

From the Lampwriter

One of the fringe benefits of being editor of The LAMP is the opportunity for membership in the two editors associations of the interfraternity world. One, the National Panhellenic Editors Conference has seen Delta Zeta participation since its inception in 1913. The other has been most recent as women's social fraternities were not invited to membership in the social fraternity editors association until the late 1970s.

Actually, the College Fraternity Editors Association celebrated its 100th anniversary this year. It was in February of 1883 that editors of 14 men's social fraternities met to promote the concept of interfraternity cooperation. This was the first ever formal interfraternity meeting and the organization that grew out of this meeting became known as the Interfraternity Press Association.

The College Fraternity Editors Association as we know it today was officially organized in 1923 and later did expand its membership to include the women's social fraternities and professional and honorary societies, enabling it to add the distinction of being the largest interfraternity organization in addition to being the oldest!

CFEA publishes a quarterly newsletter, bringing news of the association and advances and changes in the publishing industry. It also serves as a forum for the exchange of ideas.

When a particular need arises, CFEA commissions or obtains specific articles and makes them available to members for use in their publications. Member fraternities and sororities exchange subscriptions to their periodicals as we all can benefit from the experience and approach used by our counterparts in other societies.

Member editors are also regularly provided an opportunity to obtain confidential no charge critiques of their publication by experts in the field.

But perhaps the most beneficial aspect of membership in CFEA is participation in the annual workshop. Educational programming with expert speakers discussing all aspects of production and publishing responsibilities is the highlight of the workshop. These seminars include design, layout, cost control, printing, postal regulations, editorial and management relationships, publication philosophy and application.

One of the most popular sessions is a special orientation for new editors. The program format allows for a great deal of audience feedback and serves as both an introduction to fraternity publishing for the novice as well as a refresher course for the veterans.

The annual awards banquet is held at this time as the organization recognizes outstanding achievement by fellow editors. Outstanding achievement by our member editors is honored in several categories, including cover design, feature article content, feature article layout and routine material.

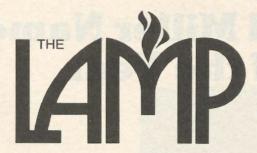

At the awards banquet at CFEA this past summer, your editor was very pleased to receive a plaque and certificate awarding The LAMP first place in four color cover design for the Spring, 1983 issue. This is a first for any women's magazine since the awards were inaugurated.

We are indebted to Lambda Xis at Texas A&M for the insight to establish a chapter, build a new house and pledge Cindy Pitcher. It was Cindy's parents who commissioned the painting which hangs in the Lambda Xi dining room and which provided the very lovely pink cover for our winning LAMP! It may be a long time before we find a cover more beautiful.

Ruth Loyd Miller Named Woman of the Year

Ruth Loyd Miller, 1983 Woman of the Year

by Meryl Lin McKean Maxwell

Ruth Loyd Miller, Louisiana State University-Σ, has been named the 1983 Delta Zeta Woman of the Year.

Ruth is the 1983-84 chairman of the Louisana State University System Board of Supervisors. She is the first woman to serve in this capacity in the 123-year history of the university. The board manages a system which includes five undergraduate campuses and schools of medicine, veterinary medicine, dentistry, law and agriculture. Ruth was appointed to a 14-year term on the board by then Governor Edwin Edwards in 1974, and was elected vice-chairman in 1982.

This year's honoree has maintained a private legal practice since 1957. She is editor and president of the Minos Publishing Company of Jennings, Louisiana, and is secretarytreasurer of the Jennings Gas Company.

Ruth's professional memberships include the Louisiana State Bar Association, American Bar Association, Phi Alpha Delta legal fraternity, Shakespeare Authorship Society of England, Shakespeare Oxford Society of U.S., Deep South Writers Conference, Honorary Life Member of the Marlowe Society of England, Louisiana Committee for Identification of Women for Administration in Higher Education, Louisiana Council for Music and the Performing Arts and State of Louisiana Division of the Arts-Literature Advisory Committee.

Her civic and governmental service includes participation in the creation of the Governor's Commission on Indian Affairs. In addition, she was the first woman member of the State of Louisiana Mineral Board, vice-chairman of the Louisiana Constitutional Convention of 1973, and proposer and planner of the Louisiana Oil and Gas Park and Museum Commission.

"Ruth is probably Louisiana's most outstanding woman," wrote Betty Schneider Fenton, CCD for Sigma chapter, in nominating Ruth for Delta Zeta Woman of the Year.

Ruth has also become an outstanding researcher and writer on subjects dealing with the authorship of works attributed to William Shakespeare. She edited the third edition of J. Thomas Looney's Shakespeare Identified in Edward DeVere, Seventeenth Earl of Oxford, two volumes; the second edition of Bernard M. Ward's A Hundreth Sundrie Flowers; the second edition of Ward's The Seventeenth Earl of Oxford; and the third edition of Eva Turner Clark's Hidden Allusions in Shakespeare's Plays. All were published by the Kennikat Press, Port Washington, New York.

Married to retired Circuit Court Judge Minos D. Miller, Jr., Ruth is the mother of a daughter and two sons and the grandmother of three.

She is the daughter of Gladys Means Loyd, a charter member of Sigma chapter of Delta Zeta.

"I just grew up thinking I wanted to go to LSU and be a Delta Zeta," says Ruth. "Looking back, I don't know what I would have done if it hadn't worked out that way. I probably would have been crushed."

She was named outstanding pledge of Sigma chapter in March, 1939. Active in the chapter and other organizations while in college, Ruth has contributed her talents to Delta Zeta through the years.

Betty Fenton wrote, "She has been the main speaker at banquets here and at Kappa Alpha Chapter at Thibodaux... and never fails to send references to us when she knows of a girl coming to LSU."

Over the years, Ruth has remained in touch with several Delta Zeta sisters from her college days.

"The sorority cultivates long-lasting friendships," she says. "These are the gems of life."

Ruth Loyd Miller is a gem of Delta Zeta, a woman of great intellect, scholarly achievement, dedicated service and national distinction.

The presentation, made on October 30 at LSU, will be reported in the Spring issue!

Her statement when asked how does it feel to be chairman, was "I feel like young Edward VI, surrounded by his court and nobles, when he said, 'I like being King!'"

Dr. Martin D. Woodin, President of the LSU System; Norris Fitzmorris (vice president Pan American Life Insurance Company and member of the LSU Board), Chairman of the Board's Standing Committee on Property and Facilities; Ruth L. Delta Zeta First at San Francisco

Newly initiated members of Delta Zeta's Xi Lambda chapter at the University of San Francisco.

by Janet Kerr, VPI-KΘ

Janet Kerr-Tener, VPI-K⊕ is a faculty member at USF and advisor to Xi Lambda. Janet is a former PCD for Northern Calfornia.

It all started late one evening during the spring semester of 1982 when a petite blonde knocked on the office door of ΔZ alumna Janet Kerr, who also happened to be a USF professor. The unexpected visitor introduced herself as Carrie Minucciani, a USF sophomore and sister to Terri Lynn Minucciani, a ΔZ at San Jose State University. Carrie came quickly to the point: would Janet be willing to help her start a colony at USF?

Thus began a year-long collaboration which was to lead to the installation of the Xi Lambda chapter of Delta Zeta on April 23, 1983—USF's first National Panhellenic sorority. Within a month of the start of the new school year in September, Carrie and a handful of other coeds sold on the idea of starting a sorority had succeeded in recruiting 30 likeminded women to the ranks of Delta Zeta. On October 9th, the San Jose State chapter officers, including Terri Lynn, came to USF to pledge them. The San Francisco-Bay Cities alumnae welcomed the new colony the same day with a lavish luncheon and the first of many cash gifts which enabled the colony to continue rushing prospective members.

