THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF DELTA ZETA

extends to every member

GREETINGS

and

A CORDIAL INVITATION to the Twelfth National Convention

Bigwin Inn, Lake of Bays, Ontario

the second week of July, 1928

IN ACCORDANCE with the wish of the 1926 Convention, the committee appointed at that time, to investigate suitable places for the 1928 meeting, centered its attention on securing a place in the South or Southeast. Attractive meeting places seemed to be White Sulphur Springs, Virginia; Asheville, North Carolina, and others in that vicinity. After much correspondence with these various places, the Council was compelled, with some reluctance, to abandon the idea of Convention at any one of the really adequate places, because the late dates of closing for so many of our colleges would necessarily make our convention so late that the desirable places south, that were cool, could not offer us sufficient conveniences or accommodations. We feel very happy, however, and very fortunate, to be able to offer you, for 1928 Convention place, Bigwin Inn, on the Lake of Bays, Ontario. Other organizations which have met at Bigwin Inn have unanimously and enthusiastically recommended it to us; and the management is already evincing a splendid courtesy and helpfulness that assures us every convenience and perfect ease of mind. The time of the convention is the second week in July, 1928. With so fortunate a prospect for the convention from every standpoint—delightful quarters, convenient date, interesting trip and scenery, novelty of location—our most successful convention is a certainty; providing that to all the above factors we can count on YOU!

EDITORIALS

Heartiest congratulations and warmest greetings are extended to you; we too feel the pride which now is yours, in the privilege that has come to you—that high privilege of stepping into the world's work, buoyant with youth and hope, and warmed and encouraged by the faith you have in yourselves and in humankind.

*To our

We say this number of THE LAMP is dedicated to the seniors. It is as truly addressed to all who, four years, have followed your college life with keen interest, honest pride, and sometimes with wondering not unmixed with doubt, as you faced and decided this or that issue of college and fraternity life. With satisfaction these older sisters may now see from the chronicles of your achievements and your plans for the future, that you have not failed to catch that vision of the goal common to us all—the development of a womanhood which is ready and adequate for the demands of today and tomorrow.

It is impossible to escape the realization from the records of these seniors, that most of them have pursued in college a course definitely planned as preparation for some vocation later. The college girl of today no longer returns to her home to be supported by its breadwinners. She says instead, "I have my living to make"—and we find her in almost every field of service which is known and filled by her brothers.

The world is waiting for you, girls of 1927! It has need of the very best you have to bring. Your trained minds, your deft hands—these it must have; and these you must have, for they are the tools for that "living." But how much more, does it behoove you to bring your finest convictions, your highest courage; tenderness, womanliness, hearts of faith. Whatever shall be your chosen vocation, let it be for you not merely a means of earning a living; if it be not also a manner of life, then your reward will be niggardly, your achievements narrow, passing.

It is significant that we call this "commencement" time. The boundless opportunities of the world lie just over the threshold across which you are stepping. May you lose not one which will add to the richness and fullness of your lives!

To you, Seniors! Hail and Godspeed!

Even the gayest "butterfly" in our chapter somehow feels, when the cum laude and magna cum laude lists are out, that high rank in scholarship has beyond the peradventure of a doubt, a distinction equalled by few, if any, other honors of college life.

Scholarship Honors

In the first place, it shows a recognition of "first things first," and the consistent attempt to live by that principle. For, present alarms notwithstanding, the true raison d'être of all school life is scholarship. Without this basic principle, our costly and elaborate educational system would have no justification for its continuation. The demonstration of its claim for furthering scholarship must be made by its students; its honor students are its triumphant vindication. These are the true "sportsmen" of learning; they have played the game with all their might, faithfully, and in accordance with the rules.

Again, there is inherent in scholastic honors a quality which is almost unknown to most triumphs, whether of college or later life: triumph solely on merit. Here if anywhere is triumph without "pull," without favor or backing, not based on strife, without competition as generally understood. Here is an honor which can be won with cleanness of conscience, purely through personal endeavor, and strict faithfulness to one's own tasks. It may be accepted without regret for the knowledge that it meant the defeat of some other; it need carry no envy, no tears of jealousy. It is that odd race in which every runner may win if he will. Here is a contest in which every entrant may win a place and high prestige!

Who is there who does not feel, when all is said, that scholastic honors are the most significant, most uncompromising, most impartial and most appropriate of all honors to be gained in college? Whether the recognition be that of membership in some nationally known society such as Phi Beta Kappa, or of a purely local nature, is of small matter. The essential point is that the individual shall be conscious of the effort, and of the return which it has meant to him personally. The recognition by others is simply the corollary, the visible symbol of his intangible possession. It is a great pleasure to show in this LAMP some of the Delta Zetas who have won signal honors in scholarship, and a privilege to offer to them, on behalf of the whole fraternity, our sincere congratulations.

Surely the girls going from our college chapters this spring have much to contribute to Delta Zeta as alumnæ. Whether they begin at once to share the responsibilities and the opportunities that they as alumnæ may know, will depend, to a large extent, on the ability and interest the alumnæ chapters (and alumnæ association officers) show as "rushers." The younger girl may hesitate to take the initiative in joining alumnæ chapters, or in "taking hold" after she has joined; if you let her enthusiasm wane before you approach her about alumnæ work you may lose her. Remember how 'way back, you yourself thought that those four years in the active chapter were the biggest part of your Delta Zeta life, and how you expected to find any later contacts a mere shadow, without substance or burning interest? And how you laugh now to think of the little, little you guessed as to the beauty and variety of alumnæ friendship and service? Pass on to these new little sisters the invitation to come and be one of you. See; it is like learning of Delta Zeta all over again, and this time with a depth of meaning to which the former experience was but a prelude of preparation.

Go back for Commencement, if you can; urge the seniors to join their nearest alumnæ chapters next fall. Write that chapter about them, if it isn't in the town where you are to be; and be on the lookout for the girls who come, from other chapters, to your chapter for the year or to live. Are you still a Delta Zeta? Then rush for her. Remember again that most Delta Zetas are alumnæ; and that the number of alumnæ, both actual and proportional, increases faster than the number of actives. You are an undergraduate only a short time at best; but you are a Delta Zeta all your life! Tell them so!

In a tiny pool one could jump over,
 I saw reflected all the sky;
 I wondered how should one rightly measure this lovely water,
 By the earth that holds it, or the heavens it holds.

Pen-Portraits of My European Trip

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a letter from Mrs. Gertrude McElfresh, Beta, to the girls of Chi chapter, and appeared in the latest issue of the Chi-ogram. Because it is so vivid and colorful, it is shared with all Delta Zetas, with thanks to Chi for passing it on.)

DEAR SISTERS:

MY TRIP to Europe. What a big assignment! Well, it was a joy from beginning to end. A college friend, Mrs. Harry Buxton of Corvallis, was an ideal "pal." We traveled independently, and thereby saved one-fourth of the usual expenses! Language difficulties, money exchange, customs, pensions—nothing daunted us. Truly, my dears, it really is not hard to travel on one's own in Europe. Courtesy begets courtesy everywhere.

DREAMS COME TRUE

How many dreams came true in a short three months. Ocean voyages (and not seasick were we), including three days of real storm—being aliens—doing beautiful and sunny England, wherein are my "dream ruins" at Kenilworth, my "dream castle" at Warwick, and my "dream cathedral" at Chester. Of each, my diary says, "I'm satisfied if I never see another."

England is lovely, lovely, beyond all imaginings; Bonnie Scotland is "nae sae bonnie" as I had anticipated; France and Belgium fit into the picture; Holland is picturesque beyond description—every windmill a thrill; Germany gave me my Perfect Day on the Rhine; Switzerland has real mountains—more numerous and closer together than ours—hence soul-stirring scenery; Italy—ah, words fail me at thought of Northern Italy. Small wonder that Italians are amorous, romantic, sentimental, and artistic! Stresa, on Lake Maggiore, is the chosen site for my second honeymoon. I'm offering to say "Yes" to the man who will take me back to the most beautiful spot in all the world.

MY OWN PROSPECTUS

Nine days on the Atlantic—landed at Plymouth—first night at Exeter—then came Salisbury, Warwick, Kenilworth, Stratford-on-Avon (intellectually, my most satisfying day), Liverpool; Chester, English Lakeland (haunts and homes of Wordsworth, Ruskin, Coleridge, Dryden, etc.), lovelier than lovely, and such names: Lakes Windermere, Ulswater, Coniston, Grasmere, Derwentwater—Glasgow (ugly, grimy city of drunkards)—the Trossachs, a charming bit of wild country, full of "Lochs"—Edinburgh, queen city of the world (I stayed three days!)—Stirling, picturesque village, birthplace of my father, in land of Rob Roy—Galashiels, where my "pal's" rich "in-laws" live on an estate called Fairnilee (had my first and probably last ride in a Rolls-Royce), servants doing forty-ninth year, two gates, with porter's lodge at each, gardens so vast that we walked nearly three hours, of my one day, and saw only part of them, "tea," of course (read story books for the rest). Big Thrill. 'Tis a shame Myrt missed it. Then on to Durham, York, and London, dear old London, for nine days—a "topping" sight—did everything of course. And now, hold your breaths—by airplane to Paris—loved it, except when the engines missed a beat right over middle of the Channel—en route two hours, fifty minutes—clear day—wonderful experience.

PARISIAN POINTS

Paris? I tried not to be carried away, but it got me—yes, it is the most beautiful city in my world—I'm its slave for life—living now just to return and stay for weeks. I had a hat made to fit my "covered wagon," bought everything except clothes, and yet came away happy. Styl-ish French women wore black from tip to toe—skirts longer than ours—no rouge—red, red lips—and only half, or less, were bobbed.

THE I.F.U.W.

Belgium—Brussels for a day—Antwerp—then The Hague for a memorable day—Amsterdam for five days as delegate at I.F.U.W. (twenty-seven countries, latest count)—Lasting Impression: university women of different countries are not so different after all, and it is they who are destined to bring World Peace. International understanding is their aim, and, as the dear little Irish delegate said, "Through the women understanding comes."

PICTURES—ON EARTH AND ON CANVAS

Germany—with fields full of women doing men's work—mowing large fields of grain with hand sickles—pitching hay—bareheaded and barefoot—with the men sleek and fat and idle, except over the steins; to Cologne for a most magnificent cathedral—up the Rhine, with its Lorelei, its castles, its lore—to "Alt Heidelberg"—and into Switzerland, where the sunshine ended and clouds hung low five-sixths of the time (you know now why I must return to "Swisse")—at Lucerne for a boat trip to Wilhelm Tell's chapel—to Interlaken, for proof of how effectively the Jungfrau can hide herself—to Brieg, and over the Simplon Pass—a gorgeous trip, like unto Mt. Hood Loop road—to Italian border. Then Stresa—how my heart flutters! On to Como, Milan, with its most exquisite of all cathedrals and De Vinci's "The Last Supper" painted on a plastered wall—to Venice, and now words fail me. When my swain tires of Stresa, he may take me, happily, to the city of gondolas, nightly serenades, Florian's for the best ices in the world and shops that fascinate and bewilder.

Florence, with art galleries beyond compare, was next. In the Pitti Gallery I found my love, and before it I stood in awe and trembling—such is the effect of its radiant beauty—Murillo's "Madonna and Child." I'd go all the way to Florence again for it alone.

Rome called for a week—and got it. Such marvelous days of living over history, literature, and religion. St. Peter's cathedral, largest in the world, is more of an art museum than a church. And the Vatican—the world's greatest treasury of all that is beautiful—1,000 rooms—of course we couldn't see all, but we sat in awe in Michelangelo's Sistine Chapel, saw rooms done by Raphael, and others. You must experience an "original" to appreciate the meaning.

VESUVIUS, MONTE CARLO, AND HOME

Naples—hot, dirty, unsanitary—lovely in location—Pompeii with its marvelous excavations (I actually saw the House of Glancus, and narrow stone streets grooved deeply by chariot wheels, and petrified bodies in just the positions of having thrown themselves to the ground when that fall of sixty feet of white, hot volcanic ash covered them in a terrifyingly short time). Old wicked old Vesuvius is nearby, smoking away (she is a rounded cone, about the height of Mary's Peak). I didn't care to ascend her—most tourists do. Amalfi, for a world-famed drive along rugged shores of the Mediterranean—Sorrento—Rome again—Genoa, for "Campo Santo," most interesting cemetery in all the world—French Riviera, including Monte Carlo (no, I did not gamble—wasn't even tempted—disgusted to find three-fourths of gamblers feminine. Nice—a lovely place, an Atlantic City under blue skies of Italy—Marseilles—Paris again—Cherbourg, from which I sailed home on September 4, tired but happy and absolutely certain that the best place of all to live is our own United States. Each day of the summer I was more and more grateful for my American citizenship. I know now why this is called "The Land of Opportunity."

Only five and a half days on ocean coming back—large, fast boat.

AFTERTHOUGHTS

British Museum in London ranks first; Mona Lisa, in the Louvre, in Paris, is just as mystifying as a picture could be, and I loved the Winged Victory and the original Venus de Milo;

Art Museum at Brussels is a little gem, just of itself; Westminster Abbey was disappointing in all respects except The Poets' Corner—it is so cluttered with memorials that you cannot see the Abbey itself; Notre Dame, in Paris, had to grow on me, but I came to love it; of course we did churches, cathedrals, galleries and museums everywhere.

In the Grand Opera House, we heard Thais.

Yes, we ascended Eiffel Tower, by elevator—almost 1,000 feet—and I was afraid.

The Church of the Madeline in Paris is my bestest love, probably because of the Grecian architecture.

I wish you nothing better for future plans than a summer abroad. Please let me help you with practical suggestions or in any way. May Joy go with you!

Best love to all,

GERTRUDE McE.

SENIORS OF 1927

"Dear Editor," writes THE LAMP correspondent from the Detroit Alumnae chapter, "I like to know about folks, especially folks who have some special relation to me. I know there must be other sisters just as curious as I am, and since I parted with the essentials of my own autobiography at your request, I'd take it as a special favor if you would try to give us in tabloid, similar facts about all the rest of our Delta Zetas. Of course, if this is asking too much, you can squelch me, but I think it is a good idea."

"Dear Charlotte: How are these?"

Grace

Or words to that effect: as you can see for yourself in her real letter.

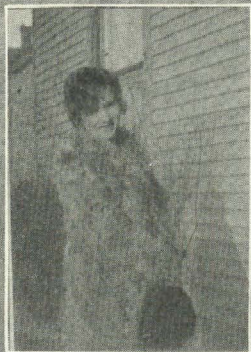

Now all year long we have been introducing to you just as many sisters as we could get to speak for themselves or put up with what we had to say about them, but we do think maybe the rest of you, as well as Charlotte, will enjoy knowing about these seniors of 1927. It is to be regretted that some chapters were unable to supply pictures, with data, for this issue, but there are enough to show us that our undergraduate members have been up and doing and to indicate that they are finding and pursuing with success, interests that will help to make them young women of charming personality and sincere service to their many communities.

Phi Beta Kappa, Theta Sigma Phi, Mortar Board, in Epsilon's Seniors

"T" HARR, ex-president of the chapter, speaks for herself. Look at this: vice-president of Mortar Board; vice-president of Pleiades; W.S.G.A. Council, '25-'26, '26-'27; and social chairman, '26-'27; W.A.A. basketball head, '26-'27; hockey head, '25-'26; W.A.A. sweater winner; chairman of senior breakfast committee; captain of Memorial Drive team, '25-'26.

IRENE BEATTY returned to us in January from Hollywood, Florida, where she was teaching. Irene is majoring in home economics and is a member of the Home Economics Club. She has already taught home economics in high school and after graduating plans to start many more of the "sweeter sex" on the right road to matrimony—culinary achievement.

"JIMMIE" STENGEL is pint size, four feet ten inches to be exact, and lives for June and "Freddie." "Freddie" is a Sig Chi and the chapter highly approves of him. "Jimmie" is a graduate of Philadelphia Normal School and will receive a B.S. in education this June. She is interested in dramatics and is a member of Theta Alpha Phi, honorary dramatic sorority.

"EDIE" WILLIAMS is the "big sister" of all the freshmen by right of being the real sister of "Geva." She attended Franklin College in '21-'22, and is an affiliate from Psi chapter. Edith has taught history and English in high school and is majoring in those subjects. She is also interested in dramatics, both directing and acting phases.

"Jo" HARDIMAN is "what gentlemen prefer," a striking blonde, and is the Delta Zeta candidate in the campus beauty contest. She attended Western College for Women, '23-'25. She is a Spanish major and after graduating plans to teach Castilian Spanish to the little "Greasers" in Mexico.

MILDRED PLEASANT is all that her name signifies. Her favorite pastime is analyzing her sisters, since she is a clinical psychology major, and an expert in her line. "Mid" is a member of the psychology club, co-ed rifle team '24-'25; was on the Arbutus staff, '25-'26; on the Daily Student staff four semesters, and is secretary of Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalistic society.

MARY K. LYNCH says: "I'm an English major and am going to teach English and history if I can secure a school." Mary K. is a member of the English Club; Panhellenic representative, '26-'27, and our rush captain, '26-'27.

DELORES HEY is our jeune fille française. She attended Franklin College from '21 to '23, and is an affiliate from Psi chapter. She taught three years in the grades and is now majoring in history in preparation for teaching medieval history in high school.

HELEN HART is small, auburn-haired, and has "It." She was on the Student staff, '25-'27; publicity chairman of W.S.G.A., '26-'27; is president of Theta Sigma Phi; editor of the Ivory Sheet, a razz paper published on the night of Junior Prom, and is to be chief toastmistress at Matrix Table, a banquet for the outstanding co-eds and women professors on the campus.

EDITH CUMINGS is our Phi Beta Kappa and we are duly proud of her. She is a talented musician, a French major, is working for special French honors, and hopes to study abroad next year. One can see that Edith's students are going to know their French verbs and tenses after passing through her classes.

"DOTTY" DODSON PARKER deserted the staid Epsilon chapter house between semesters for the unsettled course of matrimony. "The man" is Carl Parker, a Sig

Pi. "Dotty" is a talented musician and was a member of the English and Outing Clubs, but now most of her time is taken in keeping "Sig," the white Angora kitten, spotlessly clean. "Dottie" is still attending classes, however, and will receive her A.B. in June.

Alpha Proudly Graduates Ten

MILDRED MORNINGSTAR was our chapter editor this year. So it is only fair that now someone else should tell about her. She has been one of our most active girls. In her sophomore year she was elected to Cwens, sophomore honorary. She is a member of Liberal Arts Club, and of Ye Merrie Players, the Miami Dramatic Club. Work on the Student staff helped prepare her for the work of being editor-in-chief of the Recensio, our college annual, in her junior year. This same year marked the other two biggest honors that have come to "Mid" on the campus: membership in Mortar Board, and election to Phi Beta Kappa.

ALICE SHEPHERD has been pledge captain this year and a mighty fine one, too. Helpfulness has been the keynote of her college activities. She has served as chairman of the Big Sisters of the Y.W.C.A.; as a member of Student Senate, Student Council, and Y.W. Cabinet. As a sophomore she was one of the Podacs, a sophomore organization for good fellowship. Alice is a member of Liberal Arts Club and was president of Panhellenic Council. Her general worth on the campus, and the regard in which we all hold her, is again demonstrated in her election to Mortar Board.

MARIA BICKHAM was our president this past year. Possibly the trip to Convention helped make her such a good leader for us; at any rate, she has been a real "Prexy." Maria has had diversified activities, being a member of Liberal Arts Club, a Y.W. Big Sister, one of Ye Merrie Players, serving on the Junior Prom Committee, and a member and one-time secretary of Kappa Delta Pi. We in Alpha believe that most good things come in twos, and why shouldn't we, when Maria has just recently been elected to Phi Beta Kappa!

MARY FRANCES ROWLEY is that little girl who is so pretty no one could help loving her. "Mafie," too, was a Y.W. Big Sister, and twice held class offices: vice-president sophomore year and secretary in her senior year. She is a member of Liberal Arts Club, of Lambda Tau, an honorary literary society; of the staff of the Student and of the Recensio, and this year she made what most everyone loudly acclaims was the prettiest Prom Queen Miami has ever had. We are going to miss Mafie.

THELMA BALDWIN is our auburn-haired sister who likes to argue on deeply social and sociological matters. She is a Y.W. Big Sister, a member of Alpha Kappa Delta, honorary, and made a great cheer leader for the girls' indoor track meet.

RUTH WARNER's quiet, sincere smile wins you right away. Here is a girl who will "be content in work, to do the thing we can and not presume to fret because it's little." Ruth is a member of Y.W. Cabinet (vice-president). She, too, was one of the Cwens at the time when the meeting to make it National was held here.

LUCILLE IRISH, tall and fair, came back to us after a little leave of absence to try her hand at the pedagogical steering wheel. Lucille has been almost a Big Sister right in the chapter this year. She is another of our Y.W. Big Sisters and a member of the Madrigal Club.

DOROTHY SPENCE, Xi chapter

sent us one of our seniors; no, undoubtedly that is a misprint—they only "lent" her to us. Now she is one of our very own. Dorothy is Thelma's companion in those sociological matters. She has been social chairman of Bishop Hall this year and president of the Classical Club. She, too, is a member of Alpha Kappa Delta, the sociology honorary.

MARY LOUISE CLENDENIN, our glowing-haired "Weezy," will go back to the Bluegrass when she leaves us. Mary Louise has a positive genius for friendship, both in her group and on the campus at large. The only activities I could persuade her to mention other than these were being on the freshman hockey team, and serving on the committee for the Sophomore Hop.

MARGARET HAYDEN is one of Alpha's town girls. Margaret is interested in music and has been a member of the Madrigal Club. I think the chapter letter tells you something else in which she has been quite interested, too—in fact, it does seem that the majority of these seniors are about to take the M.R.S. soon after that A.B. Alpha doesn't care because she knows that thereby she is sure to gain ten ardently grateful "brothers" who'll agree that Alpha training makes the ideal wife!

honorary usher. Class committees and offices have taken some of her time, and she is a member of both Cwens, honorary sophomore society, and Mortar Board. In connection with Cwens, which was originated at Pitt and numbers Delta Zetas as part of the founders, it is interesting to note that Venus was president when Cwens became national in 1925.

Kappa Delta Pis at Franklin

HELEN HEITMEYER came to us in her junior year, from the Western College for Women. She was a member of the Chapel

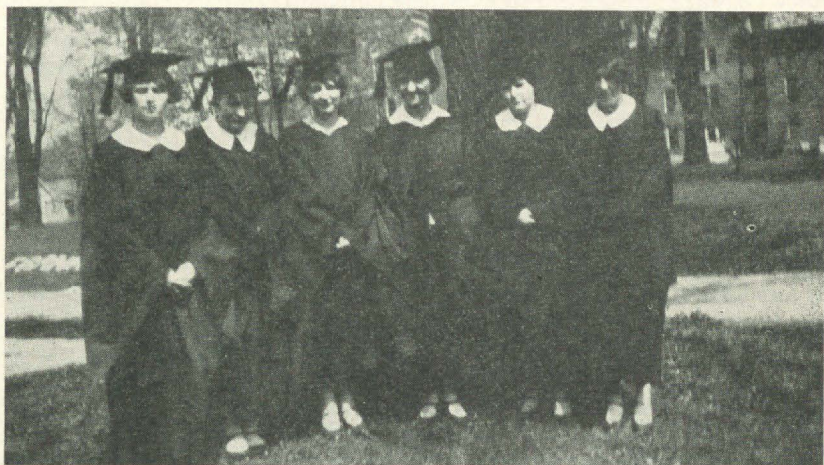

Choir and the Girls' Glee Club in her junior year, secretary of the Senior class, and a member of Eta Sigma Phi.

CLEO ROGERS has been one of our quiet workers within the chapter. She is a member of Eta Sigma Phi.

IRENE CRIBBS is the athlete of our Senior class. She made her W.A.A. membership in her freshman year, and in both junior and senior years was president of the association. Two years on the varsity basketball team, and a pioneer in the Rifle popular as treasurer, since both the Y.W. and Psi chapter cast her for that rôle. She is a member of the Socratic Club, which is being installed as a chapter of Kappa Delta Pi this month; one of the Senior Board, our senior representative on Panhellenic council, and a member of the Almanac (yearbook) staff.

Club are to her credit. Back in her freshman days she was class secretary, and in 1925-26 she was vice-president of the girls' dormitory.

KATHERINE BOYD is a member of the Rifle Club, of the Franklin staff, and of Theta Alpha Phi. She is taking part in the Senior Week plays.

HOPE BABCOCK served on the Y.W.C.A. Cabinet in her junior and senior years, and seems to be

Dorothy Best. She is one of the most active girls that both Franklin College and Psi chapter have ever claimed. In her first two years she won an envied place as a debater, being a member of the debate team; but since then she has been occupied with more serious matters than argument! She has been a member of Pi Kappa Delta all four years, serving twice as officer; she is a member of the Dramatic Club, and has a leading part in the Senior Play. She is president of Kappa Delta Pi; a member of the Franklin staff, secretary of Student Council, one of five campus leaders (the student body voting), and was elected to Franklin's local scholastic honor society, Alpha. Our confidence in her has been shown by her being chosen as our delegate to both Province and National Conventions, and by her election to the highest office we could give her, that of our chapter president.

