Position Statement on Alcohol

Because of our concern for the health and well-being of our members, the presidents of all 26 National Panhellenic Conference (NPC) groups have agreed to the following:

1. that we are opposed to the misuse of alcohol;
2. that all college chapters, all individual members, and all guests must abide by federal, state/provincial, local, college/university laws and regulations;
3. that it is inadvisable to host a party involving alcohol when the majority of guests attending are under the legal drinking age;
4. that no college chapter funds may be used to purchase alcohol. (Co-sponsors of social events are potentially liable regardless of how the expenses are shared.)

Each NPC group has an alcohol policy and is expected to abide by it. In addition, the presidents expect their chapters to respect the regulations of any NPC co-sponsoring group.

We hope that this agreement will give college chapters the courage and ability to initiate discussion and formulate a Panhellenic stand on the subject of alcohol.

Formal rush . . . that special time when, for a designated period, chapters are focused on choosing women with whom to share our special sisterhood.

As we approach another fall formal rush period, let us look at what makes a good rush party.

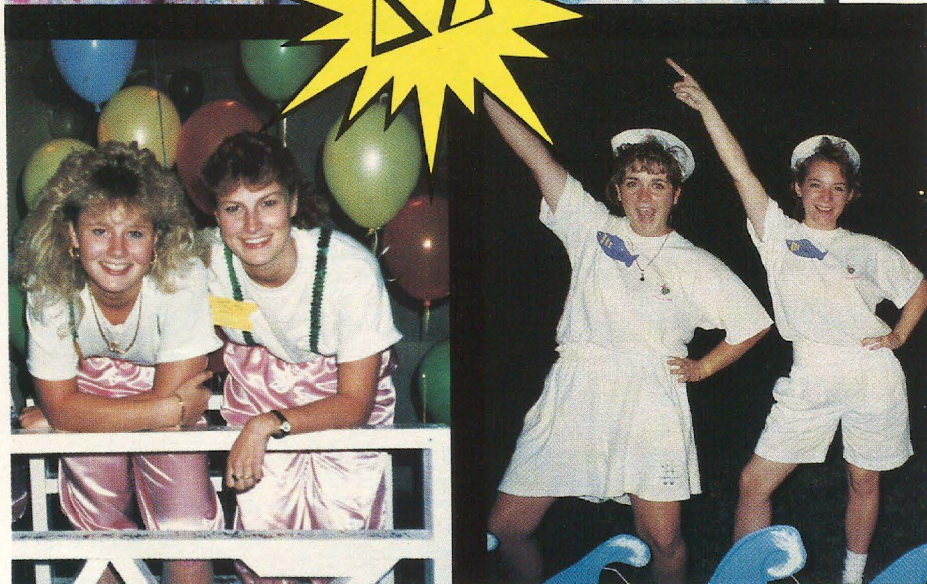

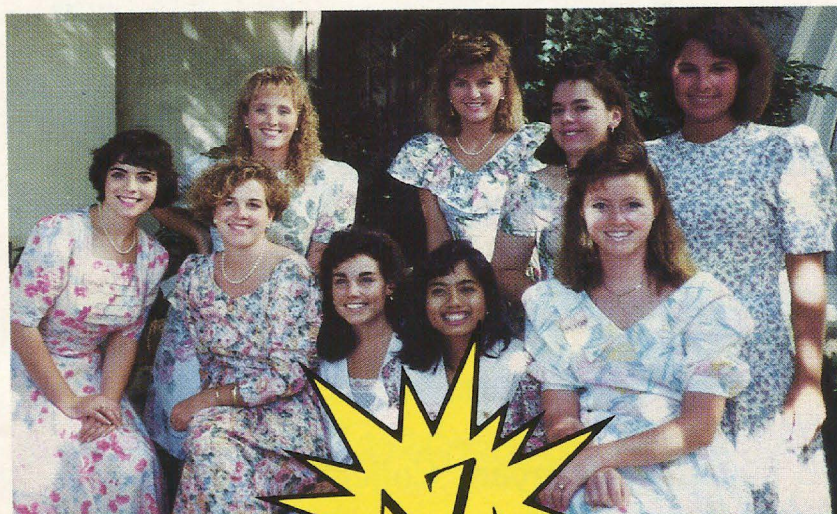

Plan and prepare. Choose your appropriate party theme . . . one that will show your chapter to its best advantage and will fit your campus situation. And then . . . Plan your party. Plan to the very smallest detail.

Then, prepare. Have available everything you need . . . scenery, backdrops, refreshments, napkins, costumes . . . everything for the perfect party.

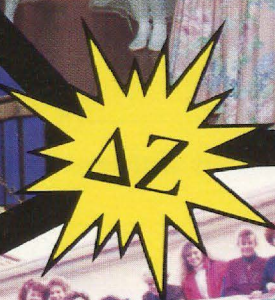

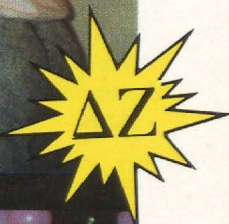

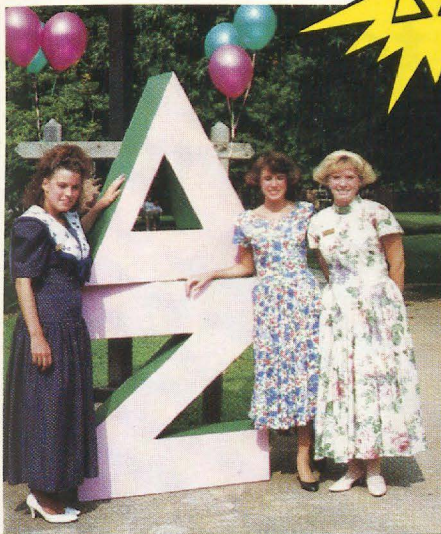

Prepare the members so they know your sisters and your sorority in order to convincingly tell rushees about Delta Zeta and your chapter.

And then relax, be yourself and have fun as you find the women with whom to share our Delta Zeta.

If all of these things are accomplished, you will have a totally successful rush party!

Recommend a rushee today

Delta Zeta alumnae across the country know young women who will be attending a college or university with a Delta Zeta chapter. Delta Zeta collegians know young women who will be attending colleges other than their own. All of you, please take time now to complete the form below to alert our chapters to special women going through rush. The young women you recommend might be family members, daughters of neighbors, co-workers, babysitters, students you teach or friends of your children. And, be sure to tell the potential rushee you are recommending her to Delta Zeta so that she can look forward to a special welcome from our sisters when she begins rush.

Introduce your legacy to Delta Zeta

Three year old Gianna Fioravante, daughter of National Standards Chairman Penny Payne Fioravante, just had to be in the picture with the "big" ΔZ ladies at a picnic for Iota Pi collegians.

A legacy is the granddaughter, daughter, or sister of a Delta Zeta and these women should certainly be given special consideration as rushees.

According to Delta Zeta's policy, all legacies will be invited back to at least one invitational party during formal rush. If a legacy is dropped during rush the chapter must notify the Province Collegiate Director of this decision immediately. If a legacy is invited to a preference party, she will be on Delta Zeta's bid list.

