BREATHTAKING ARIZONA SCENERY surrounds the girls during their five weeks at the "finishing ranch."

Let Georgia Do It

By Phyllis J. Boyd

Reprinted with permission from Arizona Highways, May, 1955

ARANCH is a cattle farm—a collection of "wide open spaces" covered with green grass where lean, bowlegged cowboys "ride hard in the saddle" all day and raise sleek, fat cattle for the nation's beef-steak platters. Cattlemen are rough, rugged, and two-fisted. Their wives are lanky and leather-skinned from long hours in the wind and sun.

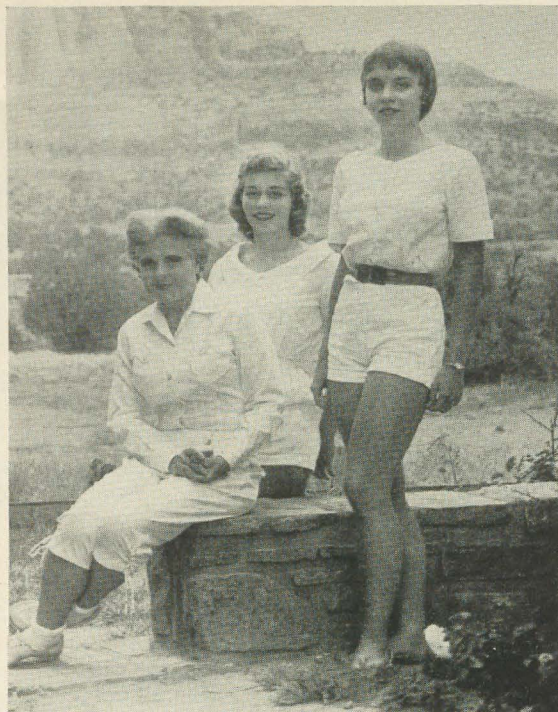

MARCHING ON WITH DELTA ZETA! Lorie Johnson, Ω , majorette at the University of Oregon, is typical of Delta Zetas country-wide who are marching on with their sorority. Maintaining a 3.31 average, Lorie keeps up with scholastic as well as extra-curricular activities.

Maybe fifty years ago this was an accurate description, but now it's no more than a child's television or comic book dream.

Cattlemen like comfort like anyone else. Some of them early saw the future in selling their herds, dressing up their cowhands in fancy boots, embroidered shirts, and tight pants, and opening their range to an invasion of eastern "dudes" who wanted to play cowboy for a while and were willing to pay for the chance.

Although there are still thousands of head of cattle raised, dude ranching has become a fine art. Now, the wife of a prominent Texas attorney has established, of all things, a "finishing ranch" for sub-debs, a five-week summer course on an Arizona ranch in the art of gracious living.

The prospect of riding herd on fifty or sixty teen-aged girls for five weeks would make the hardest cowman saddle up and take to the hills. This little Houston lady not only keeps track of them, but turns them into charming, poised, and competent young women.

Mrs. T. Everton Kennerly considers personal charm and beauty mighty important to any girl. She also thinks there's a lot more to developing into a mature and happy woman than knowing how to apply makeup, wear clothes, and select the proper forks.

As her two young daughters, Ann and Mary Marcia, were growing up, Georgia Kennerly spent summer after summer at camps looking for the kind of training she wanted for her girls. . . . But she never found quite what she wanted. When Mary Marcia, the youngest, was six years old, Georgia Kennerly began to dream about starting a summer school of her own for her daughters and their sub-deb friends.

Five years ago she opened her first season on a cattle and guest ranch in Southern Arizona . . . hired a staff of specialists as instructors, chartered a Pullman train, and brought 32 Texas sub-debs to Arizona for a five weeks' course none of them will ever forget. . . .

Wherever the location, Mrs. Kennerly's training course is essentially the same—to prepare her young charges to become happy and useful, as well as charming and decorative.

Believing strongly that every girl needs to develop to the fullest extent, all of her talents and abilities, Georgia Kennerly insists upon thorough training in the usual techniques provided in "charm" schools. For such training, she lines up real experts. . . .

For more than an hour every day the girls, under their direction, receive intensive training in details of makeup, care of skin and hair, proper carriage, and high-fashion modeling. . . .

At the end of five weeks, these girls stroll confidently and gracefully before a crowd of guests, displaying the latest fashions at a style show they plan and execute themselves. . . . They can be doubly proud, too, since almost every girl wears an outfit which she has made in the sewing class and accessories she has made in the arts and crafts class. These are girls many of whom, two months before, had never so much as threaded a needle.

It is in the emphasis which Mrs. Kennerly places on housekeeping, homemaking, and sewing that her "finishing ranch" follows an unusual course.

"I wasn't trying to start a bride's school," she explains, "but I don't see why our young girls of today should be expected to learn homemaking almost by osmosis. In the old days a girl learned, from her mother, exactly how to run a household. And, personally, I've never thought it was the least bit funny for a bride to produce only burned toast and bad coffee."

. . . At the Kennerly Ranch it is called "Home Economy" since the courses show the girls short cuts which save them time, energy, and money in the homemaking arts. Regular meals are prepared by a kitchen staff, but the girls plan, cook, and serve all the food for their side trips into the surrounding country. . . . The girls take care of the niceties that go with eating. Each day two dining room hostesses are appointed. It is their job to set out the dishes, silver, and glasses according to the menu, and they serve the food.

Each of the small tables in the dining room has its own hostess. She sets the tables, generally sees that the meal runs smoothly, starts the food around, watches to see that each girl gets enough, leads the conversation, and gives the signal to rise at the end of the meal. In this daily process the girls learn the art of dining graciously. . . .

One of Georgia Kennerly's chief purposes is to teach consideration of others. She asks the girls to regard themselves as guests while they are at the ranch. She wants them to learn the technique of being a welcome guest, and considers this as important as being a good hostess.

Each day there is a class in the "Art of Gracious Living" which Mrs. Kennerly teaches herself.

"One of a guest's duties," she explains, "is to take care of the property. We always try to leave a place in better condition than when we came."

The girls learn that a good guest accepts the hostess' plans graciously and without complaining. They learn that a good guest is on time to meals. In their "homes," each with its own counselor, the girls learn general housekeeping habits. The heavy work is done by maids.

Georgia Kennerly is trying to get rid of the idea, that, "My parents brought me into the world. I had no choice, therefore I owe them nothing."...

With the beautiful setting of the Oak Creek country outdoor activities take on added zest. As in most summer camps, swimming is a required subject. . . . Tennis is played . . . and archery in the green woods is like playing Robin Hood. And, of course, any ranch, even a "finishing ranch," without horses is unheard of. . . .

Under brilliant, blue Arizona skies the girls take long rides over the wooded hills which loom on every side of the ranch . . . and counselors are hard put at times to keep them from racing their horses across the hills under a particularly virulent attack of the "joy of living."

Their enthusiasm and energy is given a chance to explode in dramatics classes which Georgia Kennerly teaches. Mrs. Kennerly is famous in Houston for her dramatic readings.

"I don't feel that I am a professional," she says. "I just love to teach young people." She has been associated with the theater and dramatics groups for many years. Mrs. Kennerly feels that the girls can learn much more than acting in a dramatics class. She says, "You teach life itself when you teach dramatics."

The girls learn to use their ingenuity in preparing and presenting variety shows each Friday night. Each week one cabin or "home" is responsible for the show, and "Ken" Kennerly (T. Everton, Jr.) helps the girls write and prepare their skits. Imagination runs wild! The acts are usually comic take-offs on some popular song, current Broadway show, and frequently exaggerated imitations of the counselors. . . .

