My Recent Peregrinations

BY JULIA BISHOP COLEMAN

HAVING committed my home and family to the care of others, I set forth on Saturday morning, February 24 for Muncie to visit our Central Office, the hub of the Delta Zeta universe. There I found that Miss Mason, while working night and day herself believes in keeping everyone else busy. I thought of course she would take time off to entertain me, but not so. First thing I knew she was suggesting things I might do while there and because of the very atmosphere of the place I found myself doing them to the tune of her tireless typewriter. I see that she has invited you all to visit her. Take warning from me, she'll surely put you to work. Even our Grand President does not escape. The two of them are doing more actual work for our Fraternity than anyone can realize without being there to see. We all owe them much gratitude and appreciation.

After trying in vain to keep up with them for two days, I set out on the next lap of my journey, with a stopover in Chicago. There I was met by our Editor, Vera Brown Jones, and we breakfasted together. While strolling down Michigan Avenue we could at times divert our conversation from Delta Zeta and our special tasks therein, to admire a shop window and investigate the latest mode in Kiddies' clothes, but not often. It seemed the very shortest of three hours when Mrs. Jones called a taxi to take us to my train. When she left me there was added to my possessions a large box of Fannie May candies from the Alpha Alpha girls, which was greatly enjoyed and much appreciated.

At Iowa City, Irene Broughton and Lillian Swanson met me at the train, rather they found me waiting to be claimed after the train had left me at the rear end of the rear Pullman. One important thing to be decided at the next Convention is what badge of distinction should be worn by a visiting officer. Our recognition pins are too small; our pins may not be worn on our coats, roses do not survive long journeys and in my case, if there are other undersized women wearing shell glasses the girls are in trouble, and so am I.

This, my first visit to Iota chapter was a very happy one. Their house is a commodious old home, made very attractive and home-like. I was really surprised to find everything so "ship shape" in a fraternity house; floors newly polished, curtains freshly laundered, everything immaculate. The secret was disclosed by their patroness, Mrs. Stephenson in her talk at the beautiful banquet the chapter gave in my honor at the Jefferson Hotel. If any of you would like suggestions as to how to prepare for your chapter inspection, just write to the Iota girls. They may charge a small fee for the information and apply it to their building fund, for they have adopted the slogan "Own your own home."

With the banquet, a lovely reception, conference and auto rides the time fairly flew. Although "Peggy" Avery offered to take me to the Psychopathic Hospital (Why, do you suppose?); Gladys to teach me to swim; Mildred and Helen to visit the Department of Public Speech; each girl trying to interest me in her special department; even in spite of Vivien's arguments, I had to leave Friday because of that relentless schedule.

I spent Friday night in Des Moines, the early part of it in conference with Dr. Helen Johnson, our representative in Des Moines Panhellenic.

At Omaha, I was the guest of Theta Alumnæ chapter at a dinner at their fine Athletic Club. After dinner we held a long session when I was convinced that this chapter makes up in quality what it lacks in quantity.

The Omaha roses accomplished a speedy identification in Lincoln where I was met by as many girls as Helen Hunt's new car would hold. Zeta's home, their very own, is lovely, with a nice big yard and well located. Soon after I had "made myself at home," Mrs. Shugart arrived at the house and much to my delight, informed us that she was staying for the week-end. The Lincoln girls were charming hostesses. The Zeta girls gave a reception Saturday afternoon, and the Delta Alumnæ, a supper Sunday evening at the Woman's Building, of which our Mrs.

Thompson is hostess. Early Monday morning I reluctantly left them to get acquainted with their sisters down in Kansas.

After a long jerky ride on a most accommodating accommodation train, I reached Manhattan where Ila Knight and Mary Polsen were the maids in waiting. Although the heavens wept copiously at my coming, I found the heartiest of welcome at the chapter-house and soon felt that I had known Mother Bice and her girls always. Tuesday afternoon, they gave a reception and in the evening I was a guest of Manhattan Panhellenic at their annual banquet. Izil Polson was the brilliant toastmistress and I had a small part on the toast program. Early Wednesday morning, our Grand Treasurer arrived. It was the first time our paths had crossed so I was very glad for this opportunity of meeting Mrs. Thoesen who is doing such good work for Delta Zeta.

Girls, it is Lambda chapter which built a house on a total capital of sixty-five cents, and it doesn't look like sixty cents either, rather it is a very attractive modern house. For particulars inquire of Izil Polson.

At Manhattan it rained but at Baldwin it poured. Not having taken the swimming lessons from Gladys Taggart, I spent all my time in the chapter-house and heard about their university and buildings. Their house was so lovely and the girls such good entertainers, I was really glad for the excuse to stay with them. In spite of the aforesaid downpour, the reception was well attended. Perhaps it was because everybody knew of the musical program the girls were giving. I know they all felt well repaid for braving the elements. Eta chapter has had an interesting experience in acquiring a home, too. They have done wonders in remodelling an old one. It is now ideal for their purpose.

From Baldwin, I went to Kansas City, and spent most of the day visiting with Xi Alumnae. For lunch, I was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Troop. Mrs. Troop (Omicron) is president of the chapter, and entertained them at her home that evening. For dinner I was the guest of Mrs. Moore and Miss West. It was a great pleasure to meet these earnest women who are working heroically to "hold the fort" until re-enforcements are added.

I arrived at the home of Alpha Epsilon just as the last callers were leaving the reception given to introduce their new house mother, Mrs. Morphis. The famous, rather infamous blizzard prevented my getting there earlier. On Tuesday, the chapter gave a luncheon, with all the fraternity house mothers and the Dean of Women as guests. The girls prepared and served it themselves and it was done beautifully. Since they all are taking the Home Economics course, they grew dissatisfied with their cook and dispensed with her services early in the year, since which time they have done all the cooking themselves.

After my delightful stay in Stillwater, I went to Dallas, Tex. There I met the President of Delta Province, Mrs. Fannie Putcamp Smith and was so happy to be able to give her such good reports of her chapters. I visited relatives in Dallas for two weeks, then returned to my home and fireside, feeling very grateful for the privilege of meeting so many of our Fraternity; seeing how they live and work and play. I hope we will meet many of them at Convention. Meantime, I am thinking of them with deepest love and good wishes.

The Gathering of the Hoosier Clan of Delta Zeta

“WEREN’T you glad you were a Delta Zeta in Indiana to-day?” “Aren’t I always glad I’m a Delta Zeta in Indiana!” came the fervent reply, and any Hoosier Delta Zeta would know that these remarks could drift out from only one place—the gathering of the Hoosier Clan for the State Luncheon.

State gatherings are a part of the traditions of all fraternities in Indiana. Each year, from early spring until the close of the college year, the fraternity men and women make their pilgrimage to Indianapolis, there to kindle again the flame of their allegiance to the particular organization that claims them. There are very few organizations in Indiana colleges who do not have two or more chapters in the state, and so a state get-together is in the nature of a miniature convention as well as a reunion for each chapter. Because Indianapolis is so easily reached from all parts of the state, it remains undisputed as the logical center of all such gatherings, and has indeed become the Mecca of all homesick Greeks, if one is permitted to employ such an expression!

There are in Indiana three college chapters, and two alumnæ chapters of Delta Zeta. Also there are a number of members of other chapters scattered over the state, and of the total of three hundred members, you may count on seeing half at least at Indianapolis on this notable occasion.

This year there were at the luncheon representatives from the following chapters: Alpha, Delta, Epsilon, Nu, Psi, Alpha Alpha, Alpha Beta, Alpha Eta, and Gamma Alumnæ; representing five states. Quite a convention, was it not?

We had the Travertine Room at the Lincoln Hotel, a most attractive room that is admirably suited to such an occasion, and were seated at small tables, well assorted, so that we had an opportunity to know some of our chapter neighbors. The luncheon was delicious, and of course no one would wish a more perfect favor than the Delta Zeta roses we received. We had one of our Grand President’s always inspiring talks on “How Far that Little Candle Throws its Beams,” and had all counted on hearing Mrs. Coleman in her delightful way, tell us about “The Leaven of the Two Thousand” (meaning us, you understand, alumnæ!) but we were compelled to forego this, and had only her wishes for better luck in the future. However, to compensate for this disappointment we had an unexpected pleasure in the presence of Mrs. Mary Dranga Campbell, an alumna of Epsilon chapter, who for the past four years has been Director of Child Welfare in Serbia, and who has only recently returned to the United States. Mrs. Campbell gave us a little talk, too, expressing her pleasure and surprise in finding how Delta Zeta has grown in the past few years, and her wish that Delta Zeta may go on earnestly striving to find that thing which is her real mission to the world, and charging each of us to remember the obligation we have to society in the very fact that we have been privileged to enjoy the college and fraternity life so dear to us. We had after the close of the luncheon, a program of stunts from the college chapters:

"A Δ Z Vaudeville"

Psi chapter

"The Story of Mankind"

Epsilon chapter

"A Delta Zeta Fruit Basket"

Delta chapter

Needless to say that all the alumnae watched with eagle eye to see if the present active chapters showed "the old-time pep," and it is pleasant to be able to relate that all seemed satisfied that the good name of the chapter is still cherished and upheld just as "when we were in school."

It was amazingly late when all was over and we were ready to separate until time for the dance in the evening, but no one was ready to go. That is one thing about the get-together; we are always pleased all over again to see how splendid these sisters of ours are, from year to year.

There was the usual dance at night, and on Sunday afternoon the members of Alpha Alumnae entertained with a tea, in honor of the visiting officers and members, to which were invited members of Indianapolis and Butler College Panhellenic, and other friends. So that, all in all, the 1923 get-together was one to leave a most pleasant memory with us all, and to all you other Delta Zetas who have not tried this plan, we heartily recommend that you begin now to see what can be done to mend the situation as speedily as may be. We know that when you have once tried it, you will never give up the custom of meeting once a year to "take a cup o' kindness yet—For Auld Lang Syne."

GRACE E. MASON, Epsilon.

Are You an All-Around Girl?

“WE COME to college to obtain knowledge primarily.” We hear that phrase so often—from the chapel platform, in a newspaper or a book. I wonder if sorority members get as much out of their books as non-sorority people? Do other things such as parties, dances, athletics, dates and such things take up too much of their time?

The freshman comes to college and within the first week, she may have attended as many as eleven different parties or teas, and she chooses her intimate companions of the next four years in such a seething hurly-burly!

Then come those freshmen duties, faculty teas, chaperon's reception, open house (at some universities) when finally after six weeks have passed and grades have been turned in with an average of a C or F for every freshman,—then the upperclassmen begin to harp about grades and the fraternity's scholarship standing. Have they had time to think about grades? Hardly! These same girls have been selected because their scholarship had been good in high school—for one reason. For in all the recommendations I have seen the girls all had excellent scholarship. Why then had they fallen down now? The upperclassmen forget that freshmen have so many new situations to become accustomed to!

The standing of the sorority depends sometimes very much upon the number of its members at fraternity dance, party or prom.

Much of the standing of the sorority depends upon the winning of basketball, bowling and baseball tournaments. Much weight is placed on how many different fraternities “date” at the house. The freshmen ask, “Why, how can our sorority do all of these things?”

Did you ever notice that when there is anything to be done, it is never given to the person who has nothing to do? And the busiest one always gets it done somehow.

A fraternity house is always in confusion. It is in the very air. Some one darts out of the door to a four o'clock class with the hour already striking. Three girls have sweaters and are off for a hike, another is talking over the telephone.

How any studying is done is a miracle. There may be study hours when all are supposed to be quiet. But in most of the sorority houses where three and four live in a room, with two dressing for "dates," one in a talkative mood, having only one class the next day, what chance is there for the fourth to settle down and study?