Editor-in-Chief and Three Presidents

VIRGINIA BELL: When the rain is pattering down, Ginnie is blissfully content if she can curl up on a nice comfy couch with a good book, dreamy music coming over the radio, and a dish of fudge within easy reach of a lazy hand. She is cuddly, very sociable and quite worshipful. Certain figures loom very large on Ginnie's horizon, and her thoughts and deeds include them, but she does it all with such a wide-eyed adoration and pretty sincerity, that we can but marvel at such devotion, long to shake her and rather like it. The Last of Alpha Theta's Charter Members Graduates

Alpha Theta will be four years old this May. The very last of her charter members is graduating this year: Mildred Cowgell. We'd not have had Mildred with us if she had not been out trying her hand at cultivating the younger generation's mental garden for one year. Alpha Theta really feels that you won't blame us for being a bit proud of the fact that for three years we hold the scholarship cup here (thereby winning the Delta Zeta cup at last Convention!); that we have had a member in Mortar Board every year, and, although Phi Beta Kappa was only installed last year, so that Ann Williams is our first one, some of our charter members who have already graduated are also Phi Beta Kappa eligibles, and we are just as proud of them.

Statistically:

MILDRED COWGELL, Livermore, Kentucky: major subject—English; Beauty Contest (2); Kentucky Favorite (girls in feature section of annual) (4); Panhellenic Council (1, 2, 4); Kernel, University of Kentucky weekly publication, staff (3, 4); rifle team (2); Home Ec Club (1);

Three Phi Beta Kappas at Maine

Alpha Upsilon parts with three Phi Beta Kappas on Commencement Day this year, two who are taking the degree of bachelor of arts, and one with a master's degree. The chapter has been very happy to have Emily Pendleton, last year's president, in college this year, working for the master's degree which she is to receive in June. Emily was elected to Phi Beta Kappa in her senior year, and was awarded a scholarship which enabled her to continue her work this year.

Annette Matthews and Amy Adams are Alpha Upsilon's other two wearers of the key of knowledge; from all reports Annette's younger sisters are determined to keep up the chapter's reputation of Phi Beta Kappa honors in Alpha Upsilon every year!

AMY BELLE ADAMS: varsity hockey (1, 2, 3, 4); Campus reporter (2, 3); athletic editor Campus (4); Athletic Board (2); manager of girls' baseball (2); Women's Intercollegiate Poetry Prize (2); Contributor's Club (1, 2, 3, 4); Glee Club (2); Y.W.C.A. Cabinet (2, 3); All-Maine Women (2, 3, 4); treasurer Outing Club (3); vice-president Outing Club (4); Phi Beta Kappa; Phi Kappa Phi. "Versatile" spells Amy. The fairies showered abundant gifts upon this senior, as witness her many varied interests. Poet, hockey player, artist, student—we are at a loss to place her in her proper setting. There is only one thing that she does not like, and that is—elocution. In fact, she much prefers fancy dancing. She is also very fond of mountain climbing, and likes the wide open spaces.

ANNETTE SUSAN MATTHEWS: Campus reporter (2, 3); 4-H Club (2, 3); house secretary (3); Phi Sigma; Phi Beta Kappa; Phi Kappa Phi. Here's our Bobbie, the little meek freshman of 1923, who was thinking of a perfectly proper course in history. But alas! since then she has bobbed her hair and taken to nursing wasps and mice. She spends her noon hours anywhere but at the dinner-table and her greatest pastime of the afternoon is playing with the mice at the mouse lab.

EDITH CHARLOTTE MERCHANT: varsity hockey (2); baseball (2); track (2); house president (4); natural history group; 4-H Club; Phi Sigma. Enter Edith, the snowshoe queen. Edith has quite a silver collection, most of it being cups which she has won at various winter carnivals. In the summer time she dons her huge straw hat, takes out her butterfly net, and indulges in the art of "aphididean."

MURIEL L'VESTA VARNUM: Latin Club (2, 3, 4); varsity basketball (2); class basketball (2, 3, 4); hockey (2, 3); Glee Club; house president (4). This is Muriel, our agile jumping center. She insists that "longevity" applies to her height. If this is true, she will have the longest, happiest life of any of us. Her aim after college is Alaska. Whether the natives would appreciate Latin or French is a question, but she thinks it worth the experiment. She might in-introduce hockey and fudge-making for "recreation."

MARGARET JULIA WHITE: Campus Board (3); Spanish Club (3, 4); French Club (2, 3). Early or late, morning or night, Peggy may be found plugging away either in her room or at the library. It is a well known fact that this fair co-ed has taken the standard library course ever since she entered Maine. We wonder if there's a reason.

What time of day does Peggy like best? Why "Dawn" of course!

[EDITOR'S NOTE: The reason seems to "Dawn" upon us!]

Showing Sigma's Seniors

MARIE LOUISE GROSS has been one of our most loyal workers within the chapter. As vice-president, this year she has helped our pledges to find the meaning of fraternity and especially of the Delta Zeta fraternity. Marie Louise is a member of the Newman Club, and in her sophomore years served as its president.

NORA NORRIS has interests just as versatile as you'd imagine from her merry name. All her four years she has been a Y.W.C.A. worker; the first three years she hiked with the Hikers' Club; as a sophomore and junior she sang in the Chorus, and for the last three years she was numbered among the "bog-ologists" in the Biology Club. It is no wonder that having lived these various rôles, she should also be a member of the Dramatic Club.

FANNIE DAY BOOTH has for the past two years been a member of the Co-ed Honor Council. During all four years she has been numbered in the Semi-Chorus as well as with the Y.W.C.A. workers. Her other honors include serving as junior Co-ed president, and being a member of Delta Gamma Delta, our intersorority organization.

CAMILLE LANGTON has come back to graduate from Louisiana State University, after wandering away from us to widen her college experience at the University of Missouri. She is a member of Semi-Chorus and Biology Club, and serves on Sigma's building committee.

VERA BOOZE is another who left us for awhile but decided to come back and graduate with her own sisters. She lived in Virginia during her sophomore year and attended normal school there. Vera's interests are primarily musical. She belongs to Semi-Chorus and to Chorus, and was one of four Delta Zetas to become charter members of Sigma Alpha Iota when it was installed at Louisiana State University this past winter.

CAROLYN SHOLARS, although she has been here but for two years, has been as busy as a bee, with the reward of as much "honey" as any industrious worker could wish. Aside from being a member of the Y.W. Cabinet, president of the senior Co-eds and a member of the Honor Council, she has been part of almost every "writing" activity on the campus: Scribblers, Theta Sigma Sigma (petitioning the national Theta Sigma Phi); society editor of the Reveille; feature editor of Gumbo, and associate editor of the Purple Pel, our humor magazine. We are glad she left Newcomb for us!

EDNA MCLEAN, who has been telling THE LAMP about Sigma this year, is another of our literary lights. She, too, is a member of Scribblers; and of the staff of Purple Pel, and the Reveille. Interpretative dancing and athletics were earlier interests, winning her a place in W.A.A., and in Panhellenic she has served Sigma for three years. This year she has been on Y.W. Cabinet, and she is our second member of Theta Sigma Sigma, and Delta Gamma Delta.

MARGERY STEWART, who is retiring president, has been active in Y.W. Cabinet for her entire college life, in her junior year being honored by its presidency. She is a member of Cosmopolitan Club; of Mu Sigma Rho, our scholastic honor society, and a member, and the president, of Blazers, senior women's honorary society. We are indeed proud of Margery.

ELIZABETH (LIB) MCGUIRE will leave a great vacant place at Louisiana State University. Class president in her freshman and sophomore years, she has held also the offices of treasurer and vice-president of Student Government; been on W.A.A. Executive Board; and held practically all the honors possible in athletics—she has won her W.A.A. sweater and blanket; was twice tennis champion; twice won honors in W.A.A. track meets, and was a member of all varsity sport teams for all four years. In addition to this she was twice voted the most popular girl, twice the best all-round girl, and four times Louisiana State University's best co-ed athlete. She is renowned as being twice elected co-ed cheerleader.

IDAMAE SCHLOTH is our debater, having participated in Women's Varsity Debate for two years. She was vice-president of Zeta Kappa Psi, a national honorary in debate for women. Idamae was section editor of the Beaver for one year and was a member of the Madrigal Club for three years. She is also a champion swimmer and was captain of the junior swimming team.

WILDES EDWARDS is our oldest graduate and we sure hate to see her leave us. "Bill," as she is called, has been historian, vice-president, and secretary of National Collegiate Players and is

Mortar Board

Mortar Board, which chooses its members on the basis of scholarship, activities, and service, is represented by fourteen members of our 1927 graduates, four "singles" and five "doubles." From Alpha we have Mildred Morningstar and Alice Shepherd; Ohio's second quota comes from Theta, with Ruth Lloyd and Mildred Worley. Adding Ann Williams, of Alpha Theta, and Thelma Harr, of Epsilon, seems to give Gamma Province the lion's share of these notables. Omicron is proud of her two members, Margaret Moore and Venus Shakarian, because the Mortar Board chapter at Pitt represents nineteen N.P.C. organizations, and has but nine members. Over in Delta Province we find Iota with Helen Cole and Ruth Tamisea as charter members of Mortar Board which recently took over the older organization of "Staff and Circle." Ruth was president during the past year. Kappa chapter's two, Jean Wallace and Amelie Nichols, were both at Convention, and Amelie has a reputation on the campus at Washington for being an inveterate Convention-goer, because of the frequency with which she attends Y.W.C.A. conferences.

Traveling down the coast we meet Glenna Travis at Omega and find Marion Edwards at Mu, thus completing the fourteen.

The historically inclined are evenly divided with two in Theta Alpha Phi, and two in Zeta Phi Eta. Chi Delta Phi, which is not represented on a large number of our campuses, is reported only from Alpha Sigma and Alpha Omega, with three members. The local societies which correspond to the various national organizations give us almost the same numbers as those shown above; and unquestionably as much ability and pride may be found represented in them, as in the national societies. In a later number of THE LAMP these organizations will be presented to you, and at that time, too, the reports which could not be made until after elections held later in this college year, will be added to the data available now.

Women's Day at Syracuse University*

ONE of the loveliest traditions of Syracuse University is Women's Day, which is celebrated every year in the month of May. From early morning until late in the evening the day is one of festive and picturesque carnival. A May morning breakfast held on the old stone bridge in the castle grounds begins the day. The first strawberries of the season served with cream, crisp bacon, rolls, and hot coffee are served to all who come. If the day is warm what color one sees—green linen smocks, watermelon-colored sweaters, blue jersey suits, and occasionally a dashing yellow gown or a striped dress like a peppermint stick of candy. It is a carnival of color.

All through the morning athletic contests are held on Hendricks Field. In the afternoon a large pageant is held—one year it was Robin Hood. Always there are hundreds of fairy and elflike dancers, music and pantomime. The presence of the May Queen, who is elected from the Senior class, with her court of attendants, is a distinctive feature of the pageant.

The day closes with the beautiful and symbolic Lantern ceremony which takes place on the sloping hillsides of Crouse College. The seniors, wearing their caps and gowns and holding lighted lanterns, form the numerals of their class. They sing the women's Alma Mater as the juniors, gowned in white, come in, and, taking the lanterns, form the numerals of their class. The juniors sing the lantern song and at the close of the ceremony all the women students together sing the Women's Day hymn, "These are Thy gifts we lay them on Thine altar."

The Candle-Light Service

Graduation is a great thing in a college student's life, as everybody knows. The Music Department, headed by Professor Stopher, furnishes a beautiful part of the graduation exercises at Louisiana State University. The Candle Light Service is always given the Friday night before the real graduation day—on Monday.

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever." This service is one of the most impressive and beautiful of Commencement Week. No lights are used except flickering candle light. On the stage are the girl chorus dressed in white and the Glee Club. The orchestra is just below. In the front seats of the audience section are the cap-and-gowned graduates. When the Alma Mater is sung, you can imagine the way the graduates feel. Oh! how lonesome and homesick to think of leaving!

The program after this is really a concert and Professor Stopher certainly can direct one! There are no talks—just beautiful music. And when the audience leaves it feels that it has witnessed a real farewell and a loving remembrance is fixed in the mind for many, many months.

President's Reception and College Sing at Franklin College

The most interesting, or perhaps we should say the most active, evening for seniors during Commencement Week is the night of the alumni banquet, college sing, and President's reception. The banquet is usually held at the Baptist Church, but the other two affairs are held on the campus.

Immediately after the banquet the seniors in their caps and gowns assemble with the rest of the student body to sing for the last time together the praises of their Alma Mater. After some twenty minutes of lusty song, the College President holds an informal reception in honor of the newly acquired alumni of the institution. The campus, for the only time during the year, is lit by Japanese lanterns and the old fountain, usually "waterless" because of the cost of upkeep, throws its water over standers-by at too close a range. It's a happy time, yet a sad time; but how we all love it!

May Day at De Pauw

Probably May Day at De Pauw is not so very different spread in the gymnasium, and there amid gay spring decorations a delectable breakfast, always featuring strawberries, is served. Before the meal is ended, the first of the really exciting incidents has taken place: Mortar Board has "tapped" its choice of members for the coming year, and the honored junior girls, wearing the Mortar Board of the seniors who have "tapped" them, appear among the other students from the observance of it in other colleges, but nevertheless it is very dear to all adherents of the Old Gold. It is an all-day holiday, and the occasion for many reunions at fraternity and sorority houses.

The opening event is the May Day breakfast served by the W.A.A. If the day is fair (as of course we always pray for it to be) this is held on the campus; if it rains, then the tables are to the accompaniment of congratulations and much elation on the part of interested friends.

A May Day Fête, including the crowning of the May Queen; athletic events for both men and women students, and a play in the evening, by Duzer Du, De Pauw chapter of National Collegiate Players, are inevitable parts of the program. A special edition of the college paper comes out; graduating students of the music department will probably appear in concert—a general air of festivity and happiness prevails.

May Day at De Pauw! It is a time to remember always with a wish that one might go back and live it over one extra time.—Perhaps the accompanying picture will serve too as the Magic Carpet for those members of Delta who were undergraduates in 1919. Here are the seniors of that year, with the house mother and mascot, the chapter dog. La, la! Only two short college generations ago—but observe how passé are the skirts and coiffures of other days. Pauline Edwards Dodd, who spares this picture from her scrapbook, will welcome an “I remember too” from some of the girls whose addresses are now unknown to her.

member of Mortar Board, Ruth Robertson was our Phi Beta Kappa, and Ruth Miller wrote the words and music of that song which seems to be part and parcel of every Delta Zeta, the Rose Song, beginning “Washed by the dew.”

Some Traditions of Kentucky Commencement

There is one bright day in Kentucky when freshmen, sophomores alike cast envious eyes upon superior seniors. This particular time is that appointed for the annual senior Sunrise Breakfast given by President and Mrs. Frank Le Rond McVey. Especially distinctive is the fact that the delightful affair is given in the sparkling early hours of morning in a completely natural setting—that of the attractive lawn of the “President's-House-on-the-Campus.” In the crisp freshness of a sunny June day, hundreds of seniors gather on Kentucky bluegrass for a truly fond farewell.

Moving Day is eagerly anticipated by a throng of students at the University of Kentucky. At this time, freshmen leave their verdure behind; sophomores acquire a higher rank, and juniors assume the time honored dignity of seniors; while, alas, poor seniors are wont to accustom themselves to falling heir to "alumnæ-ship."

In a huge bonfire, freshmen boys and girls burn caps and armbands of traditional Kentucky "Blue and White," symbols of "first year-dom," and discard forever the signs that are customarily associated with the neophyte of college.

For the last several weeks of school, all students enjoy the newly gained freedom of advancement. Sophomores realize the meaning of "upper class-men" for the first time, and juniors feel the thrill of being designated as seniors.

Our Senior Breakfast

Alpha Lambda's most firmly fixed senior tradition is its Senior Breakfast. "Breakfast" sounds like mere eating, but this is more; it is Delta Zeta senior week concentrated into a few hours. In the gayly decorated rooms the seniors are each toasted by a close friend or a "daughter" until the very air is full of happiness. Each senior also has a present and, most important of all, everyone eats the most delicious breakfast of the year.

PATIENCE CAIRNS, A A

Alpha Pi's Annual Play

Rather low causes often lead to quite admirable ends. Thus with the Alpha Pi's Delta Zeta play. Not that the cause was really low, but in 1924 the girls of the chapter felt themselves rather embarrassed financially and in search of means for obtaining money hit upon the idea of giving a play—not such an original idea, but—A coach was secured and all the necessary business attended to in due order, and in the spring of 1924 the Delta Zetas staged their first play.

All the parts in this first play were taken by girls, and we are afraid some of the gallant and dashing young lovers afforded more comic relief than was intended. At any rate, the play, which was given in the college auditorium, was a decided—even a "howling" (for it was a funny play) success. The "low" object had been attained. Alpha Pi girls had made money—more than they dared expect. But the seed of the admirable end had been planted. This first play was repeated twice in different parts of the city.

Encouraged by success, and instilled with the ideal of better amateur productions, elaborate plans for the second annual play immediately started. Tryouts were held and the most capable boys in the city were given parts. Advice and assistance was offered by the Little Theater of B'ham. The city's best theater was secured, extensive billboard and newspaper advertising was done, and gradually, with the new purpose of holding high "Delta Zeta" the Howard chapter has seen her fourth annual play come through with flying colors. Our presentation this year, which was the fourth, was The Intimate Strangers by Booth Tarkington, an excellent comedy success.

Alpha Pi thinks she has a unique custom that not only makes money for her but makes her known and alive in the eyes of the city. It is an outlet to much enthusiasm and business ability.

BLANCHE MARTIN, A II

Two Interesting Customs at Alpha Psi

Our most interesting customs are Piker's Day and Senior Recognition Day. On Piker's Day all the seniors dress up in outlandish costumes and play all day. At chapel period they put on a program for the benefit of the school at large. In the afternoon there is always a baseball game between the seniors and the faculty. Of course, no senior would think of attending class on Piker's Day. Senior Recognition Day, on the other hand, is quite one of the most impressive and dignified of occasions. The seniors, in cap and gown, march to McFarlin Memorial Auditorium and take their places. The juniors carry the daisy chain and surround the seniors. Then there are addresses by the president of the class, the president of the university and the class sponsor. A banquet or dinner usually closes the day. This year the Mothers' Club is going to march with the seniors. Each mother is to be dressed in white and walk by her son or daughter.

WHAT IS GOING ON AT VEST?

[In this department we hope to try in each issue of THE LAMP to show something of the work that is being done at the Delta Zeta Center, at Vest, Kentucky. Mrs. Kirven will share with us her reports, the stories and pictures that come to her as chairman of the National Social Service Committee of the Fraternity.—G. M.L.]

ALL Delta Zetas will be interested in this letter from our teacher, Miss Haass.

Vest, Kentucky,
February 20, 1927

MY DEAR MRS. KIRVEN:

I am enclosing a copy of our vesper service program which we had this evening, just at dusk. We have one every Sunday, and it helps the girls so much, to think on better things. Perhaps you might like it for publication. A committee of three girls always prepares the program and then the chairman leads the service.

We are planning an evening of stunts before the school is over, just for Kirven Hall girls and are giving a prize for the best stunt. They are most enthusiastic over it, too.

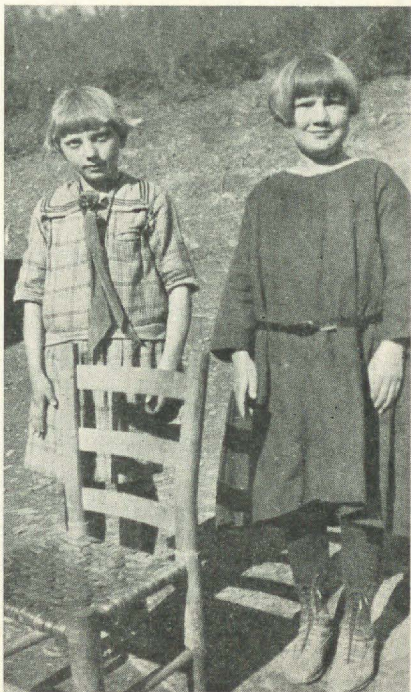

Tomorrow we have a patriotic program in school but it will consist chiefly of debates by students.

With our lovely spring weather, we began to beautify our hill-top a bit. We have set out roses and vines, and would set out more but a snow storm stopped us for a few days.

The community boys and girls are giving us some silver-leaf maple trees to plant in front of Kirven Hall and nothing less than a real peach and apple orchard would satisfy for our "back yard." We could get them very reasonably here, and the men say they will plant them—of course they will do anything for the Center. What do you think about it? I should be so interested in trying it.

The girls have been responding so splendidly since I have been helping them, but I wish there was more time of leisure to draw them out and really help them to lead. But this will hardly be possible so long as there is so much housekeeping and, in mountain vernacular, "ginning" for them to do. For one person to oversee everything, too, takes time for detail, that ought to be spent where it is most needed—on the girls and community. The other teachers here feel that if they teach, that is their share, so that has left everything else to me, with as much teaching as they have—so I could not do some things this year that I wished, but keep hoping that next year's girls will have more chance. I wonder what you think about it.

Margaret says to Ethel, "We might as well have a chance as the big girls."

Mrs. Kirven, I haven't any good picture available and cannot think of a thing to tell about myself that would interest the Delta Zetas.

Cordially yours,

MARIE HAASS

Your gifts at Christmas were appreciated. You will never know what gladness and happiness you are giving these people. The committee did not ask all the chapters to send Christmas gifts but is dividing calls throughout the whole year, as under a new plan we are distributing gifts throughout the year. We have asked several chapters for groceries and other supplies which they have kindly sent. Once a chapter was asked to send a few small rag rugs. When these arrived the girls in the dormitory were delighted with them. There was one which was the favorite so the girl who keeps her room the neatest for one week is awarded the honor of having this rug in her room the following week. I will tell you an interesting little story connected with this. It happened that the girl who was awarded the rug for one week was much distressed one night when one of the girls became ill and they started to carry the sick girl into her room. She screamed and ran into her room ahead of the others, grabbed the rug off the floor and then allowed them to enter. When questioned she said, "I didn't want this pretty thing the Delta Zetas sent us ruined,—aren't they nice sending such pretties to the likes of us?"

Did you know this?

There are 5,000,000 American men and women and 2,000,000 American children of school age isolated and all but forgotten in the foot-hills and coves of the Southern Highlands of the United States.

addition to our teacher the county paid the salary of two teachers, and Mrs. Lloyd, of Caney Creek Center, kindly offered to pay the salary of the fourth. Our teacher was also the director. It does not seem right that we should expect Mrs. Lloyd to continue paying the salary of the fourth teacher. This is our center and it is necessary that we have the four teachers in order to continue to be an accredited twelve grade school. With our present budget I am afraid we cannot assume this, but if each month seventy-five different Delta Zetas would send one dollar apiece we could do this. What a nice thing to do on your birthday, say!

I am giving you the expenses for this year to date. Our budget from the national treasury is $1725 a year.

The Garden

They wonder why I sit apart and stare
 And stare at nothingness, and sometimes smile
 With strange naïve delight. A garden lies Beyond their hum of rising talk—beyond
 The full crescendo of their laughter, and
 If they would listen they might hear, with me
 The soft white whirring of the butterflies.
 When I am tired—dully tired as Today—I like to press my face against
 The wet, uneven bark of trees—and crunch
 My fingers in the earth around the dark Cool lilac roots. I like to lie quite still
 And hear the wild thrush ring his smooth, clear tones
 Like pebbles polished by the sea; to watch
 The tall grass running—running in the wind;
 And let my thoughts go vagabonding through
 The crooked paths.

And still they wonder why
 I sit apart and stare at nothingness
 And sometimes smile with strange, naïve delight.

Wanted: Words to This Music!

For all the would-be or should-be songwriters of Delta Zeta, here is a proposition that should receive some attention. We have the tune—you get the words! This music was written by Virginia Smith of Kappa chapter, and needs to be used; a song without words doesn't fit our needs. Send your words to Central Office in plain envelope, marked: "Words for Virginia Smith's Tune." If Virginia and the songbook folks can agree on the best words, we'll have a new song in time for the first rush party—providing you give them something on which to agree.

Your Province President will tell you about the Convention in your Province; ask her.

MELVA GRACE JOHN, Rho, '20

Melva Grace John received her A.B. degree from the University of Denver in June, 1920. Of all our Delta Zetas on the campus during those four years I believe Melva was by far the most active. Her activities included Delta Zeta, Kedros (senior women's honorary), Rilling Athletic Club, Biological Club, Big Sister Council, Y.W.C.A., Forty Immortals, basketball, and assistant in the library. She received her major in mathematics, and three minors—in English, biology, and psychology. She was known and well liked by a large number of fraternity and non-fraternity women on the campus. It was quoted of her in the junior-year Kynewisbok—

There is nothing as queenly as kindness

And nothing as royal as truth.