The USF pledges lost no time making their presence known on campus. The colony held fundraisers, cosponsored a school dance, and participated in a campus-wide effort to raise money for a new student activities center. Individual members also did their share to bring ΔZ into the campus spotlight.

Stephanie Woodhead was elected freshman class president; Donna Kitt and Dawn Burns were tapped for a special scholars program; Laurie Campbell, Vickie Mackie and Debbie Weisinger own leading roles in two theater productions; Jackie Obermire and Kathi Kelly brought life to the Greek Council; Suzanne Yorn was handily elected student government senator.

Linda Walsh and Teresa Podesta represented ΔZ on the inter-collegibasketball court; Marilyn McEnhill, Marifel Dispo, Martha Carlstead and Cheryl Baltazar competed successfully for the top spots in organizing freshman orientation; Sheryl Molinaro was elected pledge trainer of the campus business sorority; Wendy Bigham won a much-coveted Residence Hall Council office. The list goes on and on ... Somehow, between ΔZ work and other commitments, the colony managed to keep a B grade point average, with Stephanie Woodhead and DeeDee Campbell leading the way with straight A's.

The dedication and high caliber of these young women amazed advisors Janet Kerr and Joyce Stoffey. Week by week they witnessed the colony slowly but surely take on the shape of a chapter. Like a butterfly struggling free of its chrysalis, Xi Lambda emerged strong and glowing with vitality.

At the installation banquet and tea, more than 300 friends, parents, alumnae, and campus officials, including USF President Rev. John LoSchiavo and Vice President for Student Affairs Anne Dolan, showered the Xi Lambda members with compliments and congratulations. Theirs was no small feat: from a tentative group of coeds, most of whom were strangers to one another, to a vibrant sisterhood in six short months. Proudest of all, however, were Janet, Joyce, the San Jose State initiation team, Fielder Jeanine Peterson, National President Carolyn Gullatt and, of course, Extension Director Norma Andrisek, who never ran short of advice and encouragement during the colony months.

Needless to add, enthusiasm was running high when the chapter met again with the opening of the new school year. Though the heady euphoria of having met the installation goal will have passed into a proud confidence, the Xi Lambda sisters will be no less determined to be a credit to their campus and to their collegiate and alumnae collaborators across the country.

Among the alumnae in attendance are (1 to r) Jeanette Davis and Lauan Boynton Garnjost, California-M, members of San Francisco-Bay Cities alumnae chapter; Eveline Mouse Kenney, California-M, president of SF-Bay Citites; Wanda Lesley Culbertsen, Oregon-Ω, secretary of SF-Bay Citites; Zelta Weiman Adams, Oregon State-X, Chairman of the Northern California coordinating committee and Dorothy Elston Baker, Denver-P, president of San Francisco Peninsula alumnae chapter.

National President Carolyn Gullatt presents the chapter charter to Carrie Minucciani and the chapter was accepted for the university by Dr. Anne Dolan, USF Vice President for Student Development.

The National Council is pleased to announce the organization of the Xi Zeta colony at the University of New York - Brockport.

Founders Memorial Foundation

by Betty Paul DeWitt, USC-AI, Secretary, Founders Memorial Foundation

Silver trophies for outstanding philanthropy once again are circulating among Delta Zeta's collegiate and alumnae chapters. Reestablished by the National Council, the former Delta Zeta Foundation silver was presented to the Founders Memorial Foundation to be awarded biennially.

A new award donated to the Founders Memorial Foundation by California alumna, Ruth Gump Thomas, Northwestern Louisana-EB, in memory of Katie Blanche Masters Stallworth, Delta Zeta Foundation president 1970-75, is a silver coffee urn. Huntsville, Alabama alumnae chapter was the first recipient as large alumnae chapter with top dollar chapter benefit proceeds.

Presented at the 1983 National Convention "Two Foundations Breakfast," other awards, scholarships and grants are listed elsewhere in The LAMP.

The Foundation is proud to announce the addition of the House Ear Institute of Los Angeles to its list of philanthropies. Adopted by 1983 National Convention resolution, this nonprofit, tax exempt organization is dedicated to research and training of ear specialists in newer methods of diagnosis and treatment of ear disorders. Through their work, many of the techniques, instruments and procedures used today in ear surgery have been developed. They are able to offer help to all ages and for all types of hearing impairments.

One of House Ear Institute's most important projects is the cochlear implant which brings totally deaf persons from a world of silence to a world of sound. This electronic device is surgically implanted in the cochlea in the inner ear with part of it worn externally. At present the user cannot clearly understand speech through hearing alone, but it does offer the possibility of some form of experiencing sound.

The Founders Memorial Foundation continues to support Gallaudet College, a national college for the deaf and hearing impaired, and Carville, a hospital treating patients with Hansen's disease.

The Hearing Help Fund provides grants to hearing centers, schools, clinics, etc. for education and projects in speech and hearing. These grants are made to alumnae chapters working with speech and hearing facilities. Application forms for these grants are included in the Alumnae Chapter Manual.

Numerous undergraduate and graduate scholarships are available from the Founders Memorial Foundation. Application forms for grants, scholarships and loans will be included in the Founders Memorial Foundation Winter 1983-84 mailing. Individuals, collegiate and alumnae chapters are encouraged to support the philanthropies of the Founders Memorial Foundation with contributions designated for any of the listed projects, the General Fund and/or the Book of Remembrance.

Founders Memorial Foundation Trustees are Arlene M. Newman, University of Houston- $\Delta\Theta$, president; Betty Paul DeWitt, University of Southern California-AI, secretary; Shirlyn Chaffin, Ohio State University-Θ, treasurer; Mary Lou McConnaughey Barth, Miami University-A; and Mary Margaret Calhoun Fore, Southern Methodist University-AΨ.

Chapter excellence in local philanthropy work, a silver urn honoring Myrtle Graeter Hinkly, was presented to Portland alumnae president Katey Bosworth Sandy, by newly elected FMF President Arlene Newman, right.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED AT THE 1983 NATIONAL CONVENTION

WHEREAS, the problem of the hearing impaired has been one of the National Philanthropic Projects of Delta Zeta Sorority for many years; and,

WHEREAS, Delta Zeta Sorority has been involved through local projects and through Gallaudet College; and

WHEREAS, research by the Doctors Howard P. and William F. House of the House Ear Institute of Los Angeles, California, has been supported by the Delta Zetas of Province XV-S; and

WHEREAS, the National Council of Delta Zeta Sorority recognizes the need for increasing Delta Zeta's participation in research, current developments and assistance to all ages and all types of hearing impairment;

THEREFORE, be it resolved that the House Ear Institute become one of Delta Zeta Sorority's National Philanthropic Projects as part of the Founders Memorial Foundation.

"Adventures in Friendships" Awards

The Lisbeth Innis Francis award for collegiate chapter excellence in overall philanthropy is presented to Bowling Green-IT. Accepting for the chapter are (left) Ann Morrow, CCD and chapter president Kim Pettys.

The National Council of Delta Zeta has reestablished the former Delta Zeta Foundation "Adventures in Friendship" Convention Awards. These traveling silver awards from the former Foundation were presented to the Delta Zeta Founders Memorial Foundation and awarded at the 1983 National Convention.

In a recent AP news release, it was noted that President Ronald Reagan has hearing help, but that his impaired right ear disability is "insignificant." This is according to Dr. John House of the House Ear Institute.