The kind of work we do in college often signifies the kind of work we do in the world later. Is it the one-sided or the all-around woman who comes out on top?

From observations I have made the girls who usually come out first in scholarship are well toward the top in most every other worth-while thing.

A person who wants to do a thing can usually find time to do it. Look at yourself—are you the all-around girl, or just the one-sided girl! are you a victim to your whims, or do you do what you dislike? Read the "If" for girls in your spare moments, and see if you measure up to that standard of an all-around girl.

Our comforts and our cares."

Are College Folk Consistent?

THE locality of events in which the average college student is interested might be divided, like all Gaul, into three parts, home, college, and the rest of the world.

College elections, fraternity bids and athletic events assume gigantic proportions beside which the Lausanne Conference shrinks into insignificance. It is natural that one should be most vitally interested in the events close at hand but it is deplorable that current events of the outside world—for college is a world unto itself—should be given such a small place in the thought life of our political and social leaders of a few years hence.

"But," some college librarian will object, "Our newspapers are in constant demand—and besides, I understand approximately two-thirds of the students subscribe to papers of various sorts."

Which is, of course, all very true. But by careful observation and conversation with and among college students, one will discover that the social section, the comic section, feature work, and local news, with probably a glance at the headlines constitute "reading the paper."

The classes in Current History are the exception that prove the rule. But even among classes where current reading assumes a status of lesson preparation one is apt to discover more conversational possibilities in "Barney Google" than in Ku Klux Klan activities in Louisiana.

Nor is this condition peculiar to any one campus. At a Y. W. Conference held last summer at which about forty-eight colleges were represented, discussion groups on "Christian Internationalism" were held from time to time. The lack of recent knowledge of foreign Countries was appalling. Events of sufficient age to have assumed historical importance were recalled without difficulty, but recent news was at a premium. One clever girl from a woman's college produced some laughing remark, "I know that because we had to answer club roll call with current events!"

It seems to be the popular conception that if one exhibits too extensive a knowledge of what is happening in the world about him that he immediately becomes an "intellectual"—a "grind"—a sort of being set apart. And strange to say this is the last thing in the world desired by the average student. Particularly is this true among girls who fear that exhibition of sense endangers one's popularity.

The following is a quotation from a weekly paper of a large technical school: "A census taken up among the fellows at Indiana University to determine what qualities or accomplishments they regard as most essential in a co-ed for a 'good date' revealed that none of the fellows considered brains as an attribute. The three most desirable characteristics were a 'good line,' a sense of humor, and good looks."

Now how are we going to combat an attitude like this? And whose duty is it to remedy it? Of course the various college faculties can do much to alleviate it by making Current History courses unusually attractive. But it is clear that any effective remedy must come from the students themselves. This may be brought about in a number of ways probably the most practical of which is through college organizations.

Practically every student in college belongs or can belong to some organization. The Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.s probably recruit the largest number of members with combined membership of all, fraternities coming second.

Open forums on current topics, lectures, picture shows and assigned papers under the auspices of some organization are a few of the possible ways of arousing interest. And when interest is aroused discussion inevitably follows. And through discussion more interest is created and more information sought. Thus gradually an intelligent and well-informed public opinion is created.

This thrusts a very definite responsibility on the various organizations. But it is clearly a task in which organization is a prime requisite. Moreover it has been demonstrated that our leaders in college activities are those who have an organization through which to work.

On every side advocates of modernism are crying, "We are living in the present—not in the past." And no group is supposedly more modern than the college world—which brings up the question "Are we consistent?" And unless some united effort is made to know the present trend of events the inevitable reply must be that we are not.

Indiana's State Panhellenic Association

WHAT is believed to be the first organization of its sort was formed in Indianapolis at the February meeting of the Indianapolis Panhellenic. This organization is a State Panhellenic Association with members from each of the towns in Indiana which has its own Panhellenic Association.

The Indianapolis Panhellenic board, composed of one representative from each of the sixteen alumnae groups in Indianapolis, took the initiative in starting the new organization. Members of Panhellenics from other towns were asked to attend a luncheon, February 10, to meet and discuss this proposition with the Indianapolis representatives. Eight cities besides Indianapolis sent delegates, and the unanimous opinion was that such an organization would give the fraternity women of Indiana a unity much to be desired. All agreed that the first year should be given over to working out the details of the organization; basis of membership, time and place of meeting, and objects to be accomplished.

Indianapolis is the general center for all sorts of activities in Indiana, and being easily accessible from all parts of the state, lends itself readily to conferences and conventions. There is a very large proportion of fraternity people in the population of the majority of Indiana towns, and in many of these there are already Panhellenic associations or clubs, or the incentive to form one. It is the plan of the officers of the State Panhellenic to make each of these city associations a member of the State Association, with one representative on the council. There will be one annual official meeting of the state organization, probably a luncheon or dinner. The two fields of activity that were suggested at the organization meeting were first, the creating of fraternity sentiment over the state to oppose the unfavorable legislation that periodically shows itself, and the sponsoring of legislation favorable not merely to fraternal interests, but to higher education in general; and second, the creating of a state-wide scholarship fund for the state university.

Officers for the first year will be from the Indianapolis Panhellenic, and there are in addition the eight members who were present at the formation of the organization. Following the business session, the out-of-town people were the guests of the Indianapolis Association at its annual open meeting, a reception to all the Indianapolis Greek-letter women. Fraternity chapters from Butler gave a number of stunts, and there were musical numbers by alumnae.

Delta Zeta is represented on the Indianapolis Panhellenic by Hester Friedenburg Miller, and Grace Mason was the Muncie delegate in the meeting for the State organization.

An Interesting Career in Library Work

WHY be a librarian? To the uninitiated library work is nice and clean and easy and affords one the opportunity of reading all the new books and current magazines and of talking leisurely with one's friends as they happen to pass by. For many years the idea was prevalent that only those people too proud to work with their hands were employed in libraries. Few people realized what the library spirit meant and regarded the work as semi-clerical, semi-social and very erudite.

Happily this mistaken idea was corrected during the war and I think will never return. During the time of stress librarians from all phases of the work responded loyally to the call for service and proved that they were not too scholarly to work and that efficiency was their keynote. A love of service is the creed of all librarians and they carry it with them wherever they go.

Libraries are public educational institutions and an important part of the task of the public library worker is in coöperating with the teachers in the great educational plan. Another very important phase of library work is the post-educational work, which consists in acting in collaboration with the various activities of the communities.

On one occasion when the churches of the town were uniting in a religious educational training school for a week the dean of the training school had been unable to find any book on the primary department that suited the needs of a small church; he came to me, the librarian and I immediately told him of Hazel A. Lewis' excellent book, The Primary Department.

Later that same afternoon the program committee of the Woman's Club came to me and wanted some very interesting, well illustrated books on several phases of French art; also some lantern slides. Fortunately I had no trouble in giving them the material they wanted.

Some girls were organizing a camp fire group and wanted to know about Indian costumes. I gave them the best book illustrating and describing Indian costumes and customs.

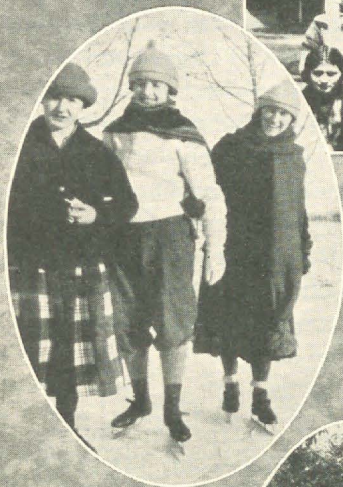

The banker wanted the latest information on the rates of exchange for foreign money. No sooner had I given him the book he wanted than little Bob Wilson came to me and wanted a good love story for his mother. Imagine my delight when about a week later his mother told me she had enjoyed Grace Richmond's Foursquare and asked for another book like it.

Just as I was ready to leave the library Bill Simpson, one of our prosperous farmers, came in and wanted some information on germination of seed corn and crop rotation. I gave him the desired material and then I left the library, almost late to dinner.

Library work is quite delightful because of the varied branches of the work, it ranges from the technical work of cataloging to the work of the reference librarian, and from children's library work to that of the big business house, bank or the library of Congress.

Librarianship is one of the more recent professions and offers an opportunity to the college woman especially. Many library training schools have been opened up in the last few years in connection with public libraries, technical schools and in universities both in undergraduate work and graduate work. The American Library association, with headquarters at 78 East Washington St., Chicago, Ill., is the home of the library movement and gladly gives information and advice to those interested in library work.

An Alumna's Connection with Delta Zeta

BY JESSIE WATSON

WHEN you left college (if you are an alumna) was there a little feeling that your connection with your Fraternity would not be quite so close in the future? Then after you had been away awhile, when you went back to the house and all the girls you had known in college seemed so glad to see you and the freshmen whom you had never met before were so kind to you that you fell in love with them at once, did you have the feeling that Delta Zeta meant more to you than you had ever thought it could mean? Was there an atmosphere, an inexplainable something, that came over you as soon as you entered the house and made you think, "Now I know what Delta Zeta means to me?"

Then, when you realized that you would be part of Delta Zeta and Delta Zeta would be a vital part of you forever, did you decide that your obligations had by no means ceased? Perhaps you tried to view your Fraternity in a cold, impartial way, as nearly as that is possible, and by comparing it with other fraternities take an inventory of its needs. You decided that because Delta Zeta is a young fraternity the one thing it needs more than anything else is a backing of strong alumnæ. It means so much to introduce a rushee to admirable women who are outstanding in the community and say that they are members of Delta Zeta. And perhaps the thought kept recurring to you; and sometime, when you were discouraged and felt that the success you aspired to was hardly worth the effort, the thought came to you again that Delta Zeta needs more alumnæ who are doing big things. Then you told yourself, "Women have reached goals as difficult as the one I am striving for, and what others have done I am not willing to admit a Delta Zeta is unable to do."

And so you strive on, hoping that you may prove yourself worthy of the wonderful friendships that you have formed through Delta Zeta.

This has been the experience of one alumna. Has it been yours, too?

A Sorority Helps to Qualify a Girl for Campus Activities and Leadership

A PERSON'S success in college depends upon the number of friends she makes, and the number of friends a person has depends on her acquaintances. Many girls (for I speak of girls because they are more timid), when they first enter the university, have a terror of meeting strangers. And many girls enter college with very few, or no acquaintances. So there is a painful shyness connected with this terrorized feeling, and consequently, they find a deep, dark abyss, or chasm between themselves and other students.

When they first start out to college they are about as shy and sensitive as anyone could be. It is extremely painful for them to be introduced, or to introduce themselves, and it is like a sentence to be hanged, when you first are approached. After a time it becomes evident that human beings are pretty much alike after all. Yet you still have the longing for human companionship, so somehow, the ice is broken, and a few acquaintances are made. Then the girls begin to enjoy other people, and receive valuable pleasures from meeting people and being in the whirl of personal contact.

In studying the estimates of friendships, we find many odd things occurring. For instance, if a girl in her activities on the university campus should run for a certain office, when it comes to calling on a friend for a vote, how many real acquaintances could she really count upon, without electioneering? Would it be twenty-five? Well, hardly, for you would find a fine collection of friendly enemies, and in analyzing them, you would find them so much more interesting than the friends. Also they would be the two-faced sort, of friends, who would have diverse interests of their own, or for some competitive friend.

