rose Luncheon.

Vice President of Alumnae Affairs Pamela McClure Cronenwett presided at this luncheon where alumnae chapters were recognized for achievement; Golden Rose and Order of the Pearl members were recognized and presentations made. The 13 new recipients of the ACHOTH Award for long and dedicated service at the local level were announced. Delta Zeta volunteers — Province Collegiate and Alumnae Directors, National Committee Chairmen, and The LAMP editor — were acknowledged as vital role players for Delta Zeta.

The afternoon was devoted to workshops, all titled Power Reach I.

The Kennel Club with Director Debbie Raziano and Director Denise Williams McCullars leading the pack played to a packed house audience. All conventioners were recognized but only those with five or more were allowed to participate in platform woofing and howling. Awards were given in each class and, of course, there was a Best of Show.

And so it went ... and then on to pool-side for a roaring fun night. The Riviera provided bountiful picnic buffet tables, a DJ provided music and the Delta Zetas did the entertaining. Debbie Raziano and Denise McCullars continued with the program which paused only long enough for Extension Director Jamie Pyne to announce a new colony at Santa Clara University, and Olan Mills' Jaime Davis presented a $2,000 check to the Delta Zeta Foundation.

Later, National Historian Florence Miner entertained a number of delegates with her "Once Upon a Time in Delta Zeta" memories in a special fireside session.

Monday brought the Special Friends Breakfast hosted by the Delta Zeta Foundation for those special category donors present. Another business meeting included reports from the National Constitution and Bylaws Committee and the Election and Tellers Committee.

Power Reach II workshops filled the afternoon hours and then it was time for the Collegiate Awards Banquet.

Vice President of Membership Lynnda Wolf Hoefler presided at the presentation of the collegiate program awards. This included recognition for activities, academics, social, sorority education, newsletter, financial excellence, standards and membership. Sigma chapter at Louisiana State University received a standing ovation for 36 consecutive years of filling quota. That concluded the program.

Tuesday brought another business meeting which concluded reports and the adoption of the completely revised Constitution and Code of Regulations. The selection of the 1998 Nominating Committee finished the official business of the Convention.

Foundation President Elsie Wheeler McTee presided at the Foundation luncheon where Trustees and former Trustees presented awards for alumnae and collegiate philanthropy, scholarships, Hearing Help Grants, collegiate and alumnae awards, the Mary Margaret Fore Philanthropy Award, the Joan Dondrea Lowry Public Relations Award and the Arlene Newman Marshall Tribute Award.

That afternoon NPC Delegate Sandra Bailey introduced the Carolyn Barnes Gullatt Symposium speaker, Mr. David Westol. His appearance was made possible through a gift to the Foundation in honor of Elsie McTee from Omicron Alpha chapter at St. Mary's University.

Past National President Marvona Easley Tavlin presided at the Installation Banquet and the presentation of the "biggies" — those coveted honors so cherished by the chapters. Assisting Marvona were members of the National Council.

Marvona also conducted the installation of the 1996-1998 National Council. In a moving candlelight service the following officers were installed: President Sandra McAlister Nesbitt, Vice President of Membership Lynnda Wolf Hoefler, Vice President of Alumnae Affairs Pamela McClure Cronenwett, Vice President of Collegiate Affairs Karly Klemp Burns, Secretary Jeanine Petersen Triplett, Treasurer Ruth Weider Patterson and Directors Deborah Raziano and Denise Williams McCullars.

As the Council moved around the ballroom floor lighting individual candles, Delta Zeta Lamps are Burning was on the lips of everyone.

Marvona Tavlin then pinned the President's Badge on Sandra Nesbitt and our two gavels, the ivory one the gift of Beta Phi Alpha so long ago, were given back to Sandi for her second term as President. With the singing of Convention Lights, the 42nd National Convention of the Delta Zeta Sorority came to a conclusion. The last recessional ... and Delta Zetas had gone from dreams to reality ... they had reached the stars!

"It is fatal to let any dog know that he is funny, for he immediately loses his head and starts bawling it up." P.G. Woodhouse Presiding were Debbie Razziano and Denise Williams McCullars who began by educating the first timers on the long-standing tradition of "Pups & Hounds."

At the Lucky 13 Convention in Madison, Wisconsin, at the Tuesday, July 8 Luncheon, the program listed in quotations, "Convention Pups & Hounds Luncheon." This little stunt was the brainchild of then The LAMP editor, Margaret Huenefeld Pease, as "just a little something special and different to do."

Florence Hood Miner introduced ears at the 1964 convention in Cincinnati by presenting brown felt ears to everyone who had attended ten or more conventions.

Pretty soon everyone had to get into the act! At the 1975 convention all the pups, first time convention attendees, had to wear paper earflaps and bark once. The tradition and fun took off from there. Pups & Hounds has been celebrated in several different ways: breakfast, luncheons, dinners and finally, as the Kennel Club.

The 1996 litter, attending their first convention, led off with a resounding arf and those pups attending two, three or four conventions quickly jumped into the fray. The more experienced canines were classified into Sporting, Terrier, Toy, Herding and Non-Sporting Groups. Attending five to eighteen conventions and possessing the finest pedigrees in the entire Greek world, they bounded to the stage to yelp, woof and bark their lineage. An assortment of "ear wear" was proudly displayed, including peacock feathers, do not disturb signs, green lamé and sequins, doilies, confetti, roses, turtles and golden lamps.

Carol Sharpe Harper and Gwen Moss McKeeman, members of the Working Group and attending their twenty-first convention, may be required to attend a refresher obedience class before their next appearance at The Club. Carol, urged to "speak," yipped for her supper while Gwen tossed dog biscuits.

The Hound Group, the most revered of all dogs, was led by Lucile Crowell Cooks, sporting a black sequined headband with attached ears, appearing at her twenty-third convention. The last to take the stage was the Grand Champion Hound, Florence Hood Miner. The Great One was dressed for the occasion wearing spiffy pink rosebud decorated Keds and matching pink and green beaded ankle bracelets. The audience howled its adulation as her handlers listed the sites of the thirty-one conventions she had attended. She was presented with the blue ribbon and declared Best of Show.

Foundation Focus

Special Friends Breakfast

The Special Friends Breakfast honoring alumnae who have donated more than $250 to the Delta Zeta Foundation during the triennium was held on Monday, June 24. Presidents of alumnae and collegiate chapters who have donated at least $2,000 to the Foundation during the triennium were also honored, as were their college chapter directors.

Major donors to the Foundation during the triennium were given a snow-scene photograph of the Delta Zeta Historical Museum and Headquarters. Those in attendance so honored were Sandra Sebrell Bailey, Carol Sharpe Harper, Joan Dondrea Lowry and Florence Hood Miner.

The trustees thanked all present for their support of the Foundation and gave an update on Foundation activities. A slide presentation showing the Historical Museum and Headquarters following the renovation and addition was shown. It was announced that this slide presentation, with accompanying script, can be borrowed from Headquarters for presentation to local chapters.

Foundation Luncheon

Trustees of the Delta Zeta Foundation hosted the Foundation Luncheon on Tuesday, June 25. Following lunch and introduction of special friends of the Foundation, information and awards were given by Foundation Trustees.

A Rose Recognition Pin for individual donors at three lifetime giving levels was announced. Those in attendance who were eligible to receive the new recognition pins were honored. An unadorned rose lapel pin goes to each alumna when her lifetime giving level reaches $1,000; a rose with pearl when the $5,000 level is reached; and a rose with diamond when the lifetime giving reaches $10,000.

Twenty-five scholastic scholarships, loans and Elizabeth Coulter Stephenson scholarships totaling $32,754 were announced. Seven Hearing Help Grants for a total of $1,750 were awarded to local

Convention Welcomes Two Initiates

Two very special friends of Delta Zeta were 1996 Convention Initiates.

Caren Metcalf Hansel has been on the staff of Delta Zeta National Headquarters since the sorority relocated to Oxford, Ohio, in 1983. During her 13 years of employment she has diligently worked to provide her expertise in special projects, graphic designs and secretarial functions. She is the Jill-of-all-trades in our National Headquarters and is currently the coordinator of our Publications Department and Special Projects.

Caren, wife of Corby and mother of Cameron, Chloe and Carly, is the friendly voice on the telephone many of you have come to know over the years as you worked with the National Headquarters.

Missy Blunt Lohrey is no stranger to our Delta Zeta family and she has been employed at National Headquarters since 1986. Missy is Executive Assistant and responsible for meetings and special event coordination as well as working with the National Council and Executive Director on many other assignments.

Missy is married to Darren and they reside in Darrrtown, Ohio, along with Lloyd, their Golden Retriever.

Missy and Caren were attending their second and third conventions this year, and it was exciting to welcome them into our circle of friendship.

Convention Initiates Caren Hansel and Missy Lohrey with National President Sandra Nesbitt.

Olan Mills Chosen Official Composite Company

Delta Zeta is pleased to announce that Olan Mills College and University Division has been chosen as our official composite company.

Olan Mills is the oldest and largest in the business. However, we have endorsed them because of the unique offer they bring to our chapters:

- guaranteed 6-8 week delivery from the photography date
- instant video proofing for better quality and instant results
- guaranteed lowest price
- no contract penalties
- full-time, trained, courteous professionals
- no hidden add-on charges
- insured Airborne Overnight shipping
- guaranteed satisfaction.

At the recent convention in Palm Springs Olan Mills National Sales Manager Jaime Davis presented a $2,000 check to the Andrisek Educational Fund of the Delta Zeta Foundation. Olan Mills has committed to use a portion of the moneys from every Delta Zeta composite to continue funding the Educational Fund.

Your editor asked for this shot of Delta Zetas setting a convention record ... they're all expectant mothers, expecting legacies, of course!

Collegians from our new colony at Santa Clara University met some ΔZ sisters at fun night.