President Reagan has been a patient of the House Ear Institute since 1979. The hearing aid President Reagan wears was developed by Starkey Laboratories in Minneapolis, Dr. House said, although he's the one who recommended it.

Want to Take Better Pictures?

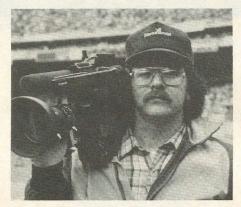

by Pete McKeeman

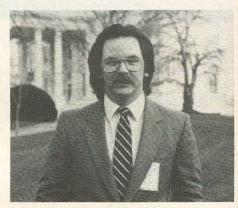

How to take better pictures! Not an easy subject, but just about all you have to do is to walk into any metropolitan book store, or camera shop, and you can find reams of printed material on how to take the definitive photograph. But digesting all that material, and then sorting out the parts that apply to your particular situation could take forever, that is if you don't get confused enough with all the techno-descripto-lingo.

But there are some simple pointers you can keep in mind when taking a snap shot of the gang, whether it's with someone's hand-me-down Polaroid or the most sophisticated motor-driven 35mm Nikon.

One of the easiest ways to make a photo of a person or group more interesting is to change the setting or background. Where is it carved in stone that all pictures of an individual must look like Sergeant Friday of Dragnet snapped down at the stationhouse? If Carol, your president, wins an award and you want to show people what she looks like, why not try and tell them something about her visually, instead of just that she has two eyes, a nose etc.

Take Carol's picture in her surroundings, her environment, some place that she feels comfortable with and says a little bit about who she is. For instance, if Carol is a computer major, frame up the shot so you could see Carol adjacent to a keyboard, or maybe looking up from making notes on some program. Don't try to get the whole desk in, because readers will want to see what she looks like, but with a more interesting setting or background, they won't have to read the part about how Carol blah-blah-blah computers. The same applies to group shots. Use a setting or background to tell who they are. Yeah sure, you're thinking, the best way to do that is to shoot everybody out in front of the house. That brings up another typical photo that is usually as dull as dirt.

I know you have seen the picture of the ol' house and probably four or five rows of people standing in front of it. Chances are the photographer framed it so the whoooole house was in the shot, and consequently you can't tell Helen from Ellen, or the house mom from somebody's stuffed turtle mascot, because everybody is so little-bitty-shrunk-down-tiny. But you can tell it's your house so you must be in there some where. Let's see, was I on the third row, fourth from the end or was it the fourth row, third from the end? If you must have the group in front of the house, how about shooting it at an angle and have the people gather loosely in more or less a diagonal direction to the camera. That way the house and the people don't look two dimensional and rigid. If you bring several people closer to the camera than others, the three dimensional aspect is heightened even further.

Don't be afraid to experiment, you have to shoot the whole roll of film anyway, might as well try some new or different ideas. You might just come up with something that is not only interesting, but helps tell a viewer looking at the picture a little more about the subjects.

There is still no rule that says a group of people have to be photographed in front of a sorority house in order to know who they are. There are much more interesting backgrounds sometimes, and just as easy means of identification. Take everyone to the petting zoo, and make sure that at least one or two people on the front row with the baby lions are wearing sorority and/or campus jackets.

Another pet peeve of mine is the indoor photo taken with flash or strobe lighting mounted on top of the camera. Honestly, sometimes it cannot be helped, but it always looks flat and listless. Artificial lighting can be done well and look great, but it usually requires a pretty heavy investment in professional type equipment.

If you can help it, stay outdoors or use available light from large windows if possible. Some shadows under the nose or on the cheek of a subject actually add to a photo. It gives perspective and depth, something you can't get with a simple flash.

Finally, you might think about sending in those ad lib caught on the fly type photos that show people being themselves. You know the ones, where Stacy is caught just after she caught a pie in the face, or Alice's successful steal of homeplate in the championship softball game. Many times a spontaneous snap of the shutter will come out just right, that is in focus and not blurred, and they are almost always more interesting to look at, and that is the bottom line . . . taking pictures that people will notice and enjoy looking at.

So, four easy things to remember the next time the Editor of The LAMP asks you to send her a more interesting picture. BACKGROUND. COMPOSITON. LIGHTING. SPONTANEITY. Go for it, and good shooting.

GML Award Winners

Mary Penrod, Northern Kentucky-KB

Two of our 1983 Grace Mason Lundy Award winners were inadvertently overlooked in the announcement of Convention awards. Our very sincere apologies to both for failure to feature them in the Fall issue of the LAMP. Perhaps this special feature will help to make up the error!

The National Council is pleased to announce two additional 1983 GML winners.

Mary Rose Penrod Northern Kentucky-KB

Mary Rose Penrod was elected treasurer of Kappa Beta chapter at Northern Kentucky University shortly after her initation. She then became vice president of pledge training, president and again vice president of pledge training. The student body of NKU elected her president of that organization. Besides all that, Mary was employed sixteen hours per week during school and full time summers at the Cincinnati Enquirer. Talk about busy?

This organized young lady was also named Kappa Beta sister of the year twice, was recognized as Province XX's most outstanding officer and the list goes on.

Patty Seiter, KB chapter president wrote: "Mary has truly given herself to Delta Zeta and to the Kappa Beta chapter. Her outstanding campus and chapter accomplishments speak for themselves, so I would like to address the 'little' things that make her so special.

"In addition to her duties in her office, Mary is involved in every aspect of the chapter. She plays a role in almost every activity. During Greek Week, she was a major force in our winning the overall competition. She started in volleyball, starred as a forward in basketball and swam in three events. She is also our quarterback in Powderpuff Intramural Football. Mary attends all mixers, and her congeniality has won her popularity.

"Mary is the first to offer her services for any job that needs to be

"Mary's spirit and enthusiasm are a spark for our chapter and an example we would be wise to follow."

CCD Linda Allen wrote that "Mary believes with all her heart that she can never give back to Delta Zeta that which has been given to her - her chance of a lifetime. This dedication is the difference between a special Delta Zeta and an extraordinary Delta Zeta. Mary Penrod is an extraordinary Delta Zeta and to me that is what the Grace Mason Lundy Award is all about - to give honor to those who feel they can never return enough to the friend that is Delta Zeta."

Elaine Buchanan East Tennessee-ΔH

"As my college days come to a close, I look back on them with a realization that, without Delta Zeta, my college experience would have been empty and meaningless. Perhaps I would have found another 'out' to put my heart and energies into, but none could have meant as much to me as Delta Zeta does and always will. Delta Zeta provided me with a change to laugh, lead, live, and most importantly, to *l*ove. The four "L"s of sisterhood stick in my mind, each important, but none possible without the rest." These are words of our GML from East Tennessee-ΔH chapter, Elaine Buchanan.

"Elaine's natural modesty is reflected in her GML application. Even though her list of Delta Zeta activities is long, it does not reveal the magnitude of the contribution this sister has made to Delta Zeta." These words came from Sue Skambis, then Acting PCD for ΔH.

Élaine Buchannan is a music major and her rigorous schedule could have prevented responsibility given to the chapter and campus, but she managed to do it all, also being named to Rho Lambda, honor society for Greek women and listing in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

And so it is with pride that we add the names of Mary Penrod and Elaine Buchannan to those seven GMLs named earlier . . . two truly GML girls in every way.

Elaine Buchanan, East Tennessee-AH

It's a ΔZ Family at Nicholls State

by Gloria Erwin Lynch, Memphis State-ΓΙ, Bayou Alumnae Chapter

When Dr. Donald J. Ayo took over as president of Nicholls State University on July 1, he was not only the first NSU graduate to become the university president—he was also the first " ΔZ Man" to occupy the president's home.