Not many people have the opportunities of meeting persons, and here the sorority is a big factor in college life. When once a member, you meet the members of your group, and various friends and acquaintances of each other. In a large institution of learning, students take a person at his or her own valuation. Thus we give credit to those members, who work and try for various activities, and come out as victors, because in order to win they must have a personality that will warrant them real friends, who will stick by them, and fight for them, until victory comes. Remember, "A friend in need, is a friend indeed."

To win a name for yourself, comes from this wide friendship, but of course, one can say, "A burglar can win a name for himself," but I mean the right sort of name, that can be earned in an honorable way. The person who earns her name honorably will make the right sort of friends, and thus make a place in the world for herself.

And thus I would say, in college, an organization like a fraternity aids in bringing out many a fine quality and ability that lies back in the innate powers of a girl, by aiding her to make friends, and real friends that never fail her at the zero hour, and time of need.

M. ELIZABETH DARRAGH, Theta.

The Lanterns of Northwestern

AT NORTHWESTERN University there is a system of organizations for the girls of each class which has become a tradition. The three upper classes are the Lantern girls while the freshmen maintain the traditional green under the name of the Green Button. Each year the outgoing seniors give to the next year's sophomores what has been their emblem and the sophomores' ring is of gold with the red lantern. This year the seniors are the Gold Lantern of Epsilon Pi, the juniors are the Blue Lantern and the sophomores are the Red Lantern. The seniors' ring is of gold with a gold lantern on onyx, the juniors' ring is of silver with the blue lantern and the sophomores' ring is of gold with the red lantern. This year the seniors pass the Gold Lantern on to the incoming sophomores, next year the seniors will pass on the Blue Lantern and the next senior class will pass on the Red Lantern.

Seniors, for the sunshine and the Gold Lantern, all freshman girls thank you!

National Drama League Convention

THE Iowa City Drama League Center and the University Theater were hostesses to the Drama League of America for its thirteenth annual Convention April 19-21 in Iowa City. The purpose of the Convention was to give people working in the field, an opportunity to compare notes and gain inspiration for the furthering of the work.

The opening evening Dulcy by George S. Kaufman and Marc Connelly, was played by Drama League Players of Iowa City. The following night members of the University Theater presented The Bath Road, a romantic comedy by Francis Neilson. Iowa City had all the thrills of a "first night" as this play had never been produced by either amateur or professional companies. Mr. Neilson who is an English playwright and president of the National Drama League of America was present.

The different sessions included such aspects of the drama league work as the League as a Factor in Community Life, Drama Library and Lecture Room, The Play in the Theater, and Problems and Opportunities of Community and Little Theater Circuits. Prominent among the speakers were Professor George Pierce Baker, Director of 47 Workshop and Professor of Dramatic Literature at Harvard, Mr. Francis Neilson, Mrs. A. Starr Best, Mrs. Alice M. Houston, and Mr. Walter Eaton.

A unique feature of interest was the display of stagecraft work, pictures of productions, programs and model theaters which were sent from universities, colleges and community centers from all parts of the United States.

The University Players entertained the delegates of the Convention at a reception where they had the opportunity to meet distinguished guests of the Convention. "Round Table" discussions concerning Center Organizations and Problems were conducted at luncheons.

At the close of the Convention the delegates and guests met in their annual banquet at which President Neilson gave an address on "The National Theater." In this address he pointed out the influence which a national theater would have in molding the character and lives of the citizens of any country. This national theater will come about not as a result of the activities of the commercial theater but will be sponsored by the amateur groups such as may be found in community centers, colleges and universities.

The Seniors Creed

"As others have their creeds, so have we ours"

AS A CHILD believes most in its mother, we, the larger children of a larger maternal principle, must naturally believe, first of all in our university and our Fraternity, and the educational advantages that they represent. We do not believe that there could be quite such good universities anywhere else as ours, nor quite so good a Fraternity elsewhere; and we hope that all other future classes will be as loyal in this belief as we are. We will always look back upon our Alma Mater as one of our most hallowed memories and believe in it and our Fraternity as sincerely as we do now.

Stepping forth from our Alma Mater we believe in our good state, and in the best of her cities. Long may they live and prosper! And we could not truly believe in these without having even a larger belief in the larger institutions of which they are so vital a part; therefore we believe in our National flag, the glorious stars and stripes of union and liberty. We pledge over and over again to its allegiance and feel a renewal of American citizenship.

We believe in our motto " $\Delta$  ia—karteroi Zopuron" also that of our Alma Mater. These words will ever be most inspiring to us. Everybody has one predominating principle in his life by which all his acts are shaped and arranged. If our principle is a worthy one, our lives will be of nobility and honor; therefore we must think strongly and seriously of the principle that is to be the foundation of the ends we desire to obtain.

We believe in our colors. Those of our Alma Mater and of our Fraternity, because they symbolize the trust and loyalty that others have put in us.

We believe, too, in our yells, our songs and our hymns. They typify energy, and ambition, they inspire and encourage us, they voice our spirit, our enthusiasm and our devotion.

We believe in ourselves, our alumnæ and our undergraduates as they believe in us. Our alumnæ expect greater things of us than they have achieved, because we have their experiences to profit by. The undergraduate has placed us upon a high pedestal from which we must step upward and accomplish much. Inspired by our mottos, sustained by our colors, cheered on by our songs we are certain of success and must offer the world nothing less than our very best efforts.

On Camp Panhellenic

Many fraternity women have shared the summer joys of Camp Panhellenic, on picturesque Washington Island, Wis.

The following song expresses the spirit of its associations:

I can feel the cool lake breeze from the harbor blowin' free,
I can hear the tent flap flappin', and it's there that I would be;
Where the campin' grounds a-callin', I can hear it callin' me
To Wisconsin's island forest, to Michigan's blue sea.

Come ye north by road and sail,
Follow north the same old trail—
You will see the sky blue water dance and toss itself to spray—
Oh, the breezes laugh and play,
O'er the harbor, lake, and bay,
And the dawn comes up a promise o'er the lake at break of day.

I can see the campfire flicker, I can hear the banjo strum,
I can see the stars a-shining through the pine trees one by one;
I can hear the sound o' singing, and the chorus comes to me—
"We've come north to Camp Panhellenic—we are one fraternity."

Oh, whate'er our emblems be,
We are one fraternity—
We are going to work together just as well as we can play
While the breezes laugh and stray,
And the sun goes down a glory o'er the hills at close o' day.

When a girl chooses her vocation, it is not only her own concern, but that of the public as well. A college graduate has been for four years accruing an enormous debt. Great men have given her their priceless treasure through books, her instructors have given themselves to her service and instruction, and her parents have sacrificed often to give her these privileges. She must give of her best to the world, as have these others.

Campus Customs at University of North Dakota

THE time of the year has arrived when interesting things begin to happen on our campus. Students seem to have added vigor and more "pep."

Probably the two most prominent customs which prevail on our campus at this time of year are: Campus Cut-up and Campus Clean-Up. You might judge from the titles that the campus did all the work but not so. I can still see the pledges, yes, the actives, too, of all fraternities recently when they were carrying everything from furniture to carpet tacks to the armory in preparation for Campus Cut-Up. Each organization on the campus was responsible for a booth. The proceeds for the evening were given to the Y. W. C. A. I wish you could have seen the Delta Zetas and Beta Chis in their minstrel show which included a darky chorus and a musical (?) orchestra.

Now we are looking forward to Campus Clean-Up which takes us rather unawares. Some noon very soon the announcement will be made that classes will be dismissed for the afternoon for Campus Clean-Up. Then if you would visit our campus that particular afternoon you would see large groups of students and professors all over the campus with rakes and pitchforks performing the worthy task of removing the leaves of the past year.

So you see it is not the campus that works in either of these events but it is the students working for the campus—A campus which "every day and in every way" is getting to be a better campus.

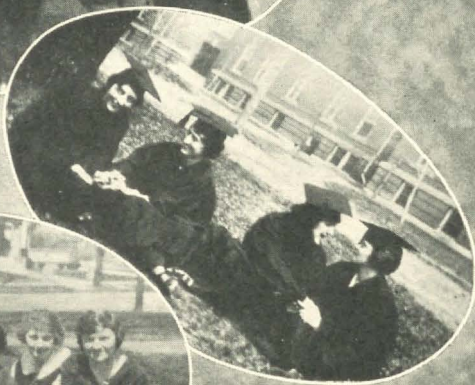

KATHERINE PRATT.

We proudly go about proclaiming the fact that we as college graduates are educated. But—do we ever stop to consider that no amount of "cramming" of books, names, dates and theories can make us educated? Education as the word signifies—a leading out—is a development of ourselves, gradual and with ease. In other words it is the production of the ego of each of us, our personality.

To be truly educated we should have culture with a C which denotes refinement, poise and elevation of mind.

Attention Alumnae!

THE majority of you are not affiliated with any Delta Zeta organization. You are not living in or near cities where we have alumnae chapters. But you would like to help in our national Delta Zeta work; you would enjoy hearing all about what is going on in Lampdom; you want to know what your active chapter is doing and all the latest news from your chapter associates of undergraduate days. In other words you want to keep in touch with Fraternity affairs and have a part in her splendid growth and development. On the other hand, your Fraternity needs you; your coöperation, your renewed interest and the help that you promised her.

To bring about all these things, we have decided to ask the alumnae and former students of each active chapter to organize an alumnae association. Plans for such organizations are being sent to the active chapters. We hope that all who can will attend your Commencement Homecoming, where the matter will be presented to you.

Our alumnae associations already organized have demonstrated to us the wisdom of the plan. Upsilon chapter led the way and others have followed. We expect every chapter to have an organized alumnae association at the end of this college year. What a bulwark of strength to our active chapters and what a joy to you to feel that you have some definite way of helping the cause so dear to us all!

"Every alumna and former student a member of some alumnae association," is our goal. Will you help us attain it?

JULIA BISHOP COLEMAN.

Announcements

Report all changes in address to Central Office. Do not depend on your college or alumna chapter secretary to do this. Also report to Central Office all failures to receive the LAMP. Husband's initials or Christian name should always be given with married names.

Central Office would like to know if any alumna or alumnae can help to complete the LAMP files for the permanent files. We need the following numbers: Volume 1, all; Volume 2, all; Volume 3, number 4; Volume 4, all; Volume 5, all; Volume 6, number 4.

Surely someone must have copies of these that may be given to complete the Fraternity files, and we shall be very grateful for any of these numbers.

DO YOU WANT ONE?

We have had requests from several girls about furnishing membership certificates with the signatures of former grand officers. There are now available a few of these, with Miss Railsback's and Miss Smith's signatures as Grand President and Grand Secretary. Any girl who needs her certificate replaced, or who for any reason has never received one, and who was initiated between 1916-20, should immediately get her certificate from the Central Office. Certificates for the period from 1920-22 Convention will be furnished upon receipt of a statement from the chapter that the chapter treasury has received and forwarded the money for same, to National Treasury, or upon payment direct to Central Office.

STOP! LOOK! AND ACT, CHAPTERS, OFFICERS AND READERS

If there are mistakes in the directory in this issue, either in names or in addresses, please notify the editor what is the correct form AT ONCE.

If your name and address as it is given on the wrapper that brought this copy of the LAMP to you is not correct, please notify the Business Manager what is correct TO-DAY.

We thank you!

"AMONG THE MISSING WERE—"

In the last number of the LAMP we listed a number of people who were at least temporarily lost to Central Office. We wish to thank the girls from Sigma and Lambda and Delta who helped us to place some of these girls back into the fold, and hope there will be others found in the same way. However, here are a few more whom we are so far unable to locate:

Blythe, Hazel Caroline, Delta.

Bowman, Mrs. (Ada Musser), Iota.

Joy, Florence L., Iota.

McClain, Mrs. W. B. (Florence Hart), Theta.