In order for a chapter to give special attention to a legacy, they must know a rushee IS a legacy. Many chapters do not have access to information sheets on rushees, so it is imperative that this information be provided. Please inform the chapter where your legacy will be a rushee so that she does have that special Delta Zeta connection.

Being a legacy does not mean instant membership in Delta Zeta, just as being a legacy does not prevent a rushee from choosing another group to whom she will belong. Encourage all legacies to know that Delta Zeta is special; however, it is important for each legacy to look at all the Greek groups on campus and find the one where she will be happiest.

Long Term Commitment

Lucille May has given these words special emphasis

by Joan Dondrea Lowry
Baldwin Wallace-ΓΑ

Lucille May and Gallaudet University have been special friends for about four decades. It all began in 1951 with a routine phone call, one of many Lucille made while working on a update of the alumnae chapter's membership directory.

The phone call brought Lucille in contact with sorority sister Lucille Pendell, then Gallaudet's librarian. Since aid to hearing impaired people had long been one of Delta Zeta's philanthropies, their conversation naturally turned to Gallaudet and its unique character. Both women then met to discuss how the sorority could help the college. Soon after their meeting, Lucille wrote to the Delta Zeta Foundation, the sorority's philanthropic division. In her letter, Lucille suggested that Gallaudet be considered for Foundation support.

At its 1954 National Convention, Delta Zeta adopted the proposed new Edward Miner Gall Memorial Library as one of its "Adventures In Friendships" service projects. When the library was built, Delta Zeta gave ten thousand dollars for furnishings, with other donations over the years for library facilities and equipment. After Lucille Pendell retired in 1972, Lucille May began looking at other areas of need.

Once again she wrote to the Foundation, this time proposing that an endowment fund be set up to provide scholarships for outstanding young hearing impaired women.

The Delta Zeta Scholarship Fund was established in 1975 with a four thousand dollar donation. The first award of two hundred dollars was made in 1976. By the early 1980s, a one thousand dollar scholarship was provided annually. By 1986, the fund totaled more than ninety thousand dollars and six students were awarded one thousand dollars each. The fund currently totals $170,000.

Until recent years, members of the Delta Zeta Scholarship Fund Committee decided who would receive scholarships. Now personnel in Gallaudet's Financial Aid Office handle the selection process, following guidelines set by the Foundation.

Lucille, a former Province Director, recalls one wonderful experience when she represented Delta Zeta at Gallaudet's Centennial Dinner on June 6, 1964. 450 invitations had been extended, with the guest list headed by President Lyndon B. Johnson. President Johnson was there to present to Gallaudet the annual award made by the President's Committee on Aid to the Physically Handicapped. The American Hearing Society had recommended the college for this award. Five Centennial Awards were given at the dinner, with President Johnson receiving the first. Senator Lister Hill was presented the second and Delta Zeta the third.

Lucille says equal to the thrill of receiving the medal for Delta Zeta was the magic response to the name of Delta Zeta. "Whenever I was introduced and identified with Delta Zeta, a compliment was forthcoming."

Lucille recalls with amazement the first time she was asked to speak before members of the college community. Her topic was finances. "That's a hard subject to make interesting," she said, "So I thought of some funny things to say."

During her speech she was dismayed to find that the audience was not looking at her. Not only that, but her humor lines also seemed to fall flat. She said she would be into the next sentence before the laughs caught up. She thought she had really bombed. That was Lucille's introduction to sign language interpreting.

Born and raised in North Dakota, Lucille graduated from North Dakota State, earning her degree in education with a major in science in 1937. During her college years she was active in campus and sorority activities. President of her chapter of Phi Omega Pi, she served as rush chairman, Panhellenic delegate and attended two National Conventions. On campus she was a member of the Women's Senate and the YWCA board.

Three months after graduation, Lucille married Leland B. May. He was formerly a budget analyst with the Air Force and is now retired.

Lucille served as a Province Director for Phi Omega Pi for two years, 1938-1940, was vice-president of the Fargo City Panhellenic and on the YWCA advisory board.

During the war, Lucille was the director of a USO clubhouse for

Handmade books published right from the heart

Reprinted with permission of the Miami Herald

by Jo Werne

All the books on Rachel Roller's coffee table are hers. Really.

A retired teacher and librarian, the Coral Gables resident writes stories, types them, photocopies the pages, stitches them on the sewing machine, then binds them with cardboard and fabric.

During the last two years Roller has made 650 books, all by hand.

One of the youngest and most energetic 80-year-olds you are apt to meet, Roller explained how she decided to make her own books. It started when she attended an Elderhostel (an educational program for senior citizens) in Des Moines, Iowa, to learn how to write one's family history. Once she had her story written, Roller decided to turn it into a book so that her family and a few close friends would have the story to keep.

Since much of her married life was spent in Newman, Ill., she titled the book Love Affair with a Small Town. She made 25 copies and thought she was finished. After a story about her book appeared in the Newman newspaper, however, she began to get requests for the book. So Roller made more books, 200 in all, and sold them for $20 each.

It costs her $14 to make a book. "I'm not getting rich, but I'm having fun," she said.

The other books she has made include Gentle On My Mind, A Collection of Poems by Thelma Peters, a South Florida historian and Roller's sister; Makeshift Christmas, a child's Christmas story written by Roller's son, George E. Roller, when he was 13; and Eldehosteling with Rachel, Roller's experience at an Elderhostel in Germany.

Stories to tell

Roller lectures at clubs and schools to encourage others to pen their family histories. She's got four lectures lined up for this month and April, including two at Barry University in Miami Shores.

"My philosophy is that there are just worlds of interesting stories going to waste," she said. "Yet it's impossible for common folk to get a book published and make money on it. Authors make only around 40 cents a book, and if the publisher doesn't market it well, the book doesn't sell. And if you go the vanity press route, it can cost you $6,000 to $10,000 to get a book published.

"Making your own book is the best way to preserve family history," she said. "If you use a loose-leaf notebook [for family memories], it won't get saved."

When she decided to turn her family history into a book, Roller looked for a course in book-binding. She found one offered by the Art Institute of Chicago, but the course was canceled because too few people enrolled. As a librarian for many years, Roller had mended lots of books, so she had some knowledge of the craft.

Pressing on: After stitching each book on a sewing machine, Rachel Roller glues white muslin to the spine for extra strength. Then she creates a cover from cardboard and cloth and inserts the book in a press to dry for 24 hours. Photo by Al Diaz/Miami Herald Staff.

She vowed to learn it on her own.

First, she bought a book at a garage sale and tore it apart to learn how a book is assembled. Standard parts include a title page, copyright, dedications, a blank page or a picture and a table of contents. Roller's books have all of this, including a copyright. To obtain a copyright, Roller sends a letter to the Library of Congress along with $20 and two copies of the book. She has obtained three copyrights this year.

How-to primer

Here's how Roller makes her books:

■ Story written, Roller decides how many pages, or "signatures" in book talk, her book should have. A signature is eight pages. A three-signature book has 24 pages. She takes blank sheets of white paper and numbers them. She uses paper with a rag content that costs three cents a sheet.