The new top administrator, popular with both faculty and students, has ties with Delta Zeta that "just seem to keep growing," he comments good-naturedly.

Vice-president and provost of the university for the last 12 years, Ayo is married to the former Betsy Cheramie, one of the first initiates of Kappa Alpha chapter, chartered on the campus in the late '60s. Shortly thereafter came her sister, Pat, to wear the Lamp. Through the years, both were active alumnae and the Ayo home was the scene of many Delta Zeta activities.

With the initiation of daughter Allison into Kappa Alpha in '78 things really picked up. Homecoming displays, song practices, late-night meetings—all things that keep collegians busy—often kept Dad busy in some respect, too. The Kappa Alphas unamimously named him "Delta Zeta Man of the Year" in 1979 after he delivered the keynote address for their annual Honors Banquet. Also on that occasion, Mom was named the Marie Louise Lepine Outstanding Alumna, and Allison was chosen for the President's Award.

Not to be outdone, son Chris was coming along through all this, dating another Kappa Alpha sister, and it wasn't long before he was picked as chapter sweetheart. Recently, he and the former Tara Grace, KA, 1981 Grace Mason Lundy award winner, were married and another Delta Zeta tie was added to the new "first family."

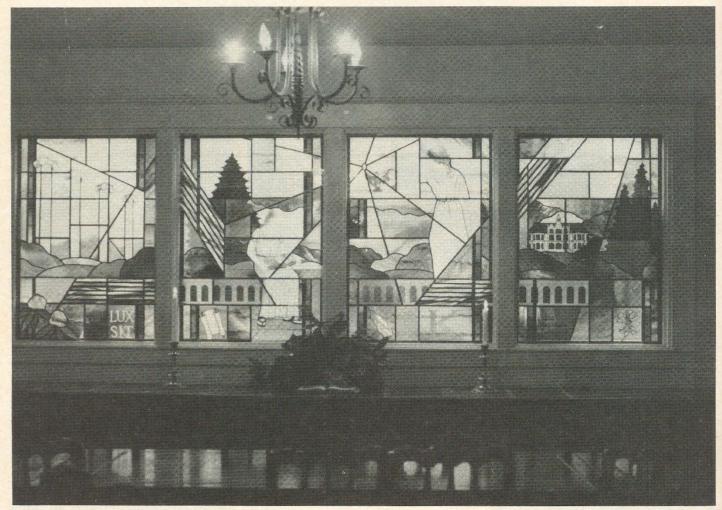

A native of Lafourche Parish, Ayo was graduated from Nicholls in 1954 and earned his Ph.D. in horticulture and plant genetics in 1962 from Louisiana State University. He joined the NSU faculty in 1958 and became head of the department of agriculture in 1964. He was named Alcee Fortier professor of plant science and moved up to academic dean in 1968

Ayo's honor as Delta Zeta Man is one among many, including the James Lynn Powell Outstanding Alumnus Award in 1974, and the locally-prestigious Francis M. Durel Outstanding Citizenship Award of the Thibodaux Veterans of Foreign Wars in 1977.

As the university provost, Ayo chaired numerous committees, and he belongs to more than 15 professional organizations. His research has been printed in more than a dozen publications.

Ayo was selected for the president's post—the third person to serve in that capacity in the school's 35-year-history—by a unanimous vote of the Louisiana Board of Trustees of Higher Education. Wiley Sharp, Jr., president of the board, said the choice of Ayo "Signified a perfect choice of a highly qualified educator at an excellent institution of higher education."

Kappa's Stained Glass Windows

Here are the windows as they appear in the Kappa dining room. Under the windows is a magnificent hand carved buffet built many years ago by Dr. Clarke, father of Paula Clarke Bond, Kappa '66.

by Karin Mesmer

New stained glass windows were commissioned for the dining room and front entry of the Kappa chapter house at the University of Washington. The four dining room windows, each measuring about 3' x 4', depict a stylized landscape with figures in various shades of rose, tan, blue, green, lavender and gold. European antique glasses were used with details painted and fired.

Window #1 depicts the Four Columns from the original territorial campus which appear on the University of Washington seal. The Rhododendron is the state flower and "Lux Sit" is the University motto, "Let there be Light." This window is a gift of Mareta Havens (K'14), a Kappa chapter founder.

Window #2 depicts a young woman with the Open Book. In the background is an Evergreen Tree, Lake Washington and the Cascade foothills. In the foreground is the Delta Zeta scroll. This window is a gift of Kappa Colony '83.

Window #3 depicts her Sister raising the Lamp of Delta Zeta. She stands upon a Kappa foundation with the Spindle in the foreground. This window is a gift of Louise Maurer Inlow (K'39).

Window #4 depicts the oldest and most beloved building on the University campus, Denny Hall. In the background are Lake Washington and Mt. Rainier. In the foreground are the Delta Zeta Motto and the Delta Zeta Rose. This window is a gift of Dolores Stein Dyson (K'43) in memory of her husband Donald.

Superimposed over the set of four windows are the letters Delta Zeta in a bold graphic design.

The entry window is a three foot diameter "rose window" in opalescent glass of pink, coral, gold and green depicting the Delta Zeta Rose. Designed to be viewed from the exterior above the front entrance, it is backlit for maximum effect.

The windows were designed by Karin Mesmer, daughter of Elizabeth Harrington Smith (K'34). Karin and her husband Richard own Northwest Art Glass, a stained glass studio in Seattle. Karin has studied glass painting extensively and specializes in original commissioned work and restoration.

Meet ΓA at Baldwin-Wallace

Attired in their black tuxedoes with red carnations, Gamma Alphas present a classy picture before Interfraternity Sing at Baldwin-Wallace. They took first place!

by Marge Kennedy, Baldwin-Wallace-ΓΑ

Baldwin-Wallace College is located in Berea, Ohio, a suburban community of 26,000 which is approximately 14 miles southwest of the city of Cleveland, providing B-W's students access to a variety of cultural and social activities, and the other advantages of "big city" life.

B-W is proud of its attractive facilities, which cover a 50-acre campus and are a combination of old ivy-covered sandstone buldings and new Georgian-colonial architecture, including some of the newest additions: the Art and Drama Center which houses a proscenium theatre, a studio theatre, art galleries and classrooms, and the George Finnie Stadium, which has been described as one of the finest college facilities in the nation, and serves as the summer practice field for the professional football team, the Cleveland Browns.

B-W is small enough for its over 3700 students to feel at home and large enough to offer a wide range of academic programs to prepare for a future career. A spirit of community and camaraderie makes the Baldwin-Wallace campus an exciting and rewarding place to study and grow.

It was in this atmosphere of tradition and learning that the AFO-OFA (All for one—one for all) Club was organized in 1935. A year later, the dean of the college, feeling a need for another Greek letter sorority, asked the AFO-OFA to choose Greek letters and incorporate as a sorority. This they did, and in May of 1936, they became Phi Lambda Chi Sorority. After six years of organization, they "went national" on September 24, 1941. The Gamma Alpha chapter of Delta Zeta was officially chartered.

Today, Gamma Alphas continue the tradition of excellence established 42 years ago, and this past year was no exception.

The fall quarter excitement started when, during B-W's Homecoming festivities, Delta Zetas Paula DeArdo and Laura Lane were honored as members of the Homecoming Court.

The highlight of Gamma Alpha's year came in February with the 51st Annual Interfraternity Sing Competition. Under the direction of Randi Nevins, Delta Zeta sang a medley of New York songs, appropriately attired in black tuxedoes. The evening was almost magical and the strong sense of sisterhood and pride felt by each Gamma Alpha was clear to everyone - even the audience. For the first time in eight years, the chapter was awarded first place!