In the years since her graduation she has been doing things and making friends just as she did at the University. While still in college, during the epidemic of influenza, she did some nursing and her work was commended by the doctor in charge. She believed that was the thing she wished to make her life work.

In the fall of 1920 she entered the Mayo Hospital at Rochester, Minnesota, to begin her training. During the three years there she proved her ability, especially in the operating room. Melva John was one of three girls to graduate with honors. Leaving many friends she departed for the Emergency Hospital at Washington, D.C., where she was supervisor of the operating rooms. (See the March, 1926, issue of THE LAMP.)

After nearly three years at the Emergency Hospital, Melva has taken a private case. Last summer she spent in Europe and plans to sail in June for another summer abroad. The rule of her life as I see it is like a familiar quotation, "—to make business a pleasure, and pleasure my business."

PANSY HUTCHINSON, Kappa

Back in the year 1918 a small attractive girl who was well loved by her schoolmates graduated from the University of Washington. She had been a loyal Delta Zeta and a faithful worker and we all hoped and expected Pansy Hutchinson to make good.

Nine years later we see her as the same attractive lovely girl she was in 1918 but, oh, how she has broadened. Many students speak Spanish fluently because Pansy has taught them painstakingly in Vancouver, British Columbia, and Everett, Washington. Pan-sy's life has always been so full that she has not been content to rest in the summers but studied home economics at the University of Washington summer school, then after several years she was able to take her master's degree in home economics at Columbia University. Nor was this enough; she felt that she must have more, so she took a summer's course in art at Kennebunk, Maine. As a reward for this intensive study she is now teaching interior decorating and costume design at Iowa State.

This summer the girls that take basket weaving, batik work and rug weaving at Oregon Agriculture College will be very fortunate girls as Pansy is teaching six weeks there this summer.

Through all this she has been self supporting, which I think is one of the greatest accomplishments.

She is one of the rare individuals whom to be with is to feel as though she has given you something valuable to take away with you. Children love her and she can keep them fascinated for hours. She is supremely happy in her work; therefore it gives her many returns, not the least of which is new goals.

FLORENCE JOSEPHINE MORE-HOUSE, Alpha Kappa

She tells the editor:

I am a native of Syracuse, having received my early training in the public schools of that city. I am a member of the class of 1924 of the College of Home Economics, Syracuse University, which has the distinction of being the first college of home economics in the country. I am proud to have received my training under Dean Florence E. S. Knapp, who for the past two years has held the office of secretary of state of New York State. Mrs. Knapp is the first woman to hold a high elective office in that state.

In college, I was a member of the local group known as Lambda Delta Sigma—which was inspected by Grace Mason in December, 1923. After Miss Mason looked us over our next problem was to prepare the petition to be presented to Delta Zeta. I was made chairman of the committee appointed for this purpose. The petition was granted and Alpha Kappa chapter installed April 12, 1924.

In the fall of 1924, I entered upon my duties as instructor in homemaking in the high school at Barker, Niagara County, New York, where I planned equipment and organized courses in homemaking, remaining there for two years.

This year I am teaching clothing courses in the homemaking department of the junior and senior high schools and in the continuation school at Fulton, New York.

Homemaking is the term applied to the four year state-aided course which leads to an academic diploma in vocational homemaking in New York State. This course aims to develop and train girls in the arts and sciences of homemaking.

The various courses in this homemaking curriculum include elementary and advanced courses in clothing and costume design, homefurnishing and interior decoration, foods and cookery. The elementary courses begin with the basic principles or elements of each particular branch of the work, the more advanced course proceeding farther into the realm of art and science. The courses, by means of the required home project—which is the connecting link between the home and the school work—and which consists of forty-five minutes daily of correlated work, assist in developing initiative and skill and winning the co-operation of the home-folks.

This feature of the course distinguishes it from the usual courses in home economics or domestic science. The supervised home project is the practical application of the principles learned in class.

In many instances the girls plan, prepare and serve meals, balanced, nourishing, and appetizing, to the family as a part of a project. In other cases the project may be the planning, making, remodeling and caring for the girl's own wardrobe, the re-decorating of a room, or a millinery project—making hats for various members of the family.

Often the opportunity for a course in homemaking, in combinations with a girl's other subjects will help alleviate the drudgery of less pleasant subjects, and lay the basis for a happier attitude toward home duties which some girls take up immediately after high school. If this carries over into the later lives of the girls, the course has justified its being.

LILLIAN PRANCE, Alpha Eta

Who could be more interesting than one's own president? Lillian Prance is this person. I have had a rather hard time gathering this information though I've known Lillian intimately since years ago, so you see she possesses one of God's greatest gifts—modesty.

This is what I have dug up in the archives! Lillian started earning her daily wages as a psychologist in the Detroit Juvenile Court Clinic. Her work was psycho-analyzing wayward youngsters, and trying to make something out of them. She was so very successful, and her work so very greatly appreciated that she was granted a fellowship at Merrill-Palmer School in Child Habit Training. For the last three months Lillian has been a student again (with a monthly salary besides) preparing to establish a Child Habit Consultation Center at the Juvenile Court Clinic when she finished her course this June.

Lillian is certainly making her name, and how proud we are that she belongs to us.

ELEANOR STRICKLER, Gamma

Occasionally, haven't you experienced a feeling of homesickness, a longing to go back to the chapter where you spent some of the happiest years of your life? Fraternity sisters are our dearest friends and we love to know what each is doing after she leaves her Alma Mater. But good resolutions to write are often forgotten in a few years. An alumnae letter is the most satisfactory means of keeping this close touch with the girls, especially with those who will get married and move far away.

The Gammaphone is the Twin Cities' offering to the alumnae. Although it is still in its infancy, our letter has made a big hit with the girls and it is most gratifying to receive their enthusiastic replies.

Sincere appreciation for the success of our little paper, belongs to Eleanor Strickler and Helen Woodruff. It was their loyalty to the active and alumnae chapters that prompted these two girls to offer their time and energy in getting out the Gammaphone. Eleanor collects and compiles the material for Helen to mimeograph and mail.

When we hear of Eleanor taking but fifteen minutes off at her lunch hour and staying at the office until 6:00 P.M., we know we will soon receive another letter. She is the "Dapper Dan" of our chapter, her charming personality and vivacious manner make her very dear to us.

Helen gave up the presidency of our chapter to teach school in Chatfield, Minnesota. We lost the leadership of a capable girl but her interest and loyalty is manifested by the work she does on the Gammaphone.

MILDRED LOVE, Phi

"HELEN AND EDITH," of Alpha Delta

"Learning the wiles of a secretary" might be the title of a new book written by two former Alpha Deltas, now members of the Washington Alumnae chapter. These girls are Helen Musson and Edith Finney. Helen was one of the best-loved and most dependable girls in Alpha Delta; she served as secretary and part of a term as president until illness in her family forced her to give up her duties. Helen is especially noted for her ideals and what's more, living up to them. Edith Finney served as vice-president and president of the chapter and president of the Glee Club at George Washington. Both of them graduated in 1926, and in the fall, started their secretarial courses at the Washington School for Secretaries. Now they are learning all about how to soothe the "savage boss" and talk about speed—they're short-hand sharks. And just because they know how to type, they always seem to be put on every theater benefit committee the alumnae chapter thinks up. The way of the "would-be" secretary is hard!

Mrs. A. C. Wilson, one of those featured, is a charter member of Alpha Psi chapter, and receives her Bachelor degree this year; besides finding time for much club work in addition to her home life.

A A'S PRIZE WINNING FLOAT

On Colorado University Homecoming Day a silver loving cup was offered for the best float entered in the parade. Delta Zeta won the cup in a close contest with Pi Beta Phi. The accompanying picture shows the float with Betty Westhaver as Football King and Phoebe Rae Gaumer as "50 years victory."

WITH THE OTHER GREEKS

With the announcement of the choosing of Bigwin Inn as the location for Delta Zeta's 1928 Convention, Delta Zetas will feel an added thrill of anticipation from the knowledge that at least one fraternity found Bigwin so near its ideal as a place for convention, that it plans to return there for its next meeting! Delta Zeta is one of the three N.P.C. organizations who have already announced Bigwin as their choice for 1928 meetings; the other two being Alpha Phi and Zeta Tau Alpha.

Conventions in general are always of interest to us all. This summer shows the following conventions, according to the calendar in the Greek Exchange:

Pi Beta Phi, Breezy Point Lodge, Minnesota, in June.

Phi Omega Pi will meet at the Edgewater Beach Hotel, Chicago, June 28-July 3.

During the same days, Beta Phi Alpha will convene at Madison, Wisconsin; Alpha Omicron Pi in Seattle; and Phi Mu will hold her Progressive Convention in her native state of Georgia, with headquarters at Macon. California, which had three conventions within one month last summer, will be visited by Kappa Delta, which is meeting at Asilomar in July. The Grand Hotel at Mackinac Island, which charms all with its loveliness and hospitality, will entertain Alpha Gamma Delta and Alpha Delta Theta in July. Alpha Delta Pi will try out that novel plan of holding convention on shipboard. Other meetings of interest to members of women's fraternities are the Theta Sigma Phi convention at the University of Minnesota; Phi Delta Pi at Salt Lake City; Tri Sigma in Buffalo. THE LAMP extends wishes for happy times and successful sessions to all.

A new acquaintance among the exchanges we have received is the Silhouette of Alpha Delta Theta. The recent installation of Lambda chapter at George Washington University and Mu chapter at the University of California brings Alpha Delta Theta's chapter roll to twelve. Alpha Delta Theta holds her conventions annually.

Mu Phi Epsilon now operates a clubhouse at 57 West Seventy-fifth Street, New York City, which is maintained for those members of the organization who are continuing music study in the city. In case of vacancy it is possible for others than members to be admitted.

Phi Delta Pi was the only physical education sorority to be represented at the meeting of the Professional Panhellenic Association last fall, and is therefore one of the charter members of the Association. Phi Delta Pi meets for 1927 convention in Salt Lake City. Lauda Newlin, Delta Zeta, is secretary of the fraternity.

The Pi Beta Phi chapter at Iowa State College has received a gift of $6,000 from Carrie Chapman Catt, an alumna of that chapter.

Kappa Kappa Gamma sends out, each month, "members-at-large" letters, to the alumnæ members of the fraternity who are thus kept in real touch with the fraternity through the messages from the Council members and general news items given in these letters.

From the Purple, Green and Gold comes the following thought-inspiring paragraph:

Much has been said and written about the proper supervision of a fraternity chapter. District officers, central offices, traveling secretaries, and alumni and faculty advisers are the means most employed at present. The Caduceus of Kappa Sigma contains an account of the officers' dinner at the recent Interfraternity Conference, in which Arthur R. Priest, Phi Delta Theta, advanced one of the soundest ideas we have heard in many a day. Speaking of Mr. Priest, the Caduceus reads:

"He announced that Phi Delta Theta is endeavoring to raise in the next biennium an endowment sufficient to put a young alumnus in each chapter house, his expense to be defrayed partly from the endowment and partly from the chapter and its alumni. Such an alumnus will to a certain extent supervise the budget, the scholarship, and the serious purposes of the chapter, serving, we presume, in the capacity of a tutor—or fellow, as the office exists in colleges abroad. Mr. Priest said that in certain instances it was already being successfully accomplished."

We heartily endorse this idea, for we have had somewhat the same idea in our own minds. From the business side of running a chapter, a capable man could save a tidy sum each year in the administration of the house finances. From the standpoint of scholarship and "big brothering," the benefit would be of incalculable value. We maintain that no chapter can be good unless it has the close supervision of alumni, even if only from a handful of them. And this plan merely is an extension of alumni supervision in that there is someone who understands chapter problems at the house.

The universal dialogue of the day: "It won't be long." "It can't be, now," applies so well to that annual college epidemic, rush season, that we shan't even blush for resorting to its use. Apropos of the aforesaid a.c.e., the Alpha and Omega of what a National Council wishes would become the rushing standards of every chapter under its jurisdiction, has been ably expressed by Leulah J. Hawley, editor of the Anchora of Delta Gamma:

There is no chapter of Delta Gamma which does not know that its national council is sternly opposed to any form of rushing which is unworthy of the ideals of Delta Gamma. Under no circumstances may there be any deviation from the well-marked path. Let your rushing be done with sincerity and dignity, speak well of your fellow Greeks, keep the spirit and the letter of the law, do not use undue pressure in pleading your case, treat with respect those you rush and those whom you rush against. It is better to lose many girls than to gain one by unfair means. And in your rushing look beyond externals. It is the sterling girl who makes the best Delta Gamma. Very often the girl who has been won from the very arms of all the other groups is the girl who proves the least desirable. Do not be moved by unsound reasons. The girl who is fully capable of being educated is the girl that Delta Gamma wants, for Delta Gamma stands for educated womanhood. The "popular" girl, the one who is the best looking, or who dresses the best, or has the most admirers is not often the girl of greatest depth of character. She may charm at the moment, but do her charms endure? The frivolous girl is not happy in Delta Gamma. The girl who is desired is the girl who can bring into her fraternity relationship something that will help us all to realize the finest ideals we have, who has a real capacity for making and keeping friends, who cares for the kind of self development that college offers, who likes to work for others and who values the interest and affection of her friends. Be careful in next year's rushing that you do not waste your time on the kind of girl who does not bear the "sterling" stamp.

The following timely article is found in the Alpha Gamma Delta Quarterly:

The custom of wearing academic gowns, caps and hoods dates back to about the twelfth century. In France, where the degree system probably had its inception, the wearing of the cap and gown marked the formal admission of the "licentiate" to the body of masters, and was usually followed by some festivity. The cold buildings of medieval times in which the masters were obliged to teach, required capes and hoods, which naturally were patterned after the flowing robe, the prevailing dress of the times. During this period the dress of friars and nuns became fixed, and since the scholars were usually clerics their robes differed little from those worn by the church orders. Hoods were originally fashioned after the monks' cowls, and like them attached to the gown and drawn over the head. Later, when the hood was displaced by the cap as a head covering, it was made separate. In its present form the hood is the most significant part of the academic costume.

The hood is of the same material as the gown, but differs slightly for bachelors, masters and doctors, that of the bachelor being three feet in length, the master's a foot longer, while to the hood of the doctor is added a panel usually edged with the lining color. Hoods are lined with the color or colors of the institution granting the degree. The color trimming or edging of the hood, which is of velvet varying in width from two to five inches according to the degree, indicates the department or faculty of learning. The color code used to distinguish the different faculties is as follows:

Arts and Letters—White.
Theology—Scarlet.
Law—Purple.
Philosophy—Blue.
Science—Golden Yellow.
Fine Arts—Brown.
Medicine—Green.
Music—Pink.
Commerce and Accountancy—Drab.
Physical Education—Sage Green.
Public Health—Salmon Pink.
Engineering—Orange.
Pharmacy—Olive Green.
Dentistry—Lilac.
Veterinary Science—Gray.
Forestry—Russet.

Library Science—Lemon.
Pedagogy—Light Blue.
Oratory—Silver Gray.
Humanics—Crimson.
Agriculture—Maize.
Economics—Copper.

The mortar board is an evolution of the skull cap worn by the ecclesiastics over the tonsured head. The pointed shape which it later assumed developed into the modern tassel.

Caps and gowns have been used in this country from colonial times. Columbia University, or King's College as it was then called, at an early date adopted a local code. New York University, University of Pennsylvania, and others had codes in force before 1880. A few years later a student movement favoring the use of academic costumes began. The Yale Corporation was one of the first to be gowned, but the faculty of Harvard was not supplied until the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary in 1886. The democratic appeal in clothing all alike, in an outward equal fellowship, the improvement in the general effect of university functions, and the increased interest aroused in academic ceremonies as a result of the practice brought about the rapid adoption of the costume.

An inspiring farewell word to seniors:

A CHARGE TO FRATERNITY

Fraternity men, you have your choice. You can go out from your college life and leave behind you every vestige of your fraternity allegiance. You can forget the memories of chapter house life and of the comradeship of brothers. You can devote your lives to gain and gain alone, and your soul will warp and wither into mean ways and low selfishness—or, you can cherish those ideals of fraternity life and love, and live and give all the best of yourselves to others. You can serve and live on the heights of friendship. You can renew the happiest and most gracious hours of your youth. Hold to these ideals and though the years go by you will never grow old. There is the flame and fire of fraternity inspiration and of fraternity memory that will burn in your heart like a light on an altar.—Sigma Alpha Epsilon

A bit of advice to our newly-weds.
Don't send your hubby to the radio

pect the following results:

Radio Recipe

A housewife asked her husband to take down a cake recipe via radio while she was busy getting dinner.
Two stations were broadcasting on the same wave length and this was what hubby got: "Hands on hips.
Place one cup of flour on shoulders.
Raise knees. Depress toes and wash thoroughly in one cup of milk. In four counts, raise and lower legs and mash two hard-boiled eggs in a sieve.
Repeat six times. Inhale one teaspoon baking powder and one cup of flour. Jump to a squatting position and bend the whites of four eggs forward counts make a stiff dough that will

Epsilon Province Convention: Troutdale in the Pines, July 7-9. Coming?

ALUMNAE DEPARTMENT

Taking the Final Count

Soon after this issue of THE LAMP reaches you, the final count of wise ones who made the most of that "For Life for Thirty Dollars" offer, will be taken. We are trying to broadcast to every Delta Zeta: Will your name be there?

If Not, Why Not?

Thirty dollars—or such portion of it as you still owe—and you are square with Delta Zeta for the rest of your days; your conscience no longer troubled by bills, campaigns, drives, impassioned appeals to pay up, or an accusing look in the eye of your national treasurer or your old roommate, who did heed our call! Isn't it worthwhile? Wouldn't you like to feel that besides the selfish benefits of having THE LAMP for life, and of knowing your alumnae dues are paid, you had also the more expansive feeling that because your money came into the treasury at this time, all the national projects we have undertaken will prosper just a little better, just a bit easier? That's worthwhile too; get the feeling once—you'll like it.

Seven Chapters Still Unrepresented

Seven chapters are still without representation in the Lifeline. This statement is of course made with regard to alumnae only, since every girl initiated since the 1926 Convention has paid all her dues in full for life. Most of the unrepresented chapters are quite new ones, with very few alumnae. How much easier, therefore, for those few to put their chapter 100 per cent forever! Had you thought of that, you girls of Alpha Gamma?—or you of Alpha Rho?

Delta Province Leads in Numbers

Irene Boughton is keeping a sharp eye on her province; she has counted up and finds that Delta Province has the largest number of life members. Of course, a great deal of that is thanks to Upsilon's splendid showing; but Gamma Province could soon come up to that record if Delta chapter makes another leap ahead. There's Alpha needing some additions, too. And at least two other chapters in this province should bestir themselves about their records, which are very poor considering the age and personnel of the chapters.

Set Up Your Own Memorial to Your Fraternity Interest

You say you are proud to be a Delta Zeta. That's fine. But why not write your name where it will be incontestable proof of your enduring loyalty; where it will be a memorial to you and to your devotion to the fraternity which claims you? And where is that? On the dotted line! Turn to page 606. There you will find a blank form. The rest is up to you!

SEE PAGE 607 FOR LIFELINE TOTALS BY CHAPTERS UP TO MAY 20.

From the Chapter News Letters

Chi chapter celebrates its chapter birthday with a "Rendezvous," inviting back every alumna for a week-end of reminiscing with the old girls and getting acquainted with the present generation. For one night the members of the active chapter move out of the house, leaving it entirely to the alumnae who are then free to imagine the "good old days" are verily upon them again. This year's program sounds most interesting; a buffet supper, to which pledges, actives and alumnae are invited, is followed by stunts from each group. At a business meeting that same evening the topics of discussion are, Building Fund, Organizing an Alumnae Association, and Rushing. At the dissipated hour of 11:00 P.M. (same evening) the alumnae are allowed to hold a meeting exclusively by themselves, after which there is a cozy at which the Corvallis alumnae are hostesses. We bet the rest of the evening is a typical slumber party—the kind where no one slumbers! However, next morning everyone is up in time for church, to which they go in a body, and the last formal event of the Rendezvous is the banquet at the Hotel Benton. Zelta Feike Rodenwald is chairman of the Rendezvous Committee—the program would have to be a good one!

Houses, houses everywhere! Iota, Gamma, Zeta, Chi, Pi, Upsilon,—all their newsletters are full of house corporations, house funds, and house plans. Wouldn't you like a picture of all these houses in some LAMP next year?

Gamma chapter's latest Gammaphone intrigues us with mention in several letters of Gamma's "Step-Out." Now the editor wants to be enlightened, and she feels sure that lots of the rest of you would like to know what is a "Step-Out," too. And maybe some of you cooks would like to know how "Helen" makes chiffon pie that was so good it made her sisters' mouths water—as did ours in reading about it.

Passing Comment: (while editing)

It is pleasant to welcome Dayton chapter's first letter; and to have Los Angeles re-appear after a long silence. Such interesting folks as they must have, too! No letters were received this time from Ft. Wayne, Portland, and Pittsburgh. Will the former editors of these chapters please pass on to their successors the letters of instructions sent them, and ask that the list of new officers be sent the editor on blanks furnished?

BERKELEY ALUMNÆ CHAPTER
In Spite of Rainy Weather

On March 12 the Berkeley alumnæ gave their annual party for Mu chapter seniors at the Women's City Club in San Francisco. There are eleven seniors this year, and although we are sorry to have them leave college life behind, we are so glad to have them become Delta Zeta alumnæ. We had an unusually large number of alumnæ at the party and were so glad to see some of the girls who seldom get to our regular meetings.

April 7 was the date of the senior banquet at the house and as we were to have alumnæ meeting there that evening we found a large representation of older Delta Zetas at the banquet. It was indeed lovely and I would like to enlarge upon it but I'm sure the active chapter editor will do that.

At this banquet the alumnæ always present the active chapter with a gift. This year we had a great debate as to whether we should give them some pretty decorative piece of furniture or whether we should let the amount of money we had to spend apply on a much-needed additional unit of furnace. We voted—and the practical girls won out—the money went toward the furnace.

We planned a most attractive bridge party to be held on May 6. This party is to be held mostly just for the enjoyment of getting all of our alumnæ and their husbands and friends together for an evening. We will take any money that we make and be very glad to get it, but we are not going at it in the grim determination to make a lot of money or die in the attempt.

Helen Myer Craig distributed our alumnæ paper, the Daffy Dill, at the meeting and we had lots of fun reading the news about everyone and often finding good "cracks" made at ourselves.

We have not had our election yet so our new officers have not yet "come into being." Those of us who are finishing our term wish all the rest of the old and the new alumnæ officers success and hope you will enjoy your work as much as we have.

CHICAGO ALUMNÆ CHAPTER

A New Recipe. Try It!

The Chicago Alumnæ chapter has had two meetings since its last report to THE LAMP; one being held in conjunction with the Chicago Panhellenic Association, at its annual luncheon which was held March 19 at the Illinois Women's Athletic Club, and the other being a regular meeting. Delta Zeta boasted forty-three members present on the former occasion and thereby ranked first in the matter of representatives. Our retiring president and corresponding secretary acted as treasurers for this Panhellenic meeting. All in attendance enjoyed the affair very much and are looking forward to its recurrence next year.

On Saturday, April 9, we met at the Cordon Club for luncheon, after which the regular business meeting and the election of officers took place. That being completed, the members visited the Art Institute and spent the remainder of the afternoon in appreciation of the many marvelous exhibits therein.

Next Saturday, April 23, the West Side Chicago alumnae are giving a benefit bridge, the proceeds of which will be used to swell the coffers of our treasury. With the enclosed invitation* to inspire us, I think we shall make quite a success of it, don't you? You will hear more about it in our next letter.

CINCINNATI ALUMNAE CHAPTER

New Officers for Cincinnati Alumnae

A complete change of officers took place at the election on April 16. Not that the old officers were inefficient—in fact, they had worked so hard and so well that most of them had served two terms and were ready for a rest. Mrs. K. J. Crawford was succeeded as president by Margaret Huenefeld, of whom you've already heard much and of whom you'll probably hear much more. The other new officers are Mrs. Walter Baude, vice-president; Betty Igler, secretary; Catherine Leyman, treasurer, and Marian McHenry, LAMP correspondent. If the chapter advances as rapidly under the new officers as it has done in the past, Delta Zeta can be proud of the Cincinnati alumnae. Did you know we have about one hundred members—some very interesting ones? For example, Margaret Huenefeld. Oh, yes, I told you you'd hear more about Marg. She has been big sister to Xi chapter, has assisted Mrs. Coleman and Mrs. Lundy in the constitution revision, has been extremely active in the chapter's social and business affairs, is librarian in the Law College at U.C., and just recently she was initiated into Phi Delta Delta, an honorary law fraternity. You didn't know she was a lawyer? Oh my, yes.