O'Rourke, Mrs. Sinin (Grace White), Zeta.

Salzer, Mrs. Harry (Mildred Tucker), Sigma.

Schlieper, Mrs. (Cecil Hardy), Beta.

Sims, Mrs. M. (Marjorie Dyas), Iota.

Smith, Mrs. Leland (Augusta Caldwell), Mu.

Stacy, Mrs. Wright (Merle Oakes), Iota.

Williams, Mrs. Clifford (Viene Caswell), Beta.

Please pass on any information you may have concerning any of these girls, to Central Office.

THE LIFE LINE GROWS, BUT NOT LIKE JACK'S BEANSTALK!

We are glad to list the following additions to the list of Life Subscribers to the LAMP since the last issue:

Alpha—Dorothy Bertch; McGinnis, Mrs. G. W. (Rose Pierce)
omitted by mistake last time; Marjorie Pone Love

Beta—Dorothy Schumann, Mable Hobart, Erma Lindsay Land

Delta—Leila Moffatt Brown, Mildred Crull Bullock, Evelyn
Chenoweth Miller, Esie Gannaway

Zeta—Kathryn Lowry Kavanagh, Mollie McCombs, Effie Noll, Ella Noll, Bess Jeffery

Theta—Florence Loewell

Iota—Effie Norris, Mary Dunn, Harriet Koch

Lambda—Araminta Holman, Geraldine Noffsinger Randall

Mu—Cornelia Wishon Elbow

Xi—Catharine Swing

Omicron—Elizabeth T. Reid

Pi—Gladys Stubblefield Rust

Sigma—Aline Hamiter, Irma Scott, Edith Barrett

Upsilon—Adah Jorandby, Amy Peterson

Chi—Alice Feike, Florence Burnap, Marguerite Turner Gagg, Christine Riddell

Psi—Flora Mabel Hayes, Mary H. Lewis, Marie Smith

Although several chapters have entered the lists with the first Life Subscriber since last time, there are still too many whose alumnæ have not yet placed that chapter on the list. Actives, have you done your duty in the way of urging your own alumnæ to do their part?

ALPHA ALUMNÆ

ALUMNÆ CHAPTER IS DELTA ZETA HOSTESS

STATE BANQUET OF SORORITY ATTENDED BY 130 MEMBERS

Bertha Leming Presides

Miss Rennie Sebring Smith of Muncie, the Grand President; Mrs. J. M. Coleman, of Loveland, Ohio, the Grand Vice-president, and Miss Grace Mason, of Muncie, the Grand Corresponding Secretary of Delta Zeta Sorority, were the honor guests this afternoon at the annual state luncheon given at the Hotel Lincoln. The Alpha Alumnæ chapter, of Indianapolis, was the hostess chapter, and Miss Bertha Leming, president of the alumnæ, presided for the program. Covers for 130 were laid at small tables of six each, arranged with centerpieces of roses and sweet peas in the sorority colors of Rose and Green. The place cards were engraved with the sorority crest in gold and tied with Rose and Green ribbons.

The program which was arranged by Mrs. F. E. Ellis, was divided into two parts. Miss Smith, the Grand President, and Mrs. Coleman, the Grand Vice-president, spoke, and a stunt was given by the three active chapters, including a vaudeville stunt by the Franklin College chapter; a stunt entitled "The Delta Zeta Fruit Basket," by the DePauw University chapter, and a stunt entitled "The Story of Mankind," by the Indiana University chapter. During the luncheon Mrs. S. K. Ruick played the organ.

The sorority will entertain this evening with a dance in the Travertine Room of the Hotel Lincoln, which will be transformed into a spring garden with ferns, palms and baskets of spring flowers. The chaperons for the dance will be Dr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Chappell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Railsback and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Coerper.

Sunday afternoon the alumnae chapter will entertain with a tea at the home of Mrs. Robert Miller in honor of the grand officers. The house will be arranged with Killarney roses, the sorority flower, and baskets of ferns, and lighted with Rose and Green tapers in crystal holders tied with Rose and Green tulle. Mrs. Charles Railsback and Mrs. Henry Coerper will pour.—Indianapolis News.

WOMEN DEBATERS WILL CONTEST O. A. C. TO-NIGHT

OREGON AFFIRMATIVE WILL MEET O. A. C. NEGATIVE HERE

University and townspeople interested in the world-wide topic of war debt cancellation, will have an opportunity to hear discussion on the subject to-night when the women's affirmative debate team contests with the O. A. C. negative on the question, "Resolved That the United States should cancel the war debts of Belgium, France and Italy." The contest will be held in Villard Hall at 8:15 this evening.

"The girls' work has shown up splendidly," Professor C. D. Thorpe declared, "and they are going into the debate with a lot of pep and enthusiasm, ready to give the O. A. C. girls a lively argument."

Lurline Coulter who has been on the varsity team for three years is considered one of the best debaters working in forensics this year, debate coaches say. She has been an ardent worker both in do-nut and varsity debate activities, during her three years at the university, and is a talented and forcible speaker.

May Fenno has been a member of the varsity team for only one year, this year being her second, but in that time she has displayed great ability as a debater and has worked up a splendid speech for to-night, Professor Thorpe said. To-night's contest will be the first for both Frances Simpson and Margaret Duerner, but they have worked with much consistency and enthusiasm in their constructive talks, and will put up an exceptionally good debate with O. A. C., debate heads declare.

Up to last night only two judges had been selected for the debate, but it is expected that there will be no trouble in securing a third. The 'wg who have accepted are Dr. F. G. Franklin of Willamette University, and Victor A. Collins, debate coach at the senior high school of Salem. Professor George Turnbull of the university school of journalism will act as chairman.

The Oregon affirmative consisting of May Fenno and Frances Simpson will contest the O. A. C. negative in Villard Hall, while Lurline Coulter and Margaret Duerner, upholding the negative for Oregon, will go to Corvallis to debate the O. A. C. affirmative.

SOPHOMORE GIRLS WIN IN SWIMMING CONTEST

JUNIORS AND FRESHMEN CAPTURE WEDNESDAY'S MEET

The sophomore firsts completely outswam the freshman seconds last night, the former running up 42 points against the loser's 5. Catherine Sartain, swimming for the sophomores, was the high point winner of the meet, with 13 points to her credit.

The events included three lengths for speed, breast and back stroke races, relay, plunge for distance, and diving. The sophomore team was composed of Cris Heckman, Maude Schroeder, Helen Atkinson, Bee Fish, Yvonne Smith, Marian Smith and Catherine Sartin. Freshman swimmers were Margaret Vincent, Adrienne Hazard, Anna McCabe, and Elizabeth Lewis.

The first team of the juniors and the freshman seconds were winners in Wednesday's inter-class meets. The sophomore seconds scored 15 points against the juniors 42 while the freshmen outswam the senior firsts 32 to 25. Winifred Hopson, swimming for the seniors, and Muriel Myers, for the juniors, tied for first place as high point winners of the meets, each making 15 points. Betty Garrett, a junior, took second place with 11 points to her credit, while Anna McCabe of the freshman team was a close third with 10 points. Members of the freshman team were Margaret Vincent, Elizabeth Lewis, Adrienne Hazard and Anna McCabe; sophomores, Hazel Borders, Doris Parker, Elizabeth Kerr, Gertrude Houck, and Augusta DeWitt; juniors, Marion Nicolai, Muriel Myers, Betty Barrett and Florence Baker; seniors, Winifred Hopson, Gladys Everett and La Velle Barger.

UNDERCLASS CO-EDS WIN

SOPH AND FROSH WOMEN SWIMMERS BEST UPPERCLASS OPPONENTS

The sophomore and freshman first teams were winners in last night's inter-class swimming meets, the sophomores piling up 49 points against the senior firsts' 11, and the freshmen making 42 points against the junior seconds' 17. Janet Wood, freshman, was the high point winner of the meets with 13 points to her credit. Marion Hill, Anna McCabe, freshmen; Cris Heckman, and Maude Schroeder, sophomores, tied for second place, each making 10 points. Members of the sophomore team were Cris Heckman, Maude Schroeder, Helen Atkinson, Yvonne Smith, Bee Fish, Marion Hayes, Kitty Sartain and Isobel Smith. Freshman swimmers

UPSILON

Delta Zetas win Dacotah Contest.

Other sororities were close seconds at first but gradually Delta Zeta crept ahead.

Mrs. Edythe Thoesen of Boulder, Colo., Grand Treasurer of Delta Zeta Fraternity, spent Saturday in Grand Forks where she inspected Upsilon chapter. She was a guest at the tea which Mrs. French gave on Saturday afternoon. She left here last evening.

ALPHA GAMMA

DELTA ZETA BANQUET

On the evening of April 26, Terrace Gardens so ideal in its arrangement was the chosen scene of the Rose Banquet given by the Alpha Gamma chapter of Delta Zeta Sorority. The spacious ballroom was artistically decorated in roses and ivy. In the center of the room the tables, arranged in the form of a delta, were beautifully adorned in old rose and Nile green, carrying out the color scheme of the sorority. Rose and Green tapers burned in brass candlesticks casting a roseate glow over the throng of happy girls and their vari-colored evening dresses. Baskets of Killarney roses bloomed in perfection adding brightness and beauty to the scene.

The favors were handpainted bud vases; decorated with the Delta Zeta emblem, in which nodded fragrant rose buds. The green and rose mints were served in small pink rose cups.

During the delicious six-course dinner, many toasts in rhyme were given to Delta Zeta.

Miss Gladys Clayton, toastmistress of the occasion delighted the girls with her ready wit and clever verses. After toasting the Rose, a quartette sang the Delta Zeta Rose Song. Many other sorority songs were enjoyed during the evening.

The climax of the occasion was the presentation of the Roman Lamps, quaint incense burners, to Miss Sara Daniels for the highest scholastic average of the pledges and to Miss Augusta Parr for the highest grade made on the sorority examination.

The singing of the Alma Mater brought to a close one of the most elaborate banquets of the season.

Those present were: Misses Marion Bishop, Alice Ansley, Mary Armentrout, Gladys Clayton, Hazel Brown, Sara Daniel, Louise Nichols, Julia Corley, Thyra Muckle, Purcell Corley, Sara Newsom, Naomi Poole, Marie Newsom, Frances Pickens, Mary Maud Bailey, Mary Jane Eiland, Mary Louise Ikerman, Augusta Parr, Louisa Wheeler, Frances Osborn, Mrs. E. C. Wright of Tuscaloosa, and Gladys Harlee, an alumna of Birmingham.

News Notes

GAMMA ALUMNÆ

Two card parties were given for the benefit of the school for Mountain Whites of Caney Creek, Ky.

Three of the founders of Delta Zeta were at the Founders' Day banquet, as well as every active member and pledge. A pageant representing the history of Delta Zeta was given.

The annual Martha Washington Tea for the actives, pledges, patronesses, and all Delta Zeta mothers was given at the home of Amanda Thomas.

A formal tea in honor of Mrs. Campbell was given by the college and alumnæ chapters at the house.

Gamma Alumnæ invited the city Panhellenic and Women's Clubs to Pomerene Hall to hear the Boys from Caney Creek.

Miss Amanda Thomas will be hostess at Camp Perry for the summer.

Harriet Fisher had charge of the publicity for the National Convention of the Altrusa Club held in Columbus, April 27-29.

Mrs. Mary Dranga Campbell returned from Serbia in November after three years of relief work in that country.

Harriet Fisher spoke at the Annual Vocational Conference of the Y. W. C. A. on "Women in Advertising."

Mr. and Mrs. William Stoneman (Gladys Laughlin) just returned from a six weeks' trip to South America.