The traditional Barn Dance was held, with the members and dates celebrating country-style in a converted barn loft. Wendy Johnston was chosen as this year's "Pledge Princess." Winter quarter also found the sisters recognized as the Greek organization with the highest overall grade point average on campus.

Gamma Alpha's "own section." The only sorority in the building, they are also the only sorority with their own section, all others share floors.

Some Gamma Alpha seniors prepare to read the senior will. (1 to r) Kim Rifici, Sandy Pearson, Gretchen Haas, Jane Mowerv and Linda Baird.

This is the ΔZ boat team from the May Day Games at B-W. (1 to r) Patti Folley, Lisa Latessa, Lorie Frame, Wendy Johnston and Louise Italiano.

In April, Gamma Alphas attended Province V State Day held at Wittenberg University, and began and ended with a bang! Early in the day, members of the chapter performed " ΔZ , ΔZ " (to the tune of "New York"), and won the song competition. Later, during the awards ceremony, the chapter was recognized with several honors. Marge Kennedy received the Golden Heart Award and Randi Nevins, Jane Mowery, and Sandy Pearson received Golden Crests. After a year of hard work, Pledge Trainer Sandy Pearson accepted the outstanding pledge program (Gamma Alpha was the only chapter in Ohio with 100% initiation!), and Jane Mowery was chosen as the outstanding chapter president in the state in Ohio.

The 2nd Annual Greek Week was an exciting time at B-W this year. Gamma Alphas held our third annual bike-a-thon, and the sisters rode through the nearby MetroPark bike trails to raise money for our philanthropy and donated over $130 to B-

W's Speech Clinic.

An All-Greek picnic was another event of the week, and B-W Greeks ate, drank, and were merry at the home of member Ann Holman. Shelley Spencer was first runner up for May Day Queen and the 1982 May Day Queen, our own Jane Mowery, crowned her successor. Gamma Alphas served as the ushers for the coronation ceremonies, and "serenaded" the new queen with our prize-winning song medley. We also participated enthusiastically in the games with teams in relay, obstacle course, scooter, boat and tug.

Gamma Alphas are looking forward to an exciting fall, and workshops for rush are already underway. Plans have been made for a "New York" party (a theme that seems to bring us a great deal of success!), as well as our tried and true "Land of" Oz" party and the traditional beautiful preference party. Gamma Alphas should have plenty of opportunity to meet new girls since Sherri Cox and Marge Kennedy have been selected as resident assistants for the 1983-84 year, and four other sisters, Wendy Johnston, Terri Nass, Randi Nevins, and Debbie Schultz will serve as freshman orientation leaders.

The year will be one of continued service to Baldwin-Wallace with participation as members of the senate, advisory court, varsity cheerleading and a variety of sports that include volleyball, track and tennis (this past year featured eight Delta Zetas on the tennis team!). Three of the four senior class officers will be Gamma Alphas - Sheila Khosh has been elected vice-president, Melissa Erzetic is the new secretary and Shelley Spencer will serve as treasurer. Patti Foley has been elected junior class secretary and sophomore Debbie Schultz is the vice president of her class.

We hope that in the new year Gamma Alphas will create as many exciting and rewarding memories as this past year has brought to us. Our chapter's own special song, "The Lamp and the Rose", written by President Randi Nevins, was sung this year as a special parting "gift" to our seniors. Through all that we do and achieve together as sisters in our short time at Baldwin-Wallace is an awareness that, as the song says, "even when our college days come to a close; Delta Zeta lives forever in her golden lamp and rose."

Outside the ΔZ section, past president Jane Mowery cooks hamburgers for Lisa Orlando and Shelly Tehlin, Beth McQuaide and Terri Nass wait patiently in the background.

ALABAMA

Alabama, Alpha Gamma — Delta Zetas really pitched in to help each other with rush this year. In fact, every member was needed to transfer a truck load of sand to the basement — bucket by bucket with an old-fashioned bucket line. And the Gilligan's Island party was among the successful rush parties which helped AF again pledge quota — this year 49. Rho Chi rush counselors for Panhellenic were Debbie Carr, Phyllis Sundberg and Beth Kivette. Sheree Martin is president of Panhellenic and Debbie Hardegree is president of Young Democrats. Debbie is also in University Dancers II. Mandaine Noel is a Chi Phi Calendar Girl, and Corolla Favorite. University Ushers includes Mandaine Noel and Traci Christian. Members are enjoying new carpet and furnishings in the house.

Jacksonville, Lambda Gamma — New pledges were welcomed at a pool party at the home of Colonel Archie Rider and later enjoyed a retreat at Smith Lake in Cullman. Athletic Department Fuller Girls are Ann Holder, Charmion Lackey and Micheal Hubsky. Micheal is also Panhellenic rush president.

ARKANSAS

Arkansas Tech, Lambda Alpha — Three members, Julie Browning, Cathy Newhouse, and Lisa Yerby all represented ΛA at Delta Zeta National Convention in Dallas. They were delighted to accept the chapter's award for pledging quota for three consecutive years. Cathy Busken is president of Panhellenic. Cardinal Key tapped Amy Campbell.

Central Arkansa, Epsilon Xi — Shari Coble cheered with the UCA cheerleaders, Delta Zetas marched into the first pep rally wearing their Delta Zeta shirts, carrying large wooden ΔZ Greek letters and a wooden turtle, and shouting their favorite chants. The student orientation staff included many Delta Zetas welcoming new students to UCA. Tamara Morris finished among the Top Ten in the Miss Arkansas Pageant over the summer.

Henderson State, Epsilon Pi — Senators in the Student Government Association are Beth Andrews, Liz Hardman and Jeanne Myers. Jeanne is also treasurer of the Resident Hall Association and vice-president of Student Activities Board. Beth serves as national committee coordinator for the Resident Hall Association. Other Resident Hall Association leaders are Dana Sanders, president, and Sally Shaver, secretary. Dana serves as vice-president of the Student Government Association while Susie McKinney is secretary of Panhellenic Council. Danette Deaton was tapped for Alpha Kappa Psi. Phi Lambda Chis chose Kim Hester as their sweetheart. Delta Zeta, with the other campus sororities, helped freshmen women move into their dorms.

CALIFORNIA

California-Chico, Delta Chi — Delta Zeta placed first among sororities in scholarship and took second in Sigma Nu's sorority softball tournament. Graduated Magna Cum Laude were Melinda Ely, Mary Mills and Marlyn Pitrofsky Weber.

San Jose, Gamma Lambda — Twenty pledges in formal rush brought the chapter to 73. $\Gamma\Lambda$ hopes to repeat last year's championship of flag football. Renee Ushigome is a candidate for Homecoming queen. Barbara Brodsky who carries a 4.0 average is president of Gamma Lambda and Laura Burnell is president of $T\Delta\Phi$ honorary. The pledge room is now all pink, complete with rose curtains.

COLORADO

Denver, Rho — At presstime, members were preparing for another successful formal rush. Earning perfect 4.0's were Cindy Bates, Julie Briggs, Marylou Cianciolo, Stephanie Dolan, Susan Fisch, and Kim Verhoerr. Ellen Palmer participated in a 23 day wilderness experience, Outward Bound.

CONNECTICUT

Connecticut, Gamma Beta — In Greek Week members faced fierce competition in sporting events as canoe racing and tug-of-war, but were determined to capture the first place sorority trophy in Greek games and did. The chapter celebrated its 40th anniversary on campus and were busy painting and wall papering the house.

