THE PRESIDENT WRITES -

Of INTEREST AND CONCERN

In this issue of the Lamp you will read about the installation of three new Delta Zeta chapters.

A chapter installation is indeed a happy occasion. It is a tremendous thrill to greet these new, enthusiastic Delta Zetas. The University of Rochester, the University of Virginia and Trenton State are bright new additions to our chapter roll.

Delta Zeta has always pioneered in extension. It is part of her heritage and tradition. From the Founders to the present day there has been a commitment to extending the scope of Delta Zeta.

At the present time, many national sororities have ambitious extension programs. The latest figures show that from June, 1975 to June, 1977 a total of 95 new chapters were added by all National Panhellenic Conference sororities. That number is evidence of the continuing interest in expansion.

Many campus situations today make extension very attractive. Some that have not had NPC sororities are now open to them. Some of these are new campuses, others are schools where women have been newly admitted, and still others are simply places where administrations have recognized the contribution these groups can make.

Fraternities are well over one hundred years old at the Universities of Rochester and Virginia. The administration of the University of Rochester realized the interest and importance of such groups for women, and Delta Zeta became the first sorority at this fine school. The sorority movement has taken hold quickly at the University of Virginia and Delta Zeta takes its place among a number of other chapters established there. The strong belief of the administration and staff of Trenton State in the sorority system was a major factor in the acceptance of Delta Zeta on that campus.

In considering places for new chapters, many factors are examined. These include geographic location, proximity to other chapters, alumnae support, the number of groups already established, administrative encouragement, and housing needs. On some campuses, Delta Zeta representatives start the colonization process. At others, already established groups petition to become Delta Zeta chapters. Many potential extension opportunities are brought to our attention through the efforts of our alumnae and collegiate members. A Delta Zeta transfer from Virginia Polytechnic Institute was instrumental in the formation of the chapter at the University of Virginia, and a Delta Zeta faculty member directed the local group at Rochester to us. The Trenton State chapter, where we pioneered, was a local sorority contacted by Delta Zeta.

Each new group is most carefully selected. Whether Delta Zeta is to be the first sorority on a campus or taking its place among those already established, no colony is now installed until it is competitive with others in size and quality. This assures each chapter of the vitality and strength with which to grow and succeed. Each of the three new chapters introduced in this Lamp was installed with well over fifty members.

Just as working with our older chapters is a special kind of endeavor, so is extension. It takes specialized people in both areas, and Delta Zeta is fortunate to have both. We are ever mindful of the needs of the established chapters and are strong in our commitment to serve them. As our pledges are the life blood of every chapter, so new chapters are necessary for continued strength. To be a strong, vital sorority Delta Zeta needs both the old and the new.

Delta Zeta extension is directed by Betty Agler who has a remarkable record for success in this area. She works closely with our Field Representatives and National Consultants to give them the specialized training for Extension assignments. With the Council reaffirming our long tradition of continued expansion, and aware of the need for excellence in this program, Delta Zetas can look forward to the addition of other fine, carefully selected chapters.

The University of North Carolina at Charlotte Athletic Foundation Hostess Committee is composed entirely of Delta Zetas from Kappa Phi chapter. They are the official hostesses for all UNCC athletic functions, working with the media, alumnae, and recruiting. Pictured in their green outfits are Lynn Munday, Linda Hinson, Sheila Swygert, Susan Blair, Jane Davidson, Cathy Hanner and Wanda Luck.

National Director Patricia Scannell Dunn read some historical facts during her talk at San Jose Founders Day.

President Raymond Smith signed a proclamation declaring October 24 Delta Zeta Day on Michigan Tech's campus. The chapter's Founders Day committee included Sue Kochan, Cindy Manninen, and Beverly Pope.

Officers of Gamma Nu house corporation and chapter burned their mortgage at a big reunion luncheon. Jeanne Nowacki, Gail McKee, Lynn Luettich, Mary June Bland, and Ann Nowacki watch the flames.

DIAMOND JUBILEE

Founders Day celebrations this Diamond Jubilee year of 1977 had special meaning for Delta Zetas everywhere. It was a happy time of remembering, and a sad time of wondering who would be celebrating the 100 year anniversary.

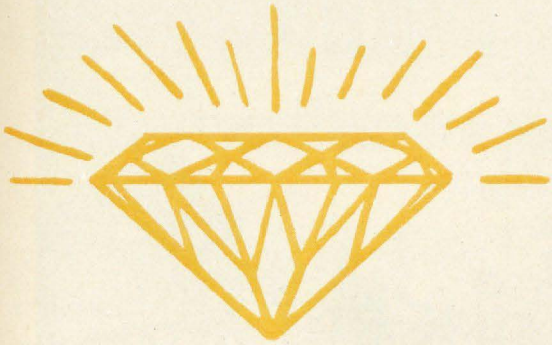

In Ohio Theta chapter was especially reminiscent of Founder Mary Collins Galbraith who had started their chapter in 1911, and many of the present and former national officers came back to celebrate.

Pan American chapter down in Texas planted six palm trees in the city park to commemorate Delta Zeta's six Founders. And at Gamma Zeta chapter a Delta Zeta daughter pinned the Golden Rose on her mother.

Gamma Nu chapter at Eastern Illinois burned its mortgage. At the University of North Carolina, alumnae presented a special Diamond Jubilee Award to Kappa Phi chapter.

Zeta Omega chapter at Northern Michigan could boast that in the Jubilee year 45% of their members were on the Dean's List. Delta Sigma chapter in Missouri had a special Delta Zeta display in the local bank. Epsilon Delta at Concord presented a clock to the Union to mark the occasion.

FOUNDERS Day

Theta Delta at Westminster held a sunrise ceremony, and Louisville initiated a very special Dean of Women.

In Oklahoma, Alpha Epsilon's menu was named for the Founders. In Louisiana Epsilon Beta invited the Mayor and the President, along with representatives of the other Greek organizations. They were especially proud that their Carolyn Leach Huntoon had been chosen Delta Zeta Woman of the Year for this Jubilee year.

And in Iowa, 43 alumnae came back to smile and cry at a truly historical style show showing authentic gowns and songs, modelled by the collegians of Beta Kappa. As the years were presented, roses were presented to special women who had contributed to the chapter's history.

To crown the celebrations Michigan Tech's president signed a proclamation naming October 24 Delta Zeta Day.

At the fiftieth anniversary convention, the three Founders still living were presented with the first Golden roses, and everywhere in these seventy-fifth anniversary celebrations, many, many Golden roses were given.

It was a time of remembering, and of celebrating.

At Gamma Zeta chapter in Southwestern Texas Mary Ann Springer Whitfield pinned the Golden Rose on her mother Betty Frances Wheeler Springer from Eta chapter in Kansas who had been instrumental in the colonizing of Gamma Zeta.

Jeannie Wright, Kandice Freed, Cindy Young, Penny Wright, Michelle Ehrenfeldt and Marguerite Penick model outfits worn at Delta Zeta national conventions through the years. The style show was part of Beta Kappa's historical revue for Founders Day at Iowa State.

Jane Cross and Trudy Parrish shovelled as Dru Davis, Velma Menchaca, Karen Walker, Diana Menchaca, Jennifer Hook, Polly Pawlik, Debbie Ries and Linda Lance assisted in the planting of six palm trees in Edinburg, Texas, as Theta Omicron's memorial to the six Founders.

Delta Sigma chapter had a display at the First National Bank in Kirksville, Missouri.