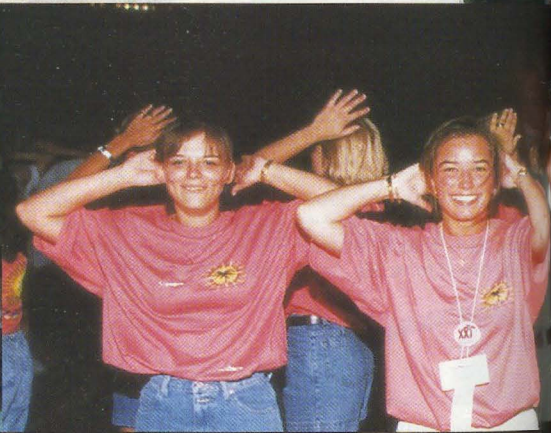

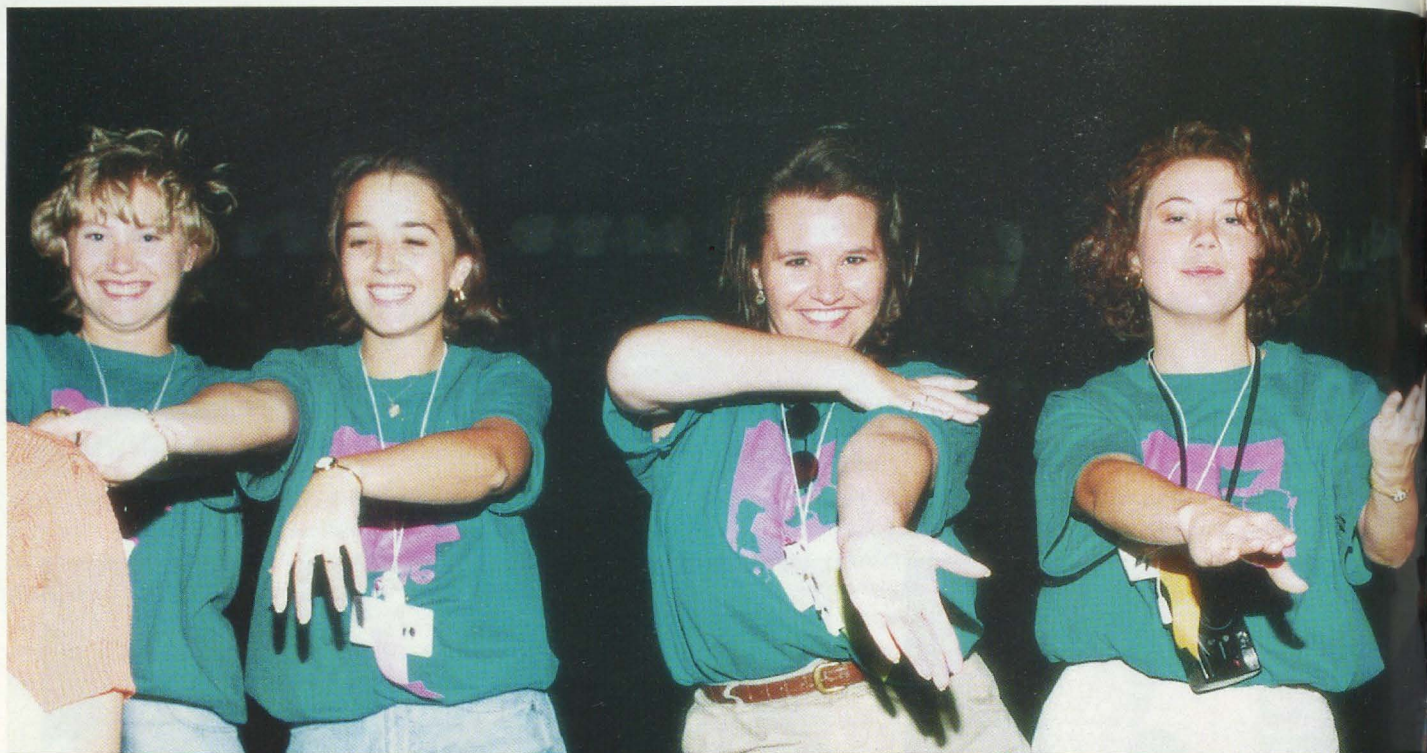

Foundation Trustees: Standing, Marjorie Klingensmith Lovewell, Anne Marie Jones Gavin, Nancy Jones Holli-man, Ellen Stavros. Seated: Norma Minch Andrisek, Elsie Wheeler McTee, Sandra McAlister Nesbitt.

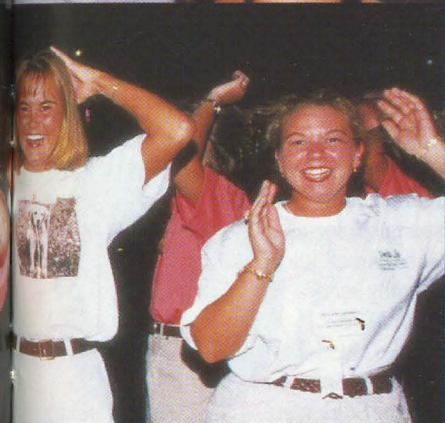

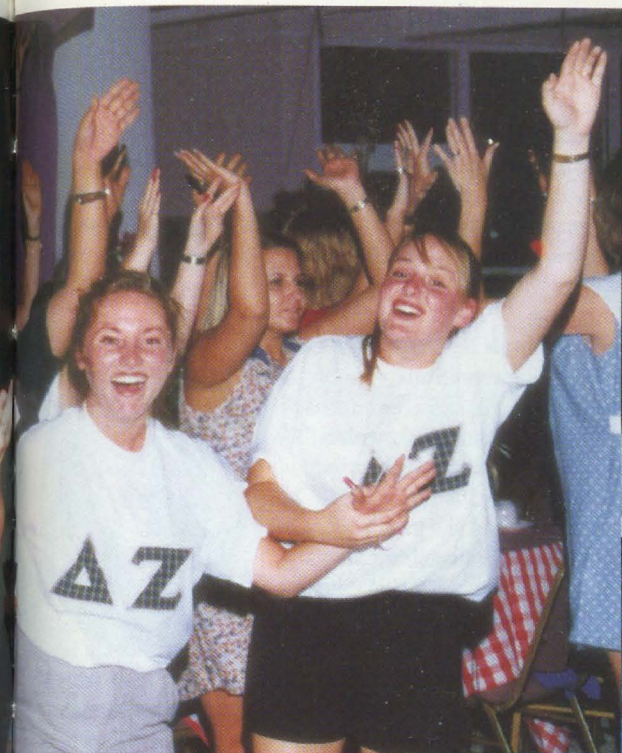

Women of the Year in attendance at Convention were 1973 Lucile Crowell Cooks, 1982 Ethel Mae Bishop Gullette and 1995 Joan Dondrea Lowry.

Five Receive Florence Hood Miner Award

The Florence Hood Miner award is given to members of Delta Zeta who are in their junior year and have made the greatest contributions to their college chapter and Delta Zeta through outstanding leadership on campus while maintaining a good academic record.

Named after National Historian Florence Miner, the award is in recognition of her service as National Vice President, Editor of The LAMP of Delta Zeta, and many other national offices. The five most outstanding juniors in 1996 include:

Julie Anderson Nebraska Wesleyan University-BT

Julie has just received the prestigious $30,000 Truman Scholarship for Nebraska. This scholarship is given to college juniors to pursue a career in public service and recognizes students for exceptional leadership, academic achievements, community and public service and potential for a career in government or for a non-profit organization. She is a Board of Governors Student Representative, Board of Trustees Student Representative, serves on the Student Affairs Senate, on Panhellenic Council and the President's Student Advisory Council. Honors include Alpha Mu Gamma, Order of Omega and Pi Sigma Alpha. She served her chapter as Panhellenic representative and executive board coordinator. Julie's major is political science and her GPA is 3.91.

Ashley Elizabeth Crosby William Jewell College-ZP

Another achiever in academics, Ashley carries a 3.78 GPA while working summer jobs and in the William Jewell Admissions Office. She served as vice president of the WJC Student Body and as Vice President of Panhellenic, coordinating, designing and evaluating all events and materials related to rush. As a WJC Host, she presented speeches for Admissions and led tours for students and guests. Pledge Class President, Freshman Mentor, Presidential Selection Committee, Chapel Choir, Concert Choir, Student Senator, Truman Scholar Week Host, Greek Week Chairman are just a few of her campus activities. Named WJC outstanding freshman Greek, Ashley has been accepted as a U.S. Congressional Intern for the fall 1996. She has a double major in Public Relations and English.

Rachel Elizabeth Dopher Southwest Missouri State University-EN

Academics, activities and involvement — these three words describe Rachel Dopher. She hit the SWMSU campus running and she hasn't stopped. Her academic achievements are outstanding, with a 3.9 GPA. She is a Presidential Scholar and her resume includes everything from being a SOAR leader for the university's orientation program to Panhellenic Director of Computer Rush. Student Activities Council, Economics Club, American Marketing Association, Golden Key, Phi Eta Sigma, Phi Kappa Phi, and Gamma Pi Alpha are a few of her honors and affiliations. She has served as New Member Educator for her chapter.

Melissa Ewald Creighton University-CH

As president-elect of Panhellenic Council, Melissa was responsible for coordinating Greek Week. Some of the events included community service fundraising for Nebraska AIDS Project, Greek Olympics and a Greek mixer. She implemented a Greek Sing which proved popular with the students. She will become Panhellenic president this term. Omicron Delta Kappa, Order of Omega, Phi Sigma, and CU Honors program are campus activities. Chapter activities have included Panhellenic representative, house resident and rush counselor. Melissa is a biology major with a 3.8 GPA.

Amy Anne Kimball University of Alabama-AI

From the moment Amy Kimball stepped on the Alabama campus she has been an active part of the most elite organizations. It began with her selection to Freshman Forum and continued with Alpha Lambda Delta, Phi Eta Sigma, Order of Omega, Mortar Board, Omicron Delta Kappa, Blue Key, and Rho Lambda. She served as president of the Anderson Society and XXXI. A member of the Homecoming Court, Amy served her chapter as New Member Educator and Panhellenic Delegate. She is a marketing major with a 3.35 GPA.

1996 GML AWARD WINNERS

"What I see in the GML charm, besides being lovely to look at, as anyone can see, is more than a piece of jewelry to a Delta Zeta. Note first that it's a heart of gold. It is definitely a feminine heart, as shown by the delicate border. Within this heart rests the rose of Delta Zeta. See how meaningful the spray has been made. The sturdy stem sports leaves, a bud, a rose in full bloom. Yes, even a thorn, as is true of all real roses. The jewels of Delta Zeta are here too. In the bud there is a diamond, a dew drop, or maybe even a tear. Other jewels, the pearl, fill the heart of the full blown rose. The entire spray clearly represents the rose of love and service that fills the hearts of the Grace Mason Lundy girls."

Grace Mason Lundy

It has been 49 years since the first Grace Mason Lundy Award winners were announced. Joining this illustrious group which saw includes more than 300 outstanding Delta Zetas are six young women who are now entitled to wear the insignia which represents this honor, not only in memory of Grace Lundy but as achievers within their own chapters.