In Georgia Kennerly's opinion, taking part in these shows is one of the best ways for her girls to learn self-possession and poise. Mary Marcia Kennerly, now 19, and a sophomore at the University of Texas, teaches ballet, tap, and modern dancing.

When the girls go back to Texas, they know nearly as much as the local citizens about the area in which they have spent the summer. Side trips to all the points of interest within reasonable distance are a part of the Kennerly curriculum. Before they leave for these trips, one girl is assigned to study available books and brochures and, when they arrive, she is prepared to give the other girls an instructive lecture on the spot. . . .

Religious training at any school is always a ticklish subject, but Mrs. Kennerly, herself a deeply religious woman, instituted non-denominational Vespers Services every evening. She asks the girls themselves to take complete charge of the simple service. Each evening as sunset approaches, every girl hurries to bathe and change into clean, white shirts and shorts for the short outdoor devotions. Not a single sub-deb in the history of the Ranch has ever missed the voluntary service. With their freshly scrubbed faces and wind-blown hair, these young "glamour girls" add a further peak of beauty to the indescribable parade of light and color that is an Arizona sunset.

The high point of the season is graduation night. With their introductory training in the delight of being women at an end, the girls present the final style show of the season for guests from nearby towns. Up to this point, the girls are completely unaware that they will receive diplomas which state that they have satisfactorily completed a course of charm and modeling with the purpose "to develop her individuality, enabling her to learn to grow beautiful physically, mentally, and spiritually . . . also to inspire her to further develop these potentialities through daily application."

When the girls go home, parents decide that when it comes to turning out delightful, attractive, and competent young ladies, it's a good idea to "let Georgia do it" at her Kennerly Finishing Ranch in Arizona.

Golden Circle Scholarship Award Given by Mothers' Clubs

HARRIETT DAVIS, Alpha Sigma, Florida State University, has been presented the first Golden Circle Scholarship Award.

The award, conceived by the national chairman, was approved and supported by the fifty Mothers' Clubs of Delta Zeta. To our knowledge it is the first philanthropic project attempted by Mothers' Clubs on a national level.

These factors are considered in making the award: scholarship, activities and honors on campus and chosen field, personality, leadership and financial need. The national award committee, Director of College Programs, the chairman of Mothers' Clubs and a Mothers' Club president composed the committee which made the award.

Harriett, a senior, is an outstanding chemistry student, having won the title of Chemistry Major of the Year as a junior. She works in bio-chemistry research on synthesis of amino acids. She has served her Delta Zeta chapter as secretary and president of Panhellenic, as representative on the sorority council for two years, chairman of Homecoming Float two years, and the debate team.

Her campus activities include, program chairman for freshman class carnival, Alpha Lambda Delta (freshman honorary), WFSU (radio station), program chairman for Disciples of Christ Fellowship, Inter-Faith Week Committee, sophomore council, secretary and president of Student Affiliates of American Chemistry Society, Garnet Key (campus honorary for loyalty, service and spirit), Mortified (honorary), and publicity chairman for Dad's Day. She has maintained an all college scholastic average of B+.

The death of her father in '54 and a recent illness of her mother, a registered nurse, who has worked at her profession to educate Harriett, made it necessary that she work the maximum hours in the laboratory. There was a possibility that she might have to sever sorority relations which she says, "would be like cutting off both hands and heart." It is fitting that an award given by mothers should help not only a worthy Delta Zeta but a valiant mother as well!

DELTA ZETAS at the Installation Tea included alumnae members from Knoxville and Tri-Cities and collegiates from Beta Lambda and Delta Eta chapters.

Delta Eta Installed at East Tennessee State

AFTER an exciting fall during which the Delta Pi Delta Sorority had petitioned Delta Zeta for colonization and had been visited by Mrs. Violet Whitfield, National Secretary, the girls of Delta Pi Delta were notified that they had been accepted by Delta Zeta. Mrs. Robert Beach, Director of Alumnae for Region One came to East Tennessee State College on November 12, 1955, and after meeting with the alumnae of the Tri-Cities area arranged for the first pledging on November 13. Fifteen excited girls were pledged, including the two faculty sponsors, Ann Garland and Jana Jones.

Following the pledge ceremony, which was conducted by Mrs. Beach, Mrs. Mary Charlton, Linda Marstall, both of whom are members of the Knoxville alumnae chapter, and Mrs. Winnie McMahon, Miss Joelle Rush, Mrs. Julie Sivert, Mrs. Mary Hatfield, Miss Patsy Smith, Mrs. Margaret Murray and Miss Mary Virginia Combs, all alumnae of the Tri-Cities chapter, a tea was given for the new pledges at which time rose corsages were presented to each of them.

No sooner had the girls become accustomed to wearing their little pledge pins when preparations were made for them to receive their gold "Lamps" and be initiated as Delta Zetas. Early in January, 1956, the girls were fortunate in having Mrs. Pinky Gates Harris, Director of Province XVII, visit them, and Pinky's charm and excellent advice made the girls even more anxious to be initiated.

The week-end of January 27-29 will be well remembered by the charter members of Delta Eta chapter of Delta Zeta as one of the happiest and most inspiring of their lives. For weeks the alumnae of the Tri-Cities chapter, the Knoxville chapter and the actives of Beta Lambda chapter had been making preparation for all the activities of the week-end. On Friday, January 27, Mrs. Violet Whitfield, National Secretary and Miss Irene Boughton, Executive Secretary, arrived in Johnson City to officiate at the initiation and installation ceremonies.

At 10 A.M. on January 28, the climax of many weeks of pledge lessons and training came. The initiation ceremony began. Initiates of Beta Lambda chapter at the University of Tennessee, Carol Steele, president, Carol McSpadden and Nancy Brownlow assisted Mrs. Whitfield, Miss Boughton and the Tri-Cities alumnae with the services. The first of the new initiates to sign the official scroll was Mrs. Nina Valentine, the first president of Delta Pi Delta. At 3 that afternoon they were really members of Delta Zeta and were walking on pink clouds of happiness. Also initiated that afternoon into the alumnae were Miss Frances Bewley, Mrs. Pauline Copeland and Miss Mary Elsie White.

The next of the weekend's events was the Installation Banquet held at the Hotel John Sevier. The private dining room was beautifully decorated with numerous bouquets of pink roses, gifts of other organizations on the college campus. Delta Zetas from far and wide came to Johnson City to be with the new members. In addition to the Tri-Cities alumnae and the girls of Beta Lambda chapter who had assisted with the initiation services that afternoon, other Delta Zetas who came to the banquet from Knoxville were: Lynn Marstall, Marie Wylie, Mary Floyd Hamilton and June Reed.

Mrs. Winifred W. McMahon, toastmistress, introduced the various members on the program for the evening. After being welcomed into the sisterhood of Delta Zeta by Carol Steele, president of Beta Lambda chapter, Mary Virginia Combs, president of Tri-Cities Alumnae chapter, and Marie C. Wylie, past president of Knoxville Alumnae chapter, Miss Savanna Clinton, president of Delta Eta chapter responded. Miss Boughton then read a few of the many greetings received from the Delta Zeta chapters throughout the country. Following this Mrs. Whitfield, the principal speaker for the evening, spoke on "Design for Friendship."

The national officers then conducted the installation service. At that time they presented the chapter with their charter and the gift from college and alumnae chapters. Following this, Miss Ella V. Ross, Dean of Women of East Tennessee State College and honored guest for the evening, accepted the chapter for the College.

Concluding events of the evening were the Flower Service when each new member was presented with a pink rose and Carol Steele sang one of Delta Zeta's favorites, "Remember."