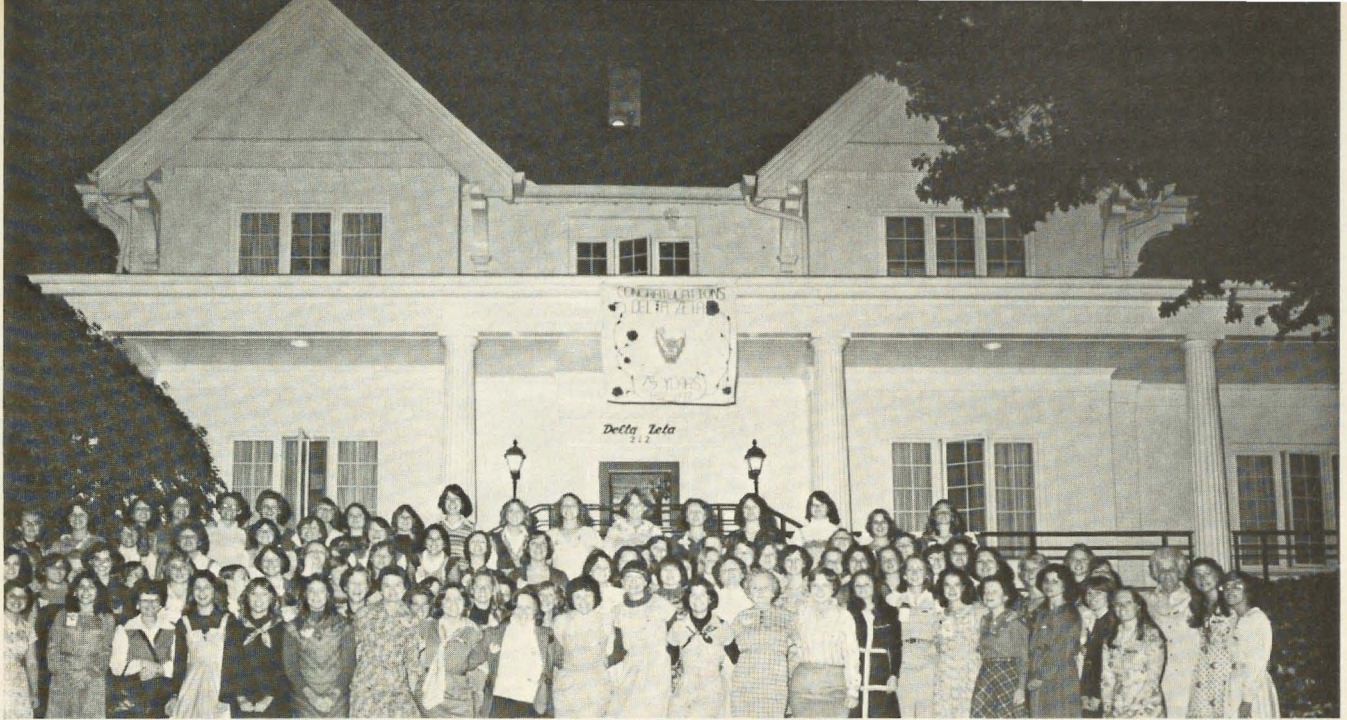

The newly formed alumnae group in Chester County, Pennsylvania, received its charter on Founders Day.

Maliss Smith, Sue Metzger and Karen Gates were part of Delta Phi's presentation of the Founders at Northeastern Oklahoma.

THETA CHAPTER CELEBRATES

October 24, 1977 was an historic Founders Day for Theta chapter at Ohio State. It was the final celebration of the Diamond Jubilee. Theta chapter was founded in January 1911 by a Founder, Mary Collins Galbraith, and so it was fitting that many of those who had worked with Theta chapter would return to celebrate Founders Day together.

Attending were National President Norma Minch Andrisek, Past National President Betty Heusch Agler, Former National Director Connie Teaford Wilt, National Director, Mary Lou McConnaughey Barth. Among other honored guests were Jean McClurg Southworth,  $\Theta$ , Norma Swepston McIntyre,  $\Theta$ , Martie Boatman Knisley,  $\Delta Y$ , Theta's Pledge Advisor, Linda Agler Hobbs,  $\Theta$ , College Chapter Director, and the Chapter President, Lisa Mastrangelo. Also attending and honored on this occasion was National Consultant Debbie Raziano, KA, and the National Field Representatives for the 1977-78 school year, Karen Terhune,  $\Theta\Psi$ , Susan Kennedy, AΓ, Cathy Lieurance, IΞ, and Linda Mans,  $\Delta\Omega$ .

Members of the Columbus Alumnae chapter were invited to share this evening with Theta chapter and their honored guests, and many letters of congratulations honoring the occasion were received from Theta alumnae who could not be present. After a few happy hours together, members and guests then joined in the traditional Founders' Day ceremony and Friendship Circle. As the evening came to a close, all those present knew they had been a part of a memorable event in the history of Theta chapter and Delta Zeta sorority.

Special guests at the Theta chapter banquet were the Field Representatives in the front row, Karen Terhune, Debbie Raziano, Susan Kennedy, Cathy Lieurance, and Linda Mans. Standing are Martie Boatman Knisley, Jean McClurg Southworth, Norma Minch Andrisek, Mary Lou McConnaughey Barth, Betty Heusch Agler, Norma Swepston McIntyre, Constance Teaford Wilt, Lisa Mastrangelo, and Linda Agler Hobbs.

Margaret Liston, Marie Budolfson and Eleanor Frarnsworth were all charter members of Beta Kappa chapter at Iowa State, and Emma Cook Martin celebrated 60 years as an initiate of De Pauw chapter. Left, CCD Barbara Holland, Y-North Dakota, who was made an honorary member of Beta Kappa.

Golden Rose...

Lucille Beard Schwartz was the Golden Rose honoree at the Greensboro Alumnae banquet with her daughter Susie Swartz Lund, also from Alpha Beta chapter-Illinois, Gail Crawford Bicknell, A-Miami, and Clara Reilly Baker, OΩ-Atlantic Christian looking on.

Kay Canon Smith, O-Pitt, presented Pauline McVicker Van Husen, M-California, with her 50 year certificate at the San Francisco-Bay Cities Founders Day.

Lincoln Alumnae and Beta Tau chapter honored two of their Golden Rose members, Marie Stroemer Farwell and Edna Zamzow.

San Jose Alumnae honored three Golden Roses, Ruth Mahan, AA-Northwestern, Grace Gunn Binger, EE-Fresno, and Flora Hurick Sharp, BΣ-Colorado.

NEW ALUMNAE CHAPTERS

Doris Nickel Stokes, BF -Louisville

LOUISVILLE INITIATES LONGTIME RUSHEE

After 24 years, Doris Stokes accepted a Delta Zeta bid and was initiated into Beta Gamma chapter at Louisville's Founders Day celebration.

Back in 1953 when Georgia Lee Hornung, then National Vice President, was on the campus to colonize for the chapter, she extended a bid to Doris who was Assistant Dean of Women. She had helped Georgia Lee to find interested girls as many of them had been her students when she taught economics.

Since she was working with all of the groups, she felt it wasn't the right thing to do. The bid was renewed periodically, and last year when she took a leave of absence to retire officially, she accepted. It was a gala occasion at her initiation following the Diamond Jubilee dinner. She feels very close to the alumnae having worked with them through the years and attended many previous Founders Day banquets.

That same day Doris was honored at the Kentucky Association of Women Deans and Counselors and was their speaker. She received a citation and arrived home just thirty minutes before she was due at the initiation. It was a big day for Beta Gamma's long time rushee, and for Louisville alumnae.

LAMBDA IOTA CHAPTER INSTALLED AT UNIVERSITY OF ROCHESTER

By Cathy Lieurance, National Field Representative

The University of Rochester, where fraternities are well over 100 years old, was originally an all male school. Later, when women were admitted, it was thought that sororities were prohibited based on a rumor that a trustee had donated money with this stipulation.

In the fall of 1976, Melissa Townsend, current President of Lambda Iota chapter, found the rumor to be false, and she began the process of forming a national sorority at Rochester. She gathered sixteen of her friends to help her in the selection. After interviewing several sororities, Jane Sullivan Gibbons, one of the founders of Iota Rho chapter, West Chester State College, and currently Director of Women's Intercollegiate Sports at Rochester, suggested contacting Delta Zeta.

It was then that Cathy Lieurance, National Field Representative, came to talk with the group. While meeting with this group, many winks were exchanged and Cathy was asked to leave the room during discussion. In Cathy's absence, the group then voted Delta Zeta as their choice.