Gina Marie Berti Fort Hays State- ΔΩ

Gina served as president of Delta Omega and almost single-handedly redecorated and landscaped the chapter house. An Interior Design major, Gina did much of the papering and wall preparation herself. Under her leadership, the chapter was completely revitalized and the chapter responded to her enthusiasm with a totally new outlook. On campus Gina was a member of GAMMA, the Creative Arts Society and New Freshman Pre-Enrollment Counselor. She also served as Greek Advisor for prospective FHSU students. Gina wrote, "Delta Zeta has taught me to think clearly and to always look for the best solution. I have felt the love and undying support for sisters and learned many things, but more importantly, Delta Zeta has taught me about myself."

Dawn Bowmaster Nebraska Wesleyan-BT

A sophomore president of a 100-member chapter is a challenge Dawn met well. She also served as Vice President of New Member Education. A New Student Orientation Leader for four years at Nebraska Wesleyan, Dawn carried Dean's List honors, numerous scholarships, participated in Circle K, Union Programs, University Concert Band to name a few. "I am excited for graduation and hope to be a CCD someday to give back what I have gained from my collegiate years as a Delta Zeta. This is a very special bond ..." she said. Dawn will travel as a 1996-1997 Chapter Consultant.

Sherry Lynn Bradley Gallaudet University-OΣ

Also a chapter president, Sherry was a founding member of Omicron Sigma at Gallaudet University. Named best freshman woman and Miss Deaf Ohio, Sherry maintained Dean's List honors while actively participating in varsity basketball and softball. She was named Homecoming Queen last fall. "I am looking forward to becoming an elementary school teacher for the deaf," Sherry wrote. "I will use all of the skills I learned from Delta Zeta and will become an active alumna member because I will NEVER forget my commitments to Delta Zeta."

Amanda Enclave Nicholls State-KA

A chapter president, Amanda also served as Vice President of Membership and Panhellenic Delegate. Dean's List, President's List, Order of Helena (outstanding sorority member) and Order of Omega are listed as honors and Amanda was named 1996 Dream Girl of Province XVIII. Amanda said, "Graduation for me only represents a commencement. I welcome and look forward to continuing my growth as a member of the Bayou Alumnae chapter. Delta Zeta's love and support gives me the initiative to continue to grow and to bloom as an example of a perfect Killarney Rose."

Jennifer Lee Franklin William Jewell College-ZP

Also a two-term president, Jennifer carried a 3.96 GPA and graduated last December with a Bachelor of Arts in International Business. She was named Outstanding Greek Woman for both her freshman and junior years, served on the Committee on Campus Organizations, belonged to Mortar Board, Sigma Delta Pi, Delta Mu Delta, Cardinelle and Students in Free Enterprise. Jennifer wrote, "Delta Zeta has broadened my views, my goals, and my life as a whole. It has taught me respect for the individual and the necessity for good organization and communication ... it has given me that special bond of sisterhood that I grew up hearing so much about."

Alyssa A. Schnack Northwest Missouri State-EP

A two term president of Epsilon Rho, Alyssa was also actively involved in a wide variety of organizations on campus including Order of Omega, Mortar Board, Alpha Chi, Team Leadership, Cardinal Key and Phi Eta Sigma. Alyssa was an excellent student in a very challenging major. She received her Bachelor of Science Degree in Statistics with a minor in computer science, graduating Magna Cum Laude last December. Alyssa wrote: "Delta Zeta has provided me with endless opportunities, self-confidence, and most importantly, friends and support."

Alumnae Chapters Write ...

The ARLINGTON (Texas) alumnae chapter celebrated its 30th anniversary in May with almost 40 alumnae and guests attending and reminiscing over dinner, a chocolate birthday cake and three decades of scrapbooks. The chapter raised funds for Arlington Independent School District's Deaf Education Program and the House Ear Institute through its annual bowling tournament with proceeds of \$1,000 to be presented in the fall. Alumnae joined colleagues at UTA/Arlington- $\Gamma\Psi$  at a buffet dinner, presented a house gift and a \$200 scholarship. Melody McDonald Wilkinson, Angelo State University- $\Delta O$  was named Distinguished Delta Zeta Alumna at Province XVII Day.

The ATLANTA (Georgia) alumnae chapter attended Province Day and came away with Alumnae Chapter of the Year honors. Members helped raise money for the Atlanta Symphony by serving as hostesses for the Atlanta Decorator Showcase in May. A recent program included a tour of the world of miniature doll houses and boxes that make up the home of chapter member Nancy Fridlin Van Horn, Indiana-E.

The AUBURN-OPELIKA (Alabama) alumnae club entertained Auburn-B $\Xi$  seniors with a salad supper, presenting them with roses and naming Darcy Roman outstanding senior. Senior Jennifer Morris was recognized for her outstanding academics. A Golden Rose certificate was presented to Lassie Jo Rounds Simms, Auburn-B $\Xi$ , whose daughter Jane Simms Love was present to help her mother celebrate. Lassie Jo talked to the seniors about the wonderful lifetime benefits of Delta Zeta.

BAY AREA (Texas) alumnae are participating in the Triad program with colleagues at Stephen F. Austin-Z $\Psi$ . Fundraising activities have included a Pampered Chef kitchen show, a white elephant Christmas party and a garage sale. An informative program on women's health issues was presented by Silver certificate recipients for 25 years of sisterhood are Central Jersey alumnae chapter members Shirlie A. Camp, Glenville- $\Theta\Xi$ ; Martha Keyser Gleason, San Jose State- $\Gamma\Lambda$ ; and Sandra Crow Berk, Eastern Illinois- $\Gamma N$ .

Emily Clause, LSU- $\Sigma$ , a registered and licensed dietitian. The chapter received the Katie Blanch Stallworth "Adventures in Friendship" award at Province Weekend. Any newcomers to the Bay Area are invited to call Mary Ortiz Piwetz (713/992-3083) for club information.

BLOOMINGTON (Indiana) alumnae chapter president Linda Carter Heath, Northwest Louisiana-EB, received the Frances Westcott Award at Province Day. A dessert party for Epsilon seniors ended the 1995-1996 school year.

The newly formed CHARLESTON (South Carolina) alumnae club has just added six new members. Recent events include the Flowertown Craft Fair, a summer kick-off party and the Spoletto Arts Festival. Call Rachel Platt at 803-821-3002 for more information.

Two recent Gallaudet graduates joined the CLEVELAND EASTSIDE (Ohio) alumnae chapter at a meeting. They presented their program using sign language and an interpreter translated for the group. Kian-Guan Au is the assistant manager for the Cleveland Signstage Theatre and Stella Antonio is an actress with the theatre. Cleveland Eastside chapter received the 1996 Outstanding Alumnae Chapter award at Province Day in Dayton.

COLORADO SPRINGS (Colorado) alumnae chapter toured the Colorado School for the Deaf in April and at another meeting had fun making Delta Zeta T-shirts from cut-out fabric and glitter paint. They also hosted the Colorado Springs Alumnae Panhellenic's awards dinner where chapter president Margaret Payne Fogg, South Carolina-BA, received the Gene L'Herisson Dorsey alumnae scholarship to further studies in American sign language. Denver-P collegian Kristi Moore won a collegiate scholarship. The alumnae award is in honor of Gene, University of Northern Colorado- $\Delta\Xi$ , who passed away in 1983. Gene's sister Ruby L'Herisson, also Delta Xi, who is a former award winner herself, presented the award as Co-President of the Alumnae Panhellenic.

The COLUMBIA (South Carolina) alumnae chapter ended their spring with participation in Mayfest, a city-sponsored celebration, where they sold soft drinks to raise money for the USC Speech and Hearing Center. They received TV coverage on two stations. For the third year they were able to donate enough funds to pay for one scholarship to the Center's Summer School program for a deaf or hearing impaired youth.

EL PASO (Texas) alumnae chapter's April meeting was installation of officers, followed by an ice cream social and a tour of their hostess' extensive rose garden. In May they toured the El Paso Speech and Hearing Center.

FAIRFIELD COUNTY (Connecticut) alumnae attended State Day where they presented their scholarship to Olga Olin, a graduating senior from the American School for the Deaf, who will attend Gallaudet University. This scholarship was funded in part by a bake sale. Each member contributed shampoo at one meeting which went to the Battered Women's Shelter. A pot-luck picnic ended the regularly scheduled meetings.

FORT WALTON BEACH (Florida) alumnae chapter has had an interesting year since Hurricane Opal's visit last October. Most of their members have completed all repairs except for one who lost her home in the storm. They continue to support the local Speech and Hearing Clinic by providing McDonald's gift certificates to the children at Christmas, along with a basket of goodies for the staff. They presented the clinic with a check to celebrate Speech and Hearing Month in May.

St. Louis alumnae installed their officers at the Elise and Paul Langenbach Science Classroom at the Missouri Botanical Garden.

HOUSTON (Texas) alumnae chapter hosted a "Rush'n'Tea" where collegians and their mothers from University of Houston- $\Delta\Theta$ , Southwest Texas State University-IA, Texas A&M University- $\Lambda\Xi$ , and Stephen F. Austin-Z $\Psi$  chapters sent representatives with materials to make name tags, props and bid day banners for their upcoming rush activities. The alumnae present divided between the stations to see these projects to completion. A luncheon was served at noon. Thus, the alumnae were able to help four chapters, the mothers were able to be part of their daughters' sorority and the collegians met sisters from other chapters.

The INDIANAPOLIS NORTH CENTRAL (Indiana) alumnae chapter held its third annual "Auction for Ears," a fund-raiser for Speech and Hearing. Held at a local restaurant and decorated using the Indianapolis 500 theme, the event raised more than $1,500. The event featured both a live and silent auction, a live band, food and, of course, friends.

KNOXVILLE (Tennessee) alumnae have focused on fund-raising. Their annual Easter Basket event raised approximately \$700. This event is where the alumnae solicit parents of collegians for funds to purchase baskets for their daughters, with the chapter also donating goodies and  $\Delta Z$  crafts. This is a pleasant surprise for Beta Lambda collegians around mid-terms! They also held a yard sale and plan another one for fall. The money this year has been earmarked for the Benningfield/ Tompkins Memorial Scholarship Fund in memory of two Beta Lambdas killed in a car accident in 1991. With the money the alums were able to raise, this scholarship is now a self-sufficient, permanent annual scholarship for a deserving Delta Zeta at the University of Tennessee.

LONG BEACH (California) alumnae had a busy spring preparing for the Palm Springs convention. With a money-making project, they were able to assist several  $\Delta A$  collegians in attending the convention.

Alumnae participated in a Career Night at the Delta Alpha chapter house, relating their occupational experiences. In May, they toured the House Ear Institute in Los Angeles with an opportunity to see the parent resource library that Delta Zeta funds helped create in the CARE (Children's Auditory Research and Education) Center. They also attended the Long Beach Alumnae Panhellenic installation dinner where Claire Petersen Abel, Miami-BN, was installed as vice president.