On Sunday afternoon the Knoxville Alumnae held a tea at the John Sevier Hotel honoring the new chapter. Greeting the guests were Mrs. Margaret Shurtz, A B, Johnson City alumnae, Mrs. Mary Charlton and Mrs. Dorothy Shivery, both of whom are from Knoxville. The receiving line was composed of Miss Savanna Clinton, Mrs. Whitfield, Dean Ella V. Ross, Irene Boughton and Miss Mary Virginia Combs. Others assisting at the tea were Johneta Smith, Emmagene Leek, Margaret Ann Brown, Linda Marstall and Peggy Birdsong. Delta Zeta colors were carried out in the flowers and table appointments.

The officers of the Delta Eta chapter of Delta Zeta are Savanna Clinton, president; Mary Ellen Stallard, vice-president; Betty Brooks, treasurer; Louise Weickel, secretary; Shirley Breeden, standards; Julie Harmon, guard; and Love Justice, publicity.

A few of the campus honors held by the Delta Zetas are Savanna Clinton, Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities; Mary Ellen Stallard, ROTC Sponsor; and Louise Weickel, Cheerleader.

Delta Pi Delta Sorority was organized on the East Tennessee State College campus in 1950. The primary aim of this group was to promote leadership, friendship and co-operation among its members. The colors were red and white, with the flower being the red rose.

Delta Pi Delta's first rush party which used a ranch theme was such a success that the Dude Ranch Party became a traditional social for the next few years. Besides having assembly programs and assisting in many other campus activities, the Delta Pi Deltas were in charge of the information booth at Homecoming for several years. The house party was an annual affair and was always looked forward to with much eagerness. The Sweetheart Dance was another social function in addition to the sorority's assisting in the annual Panhellenic Christmas Dance.

Historical Sketch of East Tennessee State College

AMONG the places competing for the location of the East Tennessee State Normal School were Johnson City, Sweetwater, Athens and Dayton. After visiting the various competing localities and considering the advantages and disadvantages of each, the State decided in favor of Washington County and chose as the site of the school a tract of a hundred and twenty acres on the southwestern outskirts of Johnson City and within easy view of a lofty chain of picturesque mountains a few miles distant. This location of the school was the generous donation of a distinguished citizen of Johnson City, George L. Carter.

With the donations from Washington County and Johnson City the plant was built and the school was opened to students October 2, 1911. In February 1943, the General Assembly changed the name to the East Tennessee State College. On November 11, 1949, the authorization from the Board of Education to grant a Master of Arts degree to the college was approved; and in 1951 the granting of Bachelor of Arts degree was approved.

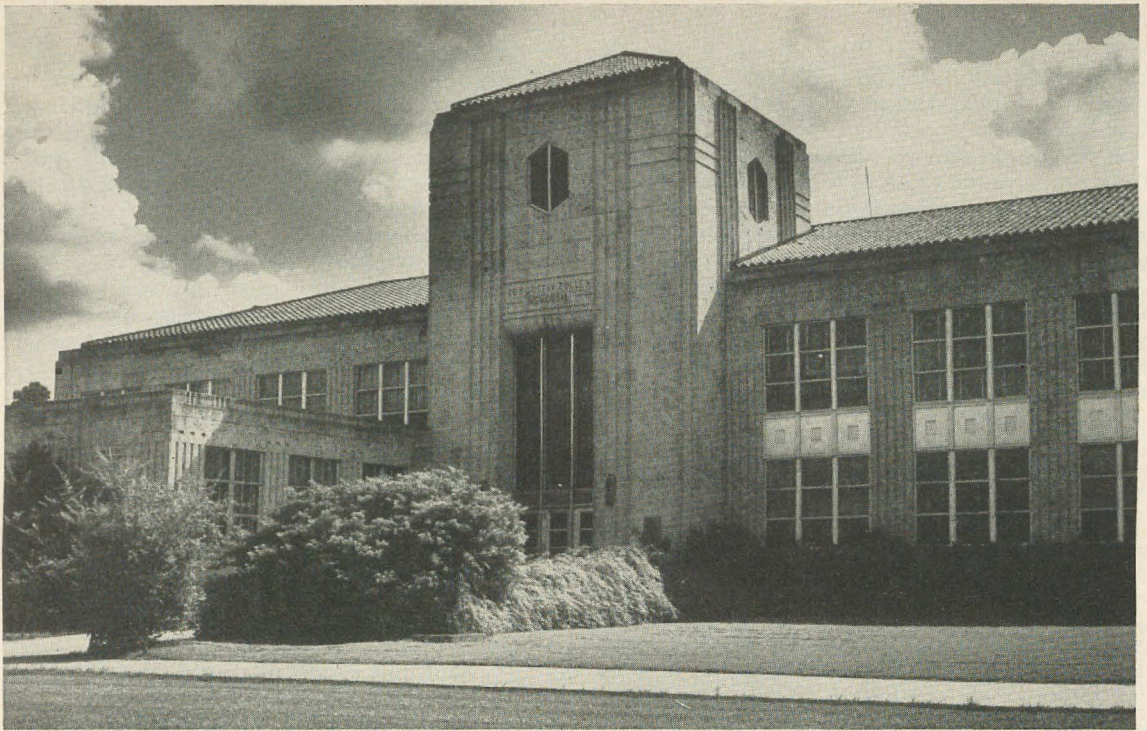

The two fundamental responsibilities in service to the State as an institution are: (1) Preparing teachers for the public schools of the State; (2) Giving general, pre-professional, and vocational education on a college level to those students who should not, or do not wish to enter teaching.

The East Tennessee State College is located on 177 acres of land within the corporate limits of Johnson City. The school has an elevation of 1,700 feet above sea level. Some of the highest mountains in the whole Appalachian system can be seen from the school grounds. Above the campus rise the heights of Buffalo and Cherokee. The peaks of Holston, seen from the front of the Administration Building, make a picture of wonderful beauty, and in the distance towers the Roan, rising to a height of 6,394 feet.

The beautifully landscaped campus consists of seventeen brick buildings in addition to the Administration Building. These include the various dormitories for the men and women; the ROTC and Music Building; the Industrial Arts Building; the Fine Arts Building; the Health and Physical Education Building which contains a gymnasium with seating capacity for 5,000 and a swimming pool; the English Building; the Science Building; the Cafeteria, the Home Management House, where girls majoring in Home Economics life for at least one quarter under practical home conditions; the Training School, which provides for six elementary grades, junior high school and senior high school; and the Charles C. Sherrod Library which contains 50,000 bound volumes, a museum, reading and work rooms and a Little Theatre for dramatics. Also there is the ever popular Grill which is used only for social purposes. Outdoor entertainment is well taken care of by a beautiful amphitheatre which is styled after Greek architecture; the stadium, which has ample seating space and all necessary equipment; and the ten tennis courts which are used for instructional as well as recreational purposes. There is an established and growing fund for the building of a chapel.

There is a very friendly atmosphere among the students and faculty at East Tennessee State College. There are fifty-two different organizations which offer activities of interest to the students. There are denominational groups, drama clubs, athletic clubs, sororities and fraternities, music organizations and clubs which function for educational and vocational purposes.

THE COLLEGE OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION is housed in the Roy Gustav Cullen Building at the University of Houston.

Delta Theta Comes to Texas

By Sally McCann Larmore

THE fourth Delta Zeta Star of Texas came into full brilliance on February 11 as Evelyn Adams Costello, national president, installed Delta Theta chapter of Delta Zeta at the University of Houston.

Greek letters were top news on the campus during the week as eight local sororities and ten fraternities went national with initiation ceremonies, banquets and open houses scheduled for every group.

The formal installation of Delta Zeta took place during a banquet held at the Houston Club, with the presence of our national officers giving inspiration to our new Delta Theta chapter.

We were honored to have Mrs. Bessie M. Ebaugh, dean of women at the University of Houston, accept the chapter in behalf of the University.