■ Working on an IBM electric typewriter with a typeface that looks like print, Roller measures to see how many lines of manuscript will fit on each page.

■ Once the master copy has been typed, Roller takes the manuscript to an office supply store and photocopies it.

■ Once the pages are collated and folded in half, Roller stitches each book on the sewing machine, using white thread and long basting stitches. Then she hand-stitches the basting thread in four places, adding strength to the book. A piece of white muslin is glued to the spine of the pages for additional strength.

■ Two pieces of cardboard become the cover of the book, with a strip from a cereal box serving as the spine. The three cardboard pieces are glued (she uses Elmer's glue) to a cloth cover upon which Roller has printed the title of the book and her name, using liquid correction fluid. "It doesn't rub off and it shows up on any fabric," she explains.

■ Once the book is glued, including plain end papers inside the covers, the book is inserted in a press and left to dry for 24 hours. Removing a book so a photograph could be taken of it, Roller quipped: "This is what you call hot off the press."

Evoking memories

Roller illustrates her books with sketches. "I'm not an artist. I just doodle until something comes through." Her family history book even sports the Roller family crest, which Roller hand-colored in red, blue and silver.

"I've gotten so many letters from people who are touched by the book," said Roller, leafing through a binder full of hand-written letters. One letter was from an elderly man who remembered riding the Roller family's horse, Freddie, when he was a kid. He sent Roller a wood figure of a horse he whittled.

Even if you don't know the Roller family, Love Affair with a Small Town is a delight to read. If you yearn for small-town living, Roller's tales of the telephone operator who knew all in Newman, Ill., during the 1930s will make you smile.

If you like house restoration, her tale of how she and her husband rescued an old, 20-room mansion in Newman is interesting. Born in 1910 in Independence, Mo., Roller, her sister Thelma and their parents moved to South Florida in 1914. Her stories of growing up during the teens and '20s are wonderfully nostalgic.

Roller includes sad stories, too, such as her daughter Ann's death as a result of a brain tumor in 1979. "I include them because I think death is part of life," Roller said.

Editor's Note: Rachel Peterson Roller, Brenau-AO is president of the Miami, Florida, alumnae chapter. Her sister is Dr. Thelma Peterson Peters, also Alpha Omicron, and an author and historian. She was featured in The LAMP several years ago.

young people in Macomb, Ill., and also helped in the District of Columbia and in Petersburg, Va. While her husband was in India for two years during World War II, Lucille held a position with the Government Printing Office.

When Lee returned from India the Mays moved to Alexandria, Va. In June 1946, Lucille was initiated into Delta Zeta and affiliated with Gamma chapter. She has been very active in the Washington, D.C., alumnae chapter, holding the offices of social chairman, program chairman, Panhellenic delegate and alternate and served as treasurer of the Washington, D.C., Panhellenic Association. She was also president and program chairman of the Virginia group.

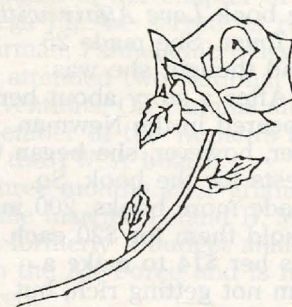

Besides her Delta Zeta involvement, Lucille has been an active member of the Bethesda, Md., Woman's Club, consumer advisory Board of the Bethesda Chevy Chase Chamber of Commerce, the Forty Club and the Lutheran Church, and also worked as Panhellenic Secretary at the University of Maryland.

During recent years, Lucille has continued her commitment to Delta Zeta and Gallaudet by serving as Foundation representative to the University. In addition, she has been an important part of the Council for Better Hearing & Speech Month.

Lucille Bolstad May has given her time and effort to create a greater level of understanding between Delta Zetas and Gallaudet University. Lucille is indeed an excellent example of Delta Zetas who have, and will continue, to work hard as volunteers for Gallaudet. The challenge and people-impact of the work of Lucille and Delta Zeta is perhaps best summed up by a quote from Thomas Wolfe: "To each his chance, to each his shining golden opportunity to become all that his manhood and his vision will permit him to become. This is the promise of America." This too, is the goal of Delta Zetas who have, and will continue to work hard, to make this promise a reality for deaf Americans as well.

Nanette Fabray: classic volunteer for others in spite of a busy acting-lecture series schedule.

One of her local philanthropies is the House Ear Institute of Los Angeles. She often emcees or performs at their functions as well as at Southern California's Delta Zeta Flame Fantasy fashion show whose proceeds go to HEI. Through a generous donation from Nanette, the Institute was able to add an auditorium in their new complex.

Nanette knows firsthand about hearing difficulties since otosclerosis, a hardening of the small bones of the middle ear, threatened her career. A series of operations restored her hearing in 1975 and she was so pleased she wanted others to know about advancements being made in this field.

A member of the Board of Directors of the Better Hearing Institute, among other boards, she also is a Trustee of the National Captioning Institute. She points out that it is through this organization that all of the major nighttime television programs now are captioned. They are looking forward to the time when the different language translations will be offered through captioning.

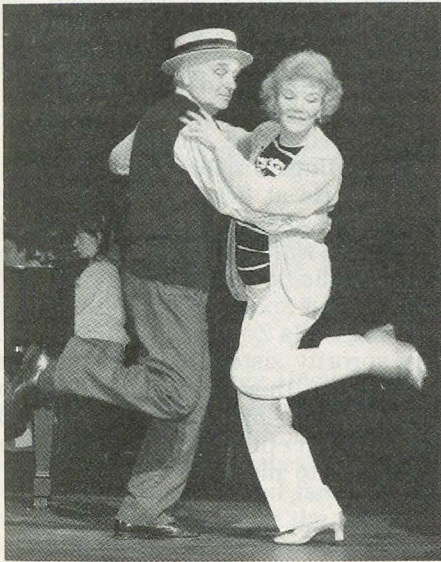

Television viewers recently enjoyed her on "Coach" when she played the mother of her real-life niece, Shelley Fabares. Nanette also is proud of her physician son, Jamie MacDougall, who is a dermatologist in Manhattan Beach, California.

Along with her television appearances, she is a lecturer with the Town Hall series. She speaks with humor about the serious side of life on such topics as "Widowhood" and "The Financial and Physical Problems of Aging." This takes her to cities all over the nation.

Her one-woman show "Almost Everything You Wanted to Know about Nan, But . . ." also is being performed in many U.S. cities. Rave reviews say that "she looked radiantly youthful and demurely feminine" and that "she puts herself through a routine that would have exhausted a rock star. Obviously she was born to entertain and does it superbly." She has performed this show as a major fund-raising project for the Doyle McIntosh Center for the Disabled.

Delta Zetas feel they are fortunate to have a talented star in their midst who finds time to do work for their national philanthropies of Gallaudet University and the House Ear Institute. She is a wonderful example of how to share one's time and abilities with others. Nanette is one to say "Yes, Yes."

by Betty Paul DeWitt,
USC-AI

"Everyone should look for volunteer opportunities since there is nothing more rewarding," Nanette Fabray MacDougall stated recently. She went on to say that giving even an hour a week can help in anyone's neighborhood. She indicated that simple activities like reading or writing letters for the blind or running errands for the handicapped can make a difference.