On a return visit, Cathy pledged the seventeen girls, the charter members of Lambda Iota. The new chapter then began rushing and doubled their size within two weeks! With officers elected, they began their pledge program and on April 20, 1977, the girls were initiated, and the chapter was formally installed by Betty Heusch Agler, Past National President. The initiating team was from Iota Theta chapter at Mansfield State College in Pennsylvania. Following the initiation, a reception was given by the Rochester Alumnae.

With only two weeks of school remaining, plans were set for the Formal Installation Banquet to be held in October. This past September, the chapter held a successful fall rush, pledging 24 new members. Delta Zeta is still the only national sorority at Rochester, yet it is the largest Greek chapter with its membership of 55 topping even the fraternities!

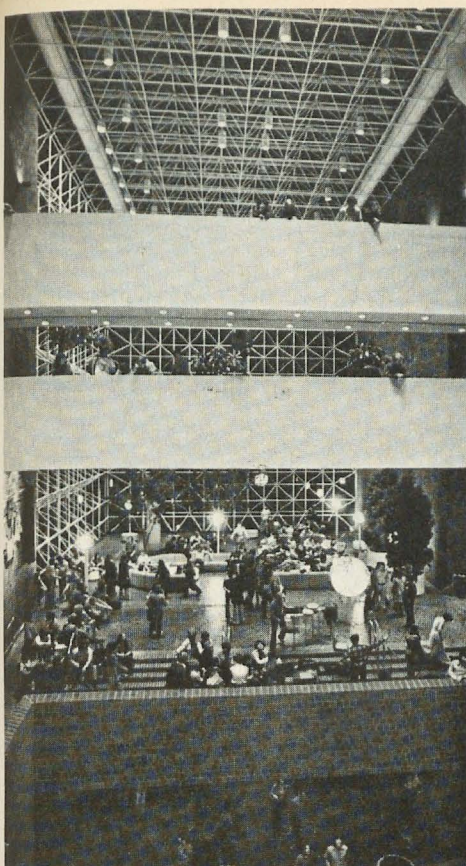

Lambda Iota Chapter not only has the most members, but it is also made up of many campus leaders and has been accepted into the Inter-Fraternity Council on campus. The fraternities have been very receptive to the Delta Zetas and have been most anxious to have various functions with them.

Last October 26, the Lambda Iota Chapter initiated their fall pledge class, and the Formal Installation Banquet followed on October 29, 1977. Delta Zetas on the program included National President Norma Minch Andrisek, Betty Heusch Agler, Sylvia Lounsberry Fix, College Chapter Director of Lambda Iota, and Cathy Lieurance.

Robert Sproul, President of the University of Rochester, Frank Dowd, Vice President, and Ronald Jackson, Dean of Students, represented the University and welcomed Delta Zeta to the campus. Other guests included the Iota Theta initiating group and their CCD, Karen Starner Jacobson, and Virginia Straight Conciatori, Province Collegiate Director for Province II.

Along with many congratulatory notes from Delta Zetas across the country, the chapter also received gifts of silver from our National Council as well as gifts from the Rochester Alumnae Chapter, Lambda Iota CCD and the Iota Theta Chapter. On Sunday, October 30, at the Wilson Commons on the University of Rochester Campus, the formal Tea Reception was held in honor of the chapter. All cards and gifts were displayed.

The Officers of Lambda Iota are President Melissa Townsend, Vice President of Rush Leslie Black, Vice President of Pledge Training Dawne Sepanski, Recording Secretary Theresa King, Corresponding Secretary Sharon Flinker, Treasurer Sharon Hoffman, Historian Maureen Hopke, Parliamentarian Lillian Posner, College Chapter Director Sylvia Fix. The other charter members of Lambda Iota are Sue Eckhart, Leslie Feldmann, Sue Gelman, Mindy Greenberg, Jan Repair, Jody Rosenshein, Jeanine Schmidt, Sheryl Smith, and Michelle Viggiano.

Additional members initiated before the chapter was installed are Karen Arden, Deborah Brammer, Helena Brykarz, Gina Cieri, Marlene Eisenberg, Heather Garrison, Jennifer Heslop, Anna Hrycin, Rebecca Iwata, Lisa Jeffery, Jean Pacelli, Marjorie Panty, Petronila Ruiz, Martha Stack, Greta Williams, Pamela Brewer, Debra Casadonte, Martha Cuddy, Moira Danis, Amy Deren, Debra Egan, Grace Gaffney, Katrina Gordon, Karen Greenspan, Beth Kleiman, Lisa Marie Lewandowski, Lisa T. Lewandowski, Cynthia McGuire, Karen Miosi, Margaret Mould, June Murphy, Sharon Pavelich, Lorelle Pottick, Susan Putney, Eileen Rhine, and Mona Wright.

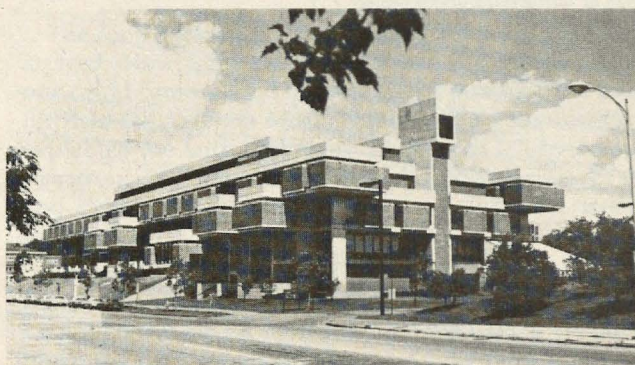

Delta Zeta will continue to grow on this campus and will proudly carry on those ideals of our Founders.

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA WELCOMES DELTA ZETA

by Patricia McMahon,  $\Lambda\Delta$

"Lambda means whip" signifies the drive of a force that initiated a handful of dedicated women to form our new chapter. "Delta means door," a door that has opened into the new and challenging existence of Lambda Delta chapter of Delta Zeta at the University of Virginia, and doors that the sixty new members will proudly open in the future. Janet Kerr, the new chapter's College Chapter Director, offered these words at the formal banquet that followed installation. But, before giving details of the beautiful installation, a tale of the rise of this chapter is in hand—for it is a tale indeed!

It was November 10, 1976, and two junior transfer students, Carol Barringer and Sharon Lamb decided they missed the friendship and fun they had in Kappa Theta chapter at Virginia Polytechnic Institute in Blacksburg, Virginia. They wanted to begin a new Delta Zeta chapter at the University of Virginia, and so they met with a graduate student, Janet Kerr, an alumna from VPI. With sixteen other interested women, and with the help and hospitality of alumnae, the group worked out a rush strategy. Most had just met each other, but each had a feeling that, together, they could accomplish something no other sorority had ever done. As a local sorority, they competed in formal rush with six campus-established sororities and proudly accepted thirty new pledges. Now they were 48 members strong.

According to campus regulations at the University of Virginia, each new sorority was required to function as a local for a one-year probationary period, receiving no assistance from a national organization. Our group proudly assumed the name "Zeta Delta." "On to new and better pursuits" they all agreed. Zeta Delta began to make a name for itself on Mr. Jefferson's campus. A retreat was held so the group could get to know each other and begin to work with each other. A potluck dinner was held for the pledges and initiated members. A spring formal was held, and they were invited to several fraternity functions. Zeta Delta even won the intramural softball championship. The other sororities knew they were in business.

The chapter played hard, but also worked hard. They raised money for philanthropy by winning the Sigma Chi Derby Chase on Derby Day, and the pledges sold donuts in the dorms. In addition, work was done for the Charlottesville Housing Improvement Program helping to reroof, repaint and replaster dilapidated houses for the poor. After a busy semester, Informal Rush was upon them again and twenty more fine pledges were added to the membership roll.

The long anticipated date of November 10, 1977, finally arrived. Now came the time for national installation. No one could comprehend the true sisterhood that was in store for Zeta Delta. Linda Mans, National Field Representative, explained the faith that National Council felt by accepting this group as a new chapter of Delta Zeta. A spirit of pride and privilege prevailed as the group was prepared for Initiation.