Louise Wadley Bianchi, national director of membership, was outstanding as our toastmistress, with her graciousness and wit weaving the program into delightful and memorable evening.

Gamma Zeta chapter of Southwestern sang grace at the banquet and welcome addresses were given by Jean Hoeft Unruh, state chairman and banquet chairman; Rhea Freidell Schultz, college chapter director; Mrs. Ebaugh, Eleanor D. Callahan, president of Houston Alumnae; Joanne Copeland, Alpha Tau; Janise Pattison, Alpha Psi; and Mary Ann Springer, Gamma Zeta.

Patricia Ann Butler, president of Delta Theta and Miss Isabel E. Gibson, Sponsor, gave the responses. Introductions of alumnae and college chapters were given by Velma Lockridge McKee, director of Province XIV.

Greetings and congratulations from Delta Zeta chapters throughout the United States were read by Miss Irene C. Boughton, executive secretary.

Pledge awards were presented by Miss Ruth Creed, chapter pledge advisor, to Mary Marasek for best scholarship; Martha Sable for best grooming; Wilma Hartman, for best all around pledge, Lady Jenkins for most activities. Virginia Odle received honorable mention.

"What Kind of Blueprint Do You Have?", the principal address of the banquet, given by our charming national president, Mrs. Costello, was a challenge and inspiration to each Delta Zeta.

Special recognition was given to Mrs. Schultz with the presentation of a scholarship plaque in her name given by Ruth E. Simering, E, of Gary, Indiana. The plaque will be inscribed each year with the name of the scholarship winner of Delta Theta chapter. Miss Simering also presented a charm bracelet to Patricia Butler—a bracelet to be worn each year by the Delta Theta president.

Mrs. Dorothe Robinson, violinist, with Betty Hardin, accompanist, provided music for the banquet.

Alpha Tau chapter sang the traditional "Flowers I Give to Thee" and a memorable evening was brought to a close with the song "Remember."

Further activities of the installation weekend included a Sunday morning meeting of members of National Council and the chapter officers at the Warwick Hotel.

Sunday afternoon, the Houston Alumnæ held a reception in honor of the new chapter at the home of Georgia Kennerly. In the receiving line were Mrs. Costello, Miss Boughton, Mrs. Bianchi, Mrs. Ebaugh, Mrs. McKee, Mrs. Schultz, Mrs. Kennerly, Patricia Ann Butler, president of Delta Theta, and Jeanne McDougald, president-elect.

Roses on a gold scale were used as a centerpiece for the table. In the reception hall, large wine coolers held arrangements of magnolia leaves. Mrs. Nelda Moffett, alumnæ vice-president, was reception chairman.

Initiation ceremonies were held on Saturday, February 11, at St. James Episcopal Community Center. The nucleus of the present Delta Theta chapter was a group organized in 1950 on the campus of the University of Houston, and recognized by the University in 1951. At that time, Mrs. Schultz was appointed Off-Campus Advisor and, with the assistance of Mrs. Unruh, guided them during the intervening years. An intensified training and guidance period of three months by Mrs. Schultz and Miss Ruth Creed preceded the initiation of the chapter as now constituted.

Charter members are Doris Elaine Amelang, Beverly Joann Bauknight, Patricia Ann Butler, Faye Melancon Davis, Antoinette Theresa Fatte, Willette LaFoe Foster, Wilma Annette Hartman, Vera Ayn Hines, Lady Suzanne Jenkins, Mary Eleanor Marasek, Jacqueline Jeanne Miller, Virginia Lee Odle, Shirley Ann Rexburgh, Martha Olivia Sable, Frances Mannette Skinner and Barbara Faye Vann.

Honorary collegiate members are Bonnie Alger, Y, Carmen Cleavenger, F Z, Eloise Magness, A Ψ, and Jeanne McDougald, F Z.

Delta Theta pledges are Elizabeth Adams, Marcia Haste, Donnie Newsom, Kay Tippet, and Rosie Villereal.

Honorary alumnæ initiates were Mrs. Charles J. Foster, Miss Isabel Gibson, Miss Norma Ruth Greenhill, Mrs. Jack F. Gale, Miss Beatrice L. Lytle, Mrs. L. A. McGee, Mrs. M. M. Porter, Mrs. George W. Sentell, Mrs. George B. Sommers, Mrs. Jennie Wren Voelkel, Mrs. William Wisdom, Miss Sarah Aull, and Mrs. Fred J. BurrIDGE.

Alumnæ initiates were Mrs. Ted Adams, Mrs. Reed A. Allen, Mrs. James M. Fambrough, Mrs. Benton F. Hill, Mrs. George F. Novak, Mrs. F. Vane Reid, Mrs. Ben Wilson, Jr., Mrs. Ralph G. Koster, Mrs. William R. Parker, Jr., and Mrs. Charles F. Davis.

Founded as a junior college in 1927 the University of Houston was expanded in 1934, to meet the needs of a thriving Gulf Coast area, to include a four-year program. Since its first year as a four-year school, the university has seen its enrollment increase nearly ten-fold.

At present the University of Houston has an enrollment of 14,000 students, representing nearly every county in the world. It is the second largest educational institution in the Southwest.

There are 17 permanent buildings located on the main campus. Architecture is a blend of modern, stylized and classical types featuring the sand-colored Texas limestone. Newer buildings are constructed of blending brick, steel and glass materials.

Four air-conditioned dormitories cluster around Oberholtzer Hall, a combined guest house and recreation center housing two large cafeterias and a snack bar.

The university is composed of a junior college division, a graduate division, a school of architecture, a downtown school and nine colleges: arts and sciences, business administration, education, engineering, law, nursing, optometry, pharmacy and technology.

Other sororities installed on the University of Houston campus are Chi Omega, Delta Gamma, Alpha Delta Pi, Phi Mu, Alpha Chi Omega, Zeta Tau Alpha, and Alpha Phi. National fraternities on campus include Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Phi Epsilon Pi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Delta Chi, Kappa Alpha Order, Phi Kappa, Pi Kappa Alpha, Lambda Chi Alpha and Pi Kappa Phi.

Indiana University Announces Graduate Internships in Student Personnel

The internships offer an opportunity for professional experience in guidance under the direction of a staff trained in the personnel field. Graduate study may be pursued with a major in Personnel and Guidance, or in Education, Psychology, Recreation, Sociology, and other fields.

Stipends which cover room, board, and basic fees are granted for a half-time appointment in the Women's Residence Halls. In addition to the personnel responsibilities in the halls, the Counselors carry a part-time academic program limited to a maximum of 10 hours each semester. The Master's degree may be completed under this plan in four semesters, either with or without a thesis. During one semester of the second year, Counselors may gain further experience by supervised employment in University offices dealing with student personnel administration. The training and experience received in this combined program of work and study in personnel may lead to careers in education, government, industry, and social agencies.

For information concerning the Internships in the Residence Halls address:

The Pride of Beta Gamma

By Carol Sharpe Harper, B I

BETA GAMMA Delta Zetas at the University of Louisville are bursting with pride over the accomplishments of two of their graduating seniors. Temple Hill and Tinker Everhart have not only brought honor to their chapter, but have gained state-wide recognition for themselves and Delta Zeta.

Since last spring, Temple has led all Kentucky chapters of the Future Teachers of America as state president. Her election to this post was preceded by a year as state treasurer and as president of the U of L chapter. She had also been historian and publicity chairman.

This summer Temple spent a busy two weeks, representing Kentucky at three successive conferences in DeKalb and Chicago, Illinois: the National Association of F.T.A.'s Leadership Conference, the National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards, and the National Education Association Conference. In November, she was the representative to the Regional Classroom Teachers Conference in Asheville, North Carolina.