This comes from a Delta Zeta who spends many hours working

From the Lampwriter

Even your editor has some down days. It's almost a month past the deadline and all expected copy is not in. This story is just impossible. That one is neat, but simply out of date. Names are missing for these wonderful pictures . . . and the chapter didn't even identify itself!

The redbud is blooming outside my office window and spring is in the air. Perhaps a walk to the mailbox . . .

And there it was . . . right on top of the stack. A nice "roses and Delta Zeta" note from Ann Butler Booth down in Texas. She wrote, "It is really not fair to pick out one issue of The LAMP when each is a treasure but the spring magazine is so full of details about the whole scope of Delta Zeta work that I must thank you — It shows what a wide influence our sorority has in so many places — Thank you for such a wonderful gift to us all. Much love, Ann Booth."

Even editors need perks now and then. That did it. I'm off and running!

A January note from Suzanne Minnaugh, Sam Houston-ZΘ, said:

"I just wanted to take this opportunity to commend you and your editorial staff on the recent articles published in The LAMP on Sexual Assault on college campuses.

"Ten years ago while I was a student very little was ever mentioned about date or acquaintance rape. In fact, I did not know that it even existed and I always had felt safe on my college campus, nor did I realize how prevalent violence against women was until recently when I became active in the Battered Women's movement.

"I am currently working at a Women's Shelter as Victims Assistance Coordinator and I counsel victims of sexual assault. You do a tremendous service to all Delta Zetas and women everywhere by publishing articles that educate women about crime. I hope that you will continue to publish articles such as these in the future. Again, thank you."

Suzanne is at the Women's Shelter of East Texas, Inc., in Nacogdoches, Texas.

The winter issue of the Marshall Alumnus carried an article about Marshall alumni "in the Global Village by Christine Grishkin."

Delta Upsilon's Victoria Beattie, '81 was featured in a section on Zambia.

Victoria was quoted:

"At night I hear drums. The people still practice dancing and initiation ceremonies. I'm not sharing this to say the people here are backward, but I find that Americans are shocked to learn that some Zambian people still live in a more traditional way."

Victoria lives in a rural area of Zambia where there is a population of about 15,000 in a five-mile radius. She shares a three-bedroom bungalow, with a bathroom, kitchen and living room, with a missionary nurse from Canada. The natives don't have running water or electricity and most live in mud houses with grass roofs. She says her experience in Zambia is limited to the rural area.

Victoria graduated from Marshall in 1983 with an A.A.S. degree in nursing. Before attending Marshall she went to St. Mary's School for Girls in Johannesburg, South Africa. Her father's job took her family to South Africa.

Now she is a registered nurse and supervises Zambian hospital staff in the rural mission Luampa Hospital.

"There are many diseases to learn about, including malnutrition, tuberculosis and AIDS. I have been the 'sister' in charge of a male ward with 34 beds. I have more responsibility for my patients than I did in the United States. At times I even prescribe medication for them."

Attending Marshall was difficult for Victoria at first. She stated, "My first year was a time of adjustment for me. I was experiencing counter-culture shock reentering the United States after six years in South Africa. Joining Delta Zeta was helpful to me. My sorority sisters accepted me for who I was, they did not force me to change to be like them. It was good to feel accepted when everything was new to me."

An innovative program chairman for the Southern New Jersey alum-

The surprise meeting was High Tea at the Four Seasons Hotel in Philadelphia!

Zeta chapter's Peggy Haskell Benjamin has written another book! Using her father's journals, records and letters, Peggy weaves a vibrant biography of a man and family who contributed to civilizing the west.

"Years to Share" is the title of the story which spans 53 years of growth and expansion on the Nebraska frontier . . . everything from vigilante justice to 20th century politics. Peggy's father campaigned for Republican Taft of Ohio in a Nebraska inspired by its native son, William Jennings Bryan.

Peggy has been living in Taneytown, Maryland, but returned to her Grand Island, Nebraska, home in late March. She is also an artist and one of her paintings hangs in the National Historical Museum in Oxford.

The March issue of The Lutheran carried an article called "Caring 101." At Wittenberg University a new graduation requirement calls for 30 hours of community service, done preferably during the sophomore year for one 10-week term.

And so the article features different involvements of students. Pictured was Beta Chi's Dee VanBrackel who is one of about 700 students completing the program this year.

Dee's involvement has been working with recreational therapists at Oesterlen, an ELCA resident facility for emotionally disturbed youth. In the picture she demonstrated kite-tieing. ELCA is one of the most popular service activities at Wittenberg.

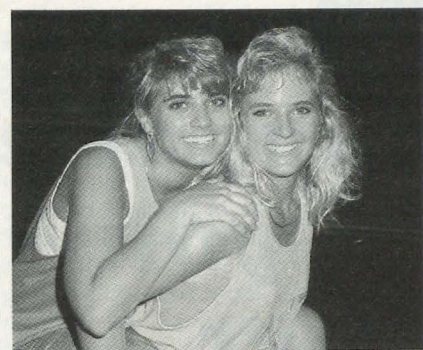

Vicki Jinnette Ringer, South Carolina-B4, wrote about a pledge sister of hers who is currently in Saudi Arabia. Tara Osborn Hawk, who graduated from USC in '82 is a captain in the U.S. Army. She and her husband Sam both joined the army as attorneys — to travel, see the world and enjoy great military benefits. Tara was in a combat position, although the whole world will tell you women do not take part in combat. She was responsible for court martials out in the field, so her work did take her to the front lines. She was sent from her assignment in Frankfurt, Germany, to Saudi two days before Christmas and expected to remain there until May. An interesting footnote: Tara is the little sister (in sorority terms) of Melissa "Missy" Klopfer who wrote from Ankara, Turkey, and who was mentioned in this column last issue.

And, you will be glad to know that our Captain Lisa Ornoski is back stateside at her post in Fort Benning, Georgia. Lisa called in early April to chat and to say thanks for The LAMP article. Her army husband met her with LAMP in hand!

On this happy note, until next time.

More than 60 years of meeting for "talk, bridge, food" has kept this group of Alpha Psi alumnae close friends and sisters. Standing, Louise Wadley Bianchi, Virginia Lovejoy Bowers, Nancy Huneke Willingham. Seated, Mary Tuggart Gorman, Eloise Raef Sherman and Martha Stewart Woodward.

Presenting valentine treats to the Sacramento Children's Home is Mary Ann Murphy Schendzelos, UCLA-AX (center). Paul Blankenship is director of social programs for the home and Ann Ramirez, right, is a fund worker.

Alumnae of Zeta Phi at Shippensburg are gearing toward a 25th anniversary celebration. Meeting to make plans are Sue Anderson, Lucia Sgattoni Hammonds, Patty McCullough Kunselman, Linda Girdwood Skurka, Janet Cromie Klauss and Carol Gard Hay.