Lamplighting began on Tuesday, November 8. All the sisters joined in a friendship circle with the lights out. This Lamplighting ceremony helped all members to realize how much the past year had meant and how tight the circle of friendship had grown. Later that evening, Linda Mans, as always, working behind the scenes, gave the chapter another briefing on what was about to happen. Thursday night formal pledging to Delta Zeta took place at the Westminster Presbyterian Church. After the ceremony, the new Delta Zeta pledges changed from their white gowns to paint the Beta Bridge. The bridge is in the middle of fraternity row and the ideal place to advertise the Installation! It boasted "ZETA DELTA goes DELTA ZETA" in a bright rose and green. Friday, November 11, each girl wore her pledge pin to class for the first and last time.

Friday evening all the pledges met at St. Paul's Episcopal Church for the long awaited Initiation. For the first time, the entire chapter met the attending National Council members of Delta Zeta. With fine tradition and ritual, the initiating team from Kappa Theta at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, presented the Golden Lamp of Delta Zeta to each of the sixty-two new sisters. Janet Kerr, CCD, Carol Barringer, President, and Sharon Lamb, Vice President Pledge Training, already initiated members of Delta Zeta, signed the charter as founding members of the chapter.

Other charter members are Nancy Anderson, Teresa Choate, Deborah Capone, Nancy Friese, Ann Gentry, Pam Green, Margo Hodges, Cathy Hodges, Sandy Reed, Nancy Young, Carol Beaman, Pat Bland, Renee Frishman, Ruthanne Gearhart, Jamie Gibbins, Cynthia Howell, Joanne Kellam, Karol Lamos, Peggy Lamos, Marsha Lockwood, Kathryn Martin, Joyce McLendon, Tricha McMahon, Ellen Morris, Leslie Pearson, Janine Plauka, Nanette Poin-ton, Dinah Sargeant, Robbie Schlag, Susan Smith, Anya Spielberg, Carol Stepka, Terri Stivaletti, Tandy Tyler, Wendy Wilson, Jackie Wollner, Lisa Workman, Gail Yorty, Miki Zerbe. Other members initiated before installation are Carolyn Alderman, Kathleen Backley, Kimberly Behre, Ann-Lindsay Carter, Susan Coleman, Sandy Dooley, Jan Freeman, Susan Hurt, Teresa Kurtz, Nancy Larson, Mary Leavitt, Sandra McFadden, Barbara Morgan, Sarah Penney, Nancy Porter, Helen Rungwerth, Barbara Shrut, Mary Sweeney, Liz Wilson, Catherine Zella, Helen Hamilton. A reception was held for the new sisters after the ceremony.

Saturday was another busy day. Evelyn Christiansen Odell, T-Wisconsin, hosted a breakfast at the Montgomery Country Club. Linda Mans took the guests to see Monticello—Thomas Jefferson's mansion that overlooks the historic University that he designed. They learned of the traditions of the University—living on the lawn, fraternities, Virginia Gentlemen, and the Rotunda. Now the traditions of Delta Zeta will be added to the University of Virginia's great traditions. Women were first admitted to this southern gentleman's school in 1970. Sororities have now been established and the Panhellenic system is growing rapidly.

The Installation banquet at the Boar's Head Inn was attended by 275 guests. Ivy decorated the dining room, and the soft light of rose candles set the mood for the program. Past President Betty Agler, with enthusiasm and warmth, served as toastmistress for the momentous evening. Cynthia Williams Sparks, Province Collegiate Director, welcomed the new chapter along with Linda Mans and Cathy Lieurance, National Field Representatives. Carol Barringer, chapter President, responded to the welcome with the feeling that each new sister had in her heart. Janet Kerr, CCD, reminded the sisters what each had achieved and that they must set a realistic goal and strive for it in the future. Greetings to the new chapter were extended by Linda Agler Hobbs, National Ritual Chairman, Amaryllis Pickett Barnes, National Director, and Marilou Lynch Gary, National Vice President Collegiate Affairs. Peter Stoudt, Assistant Dean of Students addressed the new chapter by defining tradition and the history of fraternities at the U. Va. Norma Minch Andrisek, National President, led the Installation service, and presented Lambda Delta with their gavel, charter, and Loving Cup. Raymond C. Bice, Assistant to the President, officially accepted the chapter for the University. Theta Phi chapter of Old Dominion University sang the traditional songs of the Rose Ceremony while Linda Mans and Cathy Lieurance presented a rose to each new Delta Zeta. Then joining hands with parents and friends, the ceremony concluded with the singing of Delta Zeta Lamps are Burning.

On Sunday a tea was held in the oval room of the Rotunda on the main lawn of the University of Virginia. Approximately 400 guests attended. Notes of welcome and gifts of silver received from other Delta Zeta chapters and campus sororities were displayed.

The sisters of Lambda Delta Chapter would like to extend sincere appreciation to our National Council, our parents, and everyone who made the weekend a memorable one.

DELTA ZETA PIONEERS AT TRENTON STATE

By Karen Terhune, National Field Representative

Lambda Lambda chapter of Delta Zeta, Trenton State College, was installed on May 1, 1977 with the formal festivities taking place November 19, 1977.

Trenton State College is located in Trenton, New Jersey, and is bound on one side by a series of lakes providing a lovely setting for the campus. Delta Zeta was the pioneer national sorority at Trenton and we are delighted to be part of this fine, Greek oriented campus.

Delta Zeta's first contact with this young group was made by Karen Terhune, National Field Representative. The first members were pledged on March 24, 1977 and it wasn't long until they had increased their size to a pledge class of 37. Their first order of business was to elect an executive board which would be the first officers for Lambda Lambda Chapter. Ana Maria Garcia was elected President, Joann Susan Conroy, Vice President, Pledge Training, Sharon Barbara Friedrich, Vice President, Membership, Diana Lee Tepperman, Recording Secretary, Irene Louise Benson, Corresponding Secretary, and Barbara Ellen McInerney, Treasurer.

On May 1, the members of Lambda Lambda chapter were initiated by members of Epsilon Zeta, Drexel. In addition to the officers listed above, the charter members included Barbara Anne Barnes, Nancy Baron, Irene Benincasa, Elizabeth Regina Brennan, Cheryl Ann Briggs, Ellen Eileen Broking, Sheri Lynn Buchband, Angela Ann Burns, Debra Anne Cahill, Deborah Lynn Cooney, Iris Robin Grubman, Janet Rose Harris, Nancy Eileen Jarvis, Cynthia Susan Jones, Jennifer Sue King, Ellen Faith Kornhauser, Leann Joan Kramer, Bonnie Diane Kuhmann, Helen Ann Kulak, Robyn Beth Lapa, Lorianne Lowy, Margaret Mary Malley, Jeanne Marie Miles, Regina Ann Novak, Jacquelyn Pooley, Karen Ann Roth, Jane Doris Rufe, Theresa Lynne Schroeder, Jill Ann Suchowiecki, Charlene Mary Vion and Gail Robin Powell.

This fine new chapter participated in many activities before the end of the 1976-77 school year. With the opening of the 1977-78 school year, Lambda Lambda started planning for the formal installation service. First came rush and 23 new members were pledged. These members were initiated as the first pledge class immediately before the installation weekend which was held November 18-20. Members of this Alpha pledge class were Mary Anne Ahrens, Dolores Ann Basilio, Pamela Marie Bergin, Susan Gail Choo, Sarah Cecilia Clark, Lisa Mae Dallas, Barbara Litt Diamond, Diane Marie Dispenziere, Pamela Martha Doremus, Joanne Fernandez, Christine Victoria Fiore, Patricia Lee Hawley, Janis Lynn Heberlein, Sharon Beth Hirsch, Arlene Christine Malinowski, Caroline Ann McCracken, Joanne Mary Meola, Lori Ann Northway, Joanne Marie Pedone, Elizabeth Ann Ragonese, Susan Marie Runski, Sandra Lynn Seneca, and Jody Ann Zohn.

The installation weekend opened with a beautiful banquet held at the Princeton Country Club in Princeton, New Jersey. Attending the banquet as Delta Zeta's honored guest was Dr. Clayton Brower, President of Trenton State College. He spoke about the importance of Greeks on the campus and related his personal experience as a Greek when he was an undergraduate.