Though her major is elementary education, she has not confined her activities to this field alone. She pledged Delta Zeta her freshman semester, was vice-president of her pledge class and received the scholarship award. This was to be expected from the girl who graduated from high school with second honors in a class of 135 and received the highly prized math award.

As an initiate, Temple served as house manager, parliamentarian, publicity chairman, and treasurer. Throughout her college career, she has contributed to the campus weekly, The Cardinal, as a reporter. In December, she received the Cardinal "Salute," a weekly feature which pays tribute to the outstanding seniors in the various colleges of the University.

In the spring of 1954, she received a singular honor; election to the post of Women's League president. The Women's League is a campus organization composed of all women students in all ten colleges of the University. As president, she was also director of the most successful "Career's Day" (an annual event for freshmen) ever held at U of L.

Temple is also well known throughout the state through her work in the Rainbow Girls, a fraternal organization for teen-age girls. In addition to holding the highest offices in her local group, she held state officerships for four years.

She is now on the state advisory board.

In addition to her many scholastic and extra-curricular activities, Temple finds time to serve as assistant to the secretary to the Dean of Women. In her little spare time, she plays the piano and follows her hobby, photography.

One of the brightest personalities on the U of L campus is Beta Gamma's "Tinker" Everhart. Christened as Iola Margaret, she has so completely squelched the use of her given name that when she received the Cardinal "Salute" in October, it said simply, "The Cardinal Salutes 'Tinker.'"

Her college career started with a bang, when, in her freshman semester, she became a charter member of the AFROTC Sponsors' Corps. She was elected Queen of the Military Ball, and her fellow sponsors selected her as their first president, bearing with it the rank of full colonel.

Tinker has been a loyal Delta Zeta, also, serving as culture chairman, recording secretary, and vice president. She has been "mother" to a large family, having had five little pledge sisters. She is also a member of the Barbershop Quartet.

Work with the University Players occupied much of her time last year. In addition to minor roles, she played the lead in "Mother Was A Freshman." Her nimble fingers and home economics major made her a natural for wardrobe mistress of all the productions. She received statewide publicity when her picture appeared in the Courier-Journal, in costume advertising a "flapper-era" play. She also played feature roles in the Louisville Little Theatre presentations of "Harlequinade" and the "Browning Version."

Her sense of the dramatic produced another front-page picture last year when Tinker, sitting demurely in the midst of a large papier-mache oyster shell, received first prize at the Louisville Beaux Arts Charity Ball—her title, "Oyster on the half shell," of course.

Tinker has contributed a great deal to the Cardinal. A year of reporting and proofreading led to her appointment as office manager for two years.

Much of her time she spends in the U of L Alumni Office, as assistant to the Alumni Director.

Her third job probably accounts for at least some of her popularity. As campus representative for Liggett and Myers, she is the frequent donor of sample packages of Chesterfields and L&Ms. This, plus her sparkling, effervescent personality, has endeared her to the whole campus.

An honor student, Tinker has been elected to Pi Delta Epsilon, journalism honorary, and Mortar Board. In her free minutes, she may be found in the Snack Bar, teaching freshmen the finer points of bridge, her hobby.

Attention all Convention-bound Newshounds!

Would you like to be in the know? Want to scoop your friends at Convention? Have you a yearning to burn the midnight oil beating out a news story? Sign up at Convention to work on the staff of the Lampkin, Delta Zeta's own convention newspaper. This is a great opportunity for journalism majors to keep in practice during the summer vacation. Even if you aren't a J-major, there's still room for you on the staff, if you're interested and willing to work. Typists, artists, and circulation agents are also needed on the staff.

Apply at the Convention registration desk if you want to help edit and publish the convention Lampkin.

We commend to your attention a short book entitled Man's Unconquerable Mind by Gilbert Highet, from which we offer the following excerpts:

"The human mind is capable of far more work than it has ever done. A normal man uses nearly all his muscles during his mature life, but leaves large areas, perhaps two thirds, of his brain dormant."
"Freedom of knowledge, like other freedoms, rests on many different pillars and is unsafe on one or two alone. Thinking is everyone's business. Yet knowledge is power and power entails responsibility. The free use of knowledge is a dangerous and meaningless phrase unless it connotes—like all liberties—activity controlled by responsibility."

Presenting MISS SOUTHERN 1956

FOR TWO YEARS in a row the honor of Miss Southern has been given to a Delta Zeta of Beta Mu chapter. This year the honor was bestowed upon Barbara Mock who has, in her four years at Florida Southern College, contributed much to the college and even more to the sorority. Her high average scholastically brought her the honor of being Valedictorian of her class. She is a member of Pi Delta Epsilon, Kappa Delta Pi, and Pi Gamma Mu all honorary fraternities. Barbara is an outstanding member of Cap and Gown and Sigma Tau Delta. She has also been listed in Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

RHOSAN in the TOURNAMENT OF ROSES

LOVELY RHOSAN DOBBEN, B P, was the sole rider on Michigan State University's Centennial float in the Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena last January 2. As the school's top woman student and leader in school activities as well as Mortar Board president, Rhosan was selected to appear on the float saluting MSU's century of educational service. She wore a green satin gown, trimmed in green net, a white fur cape and a white mortar board hat. While she was in Southern California, Rhosan made a tour of movie studios. She is shown here with George Nader and Esther Williams on the set of Universal-International's "The Gentle Web."

Texans gathered for a formal banquet during their province convention in March.

Texas Holds Province Convention

AUSTIN, the capital city of Texas, was host March 3 and 4 to the Delta Zeta Province XIV Convention. This was the first convention of Delta Zetas in the state since Texas became a separate and individual province.

Registration totaled 150 Delta Zetas, representing alumnae groups from Austin, Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, and San Antonio, and college chapters Alpha Tau, from the University of Texas, in Austin, Alpha Psi, from Southern Methodist University, in Dallas, Gamma Zeta, from Southwestern University, in Georgetown, and Delta Theta, from the University of Houston, in Houston.

Officers and members of the Austin Alumnae Club serving on the Convention Committee were Helen Leach, general chairman, Mary Mae McDonald Hartley, publicity, Pat Crowson Gorzycki, programs, and Carrielyn Schmidt Garretson, registration. The San Antonio Alumnae group, represented by Mary Margaret Calhoun Fore and Ann Holloway, assisted the Austin Alumnae in plans for the convention by handling all decorations for the meetings. It was the work of these industrious people that was responsible for the precision and magnificent detail that resulted in the convention being the success that it was.

Following registration Saturday afternoon, the alumnae gathered in the home of Mrs. Leach for the alumnae reception and tea. At the same time, in the Alpha Tau chapter house on the campus of the University of Texas, the college girls were enjoying a coke party and open house. These thoughtfully planned functions made it possible for both groups to greet old friends and make new acquaintances before the regular workshops and other scheduled meetings began.

The theme of the formal banquet Saturday evening, in the Driskill Hotel's spacious Crystal Ballroom, was a jewel box, featuring the newest "jewel" in our Delta Zeta Lamp, Delta Theta chapter on the University of Houston campus. Mrs. Leach presided, with an invocation by Louise Green, Alpha Tau chaplain, and a welcome to Austin by the president of the Austin Alumnae Club, Mrs. Gorzycki. Following the dinner, Delta Zetas were honored with messages by Jean Unruh, State Chairman, Joanna Alseth, State Alumnae Director, and Velma Lockridge McKee, Province Director. Introductions were then made of outstanding persons present, including the officers of the new Delta Theta chapter.

A refreshing fashion and beauty parade followed, featuring typical clothes found in a Delta Zeta's wardrobe, modeled by lovely girls from the college chapters. Afterwards, entertaining skits were presented by each of the college chapters, concluded by singing by members of Alpha Tau and Gamma Zeta chapters.