ARLINGTON/TARRANT COUNTY (Texas) alumnae chapter treated husbands and dates with a Valentine party, complete with barbeque and country western music. In April they honored Texas/Arlington-IV graduating seniors with awards and a $200 annual scholarship. Province weekend provided 10 certificates for chapter achievement and the coveted Katie Blanche Stallworth award for donating the most time and money to national philanthropies. The alumnae are sponsoring a "Delta Zeta Classic" charity golf tournament with proceeds donated to Gallaudet and the outreach program for hearing impaired children of Tarrant County.

BATON ROUGE (Louisiana) alumnae took king cakes and lemonade to the children at the Baton Rouge Speech and Hearing Foundation during Mardi Gras and presented ΔZ notepads to LSU-Σ chapter's new initiates. Members attended Province Weekend in Hattiesburg, Mississippi, where National Judiciary Chairman Diane Fellows Guild was guest speaker.

Programs for the CHICAGO FAR WEST (Illinois) alumnae chapter include a handwriting analysis and a talk by Linda Facenda of the Central DuPage Hospital about breast cancer and the importance of regular mammograms.

The CHICAGO NORTHWEST SUBURBAN (Illinois) chapter made puppets for a local children's hospital. They also made initiation robes for DePaul-ΘΘ collegians and celebrated the holidays with a cookie and Christmas ornament exchange. They are currently collecting toiletries for a local women's shelter.

CLEVELAND EASTSIDE (Ohio) alumnae chapter's March event benefited the Fairmount Theatre for the Deaf. A philanthropic project for years, the alumnae members also work on fund-raising projects and usher at performances. Members enjoyed a holiday lights tour on Lolly the Trolley, a fun way to see Cleveland's Christmas displays.

COLUMBIA (South Carolina) alumnae chapter was named outstanding alumnae chapter of Province XXI. A February chocoholic party honored PAD Patricia Tector and the group collected and packaged goodies for the special people at Dowdy Gardner Nursing Home.

CYPRESS CREEK (Texas) alumnae have just completed pin pillows for the new initiates at Texas A&M-ΔE and look forward to a rush workshop ice cream social with the collegians. The alumnae sold hundreds of dollars of Valentines for research and surgery for cochlear implants.

EL PASO (Texas) alumnae presented a check to the College of Nursing and Allied Health, Speech Language Pathology at the University of Texas/El Paso.

Their January meeting included anecdotes and mementos of pledge or active college days with Marjorie Murray Collier, Texas-AT, contributing excerpts of Delta Zeta history.

FAIRFIELD COUNTY (Connecticut) alumnae chapter welcomed new members who immediately stepped in to assume responsibility in chairing the spring tag sale and publicity. Handmade Christmas ornaments and edible treats were sent to Gamma Beta at UConn and the alumnae enjoyed a Chinese Auction gift exchange. Members also enjoyed lunch with Ethel Mae Bishop Gullette, Minnesota-Γ, former Woman of the Year, at her Essex Meadow retirement community. Ethel Mae is forming a support group for those with vision impairment.

FORT WALTON BEACH (Florida) alumnae served as hostesses for the 25th anniversary party of the Speech and Hearing Center. In December they decorated a tree and placed goodie bags under it for children of the clients of the center.

HINSDALE AREA (Illinois) alumnae learned about breast disease, cosmetics, home decorating and exercise from local guest speakers and enjoyed a "healthy" pot luck dinner, a St. Patrick's Day celebration, a pizza party and a hobby show and tell.

GREATER KANAWHA VALLEY (West Virginia) alumnae are in charge of the Foundation Tree at West Virginia Province Day with all contributions donated to the ΔZ Foundation for the Elizabeth Baker Devereaux Scholarship. Future plans are for a Better Speech and Hearing program, a movie night and the collegian/alumnae picnic.

CENTRAL PHILADELPHIA (Pennsylvania) alumnae donated blood to the Red Cross during the war in the Middle East and collected tee-shirts for children in Tanzania. They sold "entertainment books" to raise money for the Foundation.

SACRAMENTO (California) alumnae always look forward to Valentine's Day when they provide cookies and treats for the Sacramento Childrens Home. This practice was started more than 15 years ago. Founded in 1867, the Sacramento Childrens Home grew out of a community's need to care for orphans and homeless children. Today the home is organized to provide a range of programs. It is a private, non-profit organization which is in part supported by the Los Niños Service League. The Casa de los Niños, a unique gourmet luncheon restaurant, is managed and staffed by the volunteers of the league. Norma Orrell Simons, CSU/Chico-ΔX, is president of the league and Betty Lesh Riker, Temple-ΔT, is in charge of catering.

On March 2 and 3, SAN ANTONIO and CORPUS CHRISTI (Texas) alumnae hosted Province XVII in AUSTIN with more than 800 collegians and alumnae gathered for the beach party to "Catch the Delta Zeta Wave." Sundresses and Beach Boys music provided the setting for the byside buffet.

Betsey Bright is serving on the Panhellenic Executive Board as chairman of chapter relations, sisterhood and spirit. Susan Brauer won first place honors in the Greek racquetball tournament.

Southwestern, Gamma Zeta — The chapter co-hosted Province Weekend and won accolades with their presentation of a third night rush skit, which featured signing of Michael W. Smith's Friends. The chapter won the Vera Tuggey Academic Award for the 11th consecutive year and Erin Allen and Jennifer Covington won scholar certificates. Delta Zeta also won best expression of theme honors in the homecoming parade, and became the first group to have its name inscribed on the traveling trophy. Sisterhood activities included a movie and board games night, eating out together, and an Adopt-a-Sis Week. For charity, members collected clothing and non-perishable foods. Members are also supporting a student movement to establish a campus radio station. Nicole Cowan won the Technical Award for her work in the production of Gypsy. In the same production, Nicole starred as the cow's front end and brought the house down with her high pitched "moos" and lively tap dancing!

Stephen F. Austin, Zeta Psi — Delta Zeta added a quota pledge class of 40 in spring formal rush. Chapter activities included decorating the house for Valentine's Day, helping to host the Texas Special Olympics, playing weekly bingo games at a local nursing home and collecting food for philanthropy competition. Members also participated in Greek night at a Ladyjack Basketball game. Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities lists Susan DeKruff, Susie Halvorsen, Jennifer Henely and Sue Sullivan. Tapped for Order of Omega were Stephanie Brown, Sue Sullivan, Susan DeKruff and Lynette Roesel. Stephanie is also Miss SGA. Sue was tapped for Alpha Chi. Susie Halvorsen is a peer counselor.

Tarleton, Xi Nu — All-Freshmen Class Favorite and Miss Tarleton State nominees are Delta Zetas. Nominated for favorite were Nikki Freeman, Wendy Eiben and Kelly Carter. Miss Tarleton nominees were Michelle Musgave, Tina Tiner and Susan Reyna. Susan, who won Miss Tarleton honors, is also Greek Woman of the Year, Texas Home Economist of the Year. Nikki won the Freshman Favorite honor. Carol Arneson is Sophomore Class Favorite. Distinguished Students are Tina Tiner, Monica Bryce, Andrea Cooper and Cambley Fisher. At Province Weekend, the chapter won the Pride of the Province gold award and the Carolyn Barnes Gullatt Formal Rush Award. Individuals honored included Susan Reyna, Rhea F. Schultz Honor Court, and president; Andrea Cooper, Rush chairman; and Carol Moon, Panhellenic delegate. Members helped keep Texas clean with their bi-monthly highway clean up.