The formal installation service was conducted by Florence Hohnbaum Harvey, Past National President, and Betty Heusch Agler, Past National President, was Toastmistress. Other Delta Zeta representatives attending were National Director Anne Marie Jones Gavin, Province Directors Karen Kind Manuel and Virginia Straight Conciatori. Several members of the college administration were present to add their enthusiasm and support to the occasion.

Every chapter has its very own traditions and Karen Terhune began the first tradition at the formal banquet. She presented the chapter president with a lovely diamond studded president's dangle to be passed on to each new president at the time of her installation.

On Saturday, a formal reception was held at the Student Center where all had an opportunity to meet the families of the new chapter and other members of the faculty and administration.

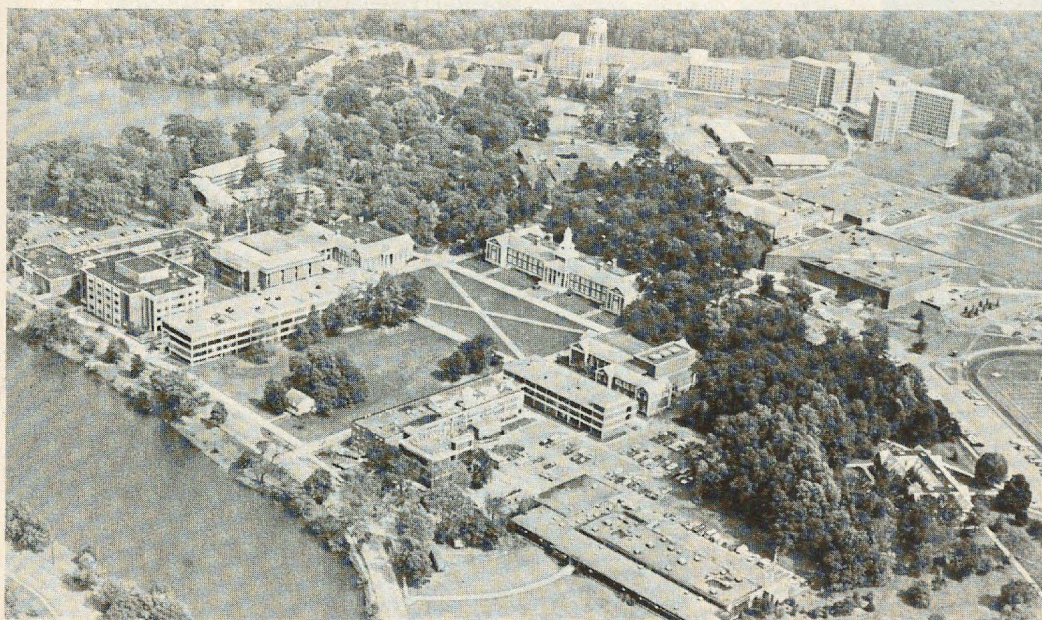

We are happy to welcome this great new chapter to the rolls of Delta Zeta. With their fine beginning and the excellent support from the university, we know this will be an outstanding chapter of Delta Zeta Sorority.

YOUNGSTOWN COLLEGIANS PAINT FOR DAY CARE CENTER

by Patty Kemerer, KX-Youngstown

What do 60 children, 13 gallons of paint and a 50 foot wall have in common?

To Kappa Chi chapter at Youngstown State University they were all part of a summer service project.

The Campus Day Care Center at YSU was constructing a playground behind its facility at a local church located near the university. The director requested volunteers from a campus organization to paint a 50 foot cement brick wall that marked the west boundary of the new playground area.

After learning of the request through an article in the campus newspaper, The Jambar, sisters of Kappa Chi answered the plea and went to work!

Three days were set for the project; brushes, paint and other materials were bought; and a committee drew up plans of what would be painted on the wall.

After painting the entire wall white, it wasn't long before 26 colorful letters of the alphabet covered it and illustrations beginning with each letter accompanied them. Although in the beginning most of the designs were drawn by art majors in the sorority, much new talent began appearing from other sisters' efforts.

After three days of much work, fun and sun, the once bare cement wall in the Day Care playground now overlooks sandboxes and swingsets with a bright new look.

Adding finishing touches on the pear are Mary Ellen McAuliffe, Patti McDowell and Lorraine Kennedy of Kappa Chi chapter at Youngstown, Ohio.

NPC MEETS in Tulsa

Tulsa alumnae recruited their men to assist with the opening reception at which Delta Zeta was the hostess. On stairs are Elaine Smith Scott, ΓΥ-Oklahoma City, Peggy Kennedy Chimblo, BN-Florida Southern, Vera Helberg Williams, AE, Gene Hall Tumilty, ΓΥ, Jack Tumilty, Micky Beckman Flasch, EB-Louisiana, Shara Kern Mattern, ΓM.

The 1977 meeting of the National Panhellenic Conference in Tulsa, Oklahoma, held special significance for Delta Zeta since our Gwen Moss McKeeman as chairman planned and then presided at the meetings.

The Tulsa alumnae chapter assisted with the opening reception honoring the Panhellenic officers, which was held in the Executive suite.

Throughout the four day session, Oklahoma Delta Zetas from the collegiate and alumnae chapters were there to honor and lend moral support to the Delta Zeta delegates. Helen Baird Danne, AE, as Delta Zeta's Tulsa panhellenic delegate, was in charge of the luncheon and style show featuring fashions based on authentic Indian designs.

The biennial meeting of the National Panhellenic Conference in Tulsa last October reflected a spirit of confidence and a feeling of well-being that comes from knowing that the Greek system is again flourishing and returning to a position of importance on the American college campus.

NPC Chairman, Gwen McKeeman's description of a typical day in her life in which the number of telephone calls becomes the medium of measuring an ever increasing interest in fraternities and sororities sounded a familiar note to all Panhellenic women working on a national level. Inquiries mean interest, and callers range all the way from a Panhellenic president requesting an interpretation of Quota-Total, to a college administrator seeking information about expanding the Greek system on his campus, and a newspaper reporter interested in writing an article on the rise in sorority membership.

So once again Greeks are being cultivated as a news source, perhaps as a reflection of a new student profile and certainly with curiosity about how they made a comeback. Outsiders credit "change" within the system, overlooking the broader impact of continuing values and standards.

Like the stock market, statistics are the indicators of the health of the system. For the fourth consecutive year, women's fraternities showed a continued upward trend in membership. Whereas the 1973-1975 biennium showed a 9.6% gain over the two previous years, the 1977 report indicates approximately a 9.5% increase over the last biennium. New members during the 1975-1977 biennium total 100,228, an increase of 5,212 new members over the last accounting period.

It should be noted that the new colony group total is 42, compared to 37 two years ago, which brings us closer to the all-time high of 1967-69. Lost chapters are being replaced and the gain now outweighs the loss with 95 new chapters reported this biennium, compared to 7 two years ago.

As encouraging as the statistics are, NPC is not a group to become complacent with success. Mrs. McKeeman expressed a concern that area advisers are acutely aware of, the problem of too many women dropping out of rush. Rush registration has indeed increased. The number of girls pledged is ever climbing, but the size of the group that registers for rush and then drops out before pledging is a statistic which calls for a plan of action. Thorough orientation of rushees, a realistic rush schedule, and a sound system of counseling rushees are the key factors in reducing the dropout rate. A new booklet, "Rush Counseling . . . a Positive Program," has joined the NPC line of publications and is available to all college Panhellenics.

A positive, national publicity program will be undertaken as a joint effort of the National Panhellenic Conference and the National Panhellenic Editors' Conference as a result of a resolution sponsored by the Editors' Conference and passed by the NPC delegates. This publicity project of the 75th anniversary program will focus on philanthropies, scholarships, loans and grants of member groups.

A strong stand was taken on the matter of Alcohol Abuse, encouraging the sponsorship of education programs to emphasize the dangers involved in alcohol abuse.

Another resolution supporting the previous recommendation by NPC to college Panhellenics that the use of alcoholic beverages during rush be prohibited, was backed up by a decision to again mail to all college Panhellenics, a reprint of the resolution sent out in 1975.