In the alumnae workshop that followed, Mrs. Alseth presided while chapter reports were given and discussions held on alumnae organization and training. At the same time, Mrs. McKee led the girls in the college workshops, covering chapter reports and discussions on officer training and steering committees.

Sunday morning, March 4, workshops were held in the Alpha Tau chapter house for collegians and alumnae. After an invocation by Wilma Hartman, Delta Theta chaplain, Mrs.

McKee, workshop coordinator, introduced Mrs. Joan Smith, Dean of Women at Southwestern University in Georgetown, who spoke to the group on "That Special Magic That's a Delta Zeta." The workshops that ensued covered subjects, including open rush, master rush plans, summer work, rush schools, and floating plans, that were of benefit and interest to everyone.

The noon brunch, immediately following the workshops in the chapter house, gave everyone an opportunity to visit and to discuss the new ideas and thoughts gleaned from the meetings of the past two days. After the luncheon given by the Alpha Tau housemother, Mrs. Lenora Caldwell, Mrs. Unruh presented the Filly Cup for 1956 to Gamma Zeta chapter. Fort Worth was then announced as the host city for the 1957 State Day by Irene Crawford Francis, president of the Fort Worth Alumnæ Club.

The singing of "Remember" by the entire group closed the 1956 Province XIV Convention in Austin. The success of the meeting can be attributed not only to the convention chairmen and the wonderful work and planning that was done, but also to each and every Delta Zeta, collegian and alumnæ alike, who attended and partook of the knowledge, friendship, and sisterhood offered. Each Delta Zeta left the convention with renewed enthusiasm for and devotion to the ideals maintained by Delta Zetas through the generations.

EDITH FLETCHER WILLIAMS

Δ Z's in the Air

DOLORES JOAN BERNS, has won her wings as an American Airlines stewardess and has been assigned to flight duty at La Guardia Airport, New York. She attended Central Michigan College and is a member of Gamma Psi Chapter. Before winning her wings she completed a four-week course at American's stewardess training center at Chicago Midway Airport during which she studied the principles of meteorology, flight operations, navigation, radio, airline schedules, and other airline activity.

RITA C. DORNER has finished stewardess training for Eastern Airlines and is now living in Miami, Florida. Originally she is from Chicago, Illinois. She was graduated in June, '54, from Illinois Institute of Technology in Home Economics (Gamma Mu chapter). Previous to flying she worked in the quality control lab for Borden's Dairy. She hopes to meet some of her sorority sisters in July when Delta Zeta has its convention in Miami, her new home town.

HOLLIS H. O'NEAL, Director of Province XV, presents a silver tray to Dean Sarah B. Holmes of the University of Kentucky in recognition of her services to Delta Zeta. Mrs. Gayle McCormick, president of the Lexington Alumnae, waits to congratulate Dean Holmes.

Kentucky Records Largest State Day

KENTUCKY Delta Zetas met April 7 at the Lafayette Hotel, Lexington, for the best attended State Day on record, approximately one hundred registering for the event.

Dean Sarah B. Holmes of the University of Kentucky was presented with a silver tray in recognition of her services to the sorority.

Other awards presented at the luncheon were a crested locket to Mildred Moss, $\Delta \Gamma$, for characteristics most typical of a Delta Zeta; the Nancy Costello Anderson memorial locket to Jacqueline Elswick, $A \Theta$, for the freshman attaining the highest scholastic standing; and a silver cup to Betty Schwier, $\Delta \Gamma$, as the best pledge of the year.

Entertainment was provided by Alpha Theta and Delta Gamma chapters.

Two white roses in a silver vase were placed on the speakers' table in memory of Nancy Costello Anderson, $A \Theta$, and Helen Atkin Stone, $B \Gamma$.

Attention All Delta Zetas

This is YOUR Rush Handbook—make it your constant summer companion. Detach, or use intact. Here is complete rushing information—names, facts, procedure.

STARS OF TOMORROW

The recommendations YOU send today determine the Delta Zeta Stars of 1956! Is your next-door neighbor going to college? The charming girl in your Sunday School Class? The daughter of an old friend??? Then hurry! Let the Delta Zetas know and inform your rushee of Delta Zeta's fine traditions and of the value of sorority membership.

RECOMMENDATIONS

How to do it

ALUMNÆ

The responsibility for successful pledging in all of our chapters rests directly upon our alumnæ. The very basis of our recommendations system is alumnæ support.

1. Use recommendation forms from this handbook. Secure additional copies from State Chairman or National Headquarters.
2. Send voluntary recommendations to chapter rush chairman as soon as possible. Some chapters rush early in September. Summer mail is often delayed.
3. Reply promptly to chapter requests for recommendations. This is of utmost importance to the success of a recommendations system. Notify the chapter if you are unable to supply a recommendation.
4. Give immediate attention to requests for recommendations from your Alumnæ Chapter.

COLLEGE CHAPTERS

Every girl invited to membership in Delta Zeta MUST have a recommendation signed by an alumna member. Every girl residing in a town where there is an alumnæ chapter of Delta Zeta must be approved by that alumnæ chapter.

The Rush Chairman or Rush Adviser should contact directly:

1. The president of the alumnæ chapter of the area from which a recommendation is desired. The alumnæ president is responsible for directing the request to the alumnæ chapter recommendations chairman.
2. The State Chairman for information from a locality where no regular alumnæ chapter exists.
3. The National Recommendations Chairman for particular problems or in the event of no response to recommendation requests.

NOTICE:

Advise of maximum time allowed for response to recommendation request.

Requests for recommendations will not be acknowledged unless accompanied by complete information as to name and address of rushee, name of parent and previous school attended.

Allow time for solicited recommendations to be correctly processed. Last minute emergencies are costly and often times inconsiderate.

Delta Zeta Tours

THIS could well be what is termed a "sub-head" on what is to follow. The subject material is Shari McKim, Delta Zeta from Gamma Alpha chapter at Baldwin-Wallace College. An outstanding success in mastering the art of baton twirling, our Shari has become known as "Miss Baton" in European countries.

Holder of many championship titles, namely: the Pacific Coast 1953, the Orange Bowl Twirling and Strutting 1952, the South Eastern United States 1954, the Open National championships of ten (10) states, and the N.B.T.A. undefeated Senior Girl State Championship for three straight years. . . . Shari is currently touring for her second season, as a featured half-time artist, with the world famed Harlem Globetrotters. Since October, she has traveled 40,000 miles, covering forty-three states, Canada and Mexico.

In May, the team and cast of entertaining specialists began a four months tour in the European area. Then in October, they are scheduled for four months in the Far East, which will include Hawaii, Australia, New Zealand, Japan, the Philippines, and Alaska. Shari's travels have also carried her to Great Britain, the northern coast countries of Africa, and the Middle East. She has made command performances before the Shah and Queen of Iran, and before the lords and ladies of Queen Elizabeth's Court. In total, the troupe averages between 80,000 and 100,000 miles per year.

Shari, a self-taught twirler, has been listed in Baton Twirling's "Who's Who," published by the Don Sartell Publications for the last four yearly issues.

SHARI MCKIM, Γ A, champion twirler and globe-trotter.

"How often do we hear 'she's a wonderful citizen' or 'she takes her civic responsibilities seriously?' Why is it that the words DEALS and IDEALS are so similar in spelling and so opposite in meaning? Only the I is missing from DEALS. Perhaps we as women should say it is because I wasn't there."

GLENN MILLER WISE, Secretary of State, Wisconsin The Alpha Xi Delta

I Love America

Gail Brook Burket, A B

I love America for manifold,
Inspiring beauty in her vast domain:
Hill, lake, and woodland, prairie, desert, shore,
Blue-haloed mountain, valley, stream, and plain.