FLORIDA

Tampa, Delta Theta — Delta Zeta was named best sorority on campus last year, won second in Greek Week, won first place overall in intramurals, and captured a close second place trophy in scholarship. Delta Zeta is the largest sorority on campus and was honored as most improved chapter at Province activities. Members sponsored a Go West campuswide party during Oktoberfest Weekend and a pie-throwing booth at charity day. Members of Alpha Chi academic honorary include Karla Ahrens, president, Maureen Merrigan and Donna Berry. Resident advisers are Donna Berry, Marcia Flemming, Maureen Merrigan, Ann-Marie Sepuka, Robin Stephenson, and Heidi Tolvanen. Heidi is also president of Howell Hall. Kathi Drenning is president of Panhellenic, while Maureen Merrigan is president of Oak honorary. Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities tapped Holly Fredericks, a member of the politcal science honorary. Juleigh Hanson is a UT diplomat and Greek editor of the yearbook. Anne Joyce is a member of education honorary, while Monica Rogers serves on the Student Judiciary Board. Panhellenic national honorary tapped Ann-Marie Sepuka. Maureen Merrigan was 1982 Greek Woman of the Year. UT Players includes Leona Peszka and Karen Amarnek is a peer counselor. Ann-Marie Sepuka was first runner-up to Homecoming Queen and Daye Holland reigned over the Valentine Dance.

GEORGIA

Georgia State, Delta Delta — The chapter prpared for formal rush by presenting the theme party skit for a parent/alumnae tea. Philanthropic projects include a sidewalk sale with proceeds going to the Scottish Rite Hospital or the local philanthropy, the Auditory Clinic. Robin Schaffer is Intersorority Council rush chairman and April Morris is a rush counselor. Michelle Houster is a cheerleader for the Atlanta Falcons and Lisa Coley holds two Delta Zeta scholarships. $\Delta\Delta$ was #1 in scholarship this past year and recently received the ATO award for outstanding sisterhood.

ILLINOIS

DePaul, Theta Theta - With so many college women wishing to live off-campus in apartments, its refreshing to read Michelle Miller's footnote to her LAMP report . . . is a unique chapter. Because we do not have a house, and we are all commuter students, and because all of our sisters work part-time and attend school full-time, this report seems a little lacking in interesting or heartwarming incidents. It's not that we do not have them, it's just that it is extremely difficult for all of us to be together at any given time. We are unified and our sisterhood is strong, but we do not live together and I guess we miss a lot." But those full-time students, part-time workers, seem to be busy on campus as Sue Ubis is Phi Kappa Theta Fraternity Queen and Michelle Miller is a member of the Homecoming Court. Blue Key honorary tapped Maria Christiano and Michelle Miller. Maria is on both DePaul's and the National Dean's List. Alana Haley is executive chairman for the Activities Board while Michelle Miller is executive chairman for Greek Council. The chapter's Greek of the Year dance raised $2500 this year and over 400 guests attended. College Chapter Director Kathleen P. Daly was honored as Outstanding CCD in Province IX.

Eastern Illinois, Gamma Nu — The Delta Zeta Chapter, numbering 114, includes 39 beautiful and enthusiastic new pledges. Fraternity sweethearts are Kelli Ryan, $\Phi\Sigma E$, Lisa Michelini, TKE, and Chris Jones, ΠKA . Pike Calendar Models are Linda Musser and Marci Murphy. Karin Kraii is second vice-president of Panhellenic. Michelle Hove won the Woman of the Month Award and Nancy Slusser won a talented student scholarship award from the Theatre Arts Department. Vikki Lamendola is cheerleader captain. Extensive remodeling to the house included work in the formal living room and kitchen.

Illinois, Alpha Beta — The chapter pledged 20 girls in formal rush and welcomed National Secretary Dianne Guild for rush.

Northwestern, Alpha Alpha — Members prepared for an exciting formal rush in a lovely, redecorated house. And, there's no doubt the rushees will hear about AA's awards from national convention . . . the Margaret Huenfeld Pease Award for philanthropies, a mug for scholarship and certificate for standards.

Southern Illinois, Gamma Omega — Delta Zeta raised cash for Gallaudet by sponsoring a Most Eligible Bachelor Contest. Jill Snow, Kim Wilson and Linda Wilson freeze modeled at a Carbondale clothing store in the mall. July Solarz boasts a 4.0 grade point. And, another mother-daughter team is guiding a college chapter as Kathy Schill is daughter of CCD Elizabeth Mestas Schill. Delta Zeta's new housemother has a good understanding of sororities. Housemother Vicki Hersch just finished traveling as a field representative for Alpha Sigma Alpha Sorority.

INDIANA

DePauw, Delta — An exciting and successful rush included getting the right attitude and the right look. Jessie Reid, Δ, gave professional make-up consultations while Carol Arner of Student Affairs talked to the chapter about positive mental attitude. Special guidance came from Phyllis Snape Favorite, National Director. Plans for a busy fall include a scholarship banquet, faculty dinner, community project with ΛXA , sorority tea with AOII, and a housemother's tea. A chapter "smile squad" cheers up sisters who are feeling down by decorating their doors with paper smiles and messages. Campus leaders include Lisa Blyshak, president of the Chemistry Club, and Donna Heckler, secretary of Academic Council. Ronda Hamaker serves on the Sophomore Board. Tanya Seslar is first violin in the Terre Haute Symphony: Linda Johnson played cello in Waldfest in Chicago. Lisa Hidlebrand and Gretchen Stiers are resident assistants. Lisa Blyshak and Cheryl Marvel participated in a peer counseling workshop. Candace Cooper is a representative for Chaplain's Living Unit Council. Monica Girardot and Sharon Heinrich are freshman orientation leaders Franklin, Psi — With only 11 members returning for formal rush, Delta Zeta tried a new approach with two new skits. The excellent planning and decoration of Rush Chairman Lynnette Pratt and the enthusiastic rushing of chapter members brought 17 new pledges to Psi. At presstime, members were planning for Homecoming and practicing for intramural flag football (hoping to match last year's win). Gold Quill honorary includes Tammy Giessler and Lynn Grayson. Teresa Abell, member of Lancers and Laurels honoraries, is editing the yearbook. Lisa Stephan is cheerleader captain and president of the Student Congress.

Indiana, Epsilon — Members welcomed an enthusiastic pledge class numbering 18 and are again hoping to win Greek Classic. Debbie Tamara Morris is Miss UCA and represented the university in the Miss Arkansas pageant. She is a member of Epsilon Xi.

Rechsteiner is a member of IU pom pon cheer-leading squad.

Indiana-Evansville, Lambda Beta — Delta Zeta pledged a quota pledge class numbering 17. Student government leaders Mary Beckman, vice president, and Darla Kamman, senator. Lana Barrett traveled to the Miss Indiana State Fair contest wearing the crown of Pike County.

IOWA

Iowa State, Beta Kappa — Though the chapter wasn't 100% in favor of the new quote-total system at Iowa State, BK adjusted and was extremely successful in formal rush. Of the 16 houses on campus, only five reached quota, reported Mary Beth Kissell, rush chairman. And, Beta Kappa pledged quota, 31, in formal rush. ΔZ 's total membership is 86. At presstime members were busy planning Homecoming with TKE and preparing teams for ΣX Derby Days.

KENTUCKY

Kentucky, Alpha Theta - "Sing a Rainbow", the first invitational party for Delta Zeta, started rush out right...32 new pledges! Initiates and pledges are getting to know each other with a "build your own sundae" party, a swimming party, and a cook-out. Special thanks to parents and alumnae for the brand new living room furnishings.