Awards for outstanding achievement went to the following college Panhellenics: NPC Award . . . first place, Louisiana State University; second, Iowa State University; third, Auburn University. The Fraternity Month Award was given to the University of Missouri with Oregon

State University taking second and the University of Washington in third place.

Over fifty Delta Zetas were present at the final banquet with Gwen McKeeman as toastmistress.

Peter Greiner, President of the National Interfraternity Conference and a member of Beta Theta Pi, was the speaker with his title "Mother of Women."

The National Panhellenic Editors meetings ran concurrently with the delegate meetings. Editors heard talks on page make-up, photographs, costs, and other techniques to make the sorority magazines more interesting and economical. Discussions were held on general policies and many ideas exchanged.

Collegiate members of Alpha Epsilon chapter at Oklahoma State entertained at the Brass Tacks dinner with a medley of college songs, accompanied by their College Chapter Director, Laurel Dieken.

Elections were held at the closing session with Lamp Editor Florence Miner voted as Vice Chairman of the Editors Conference.

CITIZENS fo

Fund raising projects help CHA pay current bills as well as provide funds for a future animal shelter. Mildred Organ, Salli Organ, Norma McIntyre, Helen Kinzer and Joyce Kienzel are a few of the members who keep coming up with new ideas.

Norma McIntyre, Θ, addressograph supervisor at Delta Zeta National Headquarters, is devoting most of her free time these days to an organization called Citizens for Humane Action (CHA). A non-profit humane society staffed entirely by volunteers, CHA has since 1975 been serving the Columbus, Ohio area as an alternative to services employed by the city.

This has been a needed function, as shown this past year by the conviction for cruelty to animals of the two ranking administrators of the city-supported group. Macabre tales of cruelty arising from the trial shook the community, bringing a new awareness of animal problems, and new recognition for CHA and other truly humane organizations.

Norma, long concerned with animal welfare, has worked harder than ever for Citizens for Humane Action during recent months because of the critical situation exposed by the trial. When local residents learned what had been happening to homeless animals, they were sickened, and looked elsewhere for shelter for unwanted strays.

"This has put a burden on us," says Norma, "because for us, to shelter animals means to take them into our homes. CHA does not have an animal shelter as such. We have a foster home system instead, with members taking care of one or several animals, depending on their situations. We hope that our hard work (Norma is one of the most active members in organizing fund-raising projects) will enable us to build a shelter someday."

Columbus residents wish CHA had that shelter right now. Testimony from the trial of the two humane society administrators confirmed their worst fears—injured animals were often neglected for long periods; animals were kept in crowded, filthy cages; and the so-called "euthanasia" ("good death") procedure, by which the vast majority of the animals met their deaths, was in fact a horror-filled end to life.

"Only the most cynical person could have imagined what was happening there. The equipment was faulty. They didn't bother to fix it."

Information regarding the malfunctioning equipment and the suffering of its victims profoundly disturbed and saddened CHA members. "It is ironic," says Norma, "what happens to a person who becomes involved in humane work. An animal lover is forced to face facts that hurt—facts that, for one's own peace of mind, she would rather not know. But it is only when those of us who are affected by animal suffering expose ourselves to it that we can be sure something is done about it."

The organization through which Norma chooses to work, Citizens for Humane Action, is an organization of people of all ages and diverse backgrounds. They are united in a program with one central purpose: to prevent suffering. To accomplish its purpose, CHA employs the efforts of its members and friends to operate a pet placement service, to investigate cruelty-and-neglect complaints, to educate the public, and to promote responsibility in pet ownership.

The CHA pet placement service is one that members would like to see copied by all agencies that place animals. Since 13.5 million dogs and cats are killed yearly by euthanasia, CHA does not wish to exacerbate the animal overpopulation problem. Therefore all animals placed by CHA are neutered before adoption or, in the cases of very young animals, neutering fees are paid at the time of adoption and the animals are brought in for neutering at the appropriate time. Since CHA wants to ensure all of its animals an acceptable quality of life after adoption, applicants are screened to assure that they understand and can meet the responsibilities of pet ownership, and to weed out applicants who are obtaining animals under false pretenses for profit (dog dealers sell animals to guard dog companies, laboratories, and for illegal dog fighting contests). The organization follows up all adoptions with a call or visit to see if the animal and owner have made a satisfactory adjustment. At any time an owner may return an animal to CHA, and is in fact required at the time of adoption to sign an agreement to do so in the event the owner ever wishes to get rid of the animal. Citizens for Humane Action prides itself on never relinquishing responsibility for any animal that comes under its protection.

Cruelty and neglect complaints are always immediately investigated by CHA, whose investigators must be prepared to deal with the most pathetic animal suffering as well as aggressive and hostile owners. The organization has succeeded in obtaining city- and county-wide police recognition and cooperation in enforcing anti-cruelty laws. Although CHA recognizes that cruelty or neglect sometimes occurs because of ignorance, it seeks prosecution whenever there are instances of wanton abuse. The group is also supportive of laws for the control of pets, since these laws work for the protection of the animals as well as the community. CHA seeks stronger legislation in all areas for dealing with cruelty or misuse of animals.

Animal care education is also available from Citizens for Humane Action. Representatives have appeared in elementary schools, teaching basic care and handling, and before senior citizens' groups, dealing with the problems of the elderly in caring for companion animals. CHA also endeavors to educate the public in its everyday contacts, stressing the fact that only animal birth control can end the most persistent source of animal suffering, overpopulation. This problem is so overwhelming that five of every six animals taken to local pounds are euthanized. The faith of those who surrender pets that their cute and loveable animals will be adopted is ill-founded. The best they can reasonably hope for is a quick death—and even that is not guaranteed. Many of the common euthanasia methods often result in painful and protracted dying. Citizens for Humane Action recognizes only injection of sodium pentothal as humane euthanasia.

The ugly facts of life that greet someone who becomes involved in humane animal work have disturbed and depressed Norma McIntyre, but instead of being discouraged, she is more determined than ever to continue her work. She says the only thing that really discourages her sometimes is the attitude of others towards her efforts.

"Many times," says Norma, "people accuse me of not caring about people because I do so much work for animals. The fact is that I do care for people, as do most humane workers. But the animals are in trouble too, and there is so much to do and so few of us to do it."

Norma, like other humane workers, feels overwhelmed with her task.

"I wish the government would help, but there are no agencies for dealing with these problems. I would be pleased if some of my tax dollars went for this purpose. Some government agencies use dogs and cats, but there is no agency to help them. With the animal overpopulation problem continuing unabated, the suffering of the unwanted will be with us for a long time."

In the meantime, it is people like Norma McIntyre and the Citizens for Humane Action who will do all they can to help the animals.

"We've got to," says Norma of her unenviable task. "We're the only hope they have."

With the ALUMNAE

Conway, Arkansas—Alumnae and collegians from Central Arkansas gathered for Founders Day. A Christmas party with the Epsilon Xi Chapter has become a popular tradition.

Dayton, Ohio—A Pennsylvania Dutch supper brought together new and old members to begin a new year. Marsha Fox Brown, ΓΧ—Ball State, spoke to alumnae and collegians from Wright State during the Founders Day Ceremony. Marsha's program centered around her work as a teacher at the Ohio School for the Deaf in Columbus, Ohio. Christmas festivities included a shopping luncheon in downtown Dayton and Christmas caroling with the Wright State chapter.

Cleveland, Westside, Ohio—Alumnae continue to make their annual gift of handmade macramé necklaces with small wooden lamps to the new pledges at Ohio Northern University. The chapter serves their philanthropy, the Harrison School for the Deaf as aides, part-time arts and crafts instructors, tutors and helpers on field trips. Norma Andrisek, was the guest speaker at Founders Day.