I love America for Pilgrim faith,
The firm foundation of democracy.
I love America for patriots
Who lived and died to keep their homeland free.

I love America for cherishing
Both Puritans and gallant Cavaliers.
I love America for hardihood
And hope personified by pioneers.

I love America for fostering True freedom's first pure breath that earth might see
What wonders can be wrought when common man
Lives unencumbered by old tyranny.

I love America for many bloods.
Now blended into one: American.
I love America for guarding well
Her sacred trust, the rights God granted man.

I love America for reaching out
With generosity to other lands
Whose people plod in age-old ruts, instead
Of choosing roads the common good demands.

I love America for all that she Has been and is and yet may hope to be.
I love America for standing now
The world's lone citadel of liberty.

Gail Brook Burket, AB, Delta Zeta Woman of the Year in 1954, was honored by the Freedoms Foundation of Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, for her poem "I Love America," which was published in the Daughters of the American Revolution Magazine. A certificate was presented to her at a luncheon for award winners of the Chicago area on April 13. The presentation was made by Mr. W. C. Sawyer, vice president of the Foundation.

"Patriotism and love and protection of country belong in sorority and fraternity, for the Greek letter system was created with the spirit of 1776 when the first fraternity was founded at the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg, Virginia. Fraternities are an American heritage. They form what has been termed 'the world's greatest youth movement.'"

JULIA OBER, The Angelos of Kappa Delta

Washingtonian Serves Province XII

NOW serving as Director of Province XII is Nella Hulet. Nella attended the University of Washington where she was a member of Beta Phi Alpha. She attended the university about three years, then elected to get married instead of graduating. However, that did not deter her from being interested in her sorority. She was president of the Beta Phi Alpha alumnae group and then City Panhellenic delegate where she was secretary. About that time Beta Phi Alpha merged with Delta Zeta and Nella, therefore, was initiated into Delta Zeta through Kappa Chapter. Our Delta Zeta alumnae liked her so well one of our Panhellenic delegates resigned so Nella could go on serving, this time for Delta Zeta.

When her office in City Panhellenic was over Nella went on the alumnae advisory board of Kappa chapter in the capacity as pledge advisor, later becoming chairman of the board. The war years came along and Nella resigned to work for the Forest Service of the U.S. Government where she is still employed. However, the Seattle alumnae did not let her stay inactive very long for she became the alumnae president serving two consecutive terms and attending the Golden Jubilee convention at New Orleans. Immediately at the termination of that office she became CCD for Kappa chapter. In addition to Delta Zeta work she does extra field work in connection with her position with the Forest Service.

Province XII could not find a more conscientious director. Nella is very interested in all phases of Delta Zeta and will work until all hours of the night to finish the assignment at hand. Since Seattle Delta Zetas like her so well, they are happy that she can extend herself to the rest of Washington and the State of Oregon.

National Director of House Corporations

THE OFFICE OF THE DEAN OF WOMEN

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY

Announces

Graduate Residencies for Women in conjunction with

A Training Program in Student Personnel Work

To what degree does the program lead?

The Master of Arts degree. This program may be taken in either Psychology or Education, and may be continued as part of a Ph.D. program. Applications from students in related fields will be considered.

For what types of positions does this program in Student Personnel prepare?

Deans of Women, Counselors of Women, Directors of Residences, Directors of Social Programs.

What is the length of time required?

Ordinarily this will be a two-year program. The minimal requirement for the Master of Arts Degree is forty-five quarter hours. First year students may carry 12 hours of course work each quarter with 15 hours of work in the residence halls; second year students may carry 10 hours of course work with 25 hours of service to the halls.

What does the Residency offer?

First year students will receive a total remuneration equivalent to $1200 for 3 quarters, but will not receive remittance of fees. This remuneration will consist of room and board for 3 quarters valued at $705, and a stipend of $55 per month for 9 months, totaling a cash payment of $495. The second year student will receive a total remuneration equivalent to $1785 for 3 quarters. This will consist of $705 for room and board for 3 quarters and $120 per month stipend for 9 months.

What are the responsibilities of the Graduate Resident?

She does individual counseling, works with the program in women's residences, with student government and with student activities.

What courses are included in the program?

Among the offerings in Psychology and Education the following are required:

- University Personnel Psychology
- Psychology of Counseling
- Laboratory in Educational Counseling
- Problems of the Dean of Women
- Laboratory in Psychology of Campus Group Activities
- Problems in Higher Education
- Theories and Curricula of Higher Education

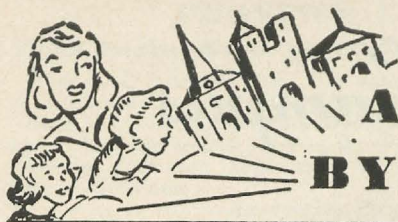

What supplementary fields are recommended?

A wide offering including courses in Psychology, Education, Sociology, Anthropology, Social Administration, Philosophy, and Family Life Education provides much from which to choose.

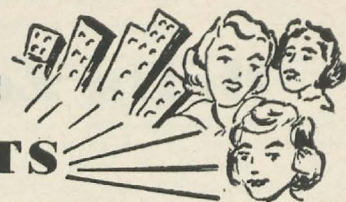

Where is further information available?

Please write to:

DR. DOROTHY F. SNYDER, Associate Dean of Women, The Ohio State University, Columbus 10, Ohio

ALUMINATIONS BY GRADABOUTS

Mary Dranga Campbell, E, has, within the past two years, received the two highest national awards given for service to the blind. She is considered one of the pioneers in this field.

In 1950 she received the Shotwell Award which was given by the American Association of Workers for the Blind. In 1955 Mrs. Campbell was awarded the coveted Migel Medal for "outstanding service to the blind." The award was presented personally by Miss Helen Keller.

Mrs. Campbell celebrated her eightieth birthday in April at her home in Lewistown, Pennsylvania.

Ruth Dean Dean, B K, is a member of the Board of Governors of the Los Angeles County Art Institute and newly elected secretary to the Board of the Centinela Music Association. She is also vice president of auxiliary to the latter group.

Mirima Eller Bjornson, B K, served as president of the Baptist Ministers' Wives Fellowship which represents a group of over 6000 ministers' wives in the United States and foreign fields.

President of the Wichita Alumnae, Janibeth Haskin Fulghum, A E, was recently featured as "Cook of the Week" by the Wichita Eagle. Her spring menu featured lamb en brochette, puffy mint pears, broiled pre-cooked potatoes, combination salad, popovers, and strawberry angel pie.

Edna Kraft James, B K, is completing her term as vice president of the American Home Economics Association. She formerly was state supervisor of home economics in Iowa and is active on the advisory council for Iowa State College's Division of Home Economics.

In the Gammaphone, the second oldest continuous chapter newsletter, it was noted that President Theodore Roosevelt had slept in the Gamma chapter house and rumor has it that he made pancakes in the kitchen. It should be added that the house was originally the home of the University of Minnesota's first president.

During the past year, the LAMP carried an article concerning a Delta Zeta who had become a Certified Professional Secretary. But, at Peoria, Illinois, there's a Delta Zeta who joined those ranks in 1952 when the first such very intensive and extensive examinations were given in Chicago. She teaches commerce at Bradley University and was the first teacher to become a CPS.

Her name is Sofrona Smith, Iota. (Thanks to the Chatterbox of Chicago Alumnae for this information.)

In 1955 Gloria Peterson Shuman, I, received a Bachelor of Foreign Trade degree with honors from the American Institute for Foreign Trade. In January of this year, her husband, Robert A. Shuman, was graduated from the same institute. Preparing for careers in American business abroad, both Shumans specialized in Latin America.