Marguerite Loos spoke at the Vocational Conference at O. S. W. on "Personal Work in Department Stores."

MU ALUMNÆ

Mu Alumnæ has assumed several projects this year for raising money to help Rho chapter pay for its new home.

The girls in the chapter entertained and visited other alumnæ and thus created enough interest to increase the membership.

Besides activities in the interests of Delta Zeta, they have done work for the Federated Charities.

NU ALUMNÆ

In Omicron college chapter, beginning with the class of 1920 (University of Pittsburgh) each girl pledges to pay $100.00 in $10.00 yearly installments, into the treasury. This plan was started to buy furniture for our house. In the past three years we have completely paid off all loans we were carrying. In the future this money will be saved toward a house fund.

SIGMA ALUMNÆ

Ruth Robertson, Delta, '20, will complete her work for a Master's Degree at the University of Wisconsin in June.

One of our members, Miss Helen Trimpe, Alpha, has just returned from a trip of several weeks in California. During her visit she wrote of the lovely hospitality shown her by the Delta Zetas of that state.

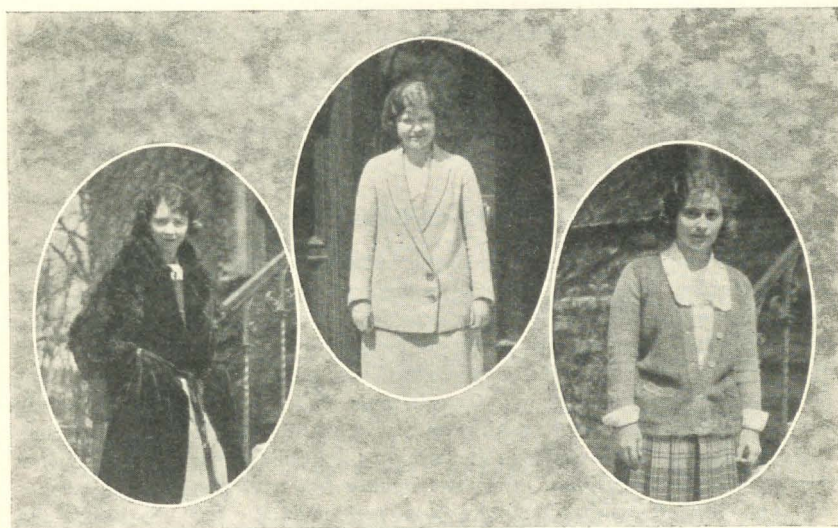

Miss Lois Higgins, Alpha, attended initiation at Miami in February.

At our April luncheon we had three Wisconsin active Delta Zetas with us. We were so glad to have them and sincerely hope that the active members from other chapters will do likewise as we are always meeting on the first Saturday of each month and the notice of said meeting will appear in the Chicago Tribune.

We again take this means to urge that the active chapters help us to know the addresses of members of their chapter who are in Chicago, or suburbs. We would so appreciate any support of this kind for in Chicago our membership problem is a real one.

UPSILON ALUMNÆ

Wilhelmina Scott, Upsilon, '21, will obtain the degree of M.D. from the University of Pennsylvania in June. She is specializing in pediatrics. She has accepted a position as resident physician at Lancaster General Hospital for next year.

Chapter Letters

ALPHA—Miami University

Spring is here. And we have only six more weeks of college. Happy thought—And yet, if you are a student in Oxford, you rather hate to see the days slipping by, especially when no one day is quite long enough for all the work and all the play we try to cram into it.

Our May Day celebration comes next week. It is a tradition at Miami for the juniors to give the seniors a breakfast on the first day of May. After the breakfast everyone assembles on the campus where the May queen is crowned with all due ceremony.

Mothers' Day is going to be a big day with us, for we will have as our guests our mothers. We are surely looking forward to meeting all the Delta Zeta mothers.

You might be interested to know that we have two new national sororities on our campus—Delta Gamma and Sigma Kappa.

Already we are beginning to have that funny feeling that comes in the spring when we realize that some of our girls won't be coming back. Our seniors are leaving us something to remember them by—a scholarship cup. This is to be awarded every year to the freshmen having the highest average.

It will be June before you read this letter; so let me wish you all a happy summer.

MAE DRAKE.

BETA—Cornell University

We have been back from our spring vacation almost two weeks and are just beginning to realize that the college year is almost over, and that finals are approaching. There are nine seniors who are leaving us and we are wondering how we are going to get along without them next year, for they have been true and loyal Delta Zetas while at Cornell. We shall be very sorry to see them go. To fill their places in the house next year we have been quite busy rushing and as a result we pledged two lovely girls March 10. That was also the date of our initiation banquet, which was a great success all around. Florence Becker was toastmistress and besides our president, Josephine Metcalfe, who welcomed the initiates into Delta Zeta, one girl from each class made a speech. But these speeches weren't the kind one usually hears—no indeed; they were a special kind, Delta Zeta speeches, filled with the genuine spirit of sisterly love and friendship.

On March 23 we had our faculty tea and entertained quite a number of the professors and their wives. We were fortunate in having good weather, for those of you who were here in Ithaca last June for the Convention will remember that the weather-man is not always so good to us as he might be.

At the Panhellenic banquet, which was held down at the Ithaca Hotel, March 28, we were represented by ten of the girls and our chaperon, Mrs. Stilwell.

At our last meeting we elected the new officers for next year and are going to install them April 30, so that they may hold office part of this term. In this way the old officers can be of help to the new ones in case any difficulties arise.

On May 19 the big social event of the spring term is going to take place here at Cornell: namely, "Spring Day." We are all looking forward to it, for more than one reason; for not only do we have a holiday that Saturday, but the day is one of much merry-making and many festivities. Hundreds of grads come back to their Alma Mater for Spring Day and each class dons a distinctive costume for the occasion. The first event of the day is the parade from "down town" up to the Alumnae Field, where a circus is held. In the afternoon there is a baseball game with Yale, then the very exciting crew races, varsity and intercolleage, and in the evening the Navy Hop, which lasts till the wee hours of the morning.

With best wishes to all Delta Zetas for a happy and enjoyable summer vacation.

HELEN KOERNER.

DELTA—DePauw University

Spring is here at last, and the DePauw campus is all decked out in its green dress. Our biggest event recently has been our annual luncheon and dance in Indianapolis, the week-end of April 21. This was royally attended by the three Indiana chapters, and each one put on a very clever stunt.

Panhellenic tried a new plan this spring by giving an inter-sorority dance. Here all sorority girls made merry, finding many new friends among other organizations.

Early in May we are planning to have a party for the senior girls of Greencastle High School.

On May 14, DePauw will celebrate May Day. This is an annual co-eds' day here, gala day for all girls. Three of our girls, Vida Weltmer, Ruth Briscoe and Ruth Shortz will take part in the plays to be given the two evenings before and after May Day.

Elizabeth Yenne, one of our juniors will give her junior recital on May 14 in Mehorry Hall.

Then in a few weeks the commencement activities will begin, and we shall bid adieu to our six seniors.

Best wishes for a joyous summer vacation to Delta Zetas scattered over the U. S. A.

RUTH M. BRISCOE.

EPSILON—Indiana University

The first thing we want to tell you, although to many of you readers it will not be news, is that we have purchased a lot and work has actually begun on laying the foundation for our new house. We were very fortunate in getting a beautiful lot in the new section of town in which so much building is going on. There is a splendid view of the campus from the front. We are only three doors from the new university gym and the site of the proposed stadium.

Our house is to be a colonial structure of brick veneer with four tall pillars and a first and second story porch in front. We expect it to be completed in time for us to move in next September. You are all invited to visit us and to attend our housewarming party. We'll send you a picture of it as soon as the workmen get past the digging stage so that you'll be sure to recognize it when you arrive.

About one hundred forty attended our state luncheon and dance at the Travertine Room of the Lincoln Hotel at Indianapolis, April 21. We felt duly honored by having two national officers with us, Miss Smith, our Grand President, Grace Mason, Historian and Executive Secretary.

We have not carried on any extensive rushing this semester, mainly because of the lack of facilities for entertaining. We recently affiliated Mary Brooks, a sister of Mabel Brooks, '22. Mary had been a pledge at Northwestern. This brings our membership to thirty-five at present. We have had two matinee dances and a dinner for rushees this semester. We're planning a hike and marshmallow roast for the first pretty week-end.

Best wishes for a happy summer vacation.

JOYCE WRAY.

ZETA—University of Nebraska

Zeta chapter has been the scene of so many happenings that we scarcely know which to tell about first. Just now everyone is interested in the ground breaking for the new Nebraska Memorial Stadium. This stadium will be built at an immense cost, and through the contributions of the students themselves, this stadium has been made possible. Several of our girls were on the committee that conducted the drives, and so we are especially interested in this stadium.

With the recent spring election of officers for the various campus organizations, there have been several new honors given our girls. We are especially proud of Eleanor Dunlap. It seems there is no end to the number of things she is doing, and between committee meetings and all the other things, Eleanor is a very busy girl.

Zeta chapter was certainly glad to have Mrs. Julia Bishop Coleman visit here. Although she was able to stay only a few days, we received a lot of help from her, and were inspired to push Delta Zeta more than ever.

Most of all, we are proud of our dear Mrs. Hidy. She has been our chaperon since the beginning of the second semester, and the fact that she is not only one of the girls, but also a Delta Zeta, makes us all the more proud of her. She is an enthusiastic member, and does more than her share to help us along. Her kindness and sincerity to all of us have surely won our hearts.

Five of our best girls are graduating. Bea, the Political Science shark, Florene, the Mathematics enthusiast, Sara, the athlete, Helen Dryden, the pharmacist, and Helen Hunt with her Moon, are not to be back next year. Just now it is hard to tell how we shall get along without them, but the gap will be partly filled by the new girls. We are expecting a great deal of them, and believe they will become good, strong Delta Zetas.

With only four more weeks of college in view before the summer holidays, it is hard to conceive of a year that has gone by so quickly. It has been a successful one for Zeta chapter, but we earnestly hope that the next year will be still better. Zeta chapter extends to the girls of all the other chapters best wishes for a happy vacation.

SYLVA A. KUNCE.

ETA—Baker University

THETA—Ohio State University

The third quarter is well on its way and even now we are commencing to regret that soon we will have to part.

Next week on May 3-5, the National Convention of Women's Self-Government Association is to meet on our campus. Naturally the entire university considers this an honor and every organization is doing its share. We are giving over our house for housing some of the delegates and also expect to have with us some of our own Delta Zeta girls from other chapters who will be here as representatives.

On May 6 we are going to have a Mothers' Day Tea for the mothers of the active and alumnae chapters.

Our chapter is very busy attempting to increase our house fund. We are planning a benefit bridge tea.

On Sunday morning April 15, we had initiation services for five of our pledges. This was followed by a breakfast in their honor.

To our pledge who has made the best record in activities and scholarship for this college year we are giving a recognition pin.

May 11 is a date standing out in the minds of the Theta chapter for we are having our Spring Sport Dance at the Aladdin Country Club and this promises to give pleasure to all who attend.

The new officers have been installed and we are looking forward to this coming new college year as being one of the best and most successful years for our Fraternity on our campus at Ohio State University.

FRANCES M. BAKER.

IOTA—University of Iowa

As springtime balkingly comes upon the scene once more, and commencement rumors waft in upon the breezes, Iota realizes that she will soon lose eleven seniors. This annual sorority disruption is always hard on the feelings of the group, and this year it will affect us materially as well, for the house we have chosen for next year is quite large and we should like to have all the girls use it.