CENTRAL NEW JERSEY alumnae chapter's participation in Province Day was enjoyable because not only did three members receive their Silver Certificates for 25 years of membership, sisterhood and service, but

The ST. LOUIS (Missouri) alumnae chapter held its installation luncheon at Langenbach Foundation Science Classroom of the Missouri Botanical Garden. This room was furnished by member Elise Langenbach. They also hosted the spring Panhellenic scholarship luncheon at Forest Hills Country Club. There were ten undergraduate scholarships and two graduate student scholarships. These were based on grades, plus contribution to Greek and campus life.

SAN FERNANDO VALLEY (California) alumnae earned a profit of $1,142.63 in their annual nut sale program, and this fall are producing a favorite recipes Nut Cookbook to sell along with the nuts. Dorothy Rubin Bell, an Order of the Pearl from Butler-AN, was featured "ΔZ Volunteer" for participating in the national Reading Is Fundamental (RIF) program. This private organization provides a storyteller to various kindergarten and first-grade classes. In these reading sessions, the storyteller seeks to instill a love of books and reading and each child is given a free new book to keep.

SUNCOAST (SARASOTA/BRADENTON, Florida) alumnae chapter installed new officers in May with outgoing president Charlyn Murray Pittman, DePauw University-Δ, presenting each member with a pink rose. The chapter in turn presented Charlyn with a framed copy of the Summer 1995 LAMP article featuring Charlyn and her Delta Zeta activities. Janet Gleason Camper, Rhode Island-BA, is the new president.

Our Sacramento alumnae recently attended the presentation of the stained-glass windows and the dedication of the Maeola R. Beitzel Elementary School in Sacramento.

Maeola Eastburn Beitzel, CSU/Chico-ΔΧ, for whom the school is named, commissioned the stained-glass windows depicting early California agricultural crops. These windows are placed in the library of the new school.

The Beitzel school is a 39,000-square-foot facility containing two kindergarten rooms, 10 permanent classrooms, six portables, a library, multi-purpose room, computer labs, special education room and a privately run child care center. Present enrollment is 656 students from kindergarten through sixth grade.

Maeola was a teacher in the Elk Grove, Cosumnes and Pleasant Grove elementary schools for 16 years. Her dedication to teaching reading led to lifelong work with libraries and community-based literacy programs, many of which she created herself. Although she is now retired, she is still active in educational issues.

Another Californian of interest is Barbara Seibert Patten, UCLA-AX. After a 25-year career in teaching and raising two children, Barbara turned to one of her real loves — writing. Her first novel, Life's Connections, has just been published.

In unique contrast to today's proliferation of self-help books containing rules and formulas for discovering life's deeper meanings, Barbara has chosen a different route to the self-help bookcase. Life's Connections (Tenton Press) is a romance whose characters develop provocative ideas about achieving a happy life, and then face the serious challenges those ideas involve. This significant journey also takes characters and readers from picturesque San Francisco to colorful locations in England, France, Spain, one of very few females to be so honored.

Jennifer attended Auburn, earning a bachelor of science degree in Industrial Engineering in 1990. She also received a master's degree in Engineering Management from the University of Central Florida.

She went to work for NASA at the Kennedy Space Center where she has achieved increasing responsibility in the Orbiter and Shuttle Program. Currently, she is manager of one of the three Orbiter Processing Facilities.

Delta Zeta on Campus

BY DIANE JONES SKELTON

When Kim Warren, Lambda Pi at Georgia College, announced in her LAMP report that Lambda Pi has a cyberspace presence on the World Wide Web, I ran a quick search and discovered five other collegiate chapters also communicating electronically with the rest of the world. The news isn't surprising, though, since 100% of all public universities have Internet access, and nearly 98% of all private universities have the same. College students are the most frequent users of the World Wide Web, and often have free access to this global communication system. These Delta Zeta college women are creating "Web" or "home" pages that just may be the beginning of hundreds of thousands of Delta Zetas communicating with each other globally and electronically.

Each of the six college chapter sites is well worth an electronic visit, and several represent examples of excellent graphic sites. Turn on your modem and log onto the Internet (or ask your children to log on for you) and visit these Delta Zeta chapters online.

Omicron Sigma at Gallaudet University provides quick "links" (Internet connections) to the other Delta Zeta chapters. Denise Mayer, a new initiate, maintains the Web page, which is graphically pleasing and interactive with the reader. You can see a picture from the formal or of Denise, read the chapter roster, e-mail (write electronic letters) to the officers, and see what's coming up on the chapter calendar. Denise even provides her favorite "links" to sites to shop for flowers, lingerie, and computer equipment plus ski information, MTV news, comics and the weather. Two hundred seventy-four people have visited the site so far.

URL: <http://www.gallaudet.edu/~11dmayer/dz>

URL: <http://www.gallaudet.edu:80/~jbysko/>

URL: <http://express.bloomington.com/dz.html>

The Web site for Epsilon Mu, University of Southern Mississippi, features beautiful backgrounds and graphics. A reader can e-mail three officers or link to the local alumnae chapter, five other Delta Zeta collegiate chapters or the Delta Zeta international home page.

URL: <http://www-set.st.usm.edu/~stadams/deezee.html>

During the practice round of the Missouri Valley Conference Golf Championship, Lisa Horton, Epsilon Nu, found a turtle on the green. Lisa is a collegiate golfer at Southwest Missouri State University.

More than 1000 Internet viewers have clicked onto the Lambda Lambda site at Trenton State College since December. This colorful site features blue and vieux green script atop a pastel pink background. The reader can read information on Delta Zeta by clicking onto general information, and then to facts, friendship, scholarship, growth or service. Lambda Lambda information includes upcoming events (with a blinking message on campus rape reports) and the announcement of a rape seminar cosponsored by Delta Zeta. There's a special tribute to Amy Connor for her assistance in creating the Web page. You can see her photo and e-mail her.

URL: <http://www.trenton.edu/~saperste/dz/>

The Web site for Lambda Pi at Georgia College is designed similarly to that of Lambda Lambda. It, too, features colorful backgrounds, plus a gold, green and rose graphic of the Delta Zeta crest. You can see lists of initiates and read general information on Delta Zeta. Since this site is still under construction, the chapter history isn't online yet. Nearly 400 people have visited this site since mid-April.

URL: <http://acs5.gac.peachnet.edu:80/~gcdz/>

Bryant College Omicron Deltas do have history online, though. They've included vital statistics on Delta Zeta's founding, colors, symbols and listed the chapters in their province, Province I-E. The lively and colorful backgrounds feature frolicking bright green turtle cartoons atop a black background. Overlaid on this are choices for the reader: Our Chapter, Sisters Links, Coming Up, E-Board, plus great links to other Delta Zeta pages and other Greek pages. (The link to Drexel, however, is bad). Each category is highlighted with a Roman Lamp icon (artwork in a box on which the viewer clicks). Another background features a pink rose outline atop a brilliant pink background. You can read about their Greek Week victory or see the names of the 45 members, and how many are seniors, juniors and sophomores. Readers can even e-mail officers on interactive forms. Linda Gorski maintains the site, which has been up and running since February 20.
URL: Http://acad.bryant.edu/~lgorksi/index.html

Now that these chapters have such quick and easy access to electronic communication, they will probably be expecting plenty of e-mail from alumnae. And, imagine, each chapter member can now view the chapter calendar, read chapter news and communicate with each member with just a click of the "mouse." Maybe one day you'll read On Campus online and e-mail this writer with your thoughts.

ALABAMA

Alabama-Huntsville, Lambda Kappa — After sponsoring two successful Mr. Fraternity contests, Delta Zeta decided to combine its contest with Pi Kappa Alpha's annual Ms. Greek pageant. The combined event, held during Greek Week, sparked enthusiastic student response and both organizations netted more profit than in the previous "solo" years. Members painted sun visors for the university during Spring Fest and painted children's faces at the Huntsville Art Council's Panoply. Members washed cars to raise chapter funds. Lambda Kappa's first chapter room will display a gift from this year's five graduating seniors: a framed print of the Delta Zeta founders and the senior's message "The ones before you paved the way — you continue to keep the Flame." Among those recognized by UAH for outstanding leadership were

Nikki Dempsey, Trish Morea, Tammy Wells and Lauri Larsen. Jana Jobes was named most outstanding student leader for SGA and most distinguished student leader at UAH. Paige Graves won honors for top sorority woman GPA and runner-up for most distinguished student leader. Paige is also listed in Who's Who Among Universities and Colleges. Tammy Wells is publicity chair for ACE's student entertainment. Serving on SGA are Ann Kratzer, Mandi Lee, Faith Turner, Lisa Truett. University Ambassadors includes Pati Foster, Eve Wiltse and Mandi Lee.

Auburn, Beta Xi — Bonnie Bishop is the director of the High School Leadership Conference for the Student Government Association and a member of the SGA cabinet. Molly McCrory is a fraternity sweetheart.

Auburn-Montgomery, Lambda Nu — The chapter celebrated its 19th year on campus with a birthday formal at the South Trust Bank Community Room. The festivities included the cutting of a turtle birthday cake, awards to members, and an evening of dancing to the tunes of a local deejay. Of the five Greeks tapped to Order of Omega this year, three were Delta Zetas. Honored were Julie Norrel, Tracie Strom and Trisstton Wright.

ARKANSAS

Central Arkansas, Epsilon Xi — Christie Jones is reigning Miss UCA. Christie travels to the Miss Arkansas pageant where she'll join two other Epsilon Xi contestants — Traci Sims and Sara Linzy. Sara Linzy was named Miss Knock-out in a fraternity competition. An exciting spring semester included a new member retreat, the annual Parents Day, and participation in several philanthropy events.

CALIFORNIA

California State-Fresno, Epsilon Epsilon — Members cleaned their closets and raided their parents' garages to discover enough "treasures" for a profitable chapter garage sale. Members learned to sign the Delta Zeta Creed at a chapter standards program. Vashie Hawkins is a reserve deputy sheriff with the Fresno County Sheriff's Department.

Delta Zeta on Campus

California State-Los Angeles, Theta Rho — Members celebrated the chapter's 30th anniversary with a Rose Formal at the Long Beach Hilton. During spring quarter the chapter concentrated on academics, but found time to win first place honors in innertube water polo, swimming, and track and field. After a second-place win in softball, the chapter was a leading contender for the All Sports Award for the sixth consecutive year. Theta Rho bid farewell to eight seniors.