Texas A & M, Lambda Xi — The chapter performed its Grease skit at Province Week-end, and brought home the Pride of the Province bronze award, the Ann Elkins Hawkins Reference Award, and the Best Pledge Education Award. Individuals honored were Stacey Stephenson, outstanding president and Rhea F. Schultz Award; Julie Lane, outstanding recording secretary, and Karla Hauser, outstanding reference chairman. A & M Freshman Orientation Counselors are Kari Anderson, Joanne Mahnen, Julie Frierson, Beth Schreiber and Carrie Wilkinson. Allison Bailey and Heather Devine are rush counselors. Members sold roses on Valentine's Day to benefit philanthropy. The chapter also sent Valentines to area deaf children, delivered Easter baskets to Sheltering Arms and mailed care packages to soldiers in the Middle East.

Texas-Arlington, Iota Psi — Order of Omega tapped Lori Long and Jeannie Larson. Jennifer Cunningham is corresponding secretary for Student Congress and assistant to the vice president for Panhellenic. The chapter's intramural basketball team reached the playoffs and nine rushees pledged in the spring. For philanthropy, members sold trash bags at Arlington cleanup, and sponsored a bowling tournament. A popular fundraiser was the first UTA Bachelor Auction.

West Texas State, Zeta Zeta — Delta Zetas set their goals high and are aiming for an increase in both membership and chapter grade point average. In February the chapter initiated 8 pledges then added six more pledges. ZZs sponsored an Easter party for the Speech and Hearing Center in Amarillo and raised funds for the national philanthropy.

VIRGINIA

Longwood College, Epsilon Tau — The chapter boasted 100% initiation of its 16 fall pledges, and added 12 more pledges in January. Activities included a Valentine's dance, adopting-a-highway, and writing to soldiers in the Persian Gulf. Members welcomed their dads for the first Father and Daughter Dance. Mothers were honored with a Mother's Pinning Ceremony. Members earning a 3.0 or better were Casey Bradberry, Helen Dennis, Terri Dore, Marcy Dudley, Ann Duncan, Crystal Mitchell, Jennifer Moore, Kelly O'Brien and Laura Rush. Earning a 3.5 or better were Julie Hall, Beth Hedrick, Kandi Klotz, Kelli Martin and Christy Meadows.

Old Dominion, Theta Phi — Delta Zeta is celebrating its 25th year at Old Dominion and added a quota pledge class of nine in the spring. Tapped for Order of Omega were Staci Souder, Jennifer Lewis and Jennifer Kates. Omicron Delta Kappa tapped Kim Brandt.

Radford, Xi Delta — After four sets of rush parties over a two-week period, Delta Zeta added a pledge class of 29! For the seventh consecutive year, Delta Zeta captured the Sorority Intramural Water Polo Championship. The newest community service project is Adopt-a-Highway. Mothers were invited for a two-day event featuring both the serious and the funny sides of Delta Zeta. The event was appropriately titled "Mom's Rush." Krista Stalery is a fraternity sweetheart and Ann Tubbs is co-chairman for the Greek section of the campus newspaper.

Virginia Tech, Kappa Theta — More than 40 alumnae returned to help collegians celebrate the chapter's 20th anniversary on campus. The weekend's festivities included a buffet followed by a slide show and skit honoring the history of Kappa Theta. Delta Zeta collected 635 pounds of canned foods to place first in the Panhellenic food drive. Members participated in a Panhellenic aerobics philanthropy. Members also wrote troops in Saudi Arabia and participated in a designated driver program. Chapter Editor Stasy Fincher reports that Delta Zeta broke all Panhellenic records during rush. Every night of rush, Delta Zeta had the highest percentage of women choosing to return! Earning Dean's List honors were Lynn Bolgiano, Kim Connors, Stasy Fincher, Kristi Hedges, Valerie Jordan, Casey Kepplinmger, Karin Klimek, Katie Koepenick, Colleen Murray, Jen Nesbitt, Melissa Reiger, Valerie Rud and Nicole Votta. Members of honoraries are Michelle Peters, Order of Omega; Gretchen Lynch, Mortar Board and Phi Alpha Delta; Kate New, Mortar Board; Melissa Reiger, Mortar Board and Order of Omega; Sonya Edwards, Mortar Board; Kristi Hedges, Order of Omega, and Karin Klimek, Phi Sigma Society. Who's Who Among American Colleges lists Valerie Jordan. Valerie Jordan and Wendy Steer are National Outstanding Student Government Leaders. Gretchen Saunders is a fraternity sweetheart.

WASHINGTON

Washington, Kappa — Delta Zeta initiated 31 pledges in January. These pledges had joined with other sorority pledge classes to create a videotape to send to troops in Saudi Arabia. Kappa sponsored a Valentine-gram sale to raise chapter funds. Judy Chen is a Seattle SuperSonics cheerleader, while Renee Golden is a fraternity sweetheart. Teri Thompson is a Husky Hostess, and Joelle Dold was a part of the winning swim team for the Pacific 10 Championship.

WEST VIRGINIA

Marshall, Delta Upsilon — Delta Zeta initiated 17 pledges, and then added ten more pledges in rush. Members continue the chapter's yellow ribbon campaign until the troops return home from Saudi Arabia. Deanna Hall and Jody Drake are members of Panhellenic's Greek Relations Task Force to better racial relations on campus. Executive board members, along with other chapter members, attended the Bowling Green State Leadership Conference. Delta Zeta raised the chapter's grade points average and ranked third academically among Greeks. Kim Shaver is head majorette, and Paige Pence and Jennifer Treloar are both tennis team members. Holly Swift is Panhellenic president and Beth Winter is a member of Omicron Delta Kappa.

Shepherd, Kappa Mu — Delta Zeta was the winner of the campus' first spirit stick award for homecoming. KM also placed second in banner competition. For philanthropy, Delta Zeta donated funds to Green Peace to adopt a dolphin. The fall pledge class presented the chapter with a handmade, wooden trunk featuring the Delta Zeta Crest painted on the outside. The inside is lined with green calico. Tammy Randolph was senior princess at homecoming.

West Liberty, Iota Tau — Delta Zetas attended a peace vigil to show support for the troops in the Middle East. The campus newspaper honored Delta Zeta as "organization of the month" in January for their efforts on behalf of local philanthropy and Gallaudet.

WISCONSIN

Wisconsin, Epsilon Omega — Delta Zeta enjoyed a standards session presented by member Julie O'Dell, who related a touching story to open members' eyes to problems relating to alcohol abuse. Members donned yellow ribbons to support the troops, and sported their Greek letters for a Panhellenic Greek Letter Day. Fraternity sweethearts are Jennifer Gallis and Holly Stilp.

Wisconsin-Stout, Zeta Beta — Delta Zeta won second place honors for their homecoming float. Sisterhood events included a roller skating party, bowling at the student union, and monthly "bring your own" dinners at the house. Members Christmas caroled with other Greeks, and wrote servicemen in the Gulf. Delta Zeta co-sponsored a bloodmobile drive, and raised philanthropy funds in a variety of activities ranging from bake sales to signing applications.