Morehead, Kappa Tau — After helping freshmen move into the dorm and hosting an ice cream party for rushees, Delta Zeta became the first sorority to add pledges in fall rush. The second week of school, everyone enjoyed a Flashdance party. Members came attired in cut-off sweatshirts, dance clothes and bandanas. KTs are preparing to defend their intramural softball championship. Pledge Melissa Shunk is a MSU majorette. Jenifer Noland is Panhellenic president while Martha Brown is state treasurer of Phi Beta Lambda. Honors program includes Laura Fannin and Leslie Spradlin. Brenda Bersch is a member of Student Nurses Organization, and Lecia Large is a member of Student Council for Exceptional Children. William Jewell, Zeta Rho — Fall activities included initiation, a turtle ice-cream sundae party, rush practice, rush parties and cheering the Cardinals on to victory. Rhonda Barry, Florence Hood Award winner and chapter president, won a Founders Memorial scholarship and Greater Kansas City Panhellenic Award. Cardinelle hostesses Julie Adams, Melissa Scott, Lori Greenfield and Beth Dreyer were among the hostesses at the Luciano Pavarotti Benefit Reception at Kansas City's Crown Center Hotel. The benefit evening raised over $50,000 for the William Jewell Fine Arts Program.

NEBRASKA

Creighton, Theta Eta — Omaha Panhellenic honored Kelly McQueen as Creighton Girl of the Year and Sheila Nix as recipient of the Senior Scholarship Award. Kaki O'Brien and Tina Otterstedt are basketball cheerleaders. Pom Pon squad includes Cindy Malone and Liz Malone. Kathleen Dungan won the Outstanding Student Teacher Award. Jamie Hansen is Panhellenic president. Mary Kay Mangus and Therese Mullin are resident advisers. Members are selling 2000 copies of their first Men of Creighton Calendar for $5 each, worked a welcome week information booth, and are hoping to win a first place in powder puff football.

Nebraska Wesleyan, Beta Tau — Rush not only touched the rushees' hearts, but helped BTs rediscover the special meaning of Delta Zeta. Beta Tau added 17 new pledges, after an ice cream party (complete with clowns, parlor tents and ice cream), a New York City Broadway theme party, and memorable formal party. May was highlighted with the 75th anniversary celebration, while the fall calendar includes plans for a Delta Zeta Barn Party. Beta Tau returned from National Convention with numerous awards including the top scholarship award, a membership award for 17 years of filling quota, a pledge training award and standards, rush and sorority education certificates. They also won the Agler Award for cooperation with national and are extrememly proud of their CCD Marvona Tavlin, new National Vice-President of Collegiate Affairs. Tera Beermann and Susie Keisler received scholarships, while Shelly Slaughter won a Grace Mason Lundy award.

NEVADA

Nevada, Las Vega, Iota Phi — Chapter members held a summer retreat in Pine Valley, Utah and held its annual fireworks booth fundraiser. For the fourth year, the chapter worked the Jerry Lewis MDA telethon, the pledge class furnishing ΔZ power during the first half of the telethon and then initiates joined the pledges to finish the shift. Susan Moore, $I\Phi$ alumna and MDA executive board member, worked the full 24 hour shift and the late night shifts were taken over by Catherine Clay, Cheri Berndt and Cindy Ward. Leading Panhellenic Council are Betty Bartlett, president, and Marti Stone, vice-president. Kirsten Kohlmeyer is president of Alpha Epsilon Delta pre-med honor society and is a University Admissions representative. Theta Gammas were ecstatic to return to school and find a newly decorated and rennovated dining room and kitchen.

NEW JERSEY

Glassboro, Xi Kappa — Twenty-five of the members traveled to Dee Modrak's summer home in Waretown for a reunion. The day's events included swimming, cook-out and sharing of summer stories. Linda Cademartori began a summer newsletter for the chapter. Plans are already on the drawing board for campus community project, Project Santa, and a Christmas bazaar. Susan Wimann is vice-president of Kappa Omicron Phi home economics honorary. Members of other organizations are Linda Cademartori, Advertising Club and Audrey Otero, Puerto Rican Students in Action.

Trenton, Lambda Lambda — The 14 pledges let the campus know just what they thought of Delta Zeta. They hung a large banner reading "\Delta Z Sisters, We Love You!" \(\Lambda \) honored its own at the traditional chapter semi-formal, participated in the college's annual Spring Week with various fund raisers, and entered two teams in "Almost Anything Goes" sports competition. Delta Zeta collected clothing for residents of a run-a-way shelter and entered a team in the wheelchair race at Handicapped Week.

NEW MEXICO

New Mexico, Gamma Xi — Lively renditions of All That Jazz, Ain't He Sweet, and Pass It On earned first place in Greek Sing for Delta Zeta. $\Gamma\Xi$'s won second place in spirit and third place in Greek games.

NORTH CAROLINA

East Carolina, Zeta Lambda — The last phase of chapter house redecoration was completed just in time for rush. The entire downstairs area, excluding the bedroom, is completely remodeled. In fall rush, ZΛ pledged 23 girls.

North Carolina-Charlotte, Kappa Phi — Campus leaders are Robin Overholser, Residence Housing Association president; Tina McWhorter, Schott Hall Activities Representative; Sheryl Lambert, Student Government representative; and Nancy Allen, University Program Board representative. Members of campus organizations are Jan Mills, business fraternity; Susan Collins, Alpha Kappa Psi; and Kelly Miller, Psychology Club secretary. Susan Cavanaugh handles the treasury for Panhelenic Council. Sweethearts of fraternities are Donna Stroupe, $K\Sigma$, and Susan Collins, ΣN . Beth Thompson is a cheerleader. A fun weekend, which proved to be a profitable fund raiser, centered around Delta Zetas manning the rides at the adult and children's sections of Carowinds Amusement Park on the North and South Carolina border. Tina Williams, a Delta Zeta supervisor at the park, arranged the project.

OHIO

Ashland, Theta Psi — Who's Who Among Greeks lists Martha Sisk, Doreen Bell, Dolores Henning, Kate Childs and Dawn Shaw. Alpha Omega honorary includes Jessie Brubaker, Diane Goodman, Dawn Shaw and Janet Iley, treasurer. Diane joins Dolores Henning in Kappa Delta Pi. Martha Sisk was named Outstanding Greek Woman of the Year. Chapter pep chairman Lesley Mack has devised a "lifesaver" award for the member making the greatest effort to help a sister survive the completion of any difficult task. Teri Kaple, rush chairman, met incoming freshmen immediately as a member of the Ashland orientation staff. Karen Kern joined her on the staff. Randi Parsons and Carolyn Stevenson are on the student Homecoming committee. Members joined Phi Delta Thetas to sponsor an Easter party for underprivileged children, and are extremely proud of their third place national ranking in Delta Zeta scholarship.

Bowling Green, Gamma Tau — $\Theta\Psi$ again pledged quota, this year 32, with some delightful rushing themes. Parties included "Election Day at Delta Zeta", "Formal Desserts", and " ΔZ is Out of this World!" For the out-of-theworld party, rushees entered through a 16 foot high space ship in front of the house. At prestime, members were preparing for the annual $\Sigma\Phi E$ Mud Tug and TKE Water Wars. At National Convention, Gamma Tau won silver awards for standards, activities, philanthropy and membership. Anne Marie Sferra received a graduate scholarship from Delta Zeta.