Our Social Calendar

If this were an ancient history recitation I might mention the Xi initiation banquet on February 22. It was arranged by alumnae under the direction of Margaret Huenefeld. (Again!) At that time, the alumnae looked longingly at the new initiates, greedily awaiting their association with the alumnae chapter.

While the Vagabond King was playing in Cincinnati, Miss Evange-lene Edwards, a Delta Zeta from Washington and one of the solo dancers, was entertained with a luncheon at the Cincinnati Club. This luncheon was attended by the officers, committee heads and Mrs. Coleman. After the luncheon, Xi chapter entertained for Miss Edwards with a tea.

On April 23 we are giving a benefit bridge, and from all indications it can't help but be a huge success. Our prizes are being made by one of our members and a display of Caney Creek baskets and linens has been arranged.

You know, our meetings are held at the Delta Zeta house the third Saturday of every month, except in May. The May meeting is a picnic to which the actives from Alpha, Xi and Alpha Theta are invited.

Business and Pleasure Combined

Gamma province is to hold its convention in Cincinnati this year, and, though we realize the responsibility, we are looking forward to the task with pleasure, hoping that it will be as successful as the last one in Indianapolis. Some Delta Zetas are in for a real treat, for they are to be taken to Oxford where a sun dial is to be dedicated for the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of Delta Zeta.

New Prospects Ahead

While the active chapters, at this time, are wondering how they'll ever get along without the seniors, the alumnae chapters are making plans to use these seniors. It is the new alumnae members with their growing spirit, their new ideas and their enthusiasm that make us aspire to higher goals. It means a large and active alumnae group made larger and more active. So—I'm sure that the Cincinnati chapter does not stand alone in the hopes they have which the coming Commencement may make come true.

MARIAN MCHENRY, Editor

CLEVELAND ALUMNÆ CHAPTER

Since there are so many girls who find it necessary to work on Saturday afternoons, and can't come out to meetings, Frances Baker Schardt has invited us all to her house next week for an evening party, and each of us is to be responsible for getting two girls there who haven't made an appearance in years. So in that case, Frances may get as many as forty or fifty of us wished on her! At any rate, it will be quite a party, and some of us may have to take to the garage to make room.

Our hosiery campaign is going along nicely, although we can't tell just how much money we have made until the reports come in from Philadelphia, but the idea certainly is better than these run-to-the-ground benefits, and it's the easiest thing in the world to sell stockings. Just try it.

You might be interested to know what Panhellenic has been doing. They are going strong, too, and this year they have about $800 in the treasury, the most they've ever had, for their scholarship fund.

The biggest thing in my mind, after all, is that the Cleveland alumnae are certainly going strong—I'm sure we're the happiest group of any of you! And the one nice thing is that we get brand new girls out to each meeting who seem, and are, as enthusiastic as some of us old-timers. Now if that isn't unusual in a big city! Well, we're just ideal. So we, all in all, think that Cleveland's a pretty nice place to live in, 'cause everybody's happy.

LOUISE DAVIS, Editor

DAYTON ALUMNÆ CHAPTER

Off for a Running Start

Already we have started to make money with which to pay our many obligations. Saturday, February 26, we arranged a benefit bridge at the East Oakwood Club, and think it was quite a success because we had fifty reservations and cleared $75.50. Josephine Jones Israel was chairman of the party and was assisted by Gladys Wilson Miller, Dorothy Switzer, Mary Frances Tranter Kling, Mary Licklider and Winnifred Carter. We gave decorated candles for prizes; also a painted card table as a door prize. Our president, Merle McDowell Blaik, and the entire chapter, helped make the party a success.

At Christmas time we were found rummaging our attics in search of clothes and toys to fill the Christmas box. Dorothy Switzer got the things together, saw that they were packed, and sent them off to Vest.

Mrs. Myrtie Harch Lloyd was chairman of Dayton and Montgomery County for the Doll Messengers of Friendship project last fall. Our fraternity was the first organization in Dayton to donate and dress dolls.

The first Saturday of each month we have a luncheon and bridge, also a business meeting, generally at the Women's Club or Grey Manor down town. We are all interested in the chapter and will welcome out-of-town Delta Zetas to the meetings.

DENVER ALUMNÆ

Hope Chests

We of Denver are just starting over again with a lineup of brand-new officers. We had our election at our March meeting and elected Mary Carey president. Mary, although I've known her but a short time, impresses me as a most efficient young person. I have a feeling I'll hear the cracking of the whip if my letter isn't ready on time. With her, Elvie Hubbard, the joyful, is serving as vice-president. Gertrude Thomas Scribner is writing most interesting minutes as secretary, while our new treasurer, Miriam O'Brien McNerny, is discussing budgets until we all feel that our money troubles will soon be over.

Speaking of money makes me think of the hope chest we have filled and on which we are now selling chances. It is chuck full of lovely things and we hope to realize a large amount on it. For several weeks we met on Friday afternoons at different girls' homes and sewed. We worked hard, but had lots of fun, too. As a result there is much hand embroidery as well as lovely silks and linens in our chest. I feel sure it would delight any woman, be she bride or not.

Our April meeting was at the home of Margaret Bonney Horton, and was not only one of the largest meetings we have had recently, but also one of the most interesting. Our guest of honor was Edythe Wilson Thoesen, who is particularly beloved of the Denver alumnae. After our short business meeting, Margaret presented our guest with a basket of most interesting tissue-wrapped, pink-tied parcels which the Delta Zeta "aunties" had smuggled in earlier in the evening. It was most exciting, as everything from tiny pink shoes to the necessary soft pink blanket was unwrapped and passed around for all to see and admire.

Our president is planning one particularly interesting new thing. She is inviting two active girls from Rho to each of our alumnae meetings. We hope in this way to become better acquainted and feel we may be of greater help to each other.

MILDRED BOATMAN FINLEY, Editor

EXTRA! Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Thoesen are rejoicing over the arrival of Robert Wayne Thoesen, May 4.

DETROIT ALUMNÆ CHAPTER

Society, Sales and Suggestions

Spring always makes one hopeful, so I shall tell you first of our future plans. Very soon we shall be entertaining the seniors from the active chapter at Ann Arbor. This is a yearly custom which has been established and we are looking forward to the event with much pleasure. Some of us who just can't get out to Ann Arbor, at least feel that we know the grand old seniors. Then Jean Macauley is going to entertain the Detroit Alumnae chapter at a bridge at her home after the April business meeting.

Now for the glorious past! Our bridge party at the Belcrest was a huge social success. The room was filled to overflowing, as no one disappointed us even though the weather was abominable. The favors were adorable little pearl-drop perfume holders. And the lunch was delicious.

Now comes the big event—which was our rummage sale. It was held in the same little church, in the same slum district, and we had the same customers as our last sale. One girl was even accused of being a dealer in rummage sales, and therefore should give this certain colored person a reduction on a ten-cent pair of shoes! The co-operation of the whole chapter was wonderful—we were overwhelmed with contributions and every girl was there to sell for an hour at least, and some stayed the entire four hours. You would have thought they were all born salesladies selling the most priceless and costly materials. The honors for the best Delta Zeta saleswoman, however, go to Norma Bowbeer, who was made head of the rummage millinery department. Time after time when the customer seemed undecided about a certain model—out would come Norma's little pocket mirror, the hat would be given a deft tilt and the sale was "cinched." Another outstanding saleswoman was a girl from the active chapter at Ann Arbor, Marion Daniel, by name. She seemed to be having the time of her life. All in all we did have heaps of fun, besides making our little "pile." So here's some advice—if you want to make money and have loads of fun, have a rummage sale!

We have been holding our meetings at different places, and days, and hours, to see which would bring out the biggest crowd. We held our last meeting at Lillian Prance's home on a Wednesday evening. It was pouring rain so it is rather hard to tell whether that caused the depletion in the ranks or not. Two actives from Alpha Eta were in town so we had them as visitors at our meeting. We certainly enjoyed having them.

The Alpha Eta alumnae received their yearly issue of the Chapter

Chatter, edited by Alfreda Barth Kessler, Alpha Eta, and it surely was full of news of the old ones!

We have a new addition to our chapter. Lyda Rideout Kern has returned to Detroit. We hope we may help her bear her great burden of sorrow—the loss of her husband.

I wonder how a suggestion for THE LAMP would fit here? Well, I'll say it; if it's out of place—squelch me thoroughly! How would it be to know the life position of each alumna and the life ambition of each active? That is, to have a rather statistical report showing how many Delta Zetas of Portland Alumnae chapter, for instance, are stenographers, how many are art directors, how many school teachers, etc. Then total them and find what Delta Zetas are doing collectively. I know I am awfully curious! Is anyone else?

CHARLOTTE SPRINGSTEEN, Editor

INDIANAPOLIS ALUMNÆ CHAPTER

Beautiful State Luncheon

In March we were the hostesses for the State luncheon and dance, and we feel gratified indeed, for we feel that it was a huge success.

Can you picture a lovely ballroom, a mass of flowers, smilax and lighted tapers, with about 250 Delta Zeta girls from our Indiana colleges, seated at tables of eight, all looking their very best? Wouldn't you think this a sight worth seeing? It was lovely—lovely in every respect.

Mrs. Thomas Grinslade, president of the Indianapolis alumnae, introduced the speakers, who were the presidents of the four Indiana chapters, Miss Sabina Murray, our executive secretary, and Mrs. E. R. Cummings, from Epsilon chapter.

The subject of Mrs. Grinslade's introductory speech was "On the Gang Plank." Miss Murray developed the idea further with "The Three-mile Limit." Mrs. Cummings pepped things up with "Full Steam Ahead"; then the active chapters responded. Thelma Harr, from Epsilon chapter, used "At the Wheel" for her subject. Margaret Johnson, from Delta, spoke on "On the Upper Deck." Pearl Bartley, from Alpha Nu, summed things up with "Ship Ahoy! Land!"

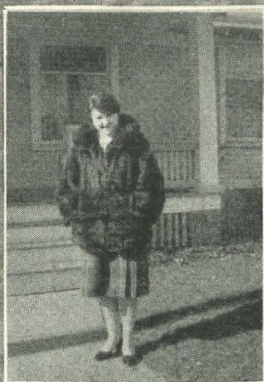

The stunts from the active chapters which took place immediately after the luncheon were really delightful. Alpha Nu represented passengers on a boat; Psi represented an English family on board; Delta dressed as "gobs" and put on a very clever sailor dance, and Epsilon dressed as pirates, danced a very roguish dance which was the essence of cleverness.

The dance which followed in the evening was also a very brilliant affair, but this must conclude my discourse on our big annual event.

We are getting ready for election of officers, and before long you shall know all about them.

Good luck and good wishes!

KANSAS CITY ALUMNÆ CHAPTER

Many Things Happening to Us

We are so very happy to add two brand-new names to our list. They are Dorothy Simering Buschell, Epsilon, and Blanche Baird Holtgren, Lambda.

Our March meeting as usual was at the Kansas City Athletic Club, but our April one was the grandest of the year for Mrs. Black, with Lenore Edgerton as co-hostess, graciously entertained us at Mrs. Black's home with a lovely bridge luncheon. We only wish we could make you see and taste the loveliness and deliciousness of this affair. It was without equal and the very nicest meeting of the year. We were delighted to have Mrs. Henderson of St. Louis as our guest.

We had fourteen Delta Zetas at the dinner for Portia Cooper. We were so delighted to know her and only so sorry her stay here was so brief.

One of our girls, Ruth Davidson, represented Delta Zetas in helping the Panhellenic Association put on a stage show for the Woman's Chamber of Commerce Exposition the last part of March.

At present we are thrilled over our plans for a large spring card party, at which time we are fondly hoping to reimburse our depleted treasury to the extent of paying off all our obligations. May 6 will be the date and at present we plan to hold it at the Woman's City Club. As you perhaps can surmise the Kansas City alumnae will be quite busy till after that time.

PERSONALS

Grace Eliza Baker, Lambda, was married to Mr. Charles Earl De Claspel on Wednesday, the sixteenth of March, at Baldwin City, Kansas. They will be at home after April 1 at 690 South Rice Street, Denver, Colorado.

Mrs. Black, who fell at Christmas time and so severely crushed her elbow at her home in Cincinnati, is now rapidly regaining the use of it again.

Mrs. Black visited the Alpha Phi girls recently and brought us a most delighted report of them and their house.

LINCOLN ALUMNÆ CHAPTER

Parties and Blue Prints

The last alumnae meeting was held March 19 at the Lincoln Hotel. The birthday luncheon was held at the Lincoln Hotel in the Garden Room. There were about fifty-four alumnae and active girls present. The tables were decorated in our colors. Between courses Betty Luce and Lola Eberly favored us with musical selections. Mrs. Nettie Shugart gave the candlelight service with the assistance of six active girls, representing the charter members. We were glad to see so many alumnae back and enjoyed singing Delta Zeta songs.

The new house is the chief topic of conversation with us. The old houses on the lots where we are to build are being torn down now, and very soon we will see the beginning of our new home. It is to be of gray, rough stone brick, and it will be of the English type. Most of the new houses on the campus are made of red brick, so ours will be a little bit different. There are so many things to do and think about in building a new house, so you can imagine how busy the Lincoln alumnae are.

Our news letter, which we have been sending out to all Zeta alumnae, is meeting with promising success. Of course it can be improved yet, but you don't know how glad we are to hear from the different girls.

The Panhellenic banquet which I spoke about in my last letter will be held on May 4. Lillian Lewis and Mrs. E. W. Lantz are on the committee arranging for the affair. The Lincoln Panhellenic Board has passed a new rule: sororities are to have but one down-town party a year, and "open house" is to be dispensed with.

LOS ANGELES ALUMNÆ CHAPTER

Is This a Delta Zeta Monopoly?

The Editor has asked me to tell you about the interesting Southern California Delta Zetas. She wouldn't give me the space for a news item on all the hundred, even if I could get them in a quiet place long enough to get the story. Therefore, I shall tell you about only a few at this time.

Of course teaching is the great profession for women, so this will be a listing of the Delta Zetas in the Los Angeles city high schools and in the institutions of higher learning. Just a few weeks ago Lucile Goodykoontz, Iota, told the readers of the Los Angeles School Journal about her advertising classes at Jefferson High School. Vesta Mawe, Zeta, is commercial teacher at Polytechnic High School, where Effie Mae Morrison, Sigma, and Martha Krogman, Zeta, are in the physical education department. Esther Ellinghusen, Zeta, whom you will remember as the efficient chairman of Post-convention, is doing very successful adjustment work at LaConte. Vivian Olson, Alpha Iota, and Gladys Marquardt, Tau, are in the social science department. Lois Litchfield Stone, Lambda, is teaching the youth of Los Angeles to be well dressed. Alice King White, Alpha Iota, is teaching English, and Ruth Capitol, Alpha Iota, is in the mathematics department. Lillian James, Alpha Tau, is also a member of the Los Angeles city high school faculty. In the corrective speech department we find Rose Pipal, Alpha Alpha. Sarah Stoneham, Alpha Iota, is supervisor of nutrition in the elementary schools. We have three Delta Zetas in Los Angeles universities. Mrs. Gertrude York Christy, Alpha Iota, is in the home economics department of the University of Southern California. Margaret Jones, Kappa, is in the same department at the University of California at Los Angeles, and Eileen Taylor, Mu, is in the Spanish department.

The social committee has finished the plans for a very interesting program for the ensuing year. You see, we begin our year with the spring. On May 14 the alumnae chapter will entertain the Alpha Iota and Alpha Chi seniors at a luncheon and musical at the Alpha Iota house. Marian Zook will be the chairman of the hostesses. The June meeting will be a matinée at the Mission Play at San Gabriel. Leona Reschke will be the chairman of this meeting. I hereby invite all Delta Zetas in Los Angeles to our parties. Won't you call Rose Pipal and get an individual invitation?

TWIN CITY ALUMNÆ CHAPTER A House for Gamma

The most important business of the Twin City Alumnae chapter occurred at the meeting March 8—the Gamma alumnae became incorporated then for the purpose of building a house which will be ready for the girls

August 1. Those of us who are not Gamma alumnae gave our advice, sought and unsought, and acted as witnesses to the signing of the papers.

On March 22 we elected officers for the year. Iva Nelson Olson, former alumnae editor, is our new president. She and Eleanor Strickler, new vice-president, are two of Gamma's founders,—they live up to that honor as well as being very active alumnae and I know they will see that our alumnae organization carries on efficiently even though Helen and Mildred are to leave us this coming summer. With Margaret Conway again as treasurer and Flossie Scott as secretary (she had practice while she was active in Upsilon), Iva and Eleanor will have able helpers so our chapter ought to progress as much as it has this past year.

Apologies are usually not heart-felt nor taken as sincere—but I shall have to add how sorry I am that this letter cannot be better. When I was a teacher, I thought I was busy but it was in a different way than the busyness in nursing. But I shall endeavor to have more news for next time and perhaps a snap or two of our two cities.

NEW YORK ALUMNÆ CHAPTER

Reminiscences

Even a New York winter must come to an end, and the time has arrived for that last letter of the season. Looking back, it seems hard to pick out any particular high-spots; there's a luncheon and a bridge to remember, and the Panhellenic ball, and the rest we will call just meetings. But perhaps it is at the chapter meeting that we enjoy to the fullest our Delta Zeta companionship. One of the strange things about this chapter is that each meeting seems to call forth a distinctly different group. Of course there are some who always come, but there is hardly a time when we do not discover to our great delight that this friend or that who rarely can attend a meeting, has suddenly appeared for this one. Then the locality of the home where we are meeting, and the time of day, seem to discourage or encourage certain of us. In a big city this is inevitable, I guess, and while we wish that all of us could come every time, we don't know how to prepare a program that will insure that. Do you?

If chapter letters should really tell the things that have been most in the minds of their members, then I cannot close this letter without mentioning our sorrow at the loss of one of our dearest sisters. On February 5, only a few weeks after her marriage, we learned of the death of Marion Schaaf Beaver. This has been not only the first break in our ranks, but a personal grief to many of us. Marion's devotion and loyalty to Delta Zeta were known to all of us, and I believe that anyone who has been at all connected with the chapter during the last few years will think of her as one of our most active and interested members. We know that her many Delta Zeta friends join us in extending sympathy to her family.

SEATTLE ALUMNÆ CHAPTER

Convention Coming

We of Seattle chapter are bending all our efforts at the present writing toward our Province Convention that is to be held in Seattle this June 16-18. We are expecting a good number and as this is the first time that we have been hostesses we are anxious that everything be just right so we are all pulling hard for that.

Since my last letter we have had a beautiful tea for our active sisters. So many of us that have small families find that it is very hard to get out to the house and meet the girls as we should so a tea of this kind helps bring us all together and we enjoy the social part of it too.

We also had a very nice evening bridge party for all the Delta Zeta girls in town and incidentally there was a good deal of reminiscing done by girls that had not seen each other for a long time.

Perhaps some of the girls in other parts of the country would be interested to know that the girls that are married in the city get together every two weeks all year. We have a luncheon and while some sew, some exchange recipes and household helps while others of us take care of our small children and still others are able to play bridge. We all enjoy these meetings and I think they do a great deal toward holding us all together.

Next time I'll tell you more about our convention and let you see what we girls of the West can do toward entertaining.

WASHINGTON ALUMNÆ CHAPTER

Successful Ventures

Since our last letter to you we have had the benefit performance at Keith's Theater, which I told you about in the last letter. It was a great success and a very good show—the success part, of course, means we cleared $40. It turned out so well, that the alumnae chapter and Alpha Delta are going to have one together soon.

Our February meeting was held at Melva John's apartment. The hostess for our March meeting was Helen Musson, Alpha Delta, and as our meeting came on St. Patrick's Day, Helen carried the refreshments out in very attractive Irish style. At this meeting we decided to give Alpha Delta and her new pledges a supper.

The supper was held on Sunday, April 2, with about fifty Delta Zetas present. We had lots of fun. The supper was "progressive"—first we went to Annette Ladd's home and had salmon loaf, peas, salad, coffee and rolls. Then we "progressed" up the street about a block to Dorothy Douglas Zirkle's, Beta, home for the rest, which consisted of Delta Zeta roses in the form of raspberry ice served with cake, candy and nuts.

We are all looking forward to meeting and having our National President with us, as she is coming Easter to inspect our chapter and Alpha Delta.

Since this is the last letter I write to THE LAMP, I want to say how much I've enjoyed writing to all Delta Zetas and wish the new editor for next term a most successful year.

What may be—then find how to make it fair,

In Memoriam

"Love me no less, but mourn me not with tears;
For Life grows old, but Death transcends the years."

Marion Schaaf Beaver, a member of Beta chapter, class of 1922, died February 5, 1927. Marion was one of Delta Zeta's most loyal and enthusiastic workers, both in Beta chapter, and in the New York Alumnae chapter, where she had served in different offices from the time of joining until her death. Her death seems especially sad because of the untimely end to which it brings her married life, Marion having been married only last November to Mr. John Beaver.

Flo Easton Willey, Alpha, '14, died in Florida, March, 1927.

Jean Crow Morton, Alpha Theta, '24, died at her home in Elsie-coal, Kentucky, February 25, 1927. She is survived by her husband and the little daughter, Jean, who was born that same day.

Sympathy is extended to Ruth and Mary Scanlon, and Pauline Scanlon Gardescu, of Omicron chapter, in the recent loss of their father, who in his long career in the ministry had become nationally known and loved.

BULLETIN BOARD

The new songbook has gone to the publisher, so the chairman writes us. All songs that are to be added to the book from now on will be chosen on the competitive basis. Submitted manuscripts should be sent to Central Office for the committee to consider. There will be a place in the back of the new book where additional songs may be placed. Undoubtedly a great many chapters who were indifferent to their earlier opportunities will want to be better represented in this new book when they once see it.

Gamma Province Convention will be of interest to many Delta Zetas because of its "Miami Pilgrimage." Business sessions are to be held in Cincinnati.

Don't YOU want Value Received for the money you pay for THE LAMP? Keep in touch with the business manager, not the editor, whenever you move or are married, and she will see that you receive your magazine. It is her intention to see that each new subscriber or new initiate receives the next copy after her subscription reaches the office, but sometimes that is so near to time of mailing the magazine that you cannot be added to the list until the next number. However, if there are extra copies on hand, after the regular subscriptions are cared for, she will be glad to mail you a copy upon receipt of postage.

National Council Meeting: The annual meeting of the National Council will be held at Troutdale in the Pines, Colorado, from July 6 to 8.

Alumnæ chapter election results should be reported in triplicate as soon as the new officers are chosen; to the Central Office, National Vice-president, and LAMP editor. All during the summer communications addressed to former officers will otherwise be going "round Robin Hood's Barn" to the new officers, or not reaching them at all.

Wanted, Oh! So Badly!!

Volume One, Number 1, and Volume Two of THE LAMP, for the Central Office. It is a real loss to Delta Zeta that she has not even one copy of these numbers for permanent filing; surely some reader has saved her old copies and would be glad to make this gift to the fraternity if she but knew of the need. Won't each of you please look into your own files; chapter librarians, won't you see if there may be some numbers in your possession, and alumnae presidents, won't you please ask at the next meeting, for help in securing these? Thank you!

A Word from Zeta, Too

Zeta chapter would like to have these numbers of THE LAMP: Vol. 1, all; Vol. 2, all; Vol. 3, Nos. 1, 3; Vol. 4, No. 4; Vol. 7, No. 2. Zeta will be most grateful for any assistance in completing her files.

Why Not an Exchange?

Are there other chapters needing missing copies? Are there chapters or members with copies they would like to give to fill such requests? THE LAMP will be glad to act as a medium of contact for you. Until last July, Central Office kept on hand a number of copies of previous volumes of THE LAMP, so that such extra copies as were available could be supplied on request. A number of notices had been sent to chapters to urge their asking for numbers needed; and some wisely sent their lists in time, for now this supply no longer exists. Lack of space in the new office compelled the discarding of all extra copies, and Central Office regretfully announces that there are no LAMPS available farther back than the present volume.

Alpha Delta and Alpha Xi, We Congratulate You!

The winning, for the second year, of a scholarship cup leaves now for the slogan, "the third time is the charm!" since with most of these three years' winning means permanent possession. However, not that you shall always win, but that you shall always play your best game, is the thing greatly to be desired. Yet the awarding of these two cups may properly be a source of pride to both the chapter and the officers.

Most honorable mention is also given to those other chapters reporting first place for the past year or semester: Alpha Upsilon, for 1925-26; (these awards being announced only the following fall) Alpha Zeta for 1926-27; Alpha Iota first for semester ending June, 1926, and Iota, for first semester, 1927-28.

Later reports should add to this list if rumor may be trusted, and Mrs. Long will tell us all about that in the report of the Scholarship committee next fall. But—is there any significance to the fact that all of these chapters except one, are in the last half of our chapter roll? Epsilon, Mu, Pi, Chi—where are your firsts of yester-year?

Will each Delta Zeta who is planning to attend summer session at Columbia University this summer please send her name, and her summer address if known in advance, to Central Office? This information is wanted in order to make easier the gathering of all such members for getting-acquainted parties.