COLORADO

Northern Colorado, Delta Xi — Members traveled to Denver for Province Day. Individuals honored were Tania Paliasotti, Julianna Palea, outstanding academics; Brooke Ray, Sparkplug Award; Rachel Chiniquy, Golden Heart Award; Becky Henderson, outstanding treasurer; and Jenny Hartfelder, outstanding college chapter director. Order of Omega Greek honorary tapped Becky Henderson, Richelle Porter, Michelle Stiers and Shannon Hollon. Lisa Rommelfanger is a fall rush Rho Chi. The annual Mother-Daughter Tea was held at Ramkota Inn in Greeley.

CONNECTICUT

Connecticut, Gamma Beta — The chapter's home is located near Mirror Lake on the UConn campus. During the winter, Mallard ducks walk through the campus in search of food, and Gamma Beta's house has become one of their local stops. One day a chapter study session was interrupted by the sight of thirty quacking ducks walking up to the Delta Zeta porch. The ducks were so hungry that when one member went out to feed them, they tried to eat her slippers. Luckily, a chapter member captured the moment on video. During Sisterhood Week, Gamma Beta honored 26 graduating seniors with several special events. The final event was a farewell dinner and slide show at the Student Union. Seniors were also among those honored

Delta Zeta won second place overall honors in Greek Week; Gina Buzzee placed third in Greek Goddess competition. Members learned to sign "Where the  $\Delta Z$  Roses Grow" using American Sign Language during Foundation Focus Month. Honored for superior academic achievement were

FLORIDA

Tampa, Delta Beta — Delta Zeta was honored as the Sorority of the Year at the University's Activities Award

Night. Stacey Ronzetti was honored as Greek Woman of the Year and won the University's spirit award, the Spartan Award. Stacey is also Miss Province XXIV, and member of the National Dean's List, Dean's List, Psi Chi, Order of Omega and Pi Gamma Mu. Others earning Dean's List honors were Nicole Parsil and Tycene Parrott. Other members of honoraries are Tina Paone, Psi Chi, Order of Omega, Pi Gamma Mu, Omicron Kappa Delta; Nicole Parsil, Phi Eta Sigma; Dana Kosloski, Delta Sigma Pi; and Stephanie Caron, Order of Omega. Vanessa Schwartz won the Province Promise Award. Collegians and area alumnae became better acquainted at a luncheon on campus in mid-April. Members raised funds for the chapter formal with snow cone sales, bake sales and car washes. Delta Zeta placed third in Greek Week activities.

GEORGIA

Georgia College, Lambda Pi — Delta Zeta won first place in Greek Sing competition, and Gina McDaniel won the Greek Woman of the Year Award. The chapter also participated in the college's first All-Greek Alumnae Weekend. The weekend was packed with fun-filled activities including a preformal on Friday evening, a Saturday afternoon picnic on front campus, and a Saturday evening dinner and awards ceremony followed by a formal dance featuring a live band. The chapter sponsored a Women's Health Seminar for all campus students. Other chapter activities included a new member retreat, car washes, a bake sale, and a Dunk a  $\Delta Z$  dunking booth fund-raiser.

ILLINOIS

DePaul, Theta Theta —

Chapter officers participated in an officer retreat at the Embassy Suites in Chicago. The formal was held at the Midlands in downtown Chicago. Chapter president Meredith Ladley hosted a spaghetti dinner for the chapter. The members bid farewell to three graduating seniors with a senior ceremony at the last chapter meeting of the year. At the conclusion of Greek Week, Delta Zeta was honored for outstanding risk management, and social and scholarship achievement at Greek Awards. Rebekah Bernt will be studying in Venezuela in the fall. Members of honoraries are Laura Guillot, Pi Sigma Alpha, and Emily Conlon, Kappa Delta Pi.

Eastern Illinois, Gamma Nu

— In Greek Sing Choral Competition, the largest group choral competition in the state, Gamma Nu won first place for the third consecutive year. The chapter presented a 1920s medley of "Hello My Baby, What'll I Do, Puttin' on the Ritz and Steppin' Out With My Baby." Gamma Nu also won first place in the biathlon and third place in spirit during Greek Week. Paige Parker and Maureen Leary were honored as two of the Top Ten Greek Women. Members bid farewell to ten graduating seniors with a senior send-off. Amelia Nelson is a Pink Panther, and Deanne Dutton is a fraternity sweetheart. Jackie Bernard was named to Order of Omega, and Jennie Scott is listed in Who's Who Among College Students.

Illinois, Alpha Beta — After three vigorous presentations, Alpha Beta placed third in the annual Atius-Sachem Mom's Day

Sing. The chapter teamed with fraternity men from Sigma Tau Gamma for their Wizard of Oz entry. The team also won the award for the best script. Named to the Dean's List were Jodi Altenbaumer, Kristi Borger, Denise Ellsworth, Michelle Grasso, Anne Kohlhausen, Sarah Sisterhood Award. Jenn Naggatz was elected Chief of Staff of ISU's student government, and Julie Kampert was elected a student government legislator.

Northwestern, Alpha Alpha

— The chapter welcomed five new members in spring rush together Delta Daze featuring activities and competitions. Amber Dow received the Harold E. and Margaret M. Struble Scholar Award from the Northwestern School of Speech. Leontine Chuang was elected president of Associated Student Government.

DePauw, Delta —

Ericka Parkinson and Salina Gonzales coordinated the chapter's activities for Mom's Day. The day's activities were highlighted with an elegant brunch where Delta honored departing housemother Mary Holmes. Appointed as officers for the Winter Term In Service program are Heather Dane, senior projects officer, and Sarah Ragsdale, Stacy Winans, Rachel Hofmann, Angela Vandenburg, Janel Kam and Ely Gamiao, team officers. Seniors Tricia Robinson and Jessica Staley were honored with awards for debate and psychology, respectively. Members were on hand to support Staci Winans and Kelly Banchask as they displayed their project at an AIDS fair to raise campus awareness of the virus. The Delta Zeta house was among those featured in the model homes program. The chapter held its spring formal in Indianapolis and enjoyed an informal with the theme "Harleys and Honeys."

KENTUCKY

Kentucky, Alpha Theta — At the Greek Awards Banquet concluding Greek Week, Delta Zeta received first place honors for new member GPA, and awards for campus participation, philanthropy, and total points for the Inter-Greek Programming Assembly. Delta Zeta also received an award from the Salvation Army for Christmas contributions. The chapter placed second in alumnae relations and overall GPA. Three members hold executive positions on Panhellenic Council. Members concluded the semester with an in-house retreat. House Mom Jo Ann Wiley and alumnae prepared food for the event. The chapter's volleyball team finished fourth, and the chapter finished first in Jell-O Olympics during Greek Week. Social events included a formal and a Finals Fling party.

Louisville, Beta Gamma — For the ninth consecutive year, Delta Zeta captured top honors in campus intramurals. Members enjoyed a July rush workshop where they brushed up on rushing techniques for fall rush.

MAINE

Maine-Orono, Alpha Upsilon — Being the smallest sorority on campus didn't stop Delta Zeta from winning 1996 Derby Days competition. The chapter raised over $500 for the Children's Miracle Network by selling ducks for a duck race down the river and T-shirts. Delta Zeta took third place in Greek Sing and bid farewell to four graduating seniors.

MICHIGAN

Michigan Tech, Lambda Theta — Members honored the chapter's 17 graduating seniors with a senior ceremony. Twelve members earned Dean's List honors (three with perfect 4.0s) to help the chapter win third place overall for campus scholarship. Melissa Larson was named intramural athlete of the year, and Krista Norden was elected treasurer of Blue Key honorary.

MINNESOTA

Moorhead State, Theta Nu — The chapter bid good-bye to six graduating seniors and honored its own at the spring Killarney Ball.

MISSOURI

Missouri-Kansas City, Xi Phi — Members welcomed parents to the house for Parent's Day. Activities included get-acquainted games, viewing the chapter video, and singing. During Greek Week, Delta Zeta exhibited its Chapter Sisterhood Display for the campus' annual Spring Fling. The chapter won fourth place in Greek Week. New members of honoraries are Tara Powell, Omicron Delta Kappa, and Cindy Raffurty, Delta Sigma Pi and Order of Omega.

and root beer drinking contest. Seniors were honored with a senior ceremony and with a picnic at a local park. New members of Order of Omega are Nicelle Lozano, Sarah Busse and Mindi Tandon. Cardinal Key tapped Lisa Roberts. Students Ambassadors are Casey Smith, Sarah Lutter, Erin Taylor and Mary McBride. Leah Himmelberg was named the outstanding health student at NMSU.

Northwest Missouri, Epsilon Rho — Delta Zeta hosted a spring colonnade for parents and enjoyed an evening of dinner and dancing at the formal in St. Joseph. Epsilon Rho bid farewell to 13 seniors at Senior Send-off.

NEW JERSEY

Rowan, Xi Kappa — The Delta Zeta -Theta Chi homecoming parade entry won second-place honors. Members showed their versatility and dancing skills to follow the Transylvanian homecoming theme. The ballroom waltz scene transformed into a techno-groove number by members costumed as the dead. For the grand finale, a fraternity man performed a magic trick in which he climbed into a coffin and closed the lid. When the coffin opened, a Delta Zeta stepped out. Members celebrated Founders Day with a dinner in the Greek suite of the Student Center. Members welcomed back Betsy Demaree and Jo Trostle from their studies in England. Earning Dean's List honors were Allison Bernstein, Sharon Cody, Corey Devlin, Chelsea Jankowski, Nicole Mercado and Dara Nathan.

NEW YORK

Clarkson, Xi Rho — The

Northeast Missouri, Delta Sigma — The theme of the chapter formal, Trapped in Kirksville, provided an opportunity to focus on "tropical landscapes" and dance the evening away. Members honored parents and presented chapter awards at the Parent's Day banquet. In Greek Week, Delta Zeta organized a 5k run and placed first in the lip sync contest, cheer contest chapter initiated ten new members who pledged in spring formal rush. Clarkson sororities competed against sororities from SUNY-Potsdam in events which included sports, cavalcade, window painting and ice skating. Though Delta Zeta was unable to keep its winning streak alive, the chapter did place second overall. Cara Casten placed third in the Ice Carnival Queen competition. Prior to graduation, the chapter held a special ceremony honoring each of the 23 seniors. Senior Chris DeSando sang the national anthem and alma mater at the commencement exercises. Delta Zeta won the Village of Potsdam Life Safety Award for having the safest fraternity or sorority house in the town. The chapter also earned the highest GPA among national campus sororities and won the Panhellenic Scholarship Award.