House hunting is a difficult piece of work, isn't it? After severe complications, we have decided upon this house which is large enough to enable practically all the girls to live in it. It is only a block from President Jessup's home, and just across the street from Currier Hall, the girl's dormitory, so you may know it is well located.

Just now the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. are planning the annual Iowa festival. It includes a parade, a fair, and a dance; in the parade each sorority displays a float, and the choice one receives a prize of twenty-five dollars. If either Nu or Upsilon chapters saved their prize winners, we should like very much to borrow them.

Delta Zeta had twelve girls working for the Iowa Memorial Union campaign, recently launched. Since it was a very successful campaign we feel that our "bit" did some good. We are firm believers that the best way to strengthen college spirit is to work for the college.

Our patronesses entertained the seniors and alumnae at a very lovely dinner, last week, in Mrs. Trowbridge's home. It is with great regret that we see Mrs. Case leave for California; for the last five years she has been an ideal patroness to us.

Panhellenic has announced the rushing rules for next year. Improvements were made over last year's set of rules, we feel, particularly in the length of the intensive season, which is now limited to three days, and the places allowed for entertainment, which are to be the chapter-houses only. An effort was made to keep down expense and give a greater chance for genuine acquaintanceship to develop.

Our Spring Dance is scheduled for May 11, and if Margaret Avery's ingenuous plans are any sign, it is going to be a clever party. If only we had a magic carpet, a taxi would be waiting for a representative from every chapter that night in May.

With greetings to all,

MILDRED KELLER

KAPPA—University of Washington

Pledging has been very successful with Kappa chapter this year. Just a glimpse at some of them—Edith Boyer, is a sister pledge and already a prominent Minute girl on the campus. Peg Felch, from Ellensburg, is participating in the Dance Drama and Spring Opera, in which Sylvia Troeh, our red-head, also appears. Sylvia is a Mamook and an organist of note, whom Seattle music circles haven't been slow in appreciating.

Frances Burpee, our newest pledge of a few weeks, is a sophomore, well known in athletics, and Junior Representative on the Women's League cabinet. Eugenia Hopkins, commonly called Sis, besides being the flirt of the chapter, is a real violinist and in the university orchestra.

We're certainly glad to send you this news—Margaret Raine was just pledged to Phi Beta Kappa—and this in the spring quarter when everyone is least inclined to study. So Margaret shines in scholarship, and in Tolo, honorary for activities, we have Vera Boyer. Remember her, delegates? Ruby Hutchinson, a senior in Home Economics, is president of her honorary, Omicron Nu.

And now we are planning our Fathers' dinner. We always look forward to this event, and many out-of-town fathers come to Seattle for our Dad's night. It's such fun meeting them all. Ruth brings her father and we look with trembling upon his six feet plus, until Dr. Maxson smiles, then everything is all right. And Mr. Churchill may be a stranger at first, but not for long when the girls recognize Doris' twinkle in his eyes.

Senior Breakfast soon, and then we'll know all of the scandal. Who's going to run around the table? Will it be frontwards or backwards? Spring is such a treacherous time of year. We always celebrate it on our local Founders' Day, May 30, and at 9:30 in the morning such a happy crowd of alums and actives gather around our breakfast table that it is quite necessary to borrow chairs and extend the table even into the living-room. Already the juniors have taken charge of things and faint whisperings of strawberries and powdered sugar reach our ears—mm!

Washington distinguished this year! We're all hoping our strongest hopes, for our crew has again won the coveted honor of representing the Pacific coast in the great Eastern regatta in June. A fine crew of men, a loved coach, and with Washington spirit behind them, we're sending them to Poughkeepsie to pull for Washington.

These days, while so full of many happy times, are yet sad in a way. The seniors talk of leaving and of their plans for the next year. When we realize that they won't be back again we feel rather forlorn. However, our new staff of officers is capable and energetic, worthy of taking up the work.

Yesterday the student election on the campus was held, and, although one candidate whom we supported, was not successful, his fraternity sent us a fine box of chocolates for our help in campaigning. I know Kappa girls aren't mercenary but I fear that fraternity will always have staunch support at the house in coming elections. All of the candidates elected held open house in the evening, so the authorities that be let down the bars and we danced on a week night! It breaks into the studying so welcomingly that we look forward to the two open houses allowed a year with great enthusiasm.

Goodbye everybody. A happy summer vacation to you all.

SALLY SISLER.

LAMBDA—Kansas State Agricultural College

It is almost inconceivable that we are begun on the last month of the college year and which is the last month of college for eight Lambdas who receive degrees this spring.

While losing eight seniors in one year seems unfortunate, we are delighted in having pledged fourteen splendid girls who are striving hard to be ready to assume their share of responsibility next year.

We gave a formal oriental spring party, March 9, which is said to have been the prettiest given by any organization this year. We entertained a number of rushees, several of whom will be excellent material for next rush week.

Lambda has difficulty in not being quite conceited since Popularity contest. Renna Rosenthal was elected the most popular Aggie co-ed. This is the second time that Lambda has placed first and she is the only sorority to ever place first.

Visits from three of our National Grand Council, Mrs. Nettie Wills Shugart, Mrs. Julia Bishop Coleman, and Mrs. Edyth Wilson Thoessen have given us much pleasure as well as assistance.

We gave a series of benefit bridge teas for the Caney Creek fund and were very pleased with the results. One of our keenest joys this year was filling the Christmas box for Caney Creek.

K. S. A. C. is progressing rapidly in size, prestige and in college spirit, and with an enrollment already of 2,700, we believe the future of Delta Zeta and all other Greek organizations, here, to be very bright. The installation banquet celebrating Lambdas eighth birthday, will be given May 22.

MU—University of California

On our campus we have completed one college year under an entirely new constitution, which has successfully combined the activities of men and women students under the Associated Students of the University of California. In so doing, the representatives from each college, that is, Mining, Architecture, Agriculture, Engineering, etc., have been given greater authority, with the result that even though we number ten thousand students on the campus, we have achieved a fine showing of "California Spirit." This has been especially noticeable in the recent elections held for all student body offices. There was a greater number of votes polled than ever before. Unfortunately, a technical difficulty as to what constitutes a registered student, necessitated a re-election from which we have not yet heard the results.

We feel a great loss in the resignation of David Prescott Barrows, as president of the University. He has had a very fine influence upon the student body and is well loved. The consensus of opinion here is that he is too big a man to be kept out of public life and that he will eventually be heard of in Washington, D. C.

Dr. W. W. Campbell, head of Lick Observatory at Hamilton and one of the best-known authorities of astronomy, is to fill the vacancy left by President Barrows.

Among the student activities of which we are the most proud are the construction of a $100,000 stadium and the erection of a memorial building which is to be used to house all student activities and clubrooms. It was built in memory of Henry Morse Stephens, late professor of European History, and is known as Stephens Union. It is a three-story structure of Tudor-Gothic architecture, remarkably situated in a wee canyon over which this year's senior class is to construct a permanent bridge which leads into an oak-rimmed, emerald green glade. The coöperative student store and also the students' cafeteria have been installed here.

The stadium is oval shaped and built in Strawberry Canyon. Its natural setting has been taken advantage of to such an extent that what will show of its Colosseum-like architecture will have a great beauty. This athletic bowl also stands as a memorial as it was built in memory of the men of this university who gave their lives in the Great War.

Finally, we are embarking upon final examinations. Commencement will be May 16. This will be the last time that President Barrows acts in his official capacity.

May you all enjoy as fine vacations as we, in California, wish for you.

XI—University of Cincinnati

Xi chapter has planned many functions, both of a business and social nature for the spring and summer seasons. We have introduced a new system of rushing which we hope will be profitable. Our business curriculum has been divided into various groups with a chairman at the head of each group. This system so far has been satisfactory in concentrating responsibility.

We are to give a Mothers' Day Tea at the home of Mary McEvelley and we are considering entertaining our fathers too—not tea but coffee.

Our annual spring dance on May 14 is to be more formal than usual because we did not give a formal dance at Christmas this year. We are going to have the Rose dinner dance, everyone receives a rose, at one of the country clubs.

Last week we had with us a Delta Zeta from Theta chapter who came as a member of the State Girls' Glee Club. We wish that near-by universities would send out more organizations in this manner so that we could have the opportunity of meeting the girls.

Xi chapter is well represented in the musical comedy, Fresh Paint, which the students of the University of Cincinnati are giving on April 27-28 at the Shubert Theater. Besides having five girls in the cast, many of us are going to sell programs at the performances and assist in the dressing rooms.

This year's work so faithfully carried out under the leadership of our president, Mary Louise Nickerson, came to a close on April 21 when new officers for the ensuing year were elected. We look forward to equal success under our new president, Dorothy DeBeck. Our chapter sends best wishes for success to all Delta Zetas.

PI—Eureka College

The thing which fills the whole horizon of Eureka College at the present time is the Endowment Campaign. It is nearing the close, and the fight waxes warmer and warmer. Of course all the fraternities on the campus are vitally interested, and they are helping in all ways that it is possible to help. We have all felt so much more keenly the true significance which the campaign holds for us since the death of our beloved president, L. O. Lehman, who died from overwork on behalf of the Endowment Campaign. All the fraternities on the campus have given up their spring formal, and are giving the money which would have been used in that way to the Endowment fund. We all were human enough to feel a keen sense of disappointment, because, with us, it is always one of the looked-forward-to events of the whole year; for then our alumni return, and we all make merry together once again. But we all felt rewarded when we received a letter from Dr. Pritchard who is the campaign manager, commending us for setting the example which the others very soon followed.

We are very proud of our debating teams this semester. The only girls on the teams are two of our Delta Zeta group. Ever since the debates they have been going out to the different towns in the state giving speeches for the campaign.

We made the Caney Creek assessment very real to all of our girls by having each girl earn her portion of it instead of merely writing a check for the amount and immediately dismissing it from mind. The bulletin board at the dormitory was fairly plastered with want advertisements for a wide variety of work, such as sewing on buttons, mending garments, carrying laundry bags, and typing term papers. When we had earned the money a party was planned to which we were to bring the money earned, together with a rhymed jingle telling how we earned it.

The information in the April number of the LAMP brings our social service work so much closer to us; we feel more like we are individually having a part in a wonderful project for human betterment. We think the last LAMP was the best yet. One of our girls was so deeply interested in reading it that she failed to hear the class bell. So you see there are advantages and disadvantages in having such an interesting Fraternity publication.

HELEN MARSHALL.

RHO—University of Denver

Denver has had wonderful weather since Easter and many Beefsteak Frys and Truck Rides have been planned. We are beginning to plan for our summer and fall rushing. We intend to make a large number of calls during the summer and thus become better acquainted with the girls we expect to rush in the fall.

We have been holding a group of parties for ourselves and a few guests, and these with our Buffet Suppers after meetings each week have been instrumental in bringing our girls closer together. We are now planning for our big social event for the second semester, which will be a dinner-dance to be given at the Mt. Vernon Country Club on May 25. We have planned for this dance for some time, and are expecting to have a wonderful time.

Along with our good times, we must consider lessons, which seem to grow larger in the springtime, just as everything else springs up. The professors seem to forget the call to the mountains, and give assignments which necessitate us to forget the good times and work at our books for a few weeks more.

We lose six girls this year by graduation, and will have to look a long time before we find six new girls to fill their places. Our only consolation is that they will become members of Mu Alumnæ chapter, and go on working for the good of all Delta Zetas. We are proud of our seniors, and feel our alumnæ will be the winners where we are the losers.

Best wishes to all Delta Zetas from Rho chapter.