The Delta Zeta House at 212 Fifteenth Avenue, Columbus, Ohio, will be open for the summer quarter this year, and any Delta Zetas or their friends who expect to be at Ohio State may make reservations by writing to Amanda Thomas, Box 511, Columbus, Ohio. The room rent will be the same as may be had at any place offering student lodgings, as there is one uniform rate, determined by the dean's office.

MRS. A. W. RAYMOND,
for Theta Company

Did You Get the "Directory?"

If you have been initiated since 1922 Convention, and did not get one of the new Directories, send your full name and correct address to Central Office. If you are an older alumna member and did not get that copy you paid for, the same advice applies to you. Of course if you forgot to order a copy—or if your full address did not come with the order—that is a different story! There will be a supplement this fall.

Rush Captains: 1927-28

In the hope of providing for better communication between chapters, with regard to girls whom one chapter may wish to recommend to another, and also to give to the general membership of Delta Zeta the names of the Rush Captains in order that they may "obey that impulse" and write about the girls they know and wish you to know, this list has been compiled from the election returns so far as they report the rush captains. Use it; its purpose is to serve!

Eta Province Convention: Seattle. Stop off, if your summer trip is through the Northwest.

Central Office Chit-Chat

Special Notices

Miss Lois Higgins, National Vice-President, will be "at home" (literally) after May 4, at 1524 East Fifty-ninth Street, Chicago. Yes, you have guessed it—she has bought a new home.

The Beta Province convention, which was to have been held this week-end, at Baton Rouge, La., was indefinitely postponed because of the floods.

How Many Delta Zetas Are Sending Money and Clothing to the Flood Refugees?

Did You Know That:

Iota made first place in scholarship on the Iowa campus?

Alpha Zeta, Alpha Delta and Alpha Xi all hold scholarship cups?

Eta chapter reported that Delta Zeta pledges were the only complete group to be initiated on that campus?

Alpha Nus have to build a new house, too, now that the University is moving to the other end of the city.

Alpha Alpha's new house is up to the third floor?

Gamma is building a house that will make you all want to come visiting?

Positively the last call for LAMP and LIFE DUES! Final Date May 31, 1927.

Remember—All officers of Alumnae chapters must be in good standing, financially, both locally and nationally. That means they must have paid their alumnae dues to the National, and to their local chapters. All ready, new officers, you can't enforce the constitution if you do not live up to it. Pay up!

Song Books will be ready next month—get your voices ready. All initiates of 1925-26, and 1926-27, please send up your present addresses to Central Office, if you will not be at the chapter house at the time they are ready. Will the corresponding secretary send me the list of 1925-26 initiates, so that I shall not miss any!

The Directories are out. Central Office sent out requests to the chapters some time ago, asking for lists of all girls initiated since 1922, since none of these members had had Directories. Only eighteen chapters responded. I want to thank these girls for the work, as well as their spirit of co-operation. If others who should have received the Directories, have not had them, perhaps it is because your chapter was not among the "eighteen."

We have had almost a hundred returned so far. Alumnae do not keep us, or the chapters informed as to changes of address and name. If you are among those who should have received a DIRECTORY, please write us, enclosing six cents in stamps to cover postage. CENTRAL OFFICE SPEAKING!

Supplies—Does your chapter need any? Send all requests in time to get your records in fine shape before the end of the year and Province conventions.

Dedication of Delta Zeta Memorial at Miami University, at the time of the Gamma Province Convention. Alumnae, take notice!

Constitutions—The new ones are on the press, and will soon be available.

Be sure to send your summer address to Central Office.

Central Office thanks you all for your help this year. Good-bye till fall!

Delta Zeta News

Meet Mrs. Friedline, through the Colorado Springs paper.

The D.A.R. election in Denver was of unusual interest to the members of the Kinnikinnik and Zubulon Pike chapters, Daughters of the American Revolution, and Colorado Springs in general, with the naming of Mrs. Justus R. Friedline, of this city, state D.A.R. regent. The election was unanimous and was made at the close of the final meeting of the D.A.R. conference held at the Brown Palace Hotel.

Mrs. Friedline has been one of the most active workers of the Colorado Daughters of the American Revolution and has also taken a prominent place in national work. She served on the state D.A.R. board for eight years, as regent of Kinnikinnik chapter for two years and is one of its charter members. For two years she was chairman of the Americanization and Patriotic Education committee, and for three years served on the state resolutions committee, besides acting as state chairman of the national committee on better films. She acted as vice chairman of Manual for Immigrants and during the last two years has been vice regent of the Colorado society. Mrs. Friedline attended twenty out of the twenty-four state board meetings, a remarkable record, which has kept her in close touch with D.A.R. work. Last year, in the absence of Mrs. Herbert Allen Smith, she presided at the state conference.

Elizabeth Barnes, of Chi chapter, Corvallis, Oregon, is also breaking out in print.

Miss Elizabeth Barnes, assistant professor of public speaking at O.A.C., Corvallis, Oregon, was recently elected first vice-president of the national council of National Collegiate Players at their convention in Chicago.

It must be catching.

Lawrence, Kansas, March 15.—Mrs. John Griffiths, sister of Miss Esther Liebig, president of Delta Zeta (Alpha Phi chapter), whose engagement to Laurel Turk was announced Sunday, said today the announcement shows her sister's total lack of originality.

To elucidate:

Mrs. Griffiths attended Baker University; so did Miss Liebig.

Mrs. Griffiths pledged Delta Zeta; so did Miss Liebig.

Mrs. Griffiths taught school at Richmond, Missouri; so did Miss Liebig.

Mrs. Griffiths enrolled at the University of Kansas; so did Miss Liebig.

Mrs. Griffiths was given a fraternity pin; so was Miss Liebig.

Mrs. Griffiths returned the fraternity pin; so did Miss Liebig.

Mrs. Griffiths became engaged to a Spanish professor; so has Miss Liebig.

Mrs. Griffiths was married to the Spanish professor . . . and to complete the parallel, her friends add—

"So will Miss Liebig."—Kansas City Journal Post.

Mr. Laurel Turk is in the Spanish department of Lehigh University.

1927 Sorority Census

BY OLGA ACHTENHAGEN

Editor of The Angelos of Kappa Delta

The twenty N.P.C. sororities include a total of 912 chapters and approximately 917 alumnae associations. Inactive chapters total eighty-three, most of them having become inactive because anti-fraternity laws affected the institutions in which they were established.

The dates of founding listed below for Alpha Delta Pi and Phi Mu represent the organization of Adelphean and Philomathean, local societies at Wesleyan College, Macon, Georgia. It was not until 1904 that the two groups adopted Greek-letter names and a policy of expansion. Pi Beta Phi, originally the I. C. Sorosis, adopted her Greek name in 1883. The first society to bear a Greek name is Kappa Alpha Theta; it is probably also the first to be definitely organized along the lines of the Greek-letter fraternities.

Statistics furnished below were supplied by the National Editors of the N.P.C. sororities in March, 1927.

CHAPTER LETTERS

Alpha Province

BETA CHAPTER Cornell University

For the past few weeks life among the Betas has been comparatively uneventful—happy but even. The big-

"happy pledge days," a very good-looking three-part mirror. Evidently they didn't think us vain enough—or was it that they wanted us to be humbled by reflection?

SNOW ON CORNELL'S CAMPUS

Too bad the picture can't show the loveliness of night lights on such a scene.

gest event was one that you have all had—initiation; so I shan't rave about it, though we didn't come down out of the clouds for a week. All of us old grandmothers and great-grandmothers were as much thrilled as the "little ones." Even we juniors and seniors, hardened and calloused with age, were touched when, at the close of her speech, Mary Clark presented to the house, in behalf of all the pledges in memory of their

Coming—Cornell Capers

Spring vacation begins tomorrow. Even now the campus is practically deserted. Immediately after we come back, spring nonsense will begin. The main quadrangle will become the forum where popular professors make stirring speeches about nothing. There will be parades with fantastic costumes and much noise, and crazy performances by the architects and others. The senior men will don their blazers. All this leads up to the exact. Really, though, we are quite grand climax, Spring Day, the one big peculiarly Cornellian tradition that has survived. The great day is coming at the end of May. About the time that you are reading this, then we shall be watching the grand circus, parade, baseball game, crew races, and later, some of us, dancing till 4:30 A.M. One week—finals. Beta wishes you all good luck and a delightful vacation.

FLORENCE MCCLURE, Editor

P.S. The weather played an April Fool trick, and now the campus looks like the enclosed winter scene.

OMICRON CHAPTER

University of Pittsburgh

A Chapter Sanctum

DEAR SISTERS:

Omicron chapter is a whirling group nowadays, but there is a method in our madness. All of our proud of them. We have worked so hard to make them beautiful, and they are beautiful in our eyes. There is one large room, a sun-parlor and a kitchen which we may use on Monday nights. The pledges scrub, mop and polish and glory in their work.

Speaking of pledges, we have the dearest ones that any group could want. Of course, every chapter grows eloquent on that subject, but I want to say that we have nine of the most charming girls any group could want. Then, too, they represent all walks of college life. Two are in basketball—both on varsity, in fact—one in active Y.W.C.A. work, two in the Glee Club, and Helen writes delightful little squibs for the Pitt Weekly. On Friday when almost the whole group troops over to Pitkin Club, it looks like a young army

Shining Seniors

Omicron shines in honorary activities, too. Our president, Peg, besides being in Mortar Board, belongs to Pi Lambda Theta, is the chief justice of Senior Court, and a member of Student Relations Committee. Venus, too, is a member of Mortar Board as well as president of the Women's Athletic Association and a star on our basketball varsity. We are represented in the honorary history fraternity and the Spanish Club.

Our Auxiliaries

We have ever so many plans for the rest of the semester. We are very definite, however, in one plan—our Mothers' Tea. We hope to be successful in organizing a Delta Zeta Mothers' Club. In fact, you would think that we have a Mothers' Club now by the way our mothers have pitched together and helped us this winter. Not only the mothers but the grandmothers and fathers are interested and enthusiastic in our plans.

Pledge Day, at Last!

When I was a goat I spake as a goat, I understood as a goat, I thought as a goat, but now our new pledges are passing through that stage of psychological development—and surprises. They are bearing up nobly and we are very proud of them all, to wit: our musician, Laura Clark, I make her play the "Volga Boat Song" every day; our cook, Caroline Blanks, who really invented cakes—her own remarkable methods at least; our student, Mary Curran, who went to the scholarship luncheon—of which further mention; our petite Muriel Phelan, and our attractive Roselia Shaw, who teaches other young minds when she isn't exposing her own to instruction at night. We acquired this choice selection of individuals at the end of February, when a prolonged rushing season ended with a few tense hours of wondering who "got" whom. We "got our goats" and we are beaming self-satisfied.

Third Time Charms

For the benefit of those who simply can't wait to see what there is to say about the Panhellenic scholarship luncheon, I'll keep my promise. We regretfully saw our representatives—Olive Chace, Vivian Robb, and Mary Curran—set out with the cup we won last year. Two or three hours later we fell out of the windows enthusiastically to meet that identical cup and escort it triumphantly to its apparently predestined place in our rooms. We are quite determined to win it again and permanently next year. And some ten other sororities are quite determined to take it from us. I hope the psychology of the situation favors us—I can't decide whether it does or not.

Merrily "Mump-ing"

G.W.U. was threatened recently by an epidemic. Medical authorities were, or should have been, seriously perturbed, for any contagious malady affecting so large and important a group of Washingtonians would very probably spread rapidly over the national capital and reach even our most eminent citizens—perhaps President Coolidge, eventually. All this stir was caused by a Delta Zeta. Anita Brown had the mumps. So far the epidemic has not been severe—only one case has been reported by reliable authorities. Another Delta Zeta has suggested a remedy in case mumps sweeps the city. Just let everybody come out and do his work as usual.

Parties and Promises

On Sunday, March 20, the active chapter entertained the alumnae, patrons and mothers at tea. It was an unusual opportunity for all those we are interested in and those interested in us to get together, and we all enjoyed it.

The alumnae gave a lovely progressive supper for us last Sunday, April 3. The attendance was noteworthy—it was the largest number of actives and alumnae to foregather for social intercourse, or any other purpose since our chapter came into being. We had a good time, too. The "progressive" was illustrated by going from the beautiful home of Annette Ladd to that of Mrs. Zirkle—and eating some more. The ices, molded into perfect pink roses, were quite too adorable to eat. (If the eyes are closed, the conscience feels better about it.)

Both the alumnae and active chapters are looking forward to Mrs. Friedline's visit. She promises to come for Easter week. We are hoping the proverbial April showers will be unavoidably detained within the heavens.

BESSIE MCINTYRE, Editor

ALPHA ZETA Adelphi College

April Fool!

Well (big sigh), we thought spring had really come last week, so we all discarded our heavy coats and resurrected our old spring ones. It was so nice and warm that nearly everyone in college had that disease they call spring fever. But now you should see the ground—just covered with snow, and it all came so quickly. Not a single bit of warning! Should we protest?

But Not in Elections

While the weather was so wonderful, Adelphi's great political struggle took place—and Delta Zeta came out pretty well. Of the Student Association officers, Esther Ewart, '29, captured the vice-presidency on the first ballot. She also won her "A" for varsity basketball. Then, in the Junior class elections for next year, Alice Munson, '28, was chosen president, the second time she has occupied this office; Florence Cuneo was re-elected vice-president and Alice Underwood treasurer. Isn't that some walk-away for our "seniors-to-be"? We think it's fine and feel very proud of them.

In the Newman Club elections,

Florence Cuneo, '28, was elected president. The other club elections have not been held yet—so we can't give a final account.

Anticipation

We are all greatly excited and thrilled about Mrs. Friedline's anticipated visit to us. We are waiting anxiously—in fact we are too excited to write coherently about it. We'll tell you much more the next time!

Attention, Mrs. Long!

Our pledges are working like Trojans to help us keep the scholastic cup—so it won't be their fault if we lose it. Our average has gone up a trifle since we won it, and we all simply refuse to give it up. We can keep it—and we will!

These Help

Oh, yes, we have two darling new pledges, Harriet Stellwagen, '29, and Ruth Waterman, '30. Both are real Adelphi scholars and will help us loads in raising our average. Besides, they are all-round girls, peppy, etc.

Our bridge, April 21, is doomed to be a huge success. One of our girls is real good at palm-reading, and is sure to draw a big crowd. At least she does at college. And with Alice Underwood as chairman, everything should go over big!

Just now we are busy with midterms. But they will be over next week and then we hope we can all act natural. We'd hate to have Mrs. Friedline see us like this!

We hope you all have a lovely Easter vacation—rest up, because the hot summer months are coming.

ALPHA KAPPA CHAPTER Syracuse University

Initiation Ceremonies

Since our last letter, spring has come, and with it the gleam of eleven new lamps for Delta Zeta. One doesn't have words to describe the feeling which our initiation always brings, but you all will understand that. However, banquets are not so difficult. Ours was held March 19 at the Hotel Syracuse. Besides our new sisters and alumnae, our guests were Mrs. Meeker, Alpha Kappa's big sister, and Mildred Wade Lenning, of Alpha Lambda chapter.

Following the speeches, the junior cup, given to the most representative girl of that class, was presented to Mildred Brinker. "Brinkie" is a violin major, a member of Sigma Alpha Iota, of Morning Musicals and the varsity rifle team.

ALPHA KAPPA'S HONOR INITIATE Thelma (Dill) Pickles

This year we decided to give a miniature cup to the initiate who had excelled in both scholarship and activities. Thelma Pickles, '29, blushing received it. She is a reporter on the Daily Orange and has made first cuts for associate editor of Onondagan. A Fraternity Girl's Symphony was given to Ethelyn Mann, '30, for having maintained the highest scholarship among the initiates.

In honor of the initiates, Irene Follett, toastmistress, wrote the words of a song for which "Brinkie" wrote the music. As we sang it, each fraternity mother lighted for her daughter a tiny candle from the flame of a tall, white taper, a symbol of her new responsibilities and privileges in Delta Zeta. It was a lovely ceremony and a fitting conclusion to our banquet. But not the real conclusion, after all, for just then Janet Miller brought in a huge Jack Horner pie with floating ribbons of rose and green. The plum proved to be Bernice Widrick's engagement to Kenneth Eastwood.

Then we all hurried over to the Wieting Theater, where we saw Spanish Moon, a musical comedy written by one of our Syracusans and presented by Tambourine and Bones, men's dramatic society. The transformation of popular football heroes into pretty, peppy girls was only one surprise of the evening.

Shortly before initiation, the chapter entertained the pledges at the house very informally. Each group of roommates put on a skit in their room. Cora Dann starred as Little Eva in The Origin of Halitosis, and Edith Morton, chairman of the house committee, helped with true understanding in a take-off of our numerous cooks.

Panhellenic Lottery

According to our custom, having drawn Alpha Chi Omega's name in the Panhellenic lottery, we entertained the girls of that chapter on the evening of March 7. Following a musical program and skits, we danced to the music of our own Delta Zeta orchestra and the pledges served ices and cakes. Then each chapter sang its favorite songs and said "Good-night."

First Prize Winners

The evening of March 24 was an eventful one for Alpha Kappa. That night, the men's gym was the scene of the annual Military Ball which was in the form of a world cruise. Girls went in couples wearing costumes appropriate to the country of their choice. Thanks to the hard work and excellent ability of "Dill," Viola, and Kay, Delta Zeta won first prize for the presentation of the best skit. Amid cheers and laughter, they proudly bore to the house a five-pound box of "Fanny Farmers."

Did Miss Landrum See These?

Our new initiates have shown marked creative ability in the composition of their original songs, a requirement for initiation. Some even wrote the music, but sad to admit, they are not all singers. However, it was an interesting half-hour when each girl sang her song.

Congratulations!

Glenevieve Watkin, '27, has added Phi Beta Kappa to her numerous honoraries. Esther Allen, '28, has just been elected vice-president of the Syracuse chapter of Women's Cosmopolitan Club.

Two new pledges have been added since our last letter: Marion Knowles, Niagara Falls, New York, a freshman in public school music, on the freshman basketball team and active worker in Y.W.C.A., and Viola Pallaskay, '29, of Syracuse, a member of University Chorus, City Women's Club, and an A student in interior decoration.

ALPHA MU CHAPTER

St. Lawrence University

Additions All Around

Alpha Mu has been a busy place since our last letter. The greatest event was initiation, March 5. One of our initiates, Alice Lawrence, was absent because of illness, leaving three: Doris Fields, Elfrieda Peter and Isabel Rowley, of whom we are all the more proud because we feel that though we have not quantity we have quality. The other fraternities came in later, giving us some very delightful serenades. Of our alumnae who were back were Mary Bayley, '23; Zelma Bancroft, '24; Inez Hodge, ex-'28; and Mildred Walls, '29, who is visiting us after her long illness.

We wish to announce the pledging of Alice Kinney and Margaret Mooney, both of '30. Also we wish to announce a new patroness, Mrs. Ralph Howard. One of the seniors, Esther Rowley, who finished her course in January, is engaged to Herbert Ayres, ex-'28, now a student at Albany Business College. Inez Hodge, ex-'28, who visited us at the time of initiation, surprised us with an announcement of her marriage to George Woodward. We knew that she was engaged but we did not know that the happy event was to take place so soon.

"So Thoughtful," said the firemen

Alpha Mu chapter house suffered a narrow escape from being burned one evening just recently when a bundle of papers caught fire from the stove in the kitchen. We were having a little party which was going very nicely when one of the girls opened a door and saw one end of the kitchen in flames. We immediately called for help and the fire was soon put out with fire extinguishers by our neighbors before the fire department arrived. Our party was entirely broken up but we had some recompense in being able to treat the firemen to sandwiches we had made. We were very thankful that no more damage was done, though we did not intend to give our guests such a warm reception.

Parting Party Plans

At the instant of writing we are giving an informal costume party at which we anticipate a good time. Plans are being laid for a card party to be given immediately after the Easter recess. Our juniors have volunteered to take charge of a movie benefit to raise money to furnish the house with curtains. We have one more spring house party which will be a formal dinner dance.

With these few words as to our present, past and future, Alpha Mu will say farewell until next year.

Happy Initiation

The regular initiation of Alpha Upsilon chapter was held on March 3 at the home of Mrs. Warner Morse,

The next evening, March 4, the initiation banquet was held at the Bangor House. Amy Adams, '27, was the toastmistress. All of the initiates took various parts in the program. Dorothy Mossler, '24, gave an interesting talk on "The Ideal Delta Zeta Girl." Mrs. Morse's speech on "As a Delta Zeta Mother" was perhaps the best of the evening. Mrs. Morse has certainly been a real mother to us in many ways. For the last number on the program Lillian Varnum, '29, sang, "I Wonder if Ever the Rose," and performed the rose ceremony. Dorothy Mossler, Marjorie Bailey, Bernice Wentworth, Emily Pendleton and Louise Ayer of our alumnae were back for the banquet.

Anything in "A" Names?

Annette Matthews, '27, has been making people on the campus sit up and take notice lately. Sometime about the first of March she was elected to Phi Kappa Phi. Before the month was over she was also elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Besides these two honorary fraternities, she also belongs to Phi Sigma, the honorary biological fraternity. Annette is very modest and would like to keep such things a secret, but thanks to Amy, who is a member of each organization, we found out almost as soon as Annette herself. Annette has twin sisters here who are freshmen, and who promise to be as brilliant as she is. They have already received congratulations from Phi Kappa Phi on their high rank. Besides this they are both interested in athletics, and are both out for hockey and baseball.

one of our patronesses. Now we have ten new sisters of whom we are justly proud.

We Enjoy a Visit or Two

During the last of February we had a very pleasant visit from Bernice Claire Bassett, a Delta Zeta girl from Delta chapter. At present she is doing social service work in Waterville, Maine, and as her work brought her to Orono and the vicinity she favored us with a visit. Before coming to Maine she spent several years in Japan. She told us many interesting things about her work there.

Two or three days before vacation Ruth Morse, '26, invited us up to her house to a birthday party. We were invited to a buffet lunch but when it was served it proved to be a regular feast. As Ruth has been teaching in Vermont, this is the first time we have seen her this year.

Other Activities

Edith and Kay are manager and assistant manager, respectively, of the "Maine Spring." Edith surprised us somewhat by appearing with a new frat pin the day after vacation. Although it has been kept a secret, she has been engaged to George Turner of Alpha Gamma Rho since late last fall.

Just now we are all excited about our formal, which is to be held at the Country Club on April 15. We are in hopes that our big sister and many of the alumnae will be with us for the dance.

Randolph-Macon Woman's College

A Write-up About Our Seniors

Isn't it hard to put one's thoughts into words! But if I must, I must, and I'll begin with Grace Milford, our chapter president. Grace came to Randolph-Macon all the way from Abbeville, South Carolina, with a bright, sunny smile and a cheery word for everyone. She was a Delta Zeta inheritance, for as you may remember, Helen Milford, '25, was also a Delta Zeta. Grace started on to work in school activities and in the fraternity as soon as she got here. She made the hockey squad in her freshman year and played right wing for four years. Grace was a member of the freshman cabinet and of the Y.W.C.A. In her junior year she was vice-president of her class, assistant organization editor of the Helianthus, our college annual, and "K.S.B." And now that she is a senior, Grace is president of the chapter, business manager of the Helianthus, a member of the student committee, president of the Senior Club, and member of the senior council. Now, haven't we a right to be proud of Grace? Besides taking part in all these activities, Grace is a good student and has helped the Delta Zeta scholarship record along.

Mary Crawford, that cute, slender girl with the adorable figure which we all strive to attain through strenuous dieting—and feet—oh! so tiny; but, gee! how they can dance! She's a peach of a girl! Mary tripped into Randolph-Macon from Covington, Virginia, in the fall of '23, where she immediately began to shine, and before long that D.Z. shine! All four years she's taken the lead in her classes and every time her grades were read out in fraternity meeting the chapter average shot up like a thermometer on a hot day. Just recently she was elected to membership in Pi Gamma Mu, an honorary social science fraternity, being one of the seven seniors to achieve this honor. In Alpha Xi she has been a mainstay—always willing and ready when there is any work to be done. Her junior year she served as corresponding secretary and was G.O. this past year. Mary will surely be missed in Alpha Xi after she goes out into the world in June—yes, out into the world, but we won't say for how long!

Susie Cobbs is one of the most outstanding girls at R.-M. Her list of honors reads like a catalogue of all the honors to be achieved at college. Her freshman year she was chairman of the freshman cabinet of the Y.W.C.A. and also a member of the hockey squad. She has represented R.-M. in intercollegiate debates during her college career. For three years she has represented her class on the student committee of the Student Government Association. When she was a junior she was president of the International Relations Club, the only junior who has ever achieved this honor. During her senior year Susie served as house president of New Hall, which is third vice-president of the Student Government Association. She is also a member of Gamma Thirteen, a pep society, and Am Sam, a social society composed of the prominent girls in college. Recently Susie was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, which is proof of her high scholastic record and proof of her all-round ability. Susie is planning to go on with her work and we are expecting great things of her.