NORTH CAROLINA

Appalachian State, Lambda Phi — During Greek Week, Delta Zeta earned third place overall honors. Thirty members, singing and dancing to theme songs Wonder Woman and Inspector Gadget, represented the chapter in the lip sync competition during Greek Week. The Delta Zetas won four out of the five categories including best costume, choreography, lip sync ability and crowd appeal. The chapter volleyball team won first place. Alumnae, members and their dates enjoyed a delicious dinner, slide show and evening of dancing at the chapter's Candlelight Formal at the Quality Inn. Honored at the formal as the first recipient of the Elena Taylor Award was Allyson DuRant, past chapter president. Allyson also served as president of Rho Lambda Greek honorary, a member of the Servant Team of Campus Crusades for Christ, a Headstart volunteer, and a member of National Student Speech, Language and Hearing Association. She is a Dean's List scholar and was honored as outstanding president in Province XXI-W. Philanthropy

Christina Tsakiris, Epsilon Zeta, is a fraternity sweetheart at Drexel.

Chair Nicole Carosella organized an education session on the speech and hearing impaired. The session included a video on Gallaudet. Members of honoraries are Marisa Stewart, Ali Swanson, Katie Teague, Rho Lambda; and Melissa Clodfelter, Order of Omega.

Mars Hill, Omicron Xi — For the first time in three years the chapter initiated 100 per cent of its spring new member class, which numbered 11. Members enjoyed a Mary Kay beauty day, supported a local sorority by attending a Valentine's Day crush dance, and celebrated chapter birthdays at Denny's. Members also enjoyed a Single Sister Night and dinner at the Olive Garden. When five Delta Zetas were involved in the Miss Mars Hill College Pageant, the rest of the chapter was on hand to support them. Laurie Henderson directed the event, while Lori Milton performed with the Bailey Mountain Cloggers and Marci Francisco sang. Both Joy Hudson and Chandra Willis were contestants. Chandra is the new Miss Mars Hill College. As chapter fund-raisers and to help defray new member costs, the chapter held car washes and sold holiday grams and candy. The two biggest fund-raisers were the Delta Zeta Greek God Contest and Delta Zeta Does Singled Out. This was the first year to sponsor Singled Out, and the event proved popular enough to draw the biggest student crowd ever at a campus event run solely by students.

North Carolina - Charlotte, Kappa Phi — This year's Greek Week featured the first Greek sponsored Carnival for Kids. More than 50 children, ages six to ten, attended the event which featured activities ranging from sack races to face painting. Delta Zeta sponsored a graffiti wall where the children expressed their imaginations creatively with paints and their hand prints. The "kid" also came out in the other Greeks who added their own artwork to the wall. At the Greek Honors and Awards night during Greek Week, Delta Zeta was honored for community service, new member education, service and as Sorority of the Year. Individuals honored at the event were Amber Bedick, Denise Calloway, Diamond Honor Award, and Katie Skelton and Christy McCoy, Service Leader Award. Kappa Phi won a third place honor at the end of Greek Week for hard work and participation. The chapter celebrated its 25th year on campus with an alumnae luncheon. During Senior Week, graduating seniors were honored with gifts from the chapter, a progressive dinner and a senior ceremony. The chapter formal at the South Park Suite Hotel provided the opportunity for some members and their dates to meet some of the Orlando Magic basketball players: the team was staying at the hotel. Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities lists Amber Bedick, Denise Calloway and Miari Robertson. Amber is also a fraternity sweetheart. Kappa Delta Pi honorary includes Ashley Weeks, Katie Skelton and Kim Sink.

North Carolina-Wilmington, Xi Theta — Delta Zeta won the campus Greek Week competition and boasts the most new initiates of any Greek group on campus. The chapter is sponsoring a Panhellenic amendment to allow all chapters to have at least one Rho Chi rush counselor during formal rush. Order of Omega honorary tapped Colleen Terbet, Virginia Bolen and Marcia Dickerson.

Western Carolina, Theta Iota — At the Order of Omega Award Ceremony Delta Zeta was honored with the Sorority of the Year Overall Excellence Award and for chapter management, risk management, programming, philanthropy and community service. Delta Zeta also earned the highest overall GPA in Panhellenic. Kerrie Arnold won the intramural award, while several members were recognized for academic achievement. Ginny Luaces and Kim Newton won awards for earning 4.0s, while Lisa Ek, Kelly Hector, Beth Lowery and Wendy Pruett were honored for earning between 3.5 and 3.9. The mothers of graduating seniors were honored with the Delta Zeta mother's pin during the Mother-Daughter Weekend. Ginny Luaces received the Karen Styles Award for Outstanding Community Service, was named an All-American Scholar Collegian, and won the 1996 Greek Goddess title. Jessica Meters is vice president of Order of Omega, a Golden Ambassador and an orientation leader. Members of honoraries are Ashleigh Dillon, Beth Lowery, Pi Gamma Mu; Kam Martin, Mortar Board; Wendy Pruett, Psi Chi; and Sherry Rex, Order of Omega. Holly Spurlin is historian for the Public Relations Student Society of America.

OHIO

Baldwin-Wallace, Gamma Alpha — In a rainy May Day competition at Cleveland Metroparks, Delta Zeta's scooter team won third place and the tug team won first-place honors (for the third consecutive year). At Province Day in Dayton, Jen Dwyer won Pride of the Province honors. Dannielle Sgro won a Golden Heart and Jessica Luby won a Golden Crest. Katie Carnes was named outstanding member of the Greek Council, and Annika Limberg won a Panhellenic scholarship. When Maria Venclova represented were Melissa Logan, Amy Russo, Jennifer Gibson, Theresa Dundon, Alice Salfiti and Tina Sauerwald.

Delta Zeta in the first campus Inner Beauty Competition, Delta Zeta won the Spirit Award for supporting Maria. Kelly Moore was named to the Ohio Athletic Conference's all-academic first team, and the All-Central Region's third team.

Mansfield, Iota Theta — Every Delta Zeta initiation is special, but the initiation of the five newest members of Iota Theta marked a chapter milestone. One of the initiates, Kelli Showers, is the chapter's first Delta Zeta daughter to be initiated into Iota Theta. At Province Day, Rose Marie Brophy and Erin McMahon were named outstanding treasurer, and April Butcher and Danielle Moyer were named outstanding new member educator. Mansfield University honored Rachel Rossen with the Outstanding Student Service Award. Stacy Naugh was re-elected president of the Latino Student Organization, and Claire Corcoran was elected treasurer.

Millersville, Xi Tau — Delta Zeta teamed with Lambda Chi Alpha to win second place overall in Greek Week. Individual honors included first place wins in volleyball, Greek Skits, Chubby Bunny, and second place finishes in Sidewalk Art, tug-of-war, alumni tug-of-war and ping pong. At Province Day, Xi Tau won awards for consistency in reporting, attendance, philanthropy service hours, chapter newsletter, Panhellenic spirit, best name tag, and consistent increase in membership. The chapter organized a picnic for members and their families. Jae Follweiler was honored as outstanding senior by the university and by the psychology department. Order of Omega tapped Jeanette Fox.

Pittsburgh-Johnstown, Lambda Epsilon — After winning events as Greek Sing, nificant increase in membership, and the Devotional Award. Kris Steinhilper was named outstanding president and outstanding senior in Province III-E. Fraternity sweethearts are Christina Tsakiris and Alice Salfiti. Receiving Panhellenic certificates for earning GPAs above 3.6 for winter quarter

Pledge Skits, Ping Pong and tug-of-war, Delta Zeta once again captured the Greek Week victory.

Robert Morris College, Xi Chi — Delta Zeta dominated the Greek Week field by winning eight of ten events to take home the overall Greek Week championship. Delta Zeta won the annual Greek Week Air Band competition for the third straight year and captured the Spirit Award. Joy Riggle was named Greek Goddess. At Province Day at Edinboro, Ann Mary Beightley received the Golden Heart Award, and Alexis Smith received the Golden Crest Award. The chapter won a province award for reaching quota, and the Panhellenic Spirit Award.

Shippensburg, Kappa Psi — At the Greek Affairs Banquet, Delta Zeta was named Greek Organization of the Year and honored for excellence in membership development. Megan Kerrane, Michele Grube, Chastity Smith and Susan Wallace were all tapped for Order of Omega. Jen Frawley is the first recipient of the Greek Passion Award for displaying pride in her organization and enthusiasm for the Greek community. At Province Day, Kappa Psi was honored as the Most Improved Chapter, and Jackie Sunderland won the Outstanding New Member Award. Jen Frawley was awarded the Golden Heart, and Amy Brewster received the Golden Crest. Kappa Psi once again won the Greek Week championship — the fourth time in the past five years. When the Shippensburg Lady Red Raiders competed for the Division II national title, Delta Zeta welcomed them home and displayed a banner in the union building. Members and their dates enjoyed a trip to see the Harrisburg Senators, a minor-league baseball team, play. The chapter bid farewell to 15 graduating seniors. Emily Malinaric and Jess Abrams will both be studying in England in the fall. Fraternity sweethearts are Jennifer Marquardt, Michele Grube, Abbie Hinkle and Julia Frazier. Rachel Kerchner is a resident assistant.

Xi Rho seniors at Clarkson University — a sizeable senior class.

Temple, Delta Tau — Dr. Joel Jaffe, father of chapter member Jodi Jaffe, led a discussion on women's health and safety issues at a chapter sisterhood. Members participated in a fraternity-sponsored 24-hour volleyball tournament and in the Take Back the Night Rally. The chapter "adopted" a turtle living at the Philadelphia Zoo.

RHODE ISLAND

Rhode Island, Beta Alpha — More than fifty people attended the chapter's graduation brunch honoring seniors and their families. Beta Alpha placed first for the second consecutive year in Greek Week competition. The chapter initiated 17 new members in the spring.

SOUTH CAROLINA

Winthrop, Lambda Sigma — The chapter held its new member initiation at a nearby church. Among the initiates were legacies Leigh Hribernik and Anna Robolito. Members welcomed parents for a cookout and outdoor games on Parents Day. The chapter sponsored its first Big Man on Campus competition featuring contestants from campus sororities and fraternities. The event was so successful that the chapter plans to make it an annual one.

TENNESSEE

Tennessee, Beta Lambda — In Carnicus, a campus musical comedy spoof competition, Delta Zeta teamed with another sorority to take first place in their division with a parody of the television drama, ER. Delta Zeta teamed with Sigma Phi Epsilon to win third place overall in Greek Week and first place in carnival booth. Beta Lambda dedicated this spring's formal to its graduating seniors. At the formal, held at the Hollywood Ballroom, seniors were formally "presented" by their little sisters and given pink roses. Ashley Bruckner, publications chair for Southeastern Panhellenic Conference, was among several Beta Lambdas to attend the SEPC conference at the Sheraton Colony Square Hotel in Atlanta.