The loveliest thing happened to us Epsilon girls when Mrs. Thoesen came to inspect our chapter. It was such a pleasant surprise for we hadn't known she was coming and were properly mystified when we saw her. The only difficulty was that she stayed only one short day into which meetings, conferences and teas were squeezed. Anyway we all had a good time and we are looking forward to the next time she comes.

Things crowd upon each others heels so eagerly—too eagerly to suit some of us. We have been so busy preparing stunts not only for Campus Cut-Up which is sponsored by the Y. W. but for the Passing Show and for a luncheon for Sigma Alpha Iota Convention. Our Campus Cut-Up stunt, a minstrel show, was heaps of fun and went off splendidly if we can judge by the hoarseness of the minstrels' voices the next day.

This is the first time that we have ever had a National Convention of any kind here in Grand Forks and so we are properly excited and impressed, except some of the "staid professors" who hate to make excuses for such a thing, and each group is trying to make favorable impressions upon the Sigma Alpha Iota delegates. A group of delegates is entertained by each sorority at luncheon and then a fitting stunt is presented. We girls certainly have cudged our brains trying to make one.

Among all these "awfully" exciting happenings we have been able to survive several interesting experiences among which has been the receiving of a lovely vase for the prettiest Homecoming float, the Dacotah Cup, for selling the most Dacotahs, and the election of two Phi Beta Kappas and two Sigma Xis—one a senior and the other an alumna!

Now we have only six weeks of college left so our year's work is almost completed, but we wish you all a very happy summer vacation and the best of luck.

HELEN STEGENGA.

PHI—State College of Washington

On April 14 we gave our Annual Installation Formal Banquet at the White Owl banquet rooms. Everything was delightful—the girls looked lovely and the menu was just right. We were exceedingly pleased to have Jessie Tharp, Daisy Ziegler, Marjorie McBean, Madeliene Cassel and Gladys Sutton with us as alumnae guests.

Yesterday was Senior Sneak Day and a jolly day and night it proved to be. As it usually happens, the news was spread abroad that the seniors were sneaking the next day, or rather sometime during the night. Our sophomores and juniors immediately started a conspiracy against the three seniors. At about midnight our seniors left their happy home clad only in pajamas, bathrobes and slippers but they were brought back in the course of time and securely tied in their room for the rest of the night. But we were not cruel enough to keep them from going on the sneak for we let them out in time to catch the 5:00 P. M. train to their picnic grounds.

Next week-end is Campus Week-End, the time of visitors, trackmeets, dances, work, Military and Engineer show and almost everything else enjoyable and entertaining imaginable.

Our second lovely house mother is leaving us Friday for Chicago and we will welcome the third on the same day. No, I don't think it is the fault of the girls that our house mothers leave us but rather that they are so charming that they seem to immediately be offered a wonderful position some place that is too good to resist. We only hope our third house mother does not secure her appointment until after college closes.

Two new chapters have recently been granted to our college. Chi Omega, which is not yet installed and Kappa Delta, which was installed last week. We are glad to welcome them into the circle of nationals.

We are going to hold our big spring informal at the Parish Hall on May 18. This will be our last dance of the year. It seems hardly possible that college is so nearly out and that Commencement is so close at hand.

Phi chapter extends good wishes to all Delta Zeta girls and congratulations to the seniors.

GERTRUDE CALHOUN.

CHI—Oregon Agricultural College

The spring quarter opened at O. A. C. February 1, 1923. All of Chi's girls came back, and as usual the "spring rush" began with registration. At our college any rushing parties, held on the campus, before registration, are "tabooed," so when the new girls were enrolled, we entertained "our choice" with a formal dinner party. As a result of our rushing we pledged one of the finest girls at O. A. C., Clara Miller. We will continue to do personal rushing, with an occasional party or picnic for the remainder of the term.

Our chapter has a scholarship cup! The chapter members of Zeta Chi, the local, which petitioned Delta Zeta, about five years ago, and received a chapter of Delta Zeta, presented us with the cup. It is their plan to have the girl's name whose average is the highest in the house engraved upon the cup each year. There are now five names, and it so happens that thus far the average has been higher for each succeeding year. It surely is a fine incentive to the initiated girls and pledges as well.

Last week-end the freshmen and sophomores entertained with a spring dance, at the house. The rooms were beautifully decorated in the spring flowers; good music and a dinner made the party enjoyable. In a few weeks the seniors and juniors are to give a similar dance. We decided that we preferred to hold class dances rather than to give another formal down town.

We are soon to entertain for our house mother, and sister, Mrs. Gertrude McElfresh. The lawn about our home is to be used. It will be lighted with gay lanterns, and secluded by screens, etc. We hope it will be a cozy and attractive spot for a spring party.

On next Monday we are to hold initiation. At this time we will take into our sisterhood three lovely girls, Georgia English, Lois Fendall and Bessie Hoopes. We will try to make this initiation exceed all others in impressiveness and beauty.

A short time ago Zeta Tau Alpha installed a chapter at O. A. C. The petitioning group was one of the strongest locals on the campus, and the fraternities at the college were glad that they have been so recognized. At present there are five local groups of girls petitioning national fraternities, so you see that O. A. C. is still a new field for sororities.

The spring quarter closes in early June. At that time six Delta Zeta seniors will be graduated. These girls are all honor students and belong to honor fraternities. The class of '23 at O. A. C. numbers 535 this year. This is the largest class the college has ever graduated. Then, after graduation we will all go to our respective homes, and work and plan for, among other things, a stronger, greater Delta Zeta.

Best wishes for the vacation.

ELIZABETH HUGHSON.

PSI—Franklin College

With our State Luncheon and Dance, to which we were all looking forward, an event of history, we are now planning for our Spring House-party. We are looking forward to this delightful, rollicking week with much anticipation. We expect to entertain new girls and try to interest them in Franklin College.

The spring weather has filled the tennis courts with pretty co-eds in bright-colored sweaters and it takes quite a mental effort to concentrate on chemistry, Latin and history when the campus is full of violets and "the green gifts on the trees."

I know you are all in one grand rush trying to get term reports off hands; attend all the college and university activities, not to mention those of Delta Zeta, before the grand finale which comes ere long. But in our busy life, we must always remember to get our LAMP material in, and in this letter, I want to make you all better acquainted with the seniors of Psi.

Agnes Bowles has been an enthusiastic worker. She has been a member of Webster Literary Society for four years, belonged to Alpha Chi Alpha, the honorary journalistic fraternity; and has been assistant Librarian most of the time. Agnes quite faithfully and very efficiently filled the dignified position of president of Psi chapter until her graduation the first semester. Since then she has been teaching at Mishawaukee, Ind. We are wondering how long she will remain in this profession before she enters into her solemn duties as housekeeper.

No chapter could have had a more prompt and efficient corresponding secretary than Helen Constable, who has acted in this capacity for us during the past year. She was a member of Webster Literary Society, and has always had a prominent place in the Girls' Glee Club. No doubt some of you who live in the Western states may have a chance to meet Helen this summer, as she intends to travel in the West.

I am sure if you could hear Una Houk debate, you would need no introduction by letter. This year she helped bring honors to Franklin two different times by defeating Butler University of Indianapolis, and Denison University of Ohio. She has been efficient in fulfilling her duties as treasurer.

Mickey's (Gladys McCammon) hobby is dramatics. She is to have the leading rôle in the senior class play, The Charm School. Last year Mickey was chosen as one of the five most beautiful girls in college.

Last, but not least is our dear old "Rolf." Some folks call her Florence. This year she acted as Big Sister to all of the pledges, and to them she will always remain such, because of the interest shown, and her lovable disposition. Last year she was president of Panhellenic, and while acting in this capacity she went as a delegate to the Interstate Panhellenic Conference at Indiana University.

Most Sincerely,

PSI.

OMEGA—University of Oregon

Oh the rush of it all! Why we can't even have our meals on the old schedule! One night dinner is a half an hour early because of a baseball game at six-thirty, and the next night it is three-quarters of an hour late because of a swimming meet at five o'clock. Then the next night a baseball game is postponed because we had planned to give a "Brother's dinner" and we couldn't possibly have both. And so it goes! But there is one schedule that is never changed—study hours. We can eat anytime but we must study when the schedule says.

But really—spring term in Oregon is so very wonderful with our beautiful campus and our thrilling Mill Race to juggle our attentions, that it is difficult to even think of studying. But we do—really we do! And we are quite successful.

Or we have been so far. But we are beginning to worry. How are we going to get in any studying these next few weeks? It's a deep problem! You see we have so many things planned that we want so much to do.

Our mothers are coming to be with us for the whole week-end of Mothers' Day. We always celebrate that day with our mothers here and it is wonderful to have them with us and meet each other. Then our big Junior Week-End is only three weeks away and we have so many guests to prepare for and plan good times for. Soon after that the university "alums" are returning for a big "get-together" and we want so much to have as many of our very own "alums" here as possible. So we are planning for them too!

Of course we are trying to get our "swat" in in baseball and other campus activities too. The girls of the university are running a series of "Do-Nut" baseball games where each house has a team and plays other house teams. We are having the most fun though as yet we can't brag much about scores.

Last Saturday we took the morning for our spring house cleaning and though duties meant work it all meant fun! We brought the celebration to a close with a cafeteria lunch about one o'clock—and felt that after all—the getting-together whether in work or play is the thing worth while to us. That is the truth isn't it?

BEULAH WRIGHT.

P. S. "Ain't Spring Grand?"

ALPHA ALPHA—Northwestern University

Wish us luck! We have just discovered that the Clown band is to march directly behind our float in the circus parade. And when we tell you that our "float" consists of six girls on horseback, you will understand our alarm. The girls will be dressed in jockey costumes of six universities with Northwestern in the lead, and Chicago trailing behind. It should be a successful stunt, but Oh! that band!

Now, as soon as the circus is over, we shall begin to plan for "Women's Week-end," which will be on May 25-26. On the afternoon of the twenty-fifth there will be the annual May Pageant, at which the Queen will be crowned. Then we will have supper on the beach, followed by the Inter-Sorority sing in the evening, out on the lantern-lighted campus. The next day will be Woman's Field Day, with inter-class track, golf, and tennis meets here and a telegraphic archery tournament with Cornell. In the evening there will be the annual W. A. A. banquet. Several of our girls have made W. A. A., so we are all interested.

We of Alpha Alpha have been improving our penmanship as a means of swelling our house fund. We are addressing envelopes for the weekly circulars of one of our local theaters. Nearly everyone in town gets a circular, so, you see, we have quite a task. But when we all get at it together, it's really fun.

HELEN R. BRUECKNER.

ALPHA BETA—University of Illinois

Spring has at last come to Illinois campus! It was ushered in rather informally about a week ago when a group of fraternity men decided that it was about time to have the spring celebration. A huge bonfire started on Green Street, pistols shot into the air, and general yelling, announced to all of us that spring was being ushered in. In less than five minutes a large crowd of fellows had formed a parade which went up and down the principal streets of the university district and finally ended down town at a movie theater.

Another sign of spring is the band concerts. These are given every Wednesday night by our university concert band out in front of the auditorium. Classic and popular pieces are played. At the end, university songs are played and the audience, led by the glee club, joins in singing them.

We are all so proud of our woman's new gym! It was opened last Wednesday night. And what is more, is that our orchestra played at the opening! It is practically the only woman's orchestra on the campus and so they play at almost every Y. W. and Woman's League party. We certainly are proud of it!

Our bowling team is busy practicing and playing off tournament games. Every week the girl who has the highest score has her name up on the board at the bowling alley and Delta Zeta has been well represented.

This Friday night, April 27, we are having our spring dance at the Southern Tea Room. Of course, we are all anxious for Friday night to come.