Whitewater, Epsilon Kappa — At press time, members were busily preparing to host Province Day in April. EKs assisted with the annual carnival at Lincoln Grade School. Moms were honored with a mock rush party and preference dinner. All received sweatshirts reading Delta Zeta Mom's Day. The day also included games of Pictionary and Twister. Serving on the homecoming steering committee were Sue Stapleman, Tami Strong and Kathy Schanen. Sue Stapleman is a senator, and Kelle Swinehart is president of Order of Omega. Lori Salm is sargent-at-arms for Panhellenic; Sue Deason won a Fischer Scholarship. Earning Dean's List honors were Tiffnary Gray, Gita Kavathekar, Georgine Karolewski, Susan Kelm, Lisa Nee, Jill Piazza, Jennifer Pintar, Vicki Poelsterl, Kathleen Schnier, Jessica Seiders and Tami Strong. Lynn Rice and Susan Soberg both earned perfect 4.0's!

COLONY REPORTS

From new names and addresses across the country, delightful reports arrive from Delta Zeta's colonies: all are brimming with enthusiasm, excitement, and new ideas.

In the South, Omicron Epsilon Colony at Arkansas State writes about the insight a Province Day offers a colony. The event offered many questions about the goals of other chapters and instilled in the new Delta Zeta a stronger sense of sisterhood. They are even more motivated to accomplish the goals and values of the sorority. Members are achieving these values by coordinating a program to help solve the growing problem of illiteracy in Arkansas. Delta Zetas are organizing other volunteers to visit third grade classes across Northeast Arkansas and read the book My Mother Can't Read. The program's objective is to motivate their parents to learn to read.

In Ohio, Mount Union Omicron Iota colony members number 28. They made their first campus group appearance at a lip sync contest, and worked with other Greeks to create Valentines for troops in the Middle East.

Omicron Delta Colony members at Bryant College in Rhode Island proudly announce attaining quota! The colony is the largest sorority on campus. They are honoring Kristen Hatch, recently deceased, with a "Run To Remember" race to raise funds for a scholarship in her honor.

From New York, Editor Madi Bocchi Suny-Oswego, Omicron Theta writes "a few short months ago we started an interest group...with a desire to create a sorority based on respect, trust and love...we are proud to be a Delta Zeta colony...and have a total of 98 women."

House by the windmill . . .

by Shannon Alkire
Bowling Green-IT

"They say there's a house by the windmill, a house that can bring joy to you. Come along with me, be a Delta Zee and join in our sisterhood true . . ." These are the words of a popular song with the Delta Zetas of Bowling Green State University.

Windmills in Bowling Green? It just so happens that their chapter house is located next to a well-known local landmark, the windmill. Because this building is so distinctive, the Gamma Tau chapter has adopted it as their local symbol.

The history of the windmill is a fascinating one. It was built in 1938 by Bertis H. Urschel to hide the heating plant that supplied heat to the Urschel Court Apartments. Urschel also planned on using the windmill to create power for an electric fountain in the quarry behind it. The windmill stands 45 feet high, is hexagon-shaped and is done in cobblestone and red shingles.

While the windmill has become a local symbol for the Gamma Taus, it has also become home to some members. On the inside of the mill there is only one circular room to each floor. The ceilings are low and the stairs are steep, but that does not detract from its beauty and uniqueness. Currently two Delta Zetas live in the windmill, but years ago it housed up to eight people! It has become a tradition that Delta Zetas live there because of its closeness to the chapter house and its close bond with their history on the Bowling Green campus.

" . . . When you come to the house by the windmill, you'll find what you're searching for. A lamp and its light and a friendship so bright and a sisterhood true evermore. . .

Paws with a cause

Have you ever wondered what your life would be like if you were unable to "hear" the telephone ringing? Or what your life would be like if you were "mobility limited" and were unable to get up from a fall? You would probably feel frustrated, isolated and dependent on others.

Thanks to "PAWS WITH A CAUSE — Dogs for Dignity" many disabled people have found security and independence.

There are two types of dogs that "PAWS" trains — Hearing Dogs and Service Dogs. Hearing dogs take four months to train and cost about $3000 each. These dogs are trained to alert their owners to everyday noises that call for action, such as a baby's cry, a teapot whistling. Service dogs' training takes longer and costs about $5000 each. These dogs are trained to pull wheelchairs, open doors, pick up objects, etc. Both dogs must learn to avoid distractions such as cats. Each dog wears a distinctive orange collar and leash and their owners carry cards that verify the dogs' special training. These dogs are granted the same access rights as leader dogs.

On November 15, 1990, Joyce MacNab and Murphy visited the Metropolitan Detroit alumnae chapter meeting. Joyce, who lost her hearing six years ago, told her story and told how Murphy, her hearing dog, has changed her life. She can now function independently in a world she cannot hear. She also showed videos of other hearing dogs and service dogs.

"PAWS" is a non-profit organization that identifies and develops ways to establish working relationships between people with disabilities and dogs. The organization originated in 1979 and has been able to train hundreds of hearing/service dogs. Their Detroit office is located in Lake Orion, Michigan; the Corporate Office is located in Bryon Center, Michigan.

Campus Sights & Sounds

PANHELLENIC AND INTERFRATERNITY Councils at Purdue have banned any use of chapter money on alcohol.

THE COUNCILS at Illinois have banned kegs of beer at parties and also banned "little sister" groups.

PHYSICAL THERAPY students at Cincinnati put themselves in wheelchairs for two days and discovered the difficulty in reaching public telephones, in operating foot pedals on water fountains, and in maneuvering over rough pavements, cobblestone walkways, and railroad tracks.

ADELPHI (Long Island) is ranked number one in a USA Today safety survey of 497 colleges and universities. Students have made 20 safety suggestions including cutting tree branches, new door locks, and one-way peep holes in the doors of students' rooms.

JAPANESE is spoken on a new hotline for applicants to Cornell's Johnson Graduate School of Management. Last year 356 Japanese students applied. (Wall Street Journal)

ARIZONA STATE and the Havasupai Indian Tribe of the Grand Canyon have established a joint diabetes education and research program to help combat the disease prevalent among Native Americans.

DAIRY INDUSTRY members taking Penn State's annual ice cream "short course" will compete to create the best vanilla ice cream.

THE FIRST endowed chair in geriatric pharmacotherapy — safe drug use for the elderly — at the University of Maryland was funded by a $1 million grant from Parke-Davis.

AT MICHIGAN a four-foot python escaped from two students' dorm room and was missing for two-and-a-half weeks. The students were evicted for violating the no-pets rule.

AT COLUMBIA University School of Nursing, one-third of the students are male.

THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA ran two campus buses successfully on peanut oil rather than diesel. Researchers at Idaho, Texas A&M, Kansas and North Dakota State are studying the use of vegetable oils like peanut, sunflower and canola as fuels.

ALUMNI SERVICE programs are spreading. Among these, Notre Dame alumni tutor at a high school; UCLA and Iowa alumni conduct adult literacy programs.