University of Tennessee hosted the event, and Ashley served on the conference committee. Order of Omega Greek honorary tapped Julie Hutchinson and Casey Tessmann.

TEXAS

North Texas, Kappa Zeta — Members enjoyed meeting new people, shopping and increasing their knowledge of Delta Zeta at Province Weekend at the Harvey Hotel in Arlington. Individuals honored were Jennifer D'Angelo, best sisterhood officer, and Kristen Eickhorn, best corresponding secretary. Lisa Gruch and Maureen Suillman both won province scholarships. UNT's Panhellenic honored Amy Louise Scott as best Panhellenic delegate; she now serves on Panhellenic's executive board as second vice president of activities. The spring calendar also included a Mother-Daughter lunch at a quaint cafe. Members even wrote essays about their mothers for a chapter essay contest. In Greek Week competition, Delta Zeta won all the Greek games except one to capture overall honors in Greek games competition. Great food, marvelous dancing, a touching slide show and an award presentation highlighted the spring formal held at the Fairmont in downtown Dallas.

Stephen F. Austin, Zeta Psi — After winning first places in flag football and soccer, second place in softball and third places in volleyball and the creative talent show, Zeta Psi won second place overall in Greek Week. Parents Weekend activities included a Saturday open house, father-daughter softball game and banquet at the Fredonia Hotel. On Sunday members and parents enjoyed a brunch at the house. At Province Weekend, Zeta Psi members honored were Melissa Kelly, outstanding spirit chairman; Susan Judkins, outstanding chaplain; Erin Pickard, outstanding guard; Danna Haynes, outstanding risk management chairman; and Courtney Speckman, Rhea F. Schultz Court. Dena Stout won the Plano-Collin County Scholarship. On campus, Zeta Psis attended a breast cancer seminar hosted by Zeta Tau Alpha. As a part of a Panhellenic sorority sisterhood, campus sorority women gathered at the Community Built Playground. Order of Omega tapped Danielle Barnes, Danna Haynes, Ruth Ibarra, Lori Koska, Alice Payne, Jennifer Ridley and Stephanie Stewart.

Texas A&M, Lambda Xi — After enjoying a chapter retreat at Del Lago, members and dates returned to the lake at Del Lago for the spring formal and midnight cruise aboard the Southern Empress steamboat. Delta Zetas served hotdogs and chips in an all-sorority block party. During Parents' Day, Delta Zeta hosted an auction at the house. Members raised more chapter funds with a car wash. Twenty-two seniors were honored with a dinner in late April. At Province Weekend, Lambda Xi won the Carolyn Barnes Gullatt Formal Rush Award and the Arlene Newman Award. Individuals honored were Andrea Britt, Rhea F. Schultz Award; Sonya Wood, spirit award; Melissa Webb, outstanding reference chairman; Meg Roberson, outstanding alumnae chairman; and Amanda Pond, Carolyn Barnes Gullatt Province XVII Scholarship. Pride of Province XVII scholars are Wendy Hoenerhoff, Shannon O'Keefe, Jennifer Ingram, Becky Hodges, Julie Gustafson and Tracy Collins. House Mom Cheryl Markey organized an old-fashioned Easter egg hunt for chapter members — she hid 180 eggs in the house! Members had dyed the eggs and decorated Easter cookies several days before the hunt. The hunt was complete with candy and prizes.

It's a volleyball tournament for philanthropy at DePauw in Indiana. Delta chapter members are Jennifer Wagonseller, Angela Vandenburg, Janel Kam and Susan Dicken.

Delta Zetas from the University of Tennessee-BA and University of Alabama-AI met at the ΔZ house in Tuscaloosa.

University of Texas - Arlington, Iota Psi — The chapter teamed with Tarleton State collegians and Arlington alumnae to host this year's Province XVII Weekend. At the event, Iota Psi won awards including Silver Pride of the Province, VIP and Adventures in Friendship. Individuals recognized were Nicole Gordon, outstanding president; Catherine Crenshaw, outstanding Panhellenic officer; Brenda Richardson, outstanding assistant philanthropy chairman; Heather Bagley, outstanding ways and means chairman; and Kelly Duggan, outstanding vice president. Members teamed with other Greeks during Greek Week to collect over $10,000 in donated goods for the Arlington Night Shelter.

VIRGINIA Longwood College, Epsilon Tau — Academic Greek honorary Gamma Sigma Alpha includes Bevin White, Tiffany

Cummings and Blair Williams. Blair is also a member of Mortar Board, Longwood Honor Board, Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities, a resident assistant, a Longwood Ambassador, senior class vice president and a Dean's List scholar. Jennifer Capstraw won the Longwood Student Leadership Award, and Sarah Price won the Greek Goddess competition. Julie Mock is a Peer Helper and attended the women's leadership conference. Melissa Brooks plays on Longwood's softball team. Amanda Robinson is senior class president, a resident assistant, vice president of Panhellenic Rush and joins Jennifer Foster in Longwood Ambassadors. The chapter honored its graduating seniors with a ceremony and presented them with roses and gifts at the ceremony in the chapter room. Epsilon Taus made candles and sold them on campus. Other fundraisers included a $100 raffle and car washes.

Randolph-Macon, Omicron Zeta — The Student Activities Board now has 12 Delta Zetas serving on it — two are committee chairs, one is secretary, and the other nine are active members. Seniors graduating with Phi Beta Kappa honors are Brandi Brinkman, Kelly Wilder and Claire Snead. Kelly Wilder helped found a religious honor society on campus. Carreen Lawrence was honored at the Panhellenic banquet as the new member with the highest grade point average. Elisabeth Gehl, a Omicron Zeta from New Orleans, was a debutante and reigned as queen of the Prophets of Persia during Mardi Gras. Ashley Anderson is Winchester, Virginia's Apple Blossom Queen. Omicron Zeta won second place in Greek games.

Virginia Tech, Kappa Theta

— To conclude a week of activities honoring graduating seniors, the chapter gathered at a downtown Blacksburg restaurant for award presentations and the reading of "senior wills." Kappa Theta initiated 31 new members, participated in the German Club's Annual Gold Rush, and again sponsored the Delta Zeta Classic, a philanthropy field day. In intramural sports, the softball team, which fared well in fall, combined with fraternity men to form a coed team. For the first time, Delta Zeta formed a soccer team and the team even reached the semi-finals. Senators-elect for student government are Stephanie Amrein and Jenni Price. Sherry Turner, a member of the homecoming court, is a fraternity sweetheart.

WASHINGTON

Washington, Kappa — Once again, Delta Zeta won Greek Week — the fifth consecutive time! The members of Delta Zeta and Alpha Tau Omega teamed to play more than 100 hours of volleyball to benefit speech and hearing and cancer research. Each member raised money and played at least four hours of volleyball. The Seattle Aquarium provided an exotic and memorable locale for a chapter dance.

WEST VIRGINIA

Marshall, Delta Upsilon — The chapter was honored by Panhellenic as the most involved chapter on campus. The honor recognizes excellence in community service, campus involvement, sisterhood, Greek awareness, Greek spirit and philanthropy. Delta Zeta also won first place in campus intramurals, second place in Greek Week, and hosted Province IV Weekend. Individuals honored at Province Weekend were Dawn Whitehair, best sophomore GPA; Amy Baker, best senior GPA; Kelly McAron, best vice president membership; and Delta Omega at Fort Hays State has named their outstanding initiate award in honor of former National Vice President Phyllis Berens Ross. The first recipient is Gina Berti.

WISCONSIN

Carroll College, Gamma Theta — The chapter was honored as most improved chapter and Kara Conner won the Pride of the Province Award. Rachael Keller received Province Day in Minnesota. At the event the chapter was named outstanding chapter for the third consecutive year and won the highest academic achievement award. Stacey Bower received a Golden Crest. Members and dates enjoyed the spring formal at Cabin Ridge in Cadat.

Wisconsin-Stout, Zeta Beta

— Delta Zeta won the most events in Greek Week, initiated ten new members, and traveled to the Twin Cities for Province Day. The chapter sponsored a dry casino night during Alcohol Awareness Week. Delta Zeta also coordinated "dry drives" for anyone needing a ride home after drinking. To raise funds for the spring formal on a riverboat in Stillwater, members organized a bratwurst sale. Zeta Beta also sponsored a car wash to raise chapter funds.

CANADA

Brock, Omicron Tau

— Members enjoyed a daylong rush retreat at the home of Jennifer Shipman, vice president of rush. Members hope that the long-range planning and preparation will boost membership and lead to greater recognition of all Greek organizations on campus. Currently, the sole fraternity and sole sorority on campus comprise one percent of the student population. Summer plans include several car washes. Sonya Balaban, fundraising chairman, hosted her own mini-car washes and raised $74 to begin the summer fund raising. Jennifer Shipman is humanities chair for Student Union. Named as Great Orientation Directors for Frosh Week are Sonya Balaban, Amy Clancy, Jennifer Shipman and Shauna Zrichuk.

Sisters of Lambda Nu enjoy the Order of Omega academic reception at Auburn/Montgomery with a ΔZ alumna and AUM faculty.

Kim Baur, best vice president of new member education. Members of honoraries are Amy Baker, Jennifer Swanson, Andrea Boley, Natalie Ghiz, Krista Hays, Dawn Whitehair, Order of Omega; Natalie Ghiz, Kappa Omicron Nu; Beth Daily, Gamma Beta Phi; and Andrea Boley, Alpha Phi Sigma.

the faculty education award for excellence and was tapped for Delta Sigma Nu honorary. The chapter initiated seven new members in the spring.

Substance-Free Housing: Saving the Greek System

"WE MUST BE THE CHANGE WE WISH TO SEE IN THE WORLD." — Ghandi

To be consistent with the standards and purpose of Delta Zeta Sorority and to remain in compliance of federal, state or municipal laws or regulations, and rules of the colleges or university where Delta Zeta has chapter houses, the National Council is in strong support of and recommends substance-free housing.

Val Christensen knew it was time for change if the fraternity system at Utah State University had any hope of surviving. Christensen, vice president for student services at USU, saw a dying fraternity system that was a mere shell of what he had experienced as a college undergraduate member of Pi Kappa Alpha.

"I was looking for an idea we could use — anything we could do to save the system," Christensen says of the seemingly insurmountable problems he faced in the spring of 1995. "We had tried everything — carding at the door, requiring invitations. Nothing worked. Alcohol abuse was killing us." The once-proud Greek system at USU had deteriorated to the brink of extinction. USU was experiencing incident after incident, and alcohol was involved in almost every case.