Words cannot express Elizabeth Pulliam! She's just "Liz" to us. She enjoys life in that good, old Southern way. She is never in a hurry and her witty remarks are drawled out with a slow, attractive smile. But when it comes to a fire drill, Liz is right there; for besides reveling in the excitement she is fire chief and must see it through. She was a member of the hockey squad in her sophomore and junior years.

When anything is happening at school Liz is right in the midst of it.

In direct contrast to Liz's slow drawl is Ellen Frazier's delightful, incessant chattering. Ellen has a charm all her own and no social occasion is complete without her and her comments on the happenings at college. The chapter is going to miss Ellen's vivacity and pep next year.

Elizabeth Bayer—that tall girl with curly, auburn hair and lovely brown eyes. Elizabeth is so sweet and kind to everyone. She was vice-president of the chapter this year and I know that she has been a wonderful example to the pledges.

We had our local Founders' Day banquet April 12, and according to our custom our beautiful Delta Zeta ring was presented to the pledge who made the highest scholastic average for this year. Adelaide Risdon won the ring and she can wear it until next year.

We are looking forward to Mrs. Freidline's visit, the last of April, with a great deal of pleasure.

We have a nice new lawn with stones all around it and a pretty little rose lattice at one end. Then we are to have a sleeping porch in the back part of the house, so that all of us will be the 100 per cent "health of the

ALPHA SIGMA CHAPTER

Florida State College for Women

Our Hall of Fame

This letter should be just about our seniors because a mere list of activities cannot really tell all the wonderful things about them. We think they are the finest group ever, and are so proud of them. They are Mildred Brantley, Mildred Bullock, Elizabeth Cartmel, Blanche Curry, Mildred Harris, Helen Little, Helen Sutton and Esther Maude Saunders.

Initiation News

A few days before initiation, the "old" girls entertained at a banquet for the pledges. The large room in the Ponce De Leon Grill was transformed into a rose garden, carrying out the Delta Zeta colors. At the close of the program, two of the pledges were honored. Flora Sasnett, of Jacksonville, was presented with a loving cup, having made the highest grades, while Arey Kaufmann was given a bar pin for obtaining the most points in activities.

On March 12, eight new, shining lamps made an appearance on the campus, the proud wearers being Louise Knight, Ursula Hendrix, Fletcher Girardear, Elizabeth Reynolds, Margaret McNeil, Arey Kaufmann, Flora Sasnett and Eleanor Rosen.

The following morning the initiates were honor guests at a breakfast at the Wisteria Tea Room, and so the ship of new Delta Zetas was properly launched.

On Activities

Many interesting events have happened since the end of the first semester. Freshman Cabinet of Y.W.C.A. has been tapped and Betty Schaeffer, president of the pledges, was one of the freshmen who was chosen.

Mildred Schwalmeyer has been elected advertising manager of the Annual for next year, and Mary Carolyn Logan is the new house chairman of Bryan Hall. She is also a Phi Alpha Theta, national honorary history.

Two of our sophomores were installed in Y.W.C.A. Cabinet: Nell Wallis, as chairman of finance, and Jeannette Washburn, as chairman of vespers. Our seniors, Mildred Harris, the Y.W.C.A. president, and Elizabeth Cartmel, chairman of vespers, are two of the outgoing officers of the association.

Nell Wallis is also our new athlete. She has made her college letter in hockey, having made the varsity team. She is a member of the class baseball team also.

This year we have the presidency of Panhellenic. Doris Bartlett has been chosen to fill this office.

Our newest pledge, Agnes Crawford, from Tampa, is proctor of Gilchrist Hall and a member of the Even soccer team.

The Press Board is a very active organization on our campus. A short time ago the board edited the Florida State News for a day. One of our seniors, Mildred Brantley, was the city editor, while Nell Wallis was a member of the advertising staff.

College Happenings

The most successful annual minstrel that the Junior class has ever presented was given on March 5. This so-called minstrel was a musical comedy entitled Everything's Made for Love, and was written and staged by a member of the Junior class. Our girls taking part were Mildred Brantley, leading man; Eleanor Rosen, "Tillie"; Arey Kaufmann, member of the small chorus; Doris Bartlett, member of the large chorus, and Lily McDonald, leader of the orchestra.

Another important event happened in March, too. That was the senior tree-planting. Each year this custom of planting some valuable tree is performed by the Senior class. In this way the seniors leave a living and worthy symbol of their class.

On Class Day the seniors march to the ceremony by the side of the juniors who are to be cap-and-gowned. A semi-circle is formed, the juniors standing in front of the seniors, and at a given place in the ceremony each senior takes off her

The exciting event of burning the senior books in secret occurs on this day. If the juniors discover this, then all is lost, but if the seniors are successful, the ashes of the books are presented to the incoming senior class president.

The class night play, which is given by the seniors, reviews the four years of their life at college.

Our Loss

We have lost one girl, not by graduation, but by marriage. Ursula Hendrix, '30, is now practicing her culinary arts.

help but recall that just one year ago Alpha Omega blossomed, amid the beauty of the roses of our southland, a new rose for Delta Zeta. Again the April roses blossom, and may we, as the season of the anniversary passes, pause a moment to pay tribute to the six girls who worked so strenuously for the blossoming of Delta Zeta's forty-eighth rose and fought so diligently for the placing of the chapter in a school which had not allowed a new sorority to enter for eleven years.

Elizabeth Brame, who started the group as a local, is still with us, our guide and inspiration and help at all times. Sidney Brame has been our president for the past year and is always on the job as a worker for and in Delta Zeta. Lorene Hill stopped school and is teaching in Edwards, Mississippi, and this is a secret—she is expecting to be married in July and live in New York City, so here's a new member for you, New York Alumnae chapter. Cathleen Carmichael has graduated and is teaching in Utica, but we feel that she is "of us" because she is close enough to come up to every party or anything special that we have. Dorothy Alford is also "of us" because she is taking a business course here and can come to chapter meetings and is a great help to us. Ann Sanderson deserted us this year and went to Mississippi State College for Women, but we love Ann heaps, anyway. These six—how we cherish them as beginners of our chapter here—and on this, the first anniversary of the chapter's installation, may we wish them every joy in the friendship of Delta Zeta's love and pledge anew ourselves to carry victoriously the banner which they raised for us.

The Second Six

Six seems to be our lucky number. We like the number six so well that after starting off with six like our beloved founders did way back in 1902, we took six pledges and started the fall of '25 out with six and started last fall out with six active members (which does not include Elizabeth, Dorothy and our bib sister, who are all extremely active), but the point is, six in school. But hark ye! We are six no more; we are ten, having initiated four out of our five grand pledges in March. (I can tell you how grand they are because I'm one of them.) Elizabeth insists that we should have had six pledges this year, but she condescends to say that our pledges are—oh, I mean were—so grand that they equaled six in worthwhileness, if not in actual numbers.

Thrills and to Spare

Well, I must tell you about our hectic period between pledging and initiation—yes, even it was in six parts. The pledge service was an inspiration of enlightenment for the new girls in the receiving. Then came the stunt night which the pledges gave the actives. And I'll tell you right now, Alpha Omega challenges any chapter with ten pledges to get up as clever a stunt as our five did. The day before the stunt night, the actives received theater ticket reservations for the play, The Student Prints, presented by Alpha Omega pledges. On arriving, the older girls were escorted to the seat and row which their ticket indicated. The play, lasting for nearly two hours, was written by Marjorie Smith, and was a take-off on the Student Prince, which we had all seen a short time before, and the take-off was a scream from first to last. The older girls had been floating the sentiments that they were the original originators, because they had been getting so many compliments on their rush season parties, but they were squelched to the conclusion that the pledges were either born with some originality or else had absorbed a great deal from them, by the end of that play. But they regained their laurels, we must admit, when we announced that in conclusion the audience would now give us a style show, and we turned over the floor to them and took their seats. Imagine our consternation when Lee appeared and announced the first exhibit would be evening wear, and therewith Arlete appeared in a ravishing pair of pajamas and Elizabeth in a crêpe-dechine nightgown. They gave the famous scene from Macbeth, and when Elizabeth said, "All the perfumes of Arabia cannot sweeten this little hand," in the most dramatic way, Arlete said, "Try Ivory soap." Arlete, draped in a skin rug, gave the latest style in Eden, and they had gobs more of various and sundry, clever fashions that they thought up and costumed on the very spur of the moment, so that we do hand it to them for originality. Then the older girls gave us a goat night. They blindfolded us and drove us five miles out in the country to Dorothy's. If you've never ridden blindfolded around corners and up and down hills, try it and see how it feels, especially when you don't know where you are going. Then they had court and tried us for all the awful things that we had done since we had been pledges. Gladys got tried for growing up and Marjorie for chewing gum too fast and I for giggling all the time. Then we were given our punishment in accordance with our crime. And then we had eats—marvelous eats—six (blame Elizabeth) different kinds of sandwiches, divinity, date loaf, hot chocolate and candied nuts, and just lots of it. Believe me, our older girls know how to fix things to eat like they know how to do everything. And then, as a glorious climax to this scene of events came the solemn loveliness of initiation. I think it will suffice to say that we loved it and it will last always as one of the treasured memories of our life.

One for Say-rah!

Oh! I do wonder if I have made this letter too long, but please let me tell you just two more things and then I will stop. We were so absolutely thrilled over Sarah Newsom coming to see us. We feel as if Sarah is Delta Zeta symbolized, because Sarah was the first Delta Zeta that our girls had ever seen and she told us first about Delta Zeta. So that we feel as if we kind of belong to Sarah and she to us. It is a coincidence also, that this is the third spring that Sarah has been with us. So Sarah is another of our joys which come with roses and April.

And I must tell you about our three seniors, who graduate this year—Arlete Talbert, Ida Lee Austin and Ruth Connerly. Arlete Talbert, pledged in the first group of the local's pledges in the spring of '25, ranks very near the top of Alpha Omega's essential members. Arlete has been the chapter treasurer for the past year and her splendid work in keeping all the chapter's financial records is resulting in our making our first year a great success financially. She is the youngest girl to graduate from Millsaps in its history of co-education. Her birthday of last month gave her the dignity of eighteen years. She has made college in three years with an average of above 90, which makes her an honor student. She is also a member of Chi Delta Phi, national literary sorority, and Eta Sigma, local scholarship sorority. Ida Lee Austin has also made college in three years and her grades have been good. She has served as the chapter's editor for the past year and I am sure you are all acquainted with her through our letters. Ida Lee's chief campus activity is in the Girls' Glee Club, and she is an accomplished musician. Ruth Connerly has brought us laurels as our chapter's star athlete. She is of the basketball team which so victoriously won the state championship last year and is making such a splendid record this year. We shall miss these three girls tremendously next year, but as they all expect to teach, we just hope they will be teaching near enough to be with us occasionally.

"For to See and for to Know"

The present college excitement is that next week the Girls' Glee Club makes its annual trip through the state, putting on a program. Of the eighteen who have made the trip five are Delta Zetas, so you see we are represented. They are Doris Comly, Claire Sistrunk, Gladys Bond, Ida Lee Austin and Mernelle Heuck. And the main chapter excitement is that we are looking forward to inspection from Mrs. Smith, the middle of this month, at which time we plan to have our annual April Rose banquet and to go to province convention, which will be at L.S.U. the end of this month.

In conclusion, we wish Delta Zetas all over the land to join with us in sympathy for our beloved patroness, Mrs. Henry L. Whitfield, in the passing of her husband, Governor Whitfield, which has thrown our whole state into great sorrow. Mrs. Whitfield has been exceptionally lovely to us and a help to us at all times. We attended, in a body, the funeral service of the governor which was held in the state capitol.

And now I'm through. I hope you like the new editor of the chapter. If the length of this letter has wearied you, don't forget that Elizabeth helped me with it and it necessarily had to have six paragraphs and six hundred or maybe six thousand words in it, though I imagine you think it is six million by now. The fact is that I'm quite sure that the only reason I got elected as editor for THE LAMP was that "Branch" has six letters in it. So you see I'm bound to be lucky enough to get you to read my letters for the next year, with the magic six so much in evidence.

Love from us all, and especially we who have just been initiated.

Editorial Quivers

DEAR "MRS. LAMP" AND READERS:

I sit me down in a convenient chair with a clutching fear around the vicinity of my heart because this is my first letter to you—and yet with a feeling of joy, for all my life I have wanted to write to you, and now I have my chance. But secretly I am scared to death for fear I will make some terrible blunder, so if I falter it is because I am fussed.

The queen of all the topics in my estimation is Alpha of Delta Zeta. So if you will promise to sit still with your hands clasped in polite but painful restraint, your eyes brightened with anticipation, and your mouth watering with hope and expectation, I will try to tell you all the exciting news—and then it will be your turn.

Vacation and Other Spring Signs

After working hard for nine weeks on studies and activities, we all welcomed a few days' rest—spring vacation. Everyone to date has returned and each one has reported that she had a "keen" time, also managing to work in a lot of good "black" sleep. After such a change, we feel confident that we shall be able to make the remaining weeks of the school year count.

You know that we have ten seniors in the chapter rank this year, and Cupid has been plenty busy, even before the usual spring rush. Our only complaint is that the chapter treasury is suffering from a number of huge damage suits against us after several poor masculines were badly trampled in the rush. Mary Frances Rowley, after gravely considering the matter, decided that Sigma Chi was the only thing for her, so Roger Hannaford turned out to be the lucky man. Ruth Warner could not resist the charms of one Beta, so now she is all Edward West, and everyone is happy. Margaret Hayden wrecked the meeting the other night by walking in with Paul Ruth's Sigma Alpha Epsilon pin, and, of course, congratulations were in order. Then secretly, girls, but don't let on I even mentioned it, I think Alice Shepherd has gone Delta Kappa Epsilon—at least everything is pointing in Daniel Brickley's favor. And try as we may, we can't keep Frank Fray, of Cleveland, Ohio, away from Dorothy Spence, who has just returned to school after a serious operation for appendicitis. Poor Frank lost pounds and pounds from worry during the critical period of Dot's illness. Judging from Mary Louise Clendinen's dreamy looks, we'd say she was smitten, too. But she refuses to divulge the name of the lucky man, so we must simply sit and bide our time. We're all wondering about Mildred Morninstar, but I dare not tell the name of her "boy friend," because he's a young and good-looking professor in the university, and he might flunk me in the English course I have under him if I give away his secrets.

Then, I must tell you about the new officers that have been elected to tend the Delta Zeta rose garden for next year. Adelaide Humphrey was elected president, and she surely does meet all the requirements, and is O.K. in every way. Martha Craver, one of our capable next year's juniors, is vice-president, and we have every reason to expect big things of her. Helen Brunton, an able senior-to-be, is going to start wielding a mighty pen in the capacity of recording secretary. The money matters will be handled by capable Mary Wilcock, who is a whiz at math. Then THE LAMP correspondent—well,

ADELAIDE HUMPHREY
President of Alpha Chapter, 1927-'28

er—I can't say anything about her, 'cause you see I am "it." Little Laura Willey, sophomore-to-be, about as big as a minute, will have her hands full as corresponding secretary, but we know her quality makes up for her quantity. Virginia Laferty, a junior, will act as chapter historian, while our meetings will be conducted according to Hoyle, or rather, according to Roberts' Rules of Order by the ever-watchful Erma Parker. Elinor Crawford and Geraldine Jones, who will both be worthy sophomores next year, will guard our meetings from interruption; while last, but not least, the Sophomore class will be represented in Panhellenic meetings by competent Virginia Pearce. So here's to a bigger, better, grander, and more glorious year than we've ever had before.

They Deserved It

After initiation for eight proud pledges on February 28, we spent most of our time practicing for the W.S.G.A. Showdown in which we gave a clever Dutch stunt. This over, there came the Indiana state luncheon and dance March 19, then back to Greencastle once more to books and activities.

Perhaps our greatest recent distinction came to us through the efforts of these pledges; they won the scholarship cup offered the group of freshmen having the highest average. We are certainly well pleased with them and hope this record will be continued.

Delta's May Queen

Edith Leavitt, '29, has been chosen queen for the May Day pageant; she is also a member of the W.S.G.A. Board, and is one of the three candidates for the junior ring which is annually given to the most representative girl in the Sophomore class.

Opal Williams, in addition to being a reporter on the De Pauw staff, has been elected treasurer of W.S.G.A.

Interests Musical and Otherwise

As a result of our midwinter rushing we have two new pledges, Marihelen Paddock and Esther Reynolds. The latter is in music school and is a member of both the Girls' Glee Club and the American Guild of Organists. Miriam White, a newly initiated girl, is also a member of this guild.

In referring to musical talent, Grace McCullom, '29, plays the flute in the University Sextette and is instructor in the music school. (Grace has recently put on a Phi Gamma Delta pin.)

The Last Glad Days

Socially we have many things to look forward to; first, there is our chaperon's tea given for Mrs. Calhoun, then comes Mothers' Day, and finally Commencement. We are expecting a big homecoming this year and extend a hearty welcome to all Delta girls.

Underclassmen Show Ability

Although our seniors comprise a third of our group, yet there are few things to tell about the rest of the chapter, for they step out quite frequently and "bring home the bacon."

Helen Benton, '29, was recently elected treasurer of the Association of Women Students, the new name for the old W.S.G.A. She has been nominated for secretary, and Mary Landis, '29, has been nominated for second vice-president of W.A.A.

Our athletic girls have been doing their share of honor-winning. Juanita Carnelley, Mary Melton and Mary Blankenship made the junior basketball team. Mary Landis made the freshman team, and was elected captain. She was also chosen for the varsity team.

Some of our girls have taken up politics as another interest. The College League of Women Voters was recently organized on our campus, and Helen Howard, '28, was elected vice-president, while Ruth

The freshman recognition list, chosen annually by Mortar Board on the basis of scholarship, attitude, and activities, contained the names of two Delta Zetas, Virginia Hoop and Mary Landis.

Rose Dinner Follows Initiation

Eight new Delta Zetas have been proudly wearing the lamp since initiation at the chapter house March 12. After the initiation services a rose dinner was given in honor of the new sisters.

We Thank You, Delta!

We are very proud of our new "big sister," Helen English, Delta, '25, who is now secretary to the minister of the First Methodist Church here. We might also add that Bloomington has offered her a Phi Gam pin as well as a group of "little sisters."

Delta Zeta on Faculty

Miss Georgia Finley, professor in the home economics department, is one of our initiates. It's surprising how many Delta Zetas have recently expressed a desire for a theoretical knowledge of the art of cooking and sewing.

Betty Morris is a sophomore in medicine and is only nineteen years old. She came here from George Washington University and was initiated into Theta chapter last fall. Her father is editor of the Canton Daily

She came to America in 1922 and has been at Ohio State four years. She has adopted American ideas and speech very readily and is as cute and popular a little coed as any American girl on our campus. She expects to return to Germany in a year or two, but is undecided what she will do there.

The other picture shows Martha Seifried seated on the ground. Her face is turned this way and across her lap is an ivy chain. Each year's graduating class has what is called a Class Day. Upon this celebrated occasion the junior girls carry an ivy chain and march beside the honored and esteemed seniors. Last year after this event took place, the ivy was planted by the newest building. I am glad to report it is doing nicely.

The other picture of Eleanor Peters was taken with Milton, therefore the ragged edge. Milton said it was hard to tear himself away from her, but that they will be united soon.

Dorothy Slaback, '28, has been appointed editor of all the organizations for the Cincinnatian at the University. I am also pleased to add that she has been elected president of Panhellenic here.

Franklin College

New honors, Zeta Tau Alpha open house, pledge party for the actives, fraternity elections and examinations! Where shall we begin? Well, anyhow, the body of a letter is most important, so here goes.

Kappa Delta Pi—and Other Honors

As usual, we have several new honors to report. Alice Winters, '28, is the new president of the Y.W.C.A., and Roberta Trent, '29, has been re-elected to the cabinet, after losing the election for vice-president on a tie-vote. Dorothy Best, '27, is the president of the Socratic Club which has recently been granted its petition to Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary educational fraternity. The chapter will be installed some time during the latter part of May. Three active Delta Zetas, and about eight alumnae Delta Zetas will be initiated into Kappa Delta Pi. Dorothy was also the second semester's choice from the senior class to become a member of Alpha, Franklin's scholastic fraternity, to which only Phi Beta Kappa professors are eligible. We hope to get at least one more member when the commencement selection of four more seniors is made. Irene Cribbs, '27, and Wilma Smith, '28, made the girls' varsity basketball team. These two girls and Kathryn Boyd, '27, and Dorothy Fisher, '30, have also made the National Rifle Club. Mary Symms, '29, Lynne Fountaine, '28, and Kathryn Boyd are new members of the Franklin staff. Roberta Trent has a part in the spring play given by Theta Alpha Phi. Try-outs for the two senior plays will be held soon, and we have hopes of several of our seniors getting parts.

Parties and Pennies

The pledges startled the actives at the last fraternity meeting by announcing that they were sponsoring a Bowery party for the actives and their men friends on April 16 at the home of one of the pledges, Dorothy Fisher.

Another social—shall we call it performance?—is our sponsoring of the open house for the local sorority which is to be installed as a chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha, April 9-12. The open house is to be given at the home of one of our patronesses and will be one of the distinctly elaborate social functions of the year. We are being assisted by Zeta Psi, our organization of mothers and patronesses. For raising some of that terrible "root of all evil" we are having a market Saturday, April 16, at which time each one of us will have a chance to show his (excuse me!—her) culinary ability. And we have the date all set for our last big social event of the year, the spring drive, June 3. In case you don't call them spring drives, we might explain that they're "man parties" outdoors.

Psi "Starts Something"

We feel distinctly honored that the success of our week-end functions for our mothers, given now for three years, has influenced the college authorities in planning to make of this Mother's Day an all college holiday, with Dorothy Best as chairman of arrangements. We expect a great many of our mothers to attend, and besides backing the college plans we will have our usual evening party, initiation of the mothers with our ritual written for that purpose, and our dinner in their honor on Sunday. This and plans for our alumnae dinner to be held on Commencement night are occupying our attention now.

Coming to Convention?

Numerous other activities will keep us all and especially the seniors busy up to June 13, and then we will hope to see some of you in Cincinnati. A merry summer and a happy vacation to you all from Psi of Delta Zeta.

ALPHA THETA CHAPTER

University of Kentucky

Passed by the Censor

Spring has come at last to the blue grass and the beautiful rolling acres of the campus, vibrant with the life and joy of youth, are a fitting background for the pageant of all that is romance and Kentucky. Uniformed men at drill on the green, couples slowly strolling to some trysting place, "even the moon shining above" . . . But what is the use of trying to describe it? Of course it is April everywhere; but April in our blue grass is all that any poet has ever said of spring. And apparently a bit of the much famed spring fever has invaded this editorial body and is making it an increasingly difficult task to settle down and tell you just what is happening.

Midnight Initiation

Initiation was held on the night of March 16. We began at twelve o'clock, and immediately after the services we went to the Phoenix Hotel for breakfast—and thence to classes! We are very proud of our new girls and feel that we have chosen well this year. There are now eleven new lamps shining over the hearts of eleven new Delta Zetas: Katherine Asbury, Loise Perry Brown, Martha Duncan, Margaret Fry, Lula Garr Kendall, Elizabeth Hood, Evalyn Laird, Alma Lepper, Elizabeth Graham, Virginia Mackoy, and Dale Smith.

"They Say—"

And Oh, the formal! That biggest of all red-letter days in two years came on April 2. We held the dance in the ballroom of the Phoenix, and from all reports, Delta Zeta still possesses the reputation that ranks her among those giving the best dances on the campus.

Spring Activities

Aside from our life in the chapter, we have not neglected to keep our name among those present in recent campus activities.

Eleanor Beggs has been awarded a W.A.A. pin, and Ella Marie Kinstler captained the champion junior baseball team.

Alice Young, Lucile Dorsey, and Amelia Crume took part in the operetta, Trial by Jury, given by the Glee Club. Lucile, one of our freshmen, has recently been pledged to Phi Beta, because of her musical ability. She has brought further honors by being elected vice-president of the newly organized women's band, which bids fair to take its place beside its brother as the "best band in Dixie."

Preserving Mountain Ballads

Another of our freshmen, Dale Smith, one of the most promising of our new actives, has achieved one of the highest distinctions in being invited to the home of President McVey at the special request of Carl Sandburg, who is seeking material for a collection of mountain ballads. Dale is from Hindman, a close neighbor of our own Vest, and she is very much interested in the work that we in Delta Zeta are accomplishing there.

The Editorial Bow

I am just recovering from the thrill of initiation along with three other sisters who have progressed with me from pledgedom, Maxine Quinn, Helen Kingham, and Edna Baldwin.

Now all of us are bubbling over with pride of winning the loving cup at the state luncheon for having had the largest percentage of actives and alumnae present. The dance followed that night, and besides having marvelous music, we received a big surprise,—dancing until one A.M. It was quite welcomed and we felt rather grown-up getting to dance until that hour.