Cleveland, Eastside, Ohio—A salad buffet featuring an Erma Bombeck monologue began the fall schedule. Founders Day was celebrated with a brunch buffet. Honored guests were collegians from Baldwin-Wallace and National President Norma Minch Andrisek. Lucile Crowell Cooks, A—Miami, was presented a silver bowl in her honor to be used as an Ohio award for service to a community and a college. In turn, Lucile presented Golden Rose Certificates to Alice Patterson, AP—Ohio Wesleyan, Annabell Spang, AO—Brenau, Katheryn Hendricks Wenger, AB—Illinois, Nancy Gaffney Zoldak, Θ—Ohio State, Emily Roe Fynes, Θ, Alice Wells Lamiell, Θ, Louise Ashley Smith, Θ, Dorothy Vandervest Berry, T—Wisconsin, and Aurel Fowler Ostendorf, AH—Michigan.

Findlay, Ohio—Collegians from Ohio Northern and Findlay attended a picnic workshop on pledging sponsored by alums. Alumnae hosted three collegians chapters, Bowling Green, Ohio Northern, and Findlay College for Founders Day. During the celebration Helen Reimund, former Theta Tau CCD, was honored as the Findlay Alumnae Woman of the Year.

Flint, Michigan—The chapter honored the founders of Delta Zeta with a candlelight and song ceremony. The annual silent auction was a successful fund raiser. Members brought homemade items or white elephants to the auction.

Gold Coast, Florida—Marilyn Long Green, EP—Northwest Missouri, and Jean Myers, ΓΤ—Bowling Green, were recognized as "Women of the Year" at Founders Day. Financial support of their scholarship fund for future teachers of handicapped children continues to be chapter project.

Greensboro, North Carolina—Fall activities included an ice cream party for area Delta Zeta collegians, a stationery sale, a rummage sale and a tupperware party.

Honolulu, Hawaii—During their Founders Day luncheon, the chapter learned about another fraternal group, the B.P.O.E. (Elks). Walter V. Allen traced the group's history from its origin in the late 1800's to present day. Members participated in workshop meetings in preparation of their annual Christmas auction. Earnings from the sale enabled the group to donate a calculator and a small refrigerator to store hearing aid batteries at the McKinley High School hearing program.

Houston, Texas—The 12th Annual Hobby Hi-Lites continued to be a successful project to finance area philanthropies. Exchange of holiday recipes, decoration ideas and bridge games completed a busy season for alums.

Akron, Ohio—Akron hosted alumnae from Kent, Canton, and Wooster and collegians from Akron and Kent State for Founders Day. Betty Heusch Agler, spoke to over 100 in attendance. Akron alumnae presented Theta Zeta with new initiation robes. A Christmas craft demonstration highlighted a covered dish dinner held with in conjunction with the chapter's Colonnade Club. Selling address labels and a Rubbermaid party raised money for the treasury.

Berea, Ohio—Alumnae and collegians from Gamma Alpha chapter at Baldwin-Wallace honored Norma Minch Andrisek, National President at a reception and tea. Friends, relatives, and visiting Delta Zeta alumnae gathered to congratulate Norma. Other fall activities included a Holly Folly bazaar and a Christmas Cookie and Ornament exchange.

Charleston, West Virginia—Collegians from Morris Harvey celebrated Founders Day with the chapter. Roselyn Freedman, ZT—Morris Harvey, received the Ruth Horton Outstanding Alumnae award. The chapter was named as most improved alumnae chapter in West Virginia. Programs ranged from a Halloween Party for a local speech and hearing school to a sale of poinsettias, an ornament exchange, and the collection of canned food for a needy family.

Aurora alumnae went backstage to visit with Marcia Wallace, ΔN-Parsons at the Pheasant Run playhouse where she was the female lead in between filming segments of the Bob Newhart show. Enjoying their Ladies Night Out are Barbara Lagsdon Hanson, AE-Oklahoma State, Darlene Mills Hanna, ΓN-Eastern Illinois, Mikki Fink Stoudt, ΓΓ-Missouri Valley, and Marie Anderson Martiny, ΓP-Northern Illinois.

Corpus Christi Alumnae and Colonnade Club members raised over $1000 parking cars for the home football games. Faye Main Davidson, AT-Texas in her DZ shirt, collects.

Johnson—Wyandotte, Kansas—The chapter was a guest at Founders Day observance hosted by alumnae from the Greater Kansas City area. Mrs. H. H. Barnes Woodcock, ΔΠ—Kansas, received her Golden Rose.

Kansas City, Missouri—The chapter entertained area alumnae and collegians from William Jewell for the Founders Day luncheon. Profits from an evening at a dinner playhouse were donated to their philanthropy, the Kansas City Zoo.

Lafayette, Louisiana—The classrooms in the speech and hearing clinic on the campus at Southwestern Louisiana were painted through the efforts of area alumnae. Plans are being made to carpet the classrooms this spring.

Las Cruces, New Mexico—Two alumnae were honored as Golden Roses during Founders Day. Chapter activities varied from an open house during Homecoming at New Mexico State to a recipe and ornament exchange, a hobby show and tasting party.

Northeastern, New Jersey—Founders Day was celebrated with a dinner. Profits from the annual Hobby Night were donated to their several philanthropic projects.

Metropolitan Detroit, Michigan—Alumnae hosted the annual Panhellenic President's Coffee honoring Dorothy Galloway Crooks, ΓΨ—Central Michigan and Harriet Cotton Kamn, A—Miami who are serving as president and vice president respectively. Special instruction on breast cancer and CPR—cardio-pulmonary resuscitation, were most enlightening programs.

Oklahoma City, Oklahoma—Alumnae observed Founders Day with a potluck supper inviting collegians from Epsilon Upsilon and Gamma Upsilon. Activities included the annual Flame Fantasy with earnings going toward the public school hearing impaired program, a presentation of a Halloween play benefitting UNICEF and a craft showing program.

Philadelphia, North, Pennsylvania—Area alumnae decorated and hosted the Philadelphia Alumnae Panhellenic luncheon. Barbara Sulpezio, KΨ—Shippensburg, is serving as treasurer on the council. The Founders Day luncheon was enlivened with a comedy magic show. Camera equipment was purchased by the chapter for the audiovisual department of the Pennsylvania School for the Deaf. This equipment will aid in the production of a filmstrip series on language development for hearing impaired.

Portland, Oregon—"Diamonds on Parade" was the theme of the Founders Day celebration. Alumnae answered roll call from 54 colleges and universities. The Delta Zeta Woman of the Year award went to Barbara Kirsch Hamilton, Ω—Oregon. The infant hearing research auxiliary at the Good Samaritan Hospital received a $70 contribution from a craft pillow sale.

Raleigh, North Carolina—Earnings from an annual craft fair allowed the chapter to work on several philanthropic projects. Patricia Tector, EΦ—Detroit, is serving as president of the Capital City Alumnae Panhellenic.

Richmond, Virginia—The chapter observed its 25th year as a chartered alumnae chapter during a tasting supper. This meeting also honored Eleanor Ferguson Smart as a Golden Rose.

ΔΖ QUESTION BOX

Ques: Which of the Founders served Delta Zeta as National President?

Three. Alta Lloyd Hayes, 1902-1912; Julia Bishop Coleman, 1924-1926; Anne Simmons Friedline, 1926-1928.

Ans:

Mimi De Lay Corash, ΔΩ-Fort Hays, registers members from the Fort Collins and Colorado Springs Alumnae at Colorado State Day held in Denver.

Findlay Alumnae serenaded Theta Tau chapter at Hallowe'en time. Hard to recognize are Linda Thomas Smith, ΘΤ, Barbara Huss Bibler, ΘΤ, Rosemary Wrassie Myers, ΒΧ, Mary Morris Edie, ΘΤ, Jacquie Rice, ΘΤ, Cindy Brenner Fitzpatrick, ΒΧ, Esther Briggs Neumann, ΓΑ, Dorothy Germann Myers, ΓΝ, and Deborah Book Fruchey, ΘΤ.

San Fernando, California—Alumnae sponsored a buffet party to benefit the collegians at UCLA. Proceeds were contributed to the chapter's house redecoration fund.