Believed to be the first woman honored by Drug Topics, a widely circulated pharmaceutical journal is Dr. N. Marie Huntington, T. She caught the pharmacy virus while working part-time during summers in a drug store, and is now associate professor of pharmacy at Idaho State College. She is a member of Kappa Epsilon, national pharmaceutical society for women; Rho Chi, Sigma Chi, Sigma Delta Epsilon, American Association of University Professors and the Idaho State Pharmaceutical Association. Since 1947, Dr. Huntington has been adviser to the Refill, pharmacy publication at Idaho State. Since the death of her husband in 1945, she has followed a full schedule of teaching, raising her two teen age sons, and participating in professional and community activities.

Another Delta Zeta author is Virginia Schmitz Pasley, A A, whose 21 Stayed was recently published both in the United States and England.

Connie Sunde Cole, Ψ, is now editor of Multilines, industrial publication of the American States Insurance Company. Also personnel assistant for the company, she is a member of the Indiana Industrial Editors Association and Theta Sigma Phi.

Gloria Cathey, T Δ, was recently appointed to the staff of the San Mateo, California, Department of Recreation as recreation supervisor. Previously she had worked in the Palo Alto, San Francisco and Salt Lake City departments. San Mateo is one of the few departments in the Bay Area with its entire staff specifically trained in recreational leadership.

Lois Madsen Powers, B K, of Estherville, Iowa, is president of the community concert series. With a membership of nearly 1000, the group presents three or four concerts yearly.

PROVINCE I

Alpha Kappa—Syracuse University

With SAE fraternity men, DZs entertained members of Hillsbrook Detention Home in Syracuse.

Jane Sheckells was elected a candidate for Pi Lambda Theta. Winning second place in the New York Journal American sponsored Tournament of Orators was Antoinette Ottaviano.

ANTOINETTE OTTAVIANO, editor
JANE SHECKELLS, president

Alpha Upsilon—University of Maine

"An Evening in Paris" was the theme of the March 3 formal at the Theta Chi House honoring our 29 pledges. Martha Burow was crowned Dream Girl of Delta Zeta. Another pretty Δ Z, Chris Loomer, is the Sweetheart of Tau Epsilon Phi.

We cooperated with the other Greek organizations in giving a Halloween party for children. Each of our members contributed a toy for our annual animal fair.

Jessie Sargent is the University's delegate to Kappa Delta Phi's national collegiate convention. A recent initiate of Phi Kappa Phi is Byrl Haskell.

PATRICIA TRIPP, editor
ELVA BRACKETT, president

Beta Alpha—University of Rhode Island

For the second consecutive year, Beta Alpha has won the cup given to the women's housing unit with the highest scholastic average.

Members entertained at the Children's Center in Providence on April 15. Mickey Mouse was the keynote. Our initiation banquet March 4 centered around the Δ Z badge. Speeches emphasized each part of the badge. Judith Nowakowski was chosen by initiates as Model Pledge. She's vice president of the Freshman Class.

The chapter's first attempt at a spaghetti supper turned out successfully. An authentic Italian atmosphere prevailed. Scabbard and Blade, honorary military society, has decided to sponsor Rosanne Cohen and Mary Ann Magnuson as candidates for the U of RI's Coed—

Holding a most responsible position is Joyce Collins, the new president of the National Home Economics Club.

JUDIE SMITH, editor
JUDITH HENRY, president

Gamma Beta—University of Connecticut

Without a single defeat, Gamma Beta came in first in basketball intramurals.

A family in our area who was stricken by the flood was given a Christmas party by the pledge class directed by Martha Peninger. Food and individual gifts were presented to them. Gallaudet College received a check from Gamma Beta for the College's library fund. And at Christmas, Γ B sent gifts to Mansfield Training School.

Reigning as queen of the Football Hop was Micki Hunt. She is vice president of the Dolphinettes which has Nancy Fargo as president. Leatrice Frankland, a new Phi Alpha Theta initiate, and Nan Curtis were chosen for Who's Who. Both have high grades and a crowded list of activities. Bunnie Fanning and Jeani Williams write the social column for the campus newspaper. Bunnie is on Student Senate too.

JANE JENSEN, editor
GEORGIA COOKSON, president

PROVINCE II

Alpha Zeta—Adelphi College

Ten of our new pledges have received full or partial scholarships at Adelphi. We initiated six girls March 23 and expect to initiate another six in June.

Eileen Curran and June Fifield appeared in campus dramatic events. Angela Santoro sang at the Panhellenic Ball in New York City's Plaza Hotel. Faith Avidon, new editor of the yearbook, and Helen Sachs were committee workers for the Ball. Helen and Angela were among the 20 sophomores on the May Day Daisy Chain.

Initiated into Delta Omicron were Amelia Sica and Muriel Washa.

MURIEL WASHA, editor
JOSEPHINE SALVATO, president

Gamma Eta—Hunter College

Among our "presidents" are Joyce Goodwin who wields the gavel for the Association for Childhood Education and Lydia Soto for Traditions Committee. Sociology Club vice president is Audrey Bisson.

The pledges' project was a party for 23 children in New York Foundling Hospital. Stuffed animals were given the youngsters.

New chapter officers are Nina Faluotico, president; Lydia Soto, first vice president; Trude Robinson, second vice president, and Henrietta Ahle, treasurer.

ESTHER LAFONT, editor
NINA FALUOTICO, president

Delta Epsilon—Queens College

A new Δ Z chapter, Delta Epsilon formerly was Theta Sigma. Meaning 13 sisters, the local sorority was founded in 1937, the year Queens College opened.

Progressing with the school, Theta Sigma saw many of its members win campus beauty contests and attain the Dean's List rating scholastically. At present, two are cheerleaders.

The group raised funds for the March of Dimes and other charities. The seven pledges last semester won second place for the sorority in inter-sorority competition.

Delta Epsilon chapter hopes you will be as proud of us as we are of belonging to such an organization as Delta Zeta.

MARY KATHRYN SKELLENGER, editor
ROSEANNE CARDONE, president

PROVINCE III

Omicron—University of Pittsburgh

Omicron's 40th anniversary was commemorated with a tea February 12 at the sorority house. Many alumnae returned for the event.

With Theta Chi we entertained the deaf children at their Home. This is an annual party.

"Let It Snow" brought us third place in the Inter-Fraternity-Panhellenic Sing Song. Named Ideal Pledge was Sally Thompson.

We shared honors with Delta Sigma Phi in the first place float title during Greek Week with "The Reluctant Dragon." Our house decorations took third prize.

CAROL FLEISCHMAN, editor
BEVERLY NAMESKA, president

Alpha Delta—George Washington

Presented at the November Rose Formal in the Cloud Room of the Washington National Airport were Tilli

Mosesso, Dream Girl, and Joyce Gray, activities Girl. We have been selecting a Girl of the Month. She is presented a dozen roses and wears a gold bracelet that month.

Our new officers are Tilli Mosesso, president; Joyce Gray, first vice president; Sallie Harris, second vice president; Irene Schuler, secretary, and Pat O'Neal, treasurer of Alpha Delta and vice president of Panhellenic.

For the second time Alpha Delta won third place for house decorations.

TILLI MOSESSO, president

Gamma Delta—Pennsylvania State University

Joan Wilson was chosen Dream Girl and Virginia MacDonald Ideal Pledge at the pledge dinner dance featuring a "King Neptune's Court" motif. Virginia is on the WSGA Judicial Board.

The Fall pledge class collected clothes for patients at the State Mental Hospital, Holidaysburg. A Christmas party for underprivileged children was held with Theta Kappa Phi. Gallaudet College benefitted from a knit bazaar and bake sale.