We have just installed new officers. Pearl Bartley has been so efficient in her office that we would not let her escape, so she is still our president.

"Stunt Day"

There are too many organizations on the campus petitioning to enter their stunts for Geneva Stunt Day, consequently a drawing was necessary. Alpha Nu was one of the lucky seven to get a number so now we are working quite hard on the stunt.

Pearl Bartley's stunt which she submitted for Woman's League of Voters was accepted, and will be presented on Stunt Day, so Delta Zeta will be doubly represented. Here is hoping we bring home the cup!

Activities Increased

I must not fail to mention that Pearl has been pledged to Chimes, an honorary junior society which is composed of the eight most prominent girls on the campus. Also Harriett

Kistner, Pearl Bartley, Lee Zwickle, and Martha Gowdy made Thespiis Club, a local honorary dramatic society. Alpha Nu has a large representation in this Club which may indicate that we have many promising stage stars. Pearl and Harriett played in the recent production of Harriett Kistner and Dorothy Duesenberg are members of Phi Delta Phi, an organization to promote good fellowship between organized and non-fraternity girls.

Elizabeth Evans, one of our pledges, was initiated in Scarf Club, an honorary freshman-sophomore club.

Everyone is looking forward to the May Day dance which will be followed a little later by the Junior Prom.

The chapter was pleased to have Miss Sabina T. Murray and her classmate as its callers. Although they were here only a few minutes, we were glad to know they thought of us.

"A Dizzy Dozen"

Did you all receive a valentine on February 14? We received twelve marvelous girls and maybe you think we aren't proud of them. We have some wonderful talent in our pledge chapter which is going to prove a great asset to Delta Zeta. One girl made the all-star Army and Navy basketball team; one has been chosen on the Freshman Commission, and several have made freshman players. Besides this, we have several talented pianists, good singers, and marvelous athletes.

Initiates-to-Be

The last week of April or the first week of May, we will hold initiation for four upper-class pledges. We are indeed glad to welcome Evelyn Erich, Janet Smith, Lillian Hare, and Edith King into our chapter.

They gave the actives a lovely Progressive Dinner party which ended with an entertainment at the home of one of the pledges.

Another memorable event was the Theta chapter formal. They were kind enough to ask our whole chapter over for it and everyone reported a good time.

We are now planning our spring informal for May 14. It is a sport dance and we expect it to go over with a bang.

Alpha Rho wants to take this opportunity to wish every Delta Zeta a happy summer vacation.

GAMMA CHAPTER

University of Minnesota

The envy of the campus!

First of all, I must tell you what is uppermost in the minds of all our girls. After much planning and a great deal more red tape we have actually started to build our new house, and are now looking forward to the pleasure of furnishing it. All the other sororities on the campus are talking about the new Delta Zeta house and are just green with envy, but they have a right to be envious as it will be the best looking sorority house on the campus. Pearl Soderberg, the chairman of our building committee, is going to give you all the details of the plans so I won't talk anymore about it.

Just now we are racking our brains trying to think of ways to make money, so if any of you have any suggestions I can assure you they will be more than welcome. We are planning a series of bridge teas and are having the first one next Saturday. We hope they will be as successful as the one Mrs. Whiting gave for us last month. Then, on May 21, we are having our "Hope Chest" Tea and have high aspirations of making even more than we did last year. I surely envy the girl that draws the hope chest as it is just full of the loveliest things.

Coming Social Events

We have made all arrangements to have our formal banquet at the Nicollet Hotel, May 28, which will be the fourth anniversary of our Founders' Day. Gertrude Whelander has completed the plans for the formal which will be held at the Interlachen Club, June 11.

Activities

We are very proud this year to have so many of our girls receive bids to the Matrix banquet which is given by Theta Sigma Phi, national journalistic sorority, as they invite only the most prominent girls on the campus. One of our seniors, Rauha Laulainen, a member of Theta Sig, was in charge of the discussions and three of our other girls who got bids were Katherine Kelly, Isabel Brown, and Pearl Soderberg.

Aileen Catlin, one of the pledges who is to be initiated this quarter, made the varsity basketball team as guard. Aileen is only a freshman, too, and an honor student at that, so maybe we're not proud of her. Christine Westgate, who will also be initiated this quarter, is our golf champion and we feel sure that she will make all the other players look like amateurs.

Besides these two girls, there are three other wonderful pledges that we plan to initiate in a week or so. We are very glad to know that these girls are going to be with us and hope that they will have as much pleasure as we have in working together for our University and for our sorority.

Yes, We Think So

Phi Beta Kappa has not sent out its spring bids, but we feel as if the whole chapter should be taken in since we won highest in sorority scholarship list, over fifteen competitors. Hurrah, we're off! Yes—off for more money from our alums; grads ought to open their pockets, eh wot?

Sight Unseen? Why?

You would all have been most proud of the sixteen we initiated last month. They are all so different and so interesting.

Name No Object

Another opera given by the Glee Clubs found our Mildred Bicklin as one of the soloists with Eloise Neuman and Marion Church chorus-ing. And Kitty Cole as accompanist made up at least half the show, not in quantity but in quality, you understand.

This is Better

Recently Linn Mathews and Virginia Van Sant were taken into Eta Sigma Phi, an honorary classical sorority of which Beulah Wooderson is already a member. Linn is to be publicity manager for the Classical Club for next year, besides playing her violin in University Orchestra.

Society Lights (Literary)

Martha Blaser, our treasurer, heads Whitby literary society, Bertha Tigges is its treasurer, Lois Cobb is vice-president of Hesperia, while Helen McLachlan is secretary of Erodolphian.

Adrianna Pease won first in the extemporaneous speaking contest, much to our delight and pride, as well as to her pocketbook, and Erodolphian's points!

Helen Cole was recently honored by election to Pi Lambda Theta, an honorary musical organization. She and Ruth Tamisea really ought to put their pins and badges into a trophy case to cover the south living-room wall!

Viola Naibert, our new president, will represent us on Panhellenic, will be president of that organization, and will consequently be on Student Council. Well!

Darlene Wiles upholds Delta Zeta honors on Y.W.C.A. Board. Vera

Hood is coaching another University High School Play with the usual pep (and excuses from fraternity meeting! Ha, Vera!)

Eels and Seals

In spring Seal tryouts Kathleen King was elected as one of the eleven new members. The Eel-Seal swimming revue held recently gave three Delta Zetas a long wanted opportunity to swim in the men's new 150 feet by 60 feet pool. Iowa is having the National A.A.U. swimming championships this spring in that very huge indoor pool. But to continue, Loretta Cusack was elected to represent Seals on W.A.A. Board as head of swimming, making the third Delta Zeta on the board, since the same old treasurer and head of finance hold forth despite as well as because of recent elections.

'S that a' right?

NU CHAPTER

Lombard College

A hive of bees is nothing in comparison to the busy Nu chapter of Delta Zeta. We buzz like real workers doing credit to a Delta Zeta hive, and have had a terrible time keeping up with the marriages and births along with making money for the house and last but not least, the social activities.

And Any Bride Would Love It!

Our house has been a constant inspiration to the active chapter and without it, we might have lacked enthusiasm when we were called upon to aid in making the much needed money. We are mighty proud of our home and we consider it an honor to have its picture in THE LAMP.

We have seen Ludella Malcolm and Forrest E. Kellar, Lombard Sigma Nu, embark upon the sea of matrimony February 11, 1927; also Alice McCreary, who has robbed a perfectly good chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha by marrying Russell Malcolm, April 16, 1927.

Attention, Rush Captain of 1945!

We succeeded in depriving the Phi Delts of a pledge when little Joyce Louise Tilden was born January 31,

NU'S NEW LODGE

1927, daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Tilden (Wanda Tapp); Lois Winifred Paine, daughter to Opal Bradfield Payne, was born March 7, 1927, and Helen Katherine Bryngelson, daughter to Mrs. Edith Dopp Bryngelson, born March 21. We would like to ask Eta chapter to help us out in this problem. Mrs. John D. Barrows is Nu chapter's "Big Sister." Is her little daughter, born December 9, 1926, a sister to the actives of Eta or a niece to the actives of Nu?

Dawn Initiation

A beautiful initiation ceremony was held Sunday, March 27, at 4:00 A.M., during the time the moon went down and the sun rose, this being the time we find most impressive. The girls who wore the rose and green bow include: Rosellyn Kelly, Altoona, Illinois; Evelyn Beamer, Mishawaka, Indiana; Maxine Jones, London Mills, Illinois; Katherine Weiman, Galesburg, Illinois; Lois Hart, Galesburg, Illinois, and Marie Holmes, Wataga, Illinois.

Congratulations, Independents

Oh yes, Delta Zeta didn't come out first in the intersorority basketball tournament but they played some wonderful games. Under Ethelyn Kelly, the captain, the team had to play well. They lost only two games and came out third in the tournament. Last year with "Murph" (now of Iota chapter) as our star player we came out first so we have one banner hanging in the house, but we wanted another so badly. The last game played which decided the championship was a hard fought game, and we lost by a score of 2 to 1. I wonder what the editor of Iota chapter thought of the game. How was it, Aileen? Aileen happened to be in Galesburg at the time and saw the last game.

Troubadour Days

Three of our girls, Juanita Kelly, Harriette Glickson and Harriette Searles, our Delta Zeta trio, earned $110 ($45.00 in one week!) since school started by giving concerts in neighboring towns, Mrs. Francis Wilson (Fern Riley, Epsilon) and her husband, a Sigma Nu, making this possible. Perhaps you will enjoy a picture of these warblers.

Patronesses Entertain

On April 2, the patronesses entertained the alumnae, actives and pledges at a most enjoyable one o'clock luncheon at the Elks' Club. The food was delicious, decorations charming, and for favors they gave gay little colored voile handkerchiefs. Our patronesses are a great help to us in everything we do.

The chapter is now making plans for the spring party which is to be you might all drop down out of the clouds upon our campus these glorious days. You would find one enthusiastic group of Delta Zetas, just bubbling over with the joy of living. This kind of weather would give pep to a box of Post toasties, so you can well imagine our "veal and jiggor." There is only one thing that dulls our love for spring, and that is the knowledge that we will soon be losing our beloved seniors. We have five

A few alumnae, after Pi's 10th birthday dinner. The fierce daggers are the favors from the Pledge pirate party held May 21. This is always a sort of a rushing party and all the committees are hard at work planning in every way to make it a big success.

Art Honorary Elects

Four of our girls have been initiated into Lambda Phi Delta, the honorary fine arts sorority at Lombard. They are Harriette Glickson, Lois Hart, and Helen Bjorling, '29, and Frances Bjorling, '27.

The Inevitables

Jonquils, roller skates, flashy sweaters, engagements, spring! We wish

Delta Zetas who will receive their degrees in June, and that startling fact almost brings tears. You would weep, too, if you might know our Betty Cleaver, Margaret DeVol, Lucille Payne, Geneva Safford, and Mary Louise Darnell. They are five excellent reasons why Delta Zeta is the best fraternity to be found. An earlier issue of THE LAMP contained detailed descriptions of these girls' achievements upon this campus, and there remains only to say, that it would be difficult to find five sweeter, more loyal, finer girls than these who are proud to wear the lamp over their hearts.

With spring there also comes elections. Up to date only one prominent election has been held, and that is the Y.W.C.A. Cabinet. Delta Zeta is excellently represented this year. Ruth Rothenburger, '29, and Alice Anthony, '29, are secretary and treasurer respectively, while Judith Wetzel, '30, Dorothy Maxwell, '30, and Harriet Campbell, '30, will serve next year as chairmen of different committees. Judith Wetzel was elected freshman representative to the "Woman's Council," and Harriet Campbell was one of five freshmen chosen to belong to the honorary English Club.

Just now we of Pi chapter are filled with plans for our spring formal. Sh! It's a secret, so if you won't tell, we might whisper a bit about it. The North Shore Country Club at Chillicothe has been chartered for the evening of May 6, and it is there that our dinner dance is to be held. Our best adjectives seem hardly sufficient to describe the clubhouse, and our favors are to be bridge decks, in leather cases with the menu, place cards, and program all in one, and on the back of every card is the Delta Zeta crest! The problem will be trying not to want the favors for ourselves!

May Fête Next

Upon Eureka campus, a very interesting May fête is being planned. Marjorie Kesler, '28, is chairman for the entire production, while Mary Louise Darnell, '27, is acting as publicity chairman, and Eva Thompson, '29, heads the finance committee. As the freshmen and sophomore gym classes are putting on the dances, practically all our pledges and new initiates will take part. A May queen is to be voted for at some later date, and we think—

Helen Didn't Tell Us

How proud we are of our new president. Helen Cleaver, '28. She holds the high scholarship record for women on the campus.

The Editor Enjoyed This

Just a word about how the new initiates enjoyed their first LAMP. We, for one, just dropped into an easy chair, without bothering to remove our coat, and read so steadily that we didn't even hear the luncheon bell. What a strange thing it is, for just a few short months ago we had never heard of Delta Zeta, and now we are so devoted to it that we actually devour every item that comes within reach. Now that we find ourselves contributing to THE LAMP, and feel that we have our own little bit to do, we are bound more closely than ever. So, for this time, we bid you a fond adieu, and will be with you again soon.

TAU CHAPTER

University of Wisconsin

(Too late for headings, G.M.L.)

When I started to write this letter the thing which sang itself over and over in my mind was that we had just initiated nineteen girls. Of course, we liked them as pledges and raved about them to you no end in that rôle, but if you could see them as actives I know you would feel as we do that we hadn't said half enough nice things. I wish we were having a convention here so that we could show them off to you right away.

Two of our initiates are already members of Freshman Commission—Suzanne Marting and Peggy Charters. Lorna Snyder does a great deal of Y.W. work and several of the others have minor duties in both Y.W. and S.G.A. I wonder if all chapters follow the practice we do in requiring an outside activity for an initiation requirement?

After hearing about the scholarship cup which will be given again this year in convention I can't help bragging a little about two of our own girls. Fran Gore made a straight Ex average last semester, and, as might be expected after that, was elected to Phi Beta Kappa last week. Harriet Running was elected to Omicron Nu, honorary home economics sorority, a little while ago.

Edith McCollister, who has sung her way into the hearts of almost everyone on the campus, has been pledged to Sigma Alpha Iota, musical sorority. We also have four out of twelve members on the university Y.W. cabinet. Esther Higgins is in charge of finance; Elise Roberts, world fellowship; Lorna Snyder, vespers, and June Deadman, membership. They say it is the first time that one sorority has ever had more than two at one time, so, of course, we feel pretty proud with four there.

That is all about individual members. Now what about Tau as a whole? First, because it is most recent, our spring formal. We had the usual "perfectly grand" time at a dinner dance at the Park Hotel. That is taken for granted, but you may be interested in knowing that for the first time in several years we did not give favors and no one seemed to miss them. Also, the party out of the house, strange as it may seem, was not as expensive as it has been in former years when it has been given here. That may not work out the same in all college towns, but it is worth at least investigation, I think. And then think of getting rid of all the mess of decorating, and moving furniture out only to have to move it back, and cleaning up the decorations, etc. We were allowed to use decorations at the hotel but it was much less bother even to carry them down there and put them up than to take care of them here.

The next big social event is our annual faculty reception. Until last year we had it in the evening with very formal clothes required, but a Sunday afternoon affair last year proved so successful that it is being duplicated next week. So from three to six we will be waiting for our favorite professors to come in the door so that we can find out what their particular hobbies are or where they studied and all the rest of the things that you all wonder about your own instructors.

I hope it won't sound too mournful to say this. Last letters or words, last anythings are always apt to sound at least a little sad. But you know there are a lot of us who will not be back next year. Nineteen of Tau's girls are graduating. Some from every chapter will be gone, and probably as many of them as of us are undecided as to where they will be. Let's look for each other next year. Wouldn't it be grand to find someone with something in common as fine as Delta Zeta, especially if you were in a perfectly strange town? And so my complimentary close is going to be just to seniors.

Until I see you in Kokomo, Indiana, or Reading, Pennsylvania, next year,

UPSILON CHAPTER

Thrills A-Plenty

Excitement runs high these days—not only on the campus, but also at our own house. Bids will be called for the U.N.D.'s new stadium in a few days—and contracts are soon to be given for Upsilon's new chapter house. We are all very much thrilled over the prospect of coming back to a new home in which we may do our fall rushing. Won't we have gorgeous parties after this?—and aren't you almost green-eyed to think that you can't have it.

New Lamps

Delta Zeta lamps are burning over the hearts of seven new actives: Esther Campbell, '29; Lillian Gorder, '29; Cora Mae Hanson, '29; Lorraine Heltne, '28; Marian Hilden, '29; Hazel Nelson, '29; and Angela Sweeney, '28. The freshman pledges are not feeling too deserted because four new pledges have been added to their ranks: Marcia Bowman, '29; Helen Hamilton, '29; Velma Hermance, '29; and Nevada Windemuth, '28.

Upsilon's Birthday

Alumnæ, actives, and pledges observed Founders' Day, March 2, with a formal banquet. "Our New House" formed the center for the toasts given by Karleen Home, Valborg Oslund, Corinne Pederson, and Kathleen Bolstad, who described the Delta Zeta's new home, and the girls who will be a part of it.

Terpsichoreans

Honorable mention was awarded our act in the Flickertail Follies, an annual university production sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity. "A Terpsichorean Potpourri" was evolved from "The Japanese Sandman" and "Indian Love Call." A chorus of dancers with a solo dance by Doris Rathje, a pledge, carried out these two songs which were sung by our famous chorus. "Collegiate Capers," a mixture of the Rye Waltz, the Merry Widow Waltz, the Charleston, and the latest steps, was performed by Hazel Nelson and Alice V. Johnson.

Two Delta Zetas are to give senior graduating recitals this year from Wesley College Conservatory of Music. Alice J. Johnson, '29, will give hers in piano, and Clara Nygaard, '23, will graduate from the voice department.

Election "Returns" Pleasing

Alice Flaatt, who graduates during summer school, has just been initiated into Pi Lambda Theta, national honorary scholastic fraternity.

Valborg Oslund, a member of Dakota Playmakers, has been initiated into National Collegiate Players, honorary dramatic fraternity. She is also the only junior in that group.

Katherine Bolstad, a junior, has been elected president of the Geography Club of the university.

We are especially proud of our seniors this year—all are prominent on the university campus in some line of activity, some even in two. Public speaking, dramatics, music, journalism, home economics, and Y.W.C.A. work are some of the fields conquered by our senior Delta Zetas.

ALPHA ALPHA CHAPTERNorthwestern University*"Castle-in-the-Air" Realized

All of the eyes of Alpha Alpha chapter are turned in one direction at the present time. The object of our scrutiny, and incidentally the pride of our hearts, is the new chapter house. The builders have reached only the second story in actual construction, but we, in our flights of imagination, have the structure capped with a roof and furnished in true princely—or princessly—fashion.

We have the added confidence of knowing that our mothers are as enthusiastic as we in contemplating the new house. They are truly organized now, and held their first meeting at the home of Mrs. Morin of Wilmette, Illinois, the mother of Vivienne Morin, '26. They have already made an effort to swell our house fund by co-operating in a demonstration held by one of our local manufacturers. The active chapter has made efforts of this kind, too, consisting of a rummage sale and a benefit performance at one of the Evanston theaters. The rummage sale proved extremely profitable, and we are planning to give another within the next week.

Myrtle Olson, Margaret Renwick, Virginia Vanderburg, Alice Tiplady, and Joy Tibbetts will all appear in the W.A.A. show, a musical presentation which is given every year. The rest of the chapter will be in the audience watching the girls perform.

Visits from the N.V.P.

We were all happy to have Lois Higgins with us at the formal dinner-dance we held at the Illinois Woman's Athletic Club this year. It was a great success, thanks to the efforts of Alice Mulder, our social chairman. Miss Higgins has been especially good to us this semester, as she our northern weather will but favor us with sunshine.

Jolly-Farmer

Oh yes! we have lost one of our members since last we wrote to you. Cupid's bow and quiver are responsible for the losing of our former Marjorie Farmer to Mr. John Jolly of Chicago, Illinois.

Among the names on our list of pledges are the recently written ones of Helen Buendert, Mildred Moench, Naomi Munsen, and Nancy Jane Cochrane. They are the pride of the chapter, and we repeat in thought if not in word of mouth, "May we have many more like them."

brightly and we're mighty proud of our new members. Our initiation was over at 4:00 A.M. Afterwards we surely enjoyed the rolls and milk but even more, of course, our formal initiation banquet Sunday a few hours later. We all got a big surprise during the dinner when Irene Jones announced her engagement.

Our Athletes

Evelyn Nelson was recently elected vice-president of W.A.A. And not to be forgotten among our athletes are Ruth Evans who made the volley ball team with Grayce Leach, Mira Voelkel and Hertha Bowman leading the list of the basketball team of W.A.A. Hertha, also, was chosen for membership to W.A.A.

Other Activities

Eleanor Schweitzer, our president for the coming year, made First Cabinet of Y.W.C.A. and our efficient Mabel Piety made Second Cabinet.

Oh yes, Evelyn Cox was recently elected president of Anonian, national literary society, and Gervaise Kappus was initiated into Sigma Delta Phi, national public speaking fraternity. Then, too, Gladys Warner gained membership to Phi Upsilon Omicron, national professional home economics fraternity.

A New Idea

We were lucky, too, at an Inter-Illinae party of the six sororities who were invited, we won a new cup for perfect attendance.

We were so sorry to lose Irene Jones and Helen Topping for the rest of the year but we trust they can return next fall.

Our most interesting senior function, for the girls, is Lantern Night. All the women of the university meet on the hills overlooking our athletic field for a picnic supper. At this time the Freshman class presents its annual pageant, a very beautiful affair, the nature of which is kept secret until the time for presentation. After this the athletic sweaters are awarded.

As night closes in, all the other women form, by classes, in a double line, making our letter M. The seniors, in their caps and gowns, carry lighted Japanese lanterns, and the juniors flower-trimmed hoops. When the M is complete, the juniors pass their hoops to the sophomores, and receive the lanterns from the seniors. The ceremony closes with singing the "Yellow and Blue," our college song. It invariably rains at this time, but nothing can detract from the beauty of the occasion.

Our New Chapter House

The entire Zeta chapter is much excited over the new house. The plans have been submitted and to the approval of all of us. Our new house is to be built English style, the lower part to be grey stone with the upper part of stucco with half timbers. The basement is to contain the dining-room, kitchen, maid's room and chapter room. There will be a library, music room, living-room and matron's room and bath on the first floor. The second and third floors will be arranged to accommodate thirty-six girls. There was quite a scurry in the house the day the alumnae brought the plans for us to look over.

More Honors

Our chapter is quite proud of the attainments of some of the girls. Helen Eastman has been elected to both the Y.W.C.A. Cabinet and the Big Sister Advisory Board. Helen has been doing similar work this year and has done so well with it that everyone was especially glad to see her get these positions. Arline Turnbull was initiated into Gamma Alpha Chi, the national advertising sorority. Only a few received this honor, which makes us all the prouder of Arline. Blanche Stevens was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, and of course we are all glad to have a Phi Beta Kappa in our group. We are mighty proud of Blanche. She received her degree last semester, and is now at her home in Beaver City.

ETA GIRLS AND MOTHER HORRELL

Louise Scott. Blanche Stevens, Wilma Perry, and Janice Betz left us at the beginning of this semester. We hate to see them go, but it seems to be a natural consequence after four years of college. Really the worst part about it is that they won't have a chance of living in our new house. We initiated eight girls into Zeta chapter the night of the twenty-fifth, or rather the morning of the twenty-sixth. It surely seems good to have them as actives, but of course they can't yet take the place of those who are leaving us.

(Too late for headings, G.M.L.)

Eta had a spring house party, April 8 to 10, and several of the alumnae were present. We entertained twenty-five lovely girls and have a number on our list for fall rushing.

Our most delightful entertainment was the collegiate party. The reception rooms were cleverly decorated in true collegiate style, and punch was served from a keg. Spanish dances and music, together with bridge, provided the entertainment.

Breakfast "Underneath a Bough," a pajama party enlivened by serenades, and a trip picture-hunting completed the party.

A coat of French gray and silver paper has been added to the dining-room and the west window has been moved to admit more light so that the appearance is light and cheery.

On April 18 we were all summoned to the dining-room for a "feed," and upon looking inside the miniature gates which formed the place cards, we saw Cupid holding the announcement of Evelyn Warner's engagement to Howard Bonnett. While we were still seated at the table, the Zeta Chis, Howard's fraternity, came and serenaded. Evelyn, '27, is a member of Alpha Delta Sigma, Baker's honorary scholastic fraternity.

Four of our girls, Evelyn and Lucille Warner, Laura Parker, and Angeline Wilson, are members of the Girls' Glee Club, and Betty Frances Wheeler, '27, is reader for the Men's Glee Club.

We are regretting the loss of seven of our senior girls—Anne Painter, Evelyn Warner, Mary Brown, Nola Marple, Betty Frances Wheeler, Vera Parsley, and Mildred Carder—who are being graduated this spring.