LENOIR-RHYNE College's 100th academic year is saluted by Pepsi-Cola Bottling of Hickory, N.C., with a special can featuring the college's centennial logo.

PAINTINGS by Rex Harrison plus his furniture, books and clothing were auctioned to fund a drama scholarship at Boston University.

THE UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI Extension provides a recipe for "ugly mix" — a chalky but harmless goo tree owners can spray on evergreens to thwart Christmas tree thieves.

VOCAL ARRANGEMENTS from the personal library of entertainer Bill Hayes have been given to Millikin University.

THE UNIVERSITY OF DENVER says its three-week "M.B.A. boot camp" features rock climbing, war games, and etiquette lessons with Letitia Baldrige.

FAST FOOD companies have established outlets on college campuses, often as part of students' meal plans. Pizza Hut, Dunkin' Donuts, Dairy Queen, McDonalds and Burger King all have college units.

APPLICANTS to medical schools have dropped 40% since 1974. The cost of malpractice insurance is one of the reasons.

THROUGH a Department of Energy grant, research will continue at Mississippi State to develop more efficient uses of our environmental resources and to make a significant contribution to cleaner air.

PACKAGE DESIGN STUDENTS at Rochester Institute of Technology kick around the idea of edible packaging of cereal. The department head advises students to think like little children — and he plans to consult kids.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN received a citation from Fort Worth Clean City, Inc. for recycling efforts. A "paper hut" on campus collected 384 tons of newsprint in eight months, representing 6,528 trees preserved.

NOTRE DAME now has an alumni club in the Soviet Union. Founding members are three Soviet graduates of the school's Institute for International Peace Studies, all of whom can sing the "Notre Dame Victory March" in Russian.

ARIZONA STATE men's and women's golf teams won the national championships — the first time in NCAA history that teams from the same school won the titles.

THE INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL at the University of Miami voted to abolish "little sister" organizations.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS in White Plains, N.Y. team up with Westchester Community College to train retirees with college degrees to work as substitute teachers. (Wall Street Journal)

BOSTON UNIVERSITY School of Law reports that environmental law is the vogue — class registration soars 400% in six years. (WSJ)

BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY'S Gerontology Resource Center has established a toll-free Senior Help-line which offers messages concerning family, finances, health, and housing. Professional help can also be obtained from the Center.

WEST VIRGINIA state colleges will begin in 1992 reporting students' performances to the high schools from which they graduated. This "report card" will indicate how well prepared high school graduates are for college.

Alpha Gamma Endows Scholarship

Kim Lancaster

In March, 1990, Alpha Gamma chapter at the University of Alabama endowed its first memorial scholarship with a sense of sadness, but great pride.

The chapter members had been stunned on April 22, 1989, at the tragic loss of one of its own, Kimberly Lynn Lancaster.

Kim was killed instantly in a one-car accident near her home in Gadsden, Alabama, just a few weeks before final exams of her sophomore year. The chapter chartered a bus to attend her funeral and immediately began plans with the alumnae for a scholarship to honor the memory of their sister.

It was with a strong sense of accomplishment when they raised the $10,000 necessary to endow a scholarship at the University of Alabama within a year of the tragedy.

Appropriately, on April 22, 1990, the first anniversary of Kim's death, the entire chapter had a luncheon at the chapter house to mark the occasion. Kim's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lathan Lancaster, and other friends from Gadsden attended the brief ceremony. Also attending were National Vice President Sandra McAlister Nesbitt, Tuscaloosa alumnae and Development Office officials. Kim's portrait was unveiled and hung in the library of the chapter house and the first monetary award was presented.

Patsy Fowler, a junior who had been one of Kim's pledge sisters, received the monetary award from Dr. Minnie Miles, alumnae scholarship advisor for the chapter and the University of Alabama Development Office representative. Patsy, who had served as the chapter's corresponding secretary while maintaining a 3.51 grade point average, fit the scholarship's criteria by demonstrating "a commitment to scholarship and excellence in leadership, service and character." The funds were most helpful to Patsy when she did her practice teaching in New Zealand last fall.

The first actual scholarship is to be presented this spring, effective for the fall of 1991.

The members of Alpha Gamma are grateful to all who contributed to this scholarship program which will assist worthy Delta Zetas in completion of college degrees. The first sizeable gifts were from Mr. and Mrs. Lancaster and the Alpha Gamma House Corporation. Then a heartwarming and widespread response brought contributions from many parents of the collegians, friends of the Lancasters and alumnae of Alpha Gamma from all over the country. The continuing support of the Lancaster family with memorials and gifts on days that had been special to Kim enabled the scholarship to become a reality within the year.

While the juniors and seniors in the chapter have their own memories of Kim, the DELTA ZETA-KIMBERLY LYNN LANCASTER ENDOWED SCHOLARSHIP will provide a perpetual memorial to Kim as well as scholarships for deserving Delta Zetas throughout the years to come. The chapter will continue making donations to the scholarship each year to increase the size of the endowment and produce more and larger scholarship amounts. Memorial gifts and contributions are welcome.

Bryant College is a small private business school in Smithfield, Rhode Island. And, on March 21 and 22, 1991, Delta Zeta became the newest member of its growing Greek system with the installation of Omicron Delta chapter.

There are five sororities and eight fraternities with national affiliation at Bryant. They all began as locals and have achieved national affiliation within the last two years. Delta Zeta pledged a 45-year old local, Sigma Iota Beta, in November, 1989.

The chapter was initiated by Beta Alpha members in the chapter house at the University of Rhode Island. The installation banquet followed the next evening at the Providence Marriott Hotel with some 170 guests and parents in attendance.

The banquet toastmistress was Director of Extension Carolyn Barnes Gullatt. National President Marvona Easley Tavlin conducted the installation service and presented the chapter to the university.

Bryant officials helping to make this occasion special included University President Dr. and Mrs. Truhart; Dr. Frederico J. Talley, Director of Student Life; Ellen Servetnick, Director of Student Activities; Director of Student Affairs Leslie LaFond and Mrs. LaFond, and Dr. John Hannon, Director of Library Facilities.

Delta Zeta official family members were Field Representatives Pamela Stoenner and Kathy Hovde; Public Relations Chairman Barb Poremba; PCD Province I Francis Robinson Carnes; PAD Province I Christina Mullin; OΔ CCD Cindy Kozil; Tammy Comer, CCD at UConn; Beth Schumacher, CCD at UMass, and Rhode Island SRC Jill Morris Marshall.

Special guests were new alumna initiate Jane Falquist and her husband Earl. Jane had been advisor to the ΣIB group for 20 years. Another special alumna initiate is Claudia McElroy Spagnola, a member of the local and friend of several Florida Delta Zetas.

Delta Zeta presented an award to the Bryant Panhellenic which is to be given annually for the Best Pledge Program. Ellen Servetnick accepted on behalf of the Panhellenic.

Omicron Delta chapter has a suite in a residence hall on campus and joins Alpha Phi, Sigma Sigma Sigma, Phi Sigma Sigma and Theta Phi Alpha on this 4,000 student campus.