San Jose, California—Four alumnae were inducted into the Order of Golden Rose at the Founders Day program. The honorees were Grace Gunn Binger, ΕΕ—Fresno State, Ruth Mahan, ΑΑ—Northwestern, Flora Hurich Sharp, ΒΣ—Colorado State, and Barbara Shanks Beacom, Ω—Oregon. Patricia Scannell Dunn, ΓΑ—San Jose State, was featured speaker at the luncheon. A wills and trust program and the traditional couples holiday party concluded the fall schedule.

Saginaw, Michigan—Alums exhibited their service projects and samples of handmade items donated to various hearing centers during "Hearing Awareness Week." Tickets were purchased for several deaf individuals when the theater of the deaf performed in town.

San Francisco—Bay Cities, California—Three area alumnae chapters were the chapter's guests at the Diamond Jubilee Founders Day luncheon. Ruth Rue Behnke, ΑΒ—Illinois was toastmistress for the luncheon while Zelta Weiman Adams, Χ—Oregon was the speaker.

Topeka, Kansas—The Lawrence and Manhattan chapters were invited to a Founders Day breakfast buffet. Kay MacFarland, the first woman state supreme court justice, chose "Woman in a Man's World" as her topic. Carol Nicholson Williams, ΕΓ—Central Missouri was acknowledged as their Woman of the Year.

Tucson, Arizona—Alum-Mums and their pledge daughters in Beta Iota chapter held their annual pumpkin carving party in October. Two teachers from the Arizona School for the Deaf and Blind gave a slide presentation during the Founders Day buffet with the collegians. A donation will be sent to the school for their outdoor lab.

Tulsa, Oklahoma—Collegians from Delta Phi attended Founders Day. Josephine Walker, ΑΓ—Alabama, Betty Baughman, Γ—Minnesota, and Irene Bohannan, ΔΦ—Northeastern State were acknowledged as Golden Roses.

COLLEGIATE Royalty

For the third consecutive year, a member of Iota Tau chapter has been Homecoming Queen at West Liberty State College in West Virginia. The 1977 Queen is Cindy Treleven escorted by Richard Coe, President of Delta Chi fraternity.

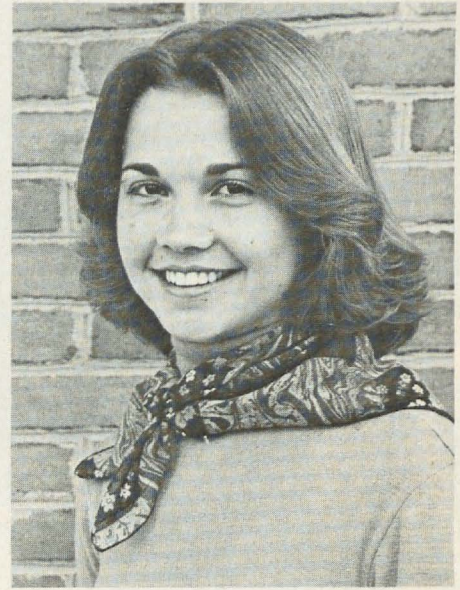

Brenda Lowe, KΑ, Livingston University's Homecoming Queen.

Renee Gravitt, BΔ-South Carolina, represented her state in the World Miss Hemisphere Model pageant and was named most photogenic. She also won the modeling competition at the Miss Southland pageant held in Disney World. Renee is an Alpha Lambda Delta student.

Nominated by Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, Janet Haywood, ΓΑ was crowned Baldwin-Wallace Homecoming Queen.

Delta Omicron chapter's royalty at Northwestern Oklahoma State are Betty Hansen, Homecoming Queen and runner-up in Miss Oklahoma Universe pageant, Trudy Wheeler, Miss Northwestern, and Cindy Campbell, Freshman Queen.

The highlight of the day was the drawing of names for winners of over $1000 worth of prizes donated by local merchants. Delta Zeta joined Tau Kappa Epsilon to sponsor the Halloween pumpkin carving party. Carved jack-o-lanterns were carried to pediatric wards, rest homes and the Community Health Center. Lisa Jess captured a major role in Dance on the Move concert and another one in West Side Story. Cindy McPeck is a pom pon girl. Deanna Reilly is chairman for two committees in Wildlife Society. Lula Pfeil is a UWSP Player.

Wisconsin-Stout, Zeta Beta—Lee Carey is president of Food Service Executives Association, while Marsha Johnson is Panhellenic president. Delta Zeta placed second in pyramid building in Greek Week, and sponsored the annual "Bake Your Bod" contest.

Wisconsin-Whitewater, Epsilon Kappa—Paula Fosdal is reigning Delta Chi sweetheart. Members trick-or-treated for UNICEF and carved pumpkins for local hospitals and nursing homes and trick-or-treated for UNICEF.

ZETA

Delta Zeta Alumnae:

Won't you help a chapter make the Chapter Membership Honor Roll by sending a voluntary recommendation on a prospective Delta Zeta? On some campuses, your recommendation is the only way our collegiate chapters can know of these potential rushees. Please send your recommendations now as many chapters have Open and Informal Rush as well as Formal Rush.

In Delta Zeta,
Anne Marie Gavin
National Reference Chairman

Lampost

If you tried to call Delta Zeta national headquarters in Columbus this last winter and no one answered, it was because that city was snowed under and iced under. (And we used to envy them their southerly climate!)

When a Travelling Field Representative visits a chapter, she checks into all areas, including the grooming of the members. On a recent visit to a nearby chapter we watched Debbie Raziano get her point across by giving the members a little test, which we took ourself. It was so easy and interesting, we thought you might like to take stock of your own best dressed category.

When fully dressed and ready to go out, make this simple point test.

Give yourself one point for each color you are wearing.

Plain simple shoes are one point each. Add an extra point for each detail on shoes (open-toe, bows, buckles, open-heels, chains, rope, or multi-colored).

One point each for all jewelry except wedding rings. This includes watches, chains, bracelets. If jewelry is multi-colored, count each color. Two ear rings count one point if they are simple.

Glasses are one point if simple. Add another point for stand-out decorations on glasses.

The pin which fifty year members of Delta Zeta are privileged to wear is a replica of the Delta Zeta rose in gold with a pearl in its heart. But almost as lovely is the box in which it comes. Of white to sit on your dresser, the box has a top of vieux green satin with the letters Delta Zeta in gold. If you have a special Gold Rose member whom you wish to honor with a pin, in addition to the certificate, they can be ordered from Headquarters in Columbus. In fact, Headquarters has a great many  $\Delta Z$  goodies you may order. And if you have never visited Headquarters at 21 East State Street, may we tell you that a corner of the office is truly The Rose Shop, all done up in silver striped wallpaper and pink roses everywhere.

Hats are one point if simple.

Handbags are one point if simple. Add extra points for chains, buckles, extra colors.

Colored nail polish counts one point. Add extra point if toenails show and have polish.

Buttons are one point each if they are not the same color as the garment.

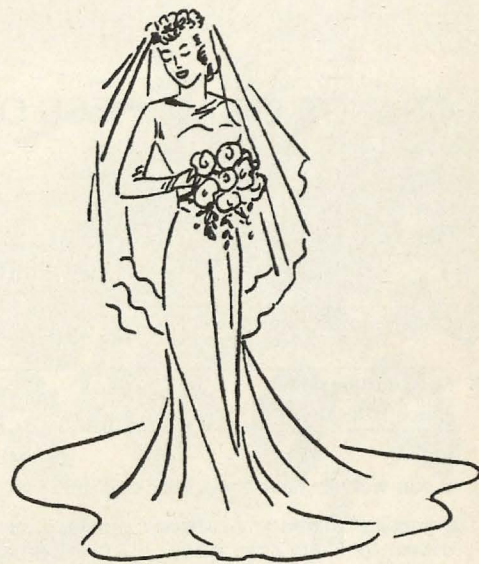

Count one point each for bows, ruffles, contrasting belts, etc. Add one point if you have red hair.

Now count up your points. The best dressed woman has an understated, uncluttered appearance. To be well dressed, try to wear less than 14 points.

When Jean Haley, Y-North Dakota, received the Arlene Davis Aviation scholarship back in 1975, she was truly interested in the field of flying. A note from her says that she has just been accepted as a pilot for one of the major airlines. Hurray for our side!