We have received the announcement that Eta of Delta Zeta is the winner of the scholarship cup of Baker University for the first semester.

Spring time—moonlight, serenades! And oh, my, isn't it hard to study—even the proctor herself is tempted to moon-gaze.

We have been so busy this past year and have had our work, our fun and our dreams. All of these elements mixed together have made our school year like a nice smooth, fluffy cake, baked brown, and decorated.

Cakes in order to rise nicely must have the right leavening agent, and we have that for sure. Our girls have just about carried the honors in W.A.A. this year. Eunice Walker, '27, is captain of the senior basketball team, and has won two more chevrons for her sweater. Elizabeth Hartly, a pledge, has made sophomore basketball, hockey and volleyball teams, and has won her Purple Pepsters recognition, though only a sophomore. Elizabeth also made the varsity team in volleyball. Margaret Canham, '30, won the K.S.A.C. girls' swimming championship in the intramural meets, broke two records, and won a beautiful silver loving cup. Alice Beeler, '29, and Dorothy Agnes Eadie, '30, were chosen for the Messiah, and Alice Beeler will have a prominent part in the spring operetta. We are eagerly awaiting the honor and grade lists, which have not yet appeared.

We are so proud of our number of sisters on the faculty, and we have added another with the initiating of Miss Jean Dobbs, B.S.M.S. and R.N. Jean is an instructor in sanitation and public health in the home economics department of the college, and we were so happy to add her name to our chapter roll, and see her wearing our badge.

Miss Araminta Holman is our new big sister, and Renna Rosenthal is our Alumna representative in the local Panhellenic Association. We do so appreciate the advice and aid that they and Bernice Flemming have given us this year. I will tell you a secret about Bernice: she is planning to be married this fall.

As for decorations, our patronesses are helping us plan a new home, and entertained with a lovely, two-session bridge party for us in February, and made it a huge success. In March we entertained with a two-day house and slumber party, and have as a result two new pledges, Elizabeth Hartley and Helen Morse.

We have six senior girls going out from the chapter this year, and we hate to see them graduate, but we are proud to have them go out into the world, where their little gold lamps will forever shine, guiding younger girls into our midst by the glowing radiance of the diamond flame of Delta Zeta.

Spring Vacation Fun

There has been much talking and planning for this particular time as we are having our annual spring house party in the mountains, beginning Thursday, April 14, at an adorable cabin located in Colorado's own beautiful mountains at Starbuck. Our time will be spent in hiking, horse-back riding and dancing.

Mixed Activities

We hold midnight initiation services on Friday, March 4, beginning at twelve o'clock and finishing at 5:00 A.M., Saturday morning. This was one of the most thrilling initiation services we have ever had, and the following girls are now proudly exhibiting their new Delta Zeta pins: Elizabeth Hickman, Windsor, Colorado; Lois Baldwin, Cañon City, Colorado; Maybelle Pillar, Denver; Sarah Sheldon, Denver; Lucy Helmer, La Junta, Colorado; Gracie Fern Latimer, Higgins, Texas, and Mabel Edgren, Oskaloosa, Iowa. The banquet honoring the initiates was held that evening followed by a dance given by the initiates and pledges in honor of the actives.

Dramatic Club recently held their spring pledging when Gladys Hall, '27, and Mabel Edgren, '29, were pledged to this club.

Our annual spring dinner dance, to be held May 20, at Mt. Vernon Country Club, is being eagerly awaited. Mt. Vernon Country Club is situated at the mouth of Bear Creek Canyon overlooking the picturesque park of the Red Rocks. This is a sport dress dance and our most thrilling dance of the year.

Four Years a Foursome

Lois McKnight, the president of our chapter for the past year and noted for her Southern accent, is one of our girls who are graduating. She was president of W.A.A. this year and on the Women's Student Council and Student Association. Wilma James, president of Big Sisters and a member of Kedros; Eleanor Letts, president of Y.W. and on Student Council; Helen Moe, member of the school quartet and Spanish Club; Sylvia Morrow, captain of senior basketball team and on Women's Student Council, and Louise Dawley, member of Psychology Club and assistant in psychology, are all graduating this year. A strange coincidence is that four of these girls who are graduating were pledged together and all of these four are engaged.

We are proud to announce three new pledges, Mildred Whitaker, Doris Kavalac and Eleanor Cox, all of Denver.

Additions to the Chapter

Several girls were initiated at the end of the winter quarter: Esther Hiltner, Ella Hiltner and Eunice King. There will be another group ready for initiation at the end of the year.

Bee Joseph-Sidal and Lois Pierson returned to school this quarter, and Velma Cottle will be back in another week. She has been teaching, so is enrolling late.

We have a new pledge, Minnie Harbison, of whom we are all very proud. Minnie is a sophomore in home economics.

Parties for Ourselves

Three of the active girls entertained the chapter with a dinner on George Washington's birthday. We had the cleverest little George and Martha Washington favors.

The chapter also had a lovely St. Patrick's dinner. The pledges entertained the members on this occasion and we were all jolly St. Pats together.

Velma McIntire and Katherine Van Velzer have been away on the Glee Club tour. They report a splendid trip.

Some of the alumnae girls to visit us this month were Doris Bollinger, Vera Vandenburg, Cata Farris and Ernestine Thurman. Ernestine gave us a lovely new picture for our living-room. We surely appreciate their beautiful gifts, and are always glad to have the alumnae girls visit us. We are expecting a number of them to be with us during the state inter-scholastic meet the first week in May.

Alpha Epsilon extends heartiest wishes to all for a delightful vacation.

Winter term examinations are over, and as Dr. Schevill, visiting professor from the University of California, said, "We have never seen such sunshine nor heard so many birds." So many went home between winter and spring terms that there were only three of us left in the house, but we held things down so that when the rest came back, we were all ready for a week of rushing. It was all informal, but we are very enthusiastic over our new pledge, Gene Coyner, sophomore, 3108 West Avenue, Austin.

Olympian Days Renewed

A recent bit of excitement on the University of Texas campus was a re-enactment of the old Spartan Olympian games in the form of the third annual Texas Relays. Athletes from many of the best universities and colleges over the country, including six Indian runners—three men and three women—from Mexico, participated. The Indian men ran a distance of eighty-nine miles from San Antonio to Austin, and the women ran twenty-six miles. They brought all their food with them, and in spite of their being entertained in our best hotel, they would only sit on the floor and eat their mashed corn!

"Majoring" in Delta Zeta

We are looking forward to April 16 when we shall initiate Ardis Melarky and Manette Jennings. With initiation coming, new officers to be installed, and province convention near, we feel like stopping everything else for Delta Zeta.

Seniors Honored

During the second week in April most of the organizations on our campus will hold their elections for the following year. Cap and Gown, an organization among senior girls, held its last initiation for the year on April 1, and Ruth Gray, one more of our seniors, was initiated.

Extra! Late Edition!

Phi Beta Kappa has just elected, and we have one Delta Zeta on the list. Since the installation of this chapter, we have always been represented in the yearly Phi Beta Kappa elections, and the loyal sister who upholds our standard this year is Alma Wood of Center, Texas. Alma gets her degree in June and for the past year has been treasurer. Best Foot First!

We approach our first letter to THE LAMP with fear and trembling, because we just know we will forget some important item, and then, Zowie!—"Please send in your five-dollar fine." However, we have searched all the issues of THE LAMP for this year and are faithfully trying to fulfill all instructions. Alpha Psi has no chapter house and no girls on the staff of the yearbook, so we cannot send these snapshots. We do have a very distinguished senior, though, and under separate cover I am sending a picture of her and her little girl, Peggy Lou. She is Mrs. A. C. Wilson, member of the Dallas Penwomen, the Texas League of American Penwomen, the Dallas Women's Club, the S.M.U. Education Club, secretary-treasurer of the S.M.U. History and Political Science Club, and despite all these activities is an honor graduate with an average grade of B plus.

Alpha Psi has two other bright and shining lights who have received special recognition since our last letter to THE LAMP. Alice Darby Smith has been elected secretary of the Senior class, and Mary Bateman was recently elected secretary of Y.W.C.A. Our other editor has told you of the activities of the other girls, I believe.

Joke? No Joke?

Really, this isn't as bad as we thought it would be, for so many interesting thoughts keep crowding in upon us that we can hardly write them fast enough. We had another candy pull at Vera Greer's. Mary Lamar told you about the first one in the January issue of THE LAMP. These pledges also ran away, and ran away so far that we almost failed to find them. We paid them in full, though, by bribing a traffic cop (bribing him with eats from the party) to arrest them. Then, quite importantly, we bailed them out and put them through their stunts. They weren't quite so "pert" for several days after their "jailing."

"If This Be Treason—"

Alpha Psi developed a remarkable group of "Thespians" for our annual intersorority vaudeville show, "Powder and Patches." We burlesqued a Publix show, "A Garden of Dreams." In the Publix unit a little girl entered a garden and after wandering around and looking at the statues, went to sleep. Then the statues woke up and danced. We called our act "A Stable of Dreams." The little girl (about five feet eight inches tall) came in, pulling a donkey after her (the two girls who took the part of the donkey did extremely well; in fact, everyone said they were quite suited to the part), set her alarm clock and went to sleep. Then a flower girl danced (if you could call it that) and scattered onions, carrots and radishes instead of roses. A toe dancer followed the flower girl but she never could manage to get up on her toes so she finally gave up. Then the adagio dancers fell all over each other. Finally the Indian warrior stalked over to the little girl, raised her ax—and the alarm went off. The actors again became statues and the “baby” woke up. We cannot begin to describe the costumes and setting (one part of which consisted of a fountain draped in burlap—a girl fountain), but we think you imagine how they looked.

Sisters from Afar

On March 1 we entertained with a dinner, honoring Mrs. McMillon of the University of Ohio and Portia Cooper of the University of Illinois. [Only Portia's an Epsilonian, Ruby! G.M.L.] We were quite glad to have these visiting Delta Zetas with us.

Spring's Mixed Joys

This is April, and so I suppose every one of you has the same malady as we Californians. It's really a shame to be afflicted with a case of spring fever and still have the usual mobs and mobs of work which generally seems to have accumulated by the end of the term. It is only a few weeks now and one more semester will be completed, which of course has its pleasant considerations; but something that isn't quite so nice is the inevitable farewell to our seniors! We have to lose a good many this year, and needless to say we shall feel very much “lost” at the beginning of next semester.

Campus Festivities

On March 26 the Prytanean Honor Society sponsored their annual spring fête, which took place in Harmon gym. The fête is always considered one of the most important of campus functions, and is entirely carried out by the women of the university. Working on one of their committees is very interesting and loads of fun. The gym is decorated to represent some colorful scene, usually of some oriental nature, and the women all dress up in costumes especially designed for the particular scene. There are all sorts of concessions, dancing, of course, and a “generally good time.” I can't really explain adequately, but if you are ever in Berkeley about the middle of March some spring, don't fail to go, because you will surely enjoy it.

Another prominent women's activity is the participation in the annual spring pageant, the Partheneia. This is another very colorful affair held in Faculty Glade, which makes a perfect setting for this beautiful pantomime portrayal. Most of the underclassmen of the houses go out for it as an activity, and the two performances given are always well attended.

Chapter Parties Too

As for functions in the house, our tea and spring formal were the most important. The tea was held March 18, and the house was decorated in spring blossoms and flowers. Everything went off splendidly, of course, and the formal that same night was a great success also—at least we all enjoyed ourselves anyway.

This coming Wednesday night, April 6, the Ax rally is to be held in the Greek Theater. As is gen-papers and those lesser joys of campus life. Best luck to the coming year, and in the meantime may you all have the happiest of vacations!

erally the custom, we are having a buffet supper before it, which is to be a sort of a rush function. If the rally turns out as well as usual, we should certainly make it a success.

Then Thursday night is our senior banquet, and of course we are all wondering who and how many of our illustrious seniors will announce their engagements! That is always looked forward to and forms the basis for much speculation beforehand. We hope the seniors will not disappoint us; and in return we hope to give them a wonderful party.

And now I must get back to term fornia. We are happy to have them as Delta Zeta sisters. Last Wednesday we had a rush bridge tea at the house which was entirely arranged by these four. We see some excellent future social chairmen.

In Apache Motif

Last month we had an Apache dance at the chapter house. Everything was quite in keeping with the Apache motif. We had a bar and served cider. On the walls were futuristic drawings made by two of our girls, Lois Huse and Beata Giddings. The windows were covered with burlap and the light came from candles stuck in empty bottles—quite in keeping, indeed. We entered by crawling up a ladder to a window. Everyone was dressed in typical Bowery outfits, and everyone had a wonderful time. Lois Huse, our social chairman, and now our president, has made all our social affairs very successful.

Social Calendar

On April 3 we are having a tea in honor of our housemother, Mrs. Olive B. Ware, and on April 23 we are having our annual spring formal at the Westport Beach Club. April 30 is the date set for a benefit bridge tea to be given by our Delta Zeta Mothers' Club.

Campus Honors

But having teas and dances isn't all we do, although it may sound as is very prominent on the campus, being society editor of the Trojan, our daily newspaper; second vice-president of Pi Sigma, educational sorority; scholarship chairman of Sigma Omicron, home economics sorority; a member of Press Club; a contributor to the Wampus, our humorous publication; Panhellenic representative, and our newly elected chapter vice-president.

Mary Andersen is a member of the women's debate team. Florence Galentine is secretary of Quill Club, a member of Press Club, a reporter on the Trojan, and a member of Alpha Phi Epsilon, national honorary literary sorority.

The New and the Old

Elections in the chapter were held last Monday evening and Alpha Iota is happy to announce among its new officers for the coming year: president, Lois Huse; vice-president, Mabel Russell; secretary, Kathryn Green, rush chairman, Helen Hessick, and Alice King White is our associate "big sister."

We presented our retiring president, Frances Johnson, with a gavel bearing the Delta Zeta crest and her name, in appreciation of her splendid work and inspiration. We wish the best of success to all new officers and to our Delta Zeta sisters.

Those Exclusive Seniors

There have been so many nice parties for the senior girls. Marion Quigley, '27, and Grace Hester, '27, were hostesses at a bridge tea. I was not there, not being a senior, and they wouldn't even let me in as a reporter, so this is just what I have heard. It was a lovely party, carried out in yellow and lavender, and at each place was a corsage of a yellow daffodil and maiden-hair fern.

Florence Osgood, '27, was hostess to a party and it was very lovely.

Helen Martin gave a delightful party at her beach cabin. Everything was carried out in a rustic manner, because the cabin is nice and rustic.

The alumnae are going to give them a party, but it won't be until after school because every week seems to be full. I'll surely be glad when I am a senior and can go to all these wonderful parties given all in my honor.

Kappa Looks Ahead

Spring quarter has begun. The scholarship chairman might be quite elated to be on the sleeping-porch at six o'clock of a sunny morning to see the number of little Delta Zetas who are up with the birds. But a sight of the tennis courts and golf links at half-past six would quell any delusions that she might have. And the afternoons when the house is deserted might also edify her with thoughts of the library. But a glance at the lake with the swimmers and canoeists and the bridle paths would soon relieve her of any hope in that direction. Notice, however, that I say the scholarship chairman might—she doesn't, because she's on the golf links, too!

There are two things that have happened indoors, though. Election of officers placed Margaret Cartano in the president's chair, and we are sure that her year of experience as vice-president and pledge supervisor will make her a worthy incumbent. The rest of the officers are trying out their new harness and expect to be pulling together well in a short time.

And plans are already under way for the Eta province convention at which Kappa and the Seattle alumnae chapters are to be hostesses. We are working to rival the convention held in Portland two years ago which is still being talked of.

Last quarter's grades have not come in yet, but when they do, we expect to initiate several more of this year's children to join the eight taken in last quarter.

I suppose that with frequent tonic doses of golf, tennis, swimming, riding and canoeing we will be able to survive the next lazy quarter without actually succumbing to that fatal malady, spring fever. I hope that the rest of you do.

PHI CHAPTER

Washington State College

Of Many Things

We girls of Phi chapter are very happy just now over the initiation of seven new members; they are Regina Cooper, Clela Cooper, Zora Cooper, Aloise Schroller, Margaret Knoell, Helen McCall and Clarice Pittman. We had a sort of rough week before initiation, but we are gradually get-

ONE, TWO, THREE CHI GIRLS

An interview with the Chi editor of the "Lamp," who really feels more at home in musical circles than in literary channels, but is ready to try anything once or even more if it is interesting.

The Kruse sisters. Genevieve, (left) just initiated, is on the regular editorial and managerial staff of the "Orange Owl." She was on the general business staff of its Coed issue. Florence (right) a Junior is section editor of organizations on the "Beaver" staff (our college year book). She was on the editorial staff of this Coed Number of the "Orange Owl" and is in the regular staff and is on the editorial staff of the student directory.

(Left) Hollis Swingle who was just initiated, is in the circulation department of the O.A.C. Directory. I am sending Hollis's song that she wrote for the first meeting after she was initiated. Harriet Jensen (right) was on the general business staff of the Coed issue of the "Orange Owl." She is a member of Spurs, (national honorary for Sophomore girls), which has just been installed at O.A.C.

On the evening of March 26 we entertained the faculty at our annual Modern Writers' Formal. We had as our speaker a new professor of the English department, who spoke on "The Shoreline of Modern Poetry." We were very much pleased that everyone seemed to enjoy him because this is one of the most important social events of our year.

Our formal which is to be held April 30 is occupying quite a bit of our attention just now. This will be our first formal and we are anxious to make it a success.

We were very proud last month when nine of our girls received invitations to the annual Matrix Table, given by Theta Sigma Phi. They were Jessie Earl, '27; Helen Sennes, '27; Clela Cooper, '27; Vera Thompson, '28; Leora Saylor, '28; Aloise Schroller, '28; Zora Cooper, '29; Helen McCall, '29, and Regina Cooper.

Dorothy Williams of Chi chapter was here at Washington State last month for a debate and stayed at the house for one day. We certainly enjoyed having her here and are hoping to see more of her in the future.

CHI CHAPTER

Oregon Agricultural College

Election: Pledging: Initiation

It's the beginning of spring term, hooray! And we are ready for new work. We have a new set of officers which we are very happy to announce as they are carrying out their duties most successfully so far. Yes, and very important is our new big sister, Helen Ogden Marker. She is taking the place of Zelta Fieke Rodenwold who because of her long and faithful work with us deserves a little rest.

We have three new pledges: Helen Jessen, '30, who made a straight A average last term; Vivia Gambero, '30; Vivian Shriver, '29. Helen Jessen is very active in athletics, having just won in an all-college swimming meet. Vivian Shriver is busy on the Orange Owl staff, and Vivia Gambero is a girl who works silently but gets a lot done.

One of the most thrilling events of the year was initiation on the evening of March 11. That Friday night Dorothy Farley, Helen Hamilton, Hollis Swingle, Katherine Peetz and Genevieve Kruse were initiated. We are so proud of our new members that we show them off at every chance. They surely gave us some good songs at their first chapter meeting. I think that perhaps the other girls might like them, too, so I'm sending a taste of what they are like in Hollis Swingle's words to the tune of "Tipperary."

Ruby is a Jewel!

Miss Ruby Long, our province president, came to visit us on February 21, and we surely do like her. Two of our new pledges had the honor of being pledged on Washington's Birthday at our model pledging for Miss Long. On the night of Miss Long's arrival we gave our formal dance at one of the clubs in Corvallis, the College Gardens, and it was a huge success. The rooms were beautifully decorated with myriads of pastel butterflies, flowers, and silver trees—it looked like spring-time. Miss Long was our guest of honor at this dance. The next day our alumnae in Corvallis entertained with a benefit bridge tea at which occasion Miss Long was honor guest. We active girls and pledges, too, assisted by being on the program in piano and vocal solos and a clog dance, and last but not least at all, we served the refreshments.

Spring Excitements

We gave a formal tea for our new housemother, Mrs. Routledge, one glorious sunshining Saturday afternoon. We wore our formal dresses, the house was decorated with loads of spring flowers; everything was so pretty that it made us more happy than ever to introduce our charming housemother. We had educational week-end at O.A.C. too, and the Delta Zetas entertained a group of girls from various high schools throughout Oregon. The happiest part of this event was the chance to have many of our school-teacher alumnae, who came to chaperon their girls, back to visit with us. Then, during this excitement, one alumna decided to give the visitors a taste of real college life by cleverly announcing her engagement. Mrs. McElfresh, as conspirator, imparted the news to us by telling us a clever little story and then saying that "he" is Clark Wilcox, a Sigma Nu from the University of Minnesota, and then giving a lovely corsage bouquet to the girl, Bernice Nelson, '22, and so the story was out. Yes, of course, there were chocolates and everything to top it off.

On journalism and athletics

Our new president, Dorothy Williams, was just initiated into Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary in debate, and into Omicron Nu, honorary in home economics; she is also the only candidate up for president of the Home Economics Club. It is quite an honor to hold such a position on this campus. Last spring Dorothy received first honorable mention in a scholarship for sophomore women for the best all-round girl in activities and grades. We're very proud of Dorothy. Mabel Brown, ex-prexy, was editor of the coed issue of the Orange Owl, the college humorous publication, and many of our girls were on that staff and are on the regular staff. Our "triplets" were in a winning basketball team last week and two of them just brought down more honors, Rowena Beach being elected vice-president, and Helen Washburn, secretary, of the Women's Athletic Association. Not being able to withhold their smiling countenances, I am sending a picture of them, in the varsity sweaters they won while at W.S.C. Frances Tomlinson, a pledge, is out vigorously debating for O.A.C. and Hollis Swingle is nominated for secretary of the Associated Women Students for next year. Dagny Rudback was, just recently, chairman of a big banquet put on by the O.A.C. Women's Ad Club.

I feel so enthusiastic about our trip that I must say that the combined Madrigal and Glee Clubs have just returned from a very successful tour through Oregon during which we presented the comic opera, The Mikado. I had the privilege of being Katisha, and I'll never forget it—surely was fun.

DORIS ZIMMERMAN, Editor

Tune: "Tipperary"

Up to campus O.A.C. came some
*rookesses one day,

Without home and sisters how could they be very gay?

But the Delta Zetas pledged them,
And they started out to win
The right to wear the golden lamp,
The Delta Zeta pin.

It's a long way to initiation, it's a long way to go;

It's a long way to initiation, but it's the highest goal I know.

So good-bye, dear old pledge days,
we are done with you;

It's a long, long way to initiation, but we're glad we're through.

OMEGA CHAPTER

University of Oregon

(Too late for headings, G.M.L.)

Six senior women are leaving Omega chapter this year—Victoria Ellean Fargher, Mae Louise Mordoff, Mary M. Search, Mary Glenna Fisher, Margaret Wilmoth Blackaby, and Easter Dae Craddock. Ellean Fargher and Mae Mordoff, physical education majors, have been prominent in Hermian Club, honorary physical education society, Mae having been president of that organization during the past year. Glenna Fisher was Senior Woman on the University Student Council, a member of Phi Chi Theta and Mortar Board. Margaret Blackaby, prominent in debate, won her question in the debate against Washington. Easter Craddock and Mary Search have both been chapter officers, Mary having served as treasurer for two years and Easter as social chairman this year. Glenna Fisher and Margaret Blackaby have both been Omega presidents. Mae was treasurer one year.

From our alums we have some interesting announcements. Mrs. John Gereghy (Nell Miller, '26), of Klamath Falls, is the mother of a son. Charlotte Newhouse, '25, has become Mrs. Harry Holt of Oakland. Patricia Gregory, '27, married Ivan Midlam of Oregon City. Mary McCullagh announced her engagement to J. Lee Stewart, a graduate of O.A.C. The wedding is to be an event of June 11 in Portland.

Eunice Zimmerman, who taught in Alaska last fall, is returning to her work there next year.

Dear Mrs. Lundy:

Glenna Fisher, one of Omega's senior women, was yesterday morning awarded with the Phi Chi Theta, honorary business administration fraternity, scholarship. This scholarship is awarded to one senior in the department yearly—and is announced as a surprise feature of the last student body assembly of the year. Glenna won the scholarship by a big majority of Phi Chi Theta votes. She is our family "Phi Bet," our member of Student Council, and is one of the most popular girls in the house.

The Magic of a Vanity

THE charm of the graceful tri-arched line delights the eye. Framed in an embellishment of richly chased design. The rose motif crescents an orient lattice of white enamel. It is tastily fitted with both loose powder container and rouge, with puffs and mirror.

Beautiful—thin—compact and light—who can resist its charm, or the magic which its touch can give.

A beautiful colored folder of popular compacts has been prepared to assist you in your selection.

WHAT is so rare as a day in June?

Then, if ever, come perfect days.

Then Heaven tries Earth if it be in tune,

And over it gently her warm ear lays.

The flush of life may well be seen

Thrilling back over hill and valley.

JOY comes, Grief goes

Everything is happy now

Everything is upward striving.

'Tis as easy now for the heart to be true

As for the grass to be green or skies be blue,

'Tis the natural way of living."