"We simply weren't getting the best students," Christensen says. "The best ones don't want to live in an unsafe place where they cannot study. They weren't joining fraternities."

Christensen wasn't the first to recognize the problem. Nor was Utah State the first campus to experience it. Leaders of the National Interfraternity Conference had seen the same pattern repeated nationwide, and a major turnaround had caught their eye. The Sigma Chi chapter at the University of Maine had been on the brink of extinction, and in desperation alumni there imposed a substance-free living environment. It was a last-chance effort to save the chapter. To their delight, it worked. The chapter rebounded, and three years later it is quite successful. A Sigma Chi now heads the Interfraternity Council at Maine.

In an effort to stem the deterioration of the Greek system nationwide, NIC offered a trial program based on some of the concepts used at Maine. The result was a substance-free living program, and NIC floated the idea in one of its publications in the spring of 1995.

"I'd looked for years for an idea we could use," says Christensen. "When I saw that newsletter, I called NIC and asked if I could implement the program. They agreed, and we imposed it as our policy, word for word, for the fall of 1995. Needless to say, I wasn't a very popular guy around here."

At first, undergraduate men balked at the idea of ridding fraternity houses of alcohol. So did members of women's groups, who were accustomed to using the fraternity houses as convenient places to drink.

Today, many in the Utah State system have become converts.

"Things have gone really well," says David Dyer, president of USU's Delta Sigma Phi chapter. "Oh sure, we had some things to struggle with, like alumni who didn't understand what we had done. And as far as activities go, you have to be creative."

"Still, on balance it's been good. The problems we used to have with the surrounding community have disappeared, and we have a much better atmosphere in the house."

One year later, Christensen considers the program a resounding success. So does the NIC, which has partnered with the National Panhellenic Conference to create a Joint Task Force on Substance-Free Housing. Together, NIC and NPC intend to implement the program on several test campuses for the 1996-97 academic year.

"Men's groups cannot solve this problem by themselves," says Jean Scott of Pi Beta Phi, who chairs NPC. "On campuses where there is a system-wide effort to pursue substance-free housing, members of women's fraternities should work with fraternity men to help them successfully reach this meaningful goal."

Christensen agrees. "We had only one bad incident last year in which a fraternity decided to violate our policy," he says. "They brought alcohol into the house. The women not only refused to participate, they turned them in." It hasn't happened again.

"Participation of the women's groups is essential," Christensen says. "We have to change the drinking culture on campus, and without the women's participation, it won't happen."

Christensen hastens to add that the situation at Utah State is far from perfect. Still, last year there wasn't a single arrest on Greek Row. There were no police raids on fraternity houses. Negative incidents of all types dropped dramatically.

Christensen also says that retention rates (the percentage of pledges actually initiated) are up and that members of Greek organizations are more visible in community and campus affairs. Volunteerism has increased sharply.

"It's definitely possible to change the culture," says Christensen, "but it takes support from every alumni group as well as the undergraduates. We're recruiting higher-quality members who are more academically oriented. Those people didn't join before."

Those very attributes are the things that persuaded Brad Dove to join the reborn Alpha Tau Omega chapter at Purdue University. After closing its chapter two years ago, ATO recolonized at Purdue last year and enlisted 36 new members. Dove was one of them.

"I had looked at other fraternities on campus," he says. "Some of the images I didn't care for. I thought that with a substance-free house, there would be more brotherhood. The chapter would be more committed to academics."

Fraternities have succeeded as part of the college scene for more than 200 years, largely due to the members' ability to adapt to the changing needs of students and society. Today, it is clear that campuses and communities will no longer tolerate underage drinking as acceptable behavior. Can fraternities adapt to this changing expectation?

"Sure, they can adapt," says Christensen. "But it takes a lot of work from every group, undergraduates and alumni, men and women. Everyone said it couldn't be done, but we've done it. I've been here a long time, and this is our best year ever."

How to Do It

Step 1. Develop a coalition that includes the administration, national men's and women's fraternities with chapters on the campus, IFC and Panhellenic officers, chapter advisors and house corporation boards, local alumni and alumnae, and key community representatives, especially local government and law enforcement.

Step 2. Presidents of men's and women's fraternity chapters and IFC and panhellenic officers spend a weekend on retreat talking through their reactions to the substance-free decision, accepting the decision and making plans to move forward with it.

Step 3. Host a convocation for all undergraduate fraternity men and women. All coalition members will be represented and will present the substance-free guidelines, with special emphasis on the benefits to members, chapters and the Greek system as a whole.

Step 4. Following the general convocation, national officers and staff will meet with their own collegiate and alumni members to discuss implementation of the plan.

Step 5. Each national organization will send a mailing to all living alumni/ae of the chapter to explain the substance-free guidelines.

Step 6. A panel of representatives from the coalition will serve as an oversight board and resource team to ensure compliance, provide encouragement and reward success.

Step 7. The campus and local media will be invited to general meetings and will be kept informed about the progress of the initiative.

Benefits of Substance-Free Housing

- A higher-quality fraternity experience.
- Improved safety and health of collegiate members.
- Greater attention to academic pursuits.
- Attractive, safe housing.
- Increased membership of dedicated men and women.
- A return to the beliefs upon which each fraternity was founded.

UTAH STATE ISN'T ALONE

Several campuses in addition to Utah State have implemented substance-free environments. The largest so far is the University of Colorado, where the Interfraternity Council decided to go substance-free in a response to heavy criticism of the Greek community at what has been described as one of America's top party schools. There, too, the program has been successful, despite some early stumbles. Boulder, Colorado, police have been active participants in the program, and they now sing the praises of the revived Greek community.

Several national fraternities, including such large groups as Sigma Nu, have committed to becoming substance-free nationwide by the year 2000. Others have started requiring chapters to make the change following risk-management violations. Some are committing to substance-free housing as they rebuild or remodel. Still others have committed to cooperate with NIC and NPC and implement the program in all chapters located on target campuses.

"We are starting with a few college campuses," says Lissa Bradford of Kappa Alpha Theta and co-chair of the NIC-NPC Joint Task Force on Substance-Free Housing. "Then, we will use these experiences to refine the process and expand to other locations."

"We want to see hundreds of campuses doing this in the next couple of years," says Carlton Bennett of Theta Chi, who co-chairs the task force with Bradford. "It could be what saves the Greek system."

Magazines Earn $$$ for Delta Zeta

Magazine subscriptions renewed or ordered through Delta Zeta and QSP can earn big bucks for your alumnae group.

Forty percent of the magazine subscription prices go to Delta Zeta. Only ten percent of these funds are used for administrative and promotional expenses. The remaining amount becomes profit for your chapter and the Delta Zeta Foundation scholarship program. Your chapter receives a 10% commission on each order and the Foundation 20% for scholarship money.

How Can You Help Your Alumnae Group?

- Order that magazine you are always picking up in the bookstore!
- Make sure you renew all your existing subscriptions through the program.
- Plan on giving magazine subscriptions as gifts for birthdays, holidays, and other special occasions.
- Drop off order forms with your family and friends—the program lasts all year long.
- Ask your doctor's and dentist's offices for renewals!
- Look in the Personal Interest Guide for suggestions on contacting nursing homes, church groups, gar*den clubs and other organizations for renewals and new subscriptions.*

Order forms available from your Alumnae Magazine Chairman. CALL her today and renew those subscriptions!

QSP Matches Coupons!

- YES! Great price values are always available for many of your favorite magazines. Your Alumnae Magazine Chairman/QSP representative has all the details.
- New subscriptions service begins within 12 weeks, depending on the frequency of the selection. Renewal orders will extend your subscription if placed before your expiration date.
- To place your order, complete an order form, available from your Alumnae Magazine Chairman, make checks payable to Delta Zeta Magazine Agency, and mail the check and order to Delta Zeta Magazine Agency, 202 East Church Street, Oxford, OH 45056.

An Extra Special Delta Zeta

Yes, Aurel Fowler Ostendorf, 1906-1995, was listed in The LAMP on the Flame Eternal page under her chapter Alpha Eta, and at our lovely Memorial Service at convention her contributions in service to Delta Zeta were acknowledged, but somehow there was something more that needed to be told.

With few exceptions, my dear, dear friends have been Delta Zetas whom I have met either through alumnae chapters or national work. Aurel and I met at the Cleveland alumnae chapter in the early thirties and we kept in touch even when her husband retired and they moved to Kauai, Hawaii. After she graduated from Marshall Law School, she became president of the Cleveland alumnae chapter, followed by Director of Province V, National Chairman of Housing, and served on the first Board of Trustees of the National Historical Museum, giving generously to its remodeling. At her death she bequeathed a substantial gift to the Endowment Fund of the museum. All those years on Kauai she continued her membership in the Cleveland alumnae chapter and faithfully paid her dues.

It was her continuing loyalty to the sorority and often under difficult circumstances, which made Aurel an extra special sister and one long to be remembered!

The Mystery Photos Continue! Some Solved, Some Confusing! What fun!

Back to the spring issue and our first round of mystery photos! Martha Camp VonKennell, Miami-A, wrote to tell us that the first '20s coed in photo #1 is her mother, Margaret Williamson Camp who graduated from Miami in 1922. While Margaret was in college she was active in athletics, earning several varsity letters and belonging to the Varsity M Club. She graduated as a home economics major and taught school in Gallipolis, Ohio, where she met Ralph Camp. They were married in 1927.

Now to the summer mystery page. Picture #3 is of Gamma Upsilons at Oklahoma City University, according to Victoria Johnson, Gamma Upsilon '78. She thinks the group was participating in Keshena Capers, a long-standing event at OCU.

Picture #4 is of the Mu chapter house at the University of California/Berkeley, according to Margaret Bunds Swift of Sutter Creek, California, who was president in 1946-47. Marge Starr Tucker of Scio, Oregon, wrote that she lived in the chapter house on the third floor, overlooking the driveway seen in the photo. She graduated in 1949.

Several wrote about the badge boxes and compacts, mostly the upper left and lower left boxes. Apparently they were obtained from Delta Zeta's jewelry supplier and available to chapters as gifts for big sisters, new initiates, etc. Keep writing, readers! Are you ready for more?

#1 This photo came to Delta Zeta by way of the Public Relations Department at Bolling Field, D.C. Are these pretty WACs from World War II among your sisters?

#2 I'd almost bet she's a fraternity sweetheart, wouldn't you?

#3 This photo is dated 1938 and was apparently intended for The LAMP!

#4 Sometime in the '60s. A province day speaker and hostesses? California is my guess.

#5 This one could have been yesterday ... marvelous color and cute enough for a LAMP cover. However, it didn't come to The LAMP ... it went unidentified to National Headquarters.