MARGARET HOEFFLIN.

ALPHA GAMMA—University of Alabama

This time of year, the university is always excited over who will be chosen as the prettiest co-ed and the ugliest man. Every week a ballot comes out in the college paper. There is a wild scramble to get as many ballots as you can. We are delighted because one of our girls is leading the race. We will not know the outcome until next week.

Phi Beta Kappa has been awarded to two Delta Zetas, Sara Newsom and Julia Corley.

Another honor has been bestowed on our Fraternity, Naomi Pool has been elected president of the Woman's Council for next year. This will be the fourth year that Naomi has served on the Council.

The sororities have organized basketball teams and are practicing hard, getting ready to play some inter-sorority games next week. Not many Delta Zetas have ever played but we have a team and go out to practice every day.

At last we have started a building fund and it is remarkable how fast it grows. We have had a very profitable rummage sale and we are planning for some more in the future.

Sincerely,

JULIA CORLEY.

ALPHA DELTA—George Washington University

Saturday evening we initiate four splendid girls, after which a banquet is to be given in their honor. Each new member is to be presented with a corsage of Kilarney roses, as a token of their welcome into Delta Zeta. We will be fortunate in having two big sisters with us: Dorothy Zirkle of Beta, and our own big sister, Ruth May Armstrong of Delta.

Local Panhellenic has been discussing next year's bidding rules, and we hope that second semester bidding will not be used again.

We have but four more weeks of college and we regret that we will be separated, after the year's work. Our girls will be widely scattered this summer, and several of them will not return to Washington next fall.

We feel that this year has been the greatest one in our Fraternity life, as we have been a part of Delta Zeta. Although young in the university and small in number we are determined to grow and make Alpha Delta a potent influence on the campus.

PHYLLIS ATKINSON

ALPHA EPSILON—Oklahoma State College

We are all brimming over with pep and enthusiasm over our lovely new chapter-house. Oh! what a satisfaction to know that we can move into it this summer and thus stop the annual moving party. Several of the girls, with the aid of our new chaperon, of whom we are all so proud, are making plans for summer work which will be of great profit to our Home Fund.

Not long ago we were fortunate in having a visit from Mrs. Coleman. A Yellow Luncheon for the chaperons was given in her honor. We feel greatly benefited by her stay and hope she'll come again soon.

It is a custom on our campus that once each year the local Panhellenic entertains all non-fraternity women. This year an informal party was given at Hoke Hall. The reception committee was made up of a senior from each fraternity. An interesting program was enjoyed after which each group put on a stunt. We feel that this movement aids much in keeping a democratic spirit on our campus.

One of our seniors, Helen Carleton, is planning on entering the field of foreign missions next year as a teacher of Home Economics. Vera Cheatham, another senior, has received a scholarship from Washington University. She is especially interested in hospital work in dietetics.

At present we are in the midst of entertaining some of our alumnae and their high school girls who are here participating in the interscholastic meets.

We all had many laughs at a Kid party which the pledges gave in honor of the members a short time ago. Next we plan on initiating our new home by having our farewell affair there.

FLORENCE STRAUGHEN.

ALPHA ZETA—Adelphi College

Now that spring has come, everyone is anxious to be out on the campus, which is only walking around the block or in the park in front of Pratt Institute, one block away. But perhaps that won't always be for we hope to reach a million dollars in another extensive drive next week and then we'll have new buildings and sometime in the future a chapter-house where we can welcome all Delta Zetas who visit the city.

This semester and especially since the Easter holidays, everyone in college has been rushing to rehearsals and there was a fine showing at the Varsity Show, the Sophomore Show, the Glee Club concert, the Spanish Club play and the play with Polytechnic Institute. Alpha Zeta girls were in all these events and also attended the Athletic Banquet and the Junior Prom. But next month everyone will be rushing to the library to study for finals.

Some of our girls attended the card party and the spring dance given by the Epsilon Alumnae girls and can add these to the list of enjoyable times to be remembered in our first year as Delta Zetas. We were represented at the National Panhellenic luncheon in New York City, where they discussed plans for the Panhellenic House in the city. We have supper meetings twice a month in the college house which is used by all the fraternities and last week had an open meeting when each girl brought a girl friend. Our guest of the evening was Miss Elizabeth Seymour of Zeta chapter, and now we feel quite well acquainted with the West.

But we look back on the past with pleasure and on the future with a great deal of hope. We are planning a week-end house-party to Oakland,

N. J., May 11-13, with our big sister Miss Harriet Littig as chaperon and oh, what fun we'll have! Then we are to give a farewell party for our six seniors who were so persevering in petitioning Delta Zeta and so willing to help the underclassmen. Virginia Carroll was elected to the Adelphi honorary society of Delta Tau Alpha, and will continue her studies at Cornell Medical College. Three others are to be teachers and one a librarian. We shall have another initiation and banquet to close a glorious year.

Alpha Zeta girls send best wishes to all for a very pleasant summer.

HILDA MAE PERSONS.

ALPHA ETA—University of Michigan

All Michigan is rejoicing now over the appropriation the state legislature has just made for the university building program. Several new buildings have been started, a new Library building, Engineering shops, a model high school for the Department of Education and a new University Hospital. Several more have been planned. It seemed for a while as though we wouldn't even be able to finish those already started but now it's all right and we're very grateful.

We of Alpha Eta feel that our success in second semester rushing has been almost too great to be possible for we have added nine darling girls, of the sort we're sure Delta Zeta can be proud of, to our pledge roll. We have been having some parties for prospective patronesses, too, and can hardly wait to learn the results.

Last February we had a rather novel initiation for two of our freshmen. It took place at about eleven o'clock at night, after a concert which most of us attended. Initiation was followed by a spread and a slumber party. Mrs. Barclay came from Detroit to join in the fun. You can imagine how delighted we were by that. We certainly did have a good time although we discovered that if you really want to sleep there are better places in which to do so than the floor or a couple of chairs or a single bed which two or three others are occupying.

ELIZABETH WRIGHT.

KAPPA ALUMNÆ—San Francisco, California

Kappa Alumnæ chapter has met every month as usual this year and may I here extend an invitation to any visiting Delta Zeta who is in the vicinity of our chapter to meet with us at our regular meetings held the first Saturday of each month. We meet at the homes of the members and if you could communicate with the chapter secretary, Ileen Taylor, 2323 Bowditch St., Berkeley, she would be able to tell you where and when the next meeting would be held.

To help with our Delta Zeta Building Fund we gave a bridge party held the afternoon and evening of one Saturday, at the chapter-house. Not only did all who went have a most enjoyable time but a nice sum was netted for the Fund.

The April meeting is to be devoted to making fancy articles for a bazaar to be held by Oregon chapter. We consider this a happy opportunity to aid just a little bit one of our sister chapters. After this meeting comes our party for our graduating seniors, an annual event. This will probably be an afternoon bridge party as everyone seems to enjoy these parties.

Three of our members have joined the ranks of brides-to-be: Helen Kendall has announced her engagement to Dwight Chapman, University of California, '21; Arline Rice to Ralph Larue, '23, also of University of California, and Sadie Rotholz to Mr. Charles Lewis of Fresno, Cal. Probably by the time this is being read there will be later additions to this group.

Active chapter, Mu of Berkeley, holds its Senior Banquet and Formal dance, one of the anticipated events of the year given by the three classes for the seniors. It is always a time when we have a great reunion as so many of our alumnæ come to the banquet. There have been many secret meetings held in preparation and plans sound most alluring.

We hope that all other alumnæ chapters have enjoyed this year as much as Kappa chapter has. Come and visit us when you come to California.

Cordially yours,

MARGARET POPE.

SIGMA ALUMNÆ—Chicago, Illinois

The following officers were installed by Sigma Alumnæ at the April meeting: Ruth Gaddis Jeffries, president; Rosamond Howland, treasurer; Pauline Edwards Dodd, secretary, and Lois Higgins, chairman of the Program Committee.

Mrs. Jeffries upon taking the chair spoke of the year of organization which Vera Brown Jones had safely piloted Sigma Alumnæ through and pled for coöperation of all members for a larger and better association for the coming year.

Miss Helen Trimpe, who has returned from California, told of what Delta Zeta really meant to one who traveled. She particularly mentioned the wonderful hospitality shown her by the Berkeley Delta Zetas, and she was very much impressed with the wonderful University of California.

At present Sigma Alumnæ is busy with plans for the coming year and we sincerely hope that we may gather into one group all the Delta Zetas of this great city, and make alumnæ as well as active girls feel that the great bond of Delta Zeta endures even though college walls are far behind.

PAULINE EDWARDS DODD.

Pledge Songs

HONORABLE MENTION

Tune to Smiles

There are girls that have great beauty
There are girls that study hard
There are girls that have no other duty,
So they spend their time at playing cards.
There are girls that spend their life in dancing,
There are girls that spend their time at teas,
But the girls that make their lives worth living,
Are the girls that are Delta Zs.

AUGUSTA CURTIS PARR, Alpha Gamma.

DEAR OLD DELTA Z

Tune: College Canoeing Song

Here's to dear old Delta Z.
How fondly do our spirits dwell
On the thoughts of sisters dear
The friends we love so well
E'en though we must sever
To Delta Z. We will be true
Striving ever onward upward
Toward the right in all we do.

Chorus

D. Zs. are we
So happy and free
Let us hold fast our precious memories
True we'll be ever
Faithless no never
Where e're we wander
In the future
D. Z. forever, D. Z. forever
Let us hold fast her golden friendship
Love ever lingers, clasping fingers
To Delta Z. "ALL HAIL."

SARA S. VANCE, Chi.

THE LAMP OF DELTA ZETA

THE WEE LAMP

Tune: Smiling Through

There's a wee little lamp that we all love so well,
 With its diamonds and pearls in a row.
 'Tis an emblem so dear
 To each one of us here
 That we'll sing its praise
 In all the ways
 We know.

On our campus we see it wherever we go
 And its light makes our hearts sing for joy
 For we know what it means
 And to us all it seems
 Our Delta Z's
 The best fraternity.

BY DOROTHY TORKELSON, Upsilon.

PLEDGES

Tune: Freshmen by the class of 1922 Oxford College, for Women

Never walk before a senior,
 Never keep the only chair.
 Open doors and go on errands
 Help to entertain guests downstairs;
 Beam politely on the juniors,
 Take corrections with a smile.
 Pledges live by this rule while you're down here at school,
 And you'll be a Delta Zeta after while.

Always aid an upperclassman,
 Always answer every call,
 Carry books and packages for seniors,
 As for duties do them all.
 Wash the windows, polish silver,
 Wax the floors, and clean the lawn,
 Pledges live by this rule while you're down here at school,
 And you'll be a Delta Zeta after while.

BY IRENE BRUBAKER, Delta.

Δ Z SONGS

To the tune of Auld Lang Syne

There 're Kappa girls and Theta girls in every town to-day.
There 're Alpha Os and and Phi Mus too and others so they say.
But of all the girls in all the world the best it seems to me
Are dear old Delta Zeta girls and their Fraternity.

Their symbol is a shining lamp from which their love-light glows.
They wear the diamond and four pearls their colors Rose and Green.
So of all the girls in all the world the best it seems to me
Are dear old Delta Zeta girls and their Fraternity.

EPSILON.

DON'T

Tune: Don't Send me Posies.

Don't give me an Arrow
When the D. Z. lamp I'd like.
Don't give me Theta; don't Give me their Kite.
Some girls highly praise their Key,
But I wouldn't be a K. K. G.
Don't give me an Anchor
For it's the D. Zs. that I like.

THELMA HENDERSON, Alpha Eta.