Baldwin-Wallace, Gamma Alpha — The sisters extended a special welcome to all new students through Orientation Leaders Wendy Johnston, Terri Nass, Randi Nevins and Debbie Schultz and Resident Assistants Sherri Cox and Marge Kennedy. Patti Foley and Wendy Johnston arrived on campus early to cheer for the football team as varsity cheerleaders. Marge Kennedy received a scholarship from the Cleveland Alumnae Panhellenic and chapter members are assisting in reforming the B-W chapter of the American Society for Personnel administrators with Sheila Khosh, the new president, leading the way. Other members include Charmae Stamper-Cotton, Sherri Cox and Randi Nevins.

Findlay, Theta Tau — Chapter president Krys Pituch is secretary of the Student Government Association, manager of college football, speech lab assistant, and member of the WLSC news team. Panhellenic president Lisa Huffman is a senior student government representative, math lab assistant, and Becker CPA campus representative. Lisa earned an academic scholarship from Findlay. Other academic scholarships went to Jeanne Stuckey and Vicky Jones. Denise McGaughlin won a scholarship from the grand Assembly-Rainbow for Girls. Kerry Crandell is pre-vet club treasurer and a library assistant. Doreen Massay, a math lab assistant, won a band scholarship. Vicki Jones, both a math lab and an admissions assistant, won a merit grant from Findlay. Jeanne Stuckey is also a math lab assistant. Sharyl Renner is librarian of the college choir, while Shelly Zimmerman holds memberships in Horse Club and Wilderness Club. Debbie Legg is a peer facilitator, library assistant, and resident assistant. At National Convention in Dallas, Ccapter president Krys Pituch and College Chapter Director Cindy Fitzpatrick were delighted to hear that Theta Tau ranked eighth in scholarship and ninth in activities nationally.

Miami, Alpha — The year started out perfectly as Alpha again pledged quota—this year 38. At presstime, members were teamed with AXA for a sorority-fraternity exchange dinner and were looking forward to Greek Week competition. Alpha's new philanthropy is a golf tournament at nearby Hueston Woods. The first date party will be a hoe-down.

Wright State, Kappa Iota — Scholarship recipients are Pam Kottman, Kim Tuttle, Founders Memorial Foundation, and Cyndi Walker, Order of Rainbow for Girls. Pam Dugmore is Ohio's Honey Queen for the second time. Members earned over $200 with a car wash and paper drive. Proceeds went to philanthropies.

Youngstown, Kappa Chi — A busy fall began with several philanthropic projects. Philanthropy chairman Sondra Scott led the sisters in raising over $500 for speech and hearing with their sixth annual Bike-a-thon on the core of the campus. During the summer, Delta Zeta joined with Phi Kappa Tau for a 12 hour dance-a-thon benefitting Gallaudet and Youngstown Hearing and Speech Center. The chapter also participated in a blood drive. Delta Zeta was named Sorority of the Year at annual Greek Sing, while Leslie Myers was honored as Sorority Woman of the Year. Leslie will be co-chairing Homecoming. Kim Wells is assistant editor of the Neon yearbook, while Lisa Hernan is Greek Week chairman.

OKLAHOMA

Central State, Epsilon Upsilon — Delta Zetas joined Sigma Tau Gammas for a fun-run benefitting Cerebral Palsy, planned a fund raiser at the Oklahoma City State Fairgrounds, and again worked at the world's largest haunted house. Alumnae got into the swing of things as they costumed as turtles for formal rush. They served as turtle tour guides and escorted rushees to a finance room, scholarship room, and honors room in the house where rushees learned more about Delta Zeta. Later, at "Delta Zeta—the Best Brand", rushees sat on bales of hay and enjoyed a Lone Rushee skit. Epsilon Upsilon peldged quota plus-21-and is the largest sorority on campus. Nina Pitezel is Miss January for Sigma Delta Chi and Kathy Bray is a collegiate national officer for DECA.

Northwestern, Delta Omicron — Rush parties included a ΔZ Safari Party, with real jungle atmosphere, a Fantasy Island party, and Rose Preference at the home of an alumna. How many M & M's in a cooler? The person guessing the correct number, after buying a 50° chance, will win the M & M's and the gallon cooler in the Delta Zeta fund raiser. Leading Black & Gold Scroll honorary are Kayla Landreth, president, and Kayla Jackson, secretary-treasurer. Lise' Coussens and Diane Herridge both earned perfect 4.0's in summer school. Lanette Banjamin is president of the Dorm Council.

Northeastern, Delta Phi — The first week of school Delta Phi walked away with most spirited organization honors for its display at the annual school Howdy Dance. Delta Phi celebrated the chapter's 60th birthday in November. Student Senate leaders are Julie Holmberg, vice chairman, and Dianne Dowdy, representative. Susan Vail is flag corps captain with the marching band.

Oklahoma State, Alpha, Epsilon — At a successful summer work-week, members, parents and friends trimmed the ten foot shrubs behind the house, beautified the yard, finished kitchen and dining room painting, hung all the old composites, and built rush props. Joining convention delegates Susan Wahid and Shawn O'Halloran, were Nancy Woods and Susan Cozier. Nancy is chairman of the Student

Sharolyn Wallace, a member of the President's Honor Roll, holds Miss Appearance and Miss 101 Ranch Rodeo titles. Sheila Bryant won a Sophomore University Scholastic Scholarship. Linda Jones is a member of Parthenon Players and OSU Dance Concert

PENNSYLVANIA

Drexel, Epsilon Zeta — Donning tropical shirts and leis for the first rush party, members and rushees alike wriggled amongst tropical decor at a hula contest. At another party, rushees jitter-bugged to the sounds of Bill Haley and the Comets, while members dressed in cuffed jeans, bobbie sox and pony tails for the party. The old fashioned Southern Garden Party culminated rush activities. One of the most profitable fund raisers for the chapter was pretzel sales.

Edinboro, Iota Delta — Delta Zetas are celebrating the college's recognition as a university by selling Go Boro! buttons. Parents enjoyed the annual Parents Day Luncheon prior to a Fighting Scots football game. Members entertained children with their annual Halloween party at the Sarah Reid Children's Home in Erie. Delta Zeta maintains an annual membership in the Pittsburgh Hearing, Speech and Deaf Services, Inc. Also in the area of philanthropies, members have adopted an 87 year old grandmother in Cambriage Springs. Granny Herrington always looks forward to her Delta Zeta visitors . . . and delights ΔZs with her recitations of poetry and songs. IΔ placed first in Greek Sing competition. Dean's List includes Suzanne Easler, Vaune Pelletier, and Ann Sninsky.

Indiana-PA, Gamma Phi — Chapter President Maria Blair provided an exciting evening for her sisters as she read from her Delta Zeta diary compiled during National Convention in Dallas. At presstime, members were anticipating their most spirited and enthusiastic rush ever. Stacy Tannehill is a member of the varsity cheerleading squad. Nancy Voytosh and her quarterhorse, The Playman, earned numerous championships in Hunter Horse Shows throughout the state last summer.

Kutztown, Kappa Rho - During Greek Week in the Spring, Delta Zeta participated in a faculty tea, beach party and dance, and banquet. Kappa Rho Barbara Patzuk chaired the entire week's festivities for the campus. Winning awards during Greek Week were Jo Anne Arnholt, Colleen McPoyle and Sandy Horst. A little investigative work in the area of fund raising included members discovering their fathers' weights. Dads then donated a penny for every pound. Members of honoraries are Lorie Kramer, $\Phi A\Theta$ history, and Jo Anne Arnholt, New Federation of the Golden Bear residence honorary. Lynn Wallis, a member of the equestrian team, placed eighth in regional competition. The chapter raised \$200 with a summer raffle and chapter President Jo Anne Arnholt was cited as Greek Woman of the Pittsburgh, Omicron — At a summer rush workshop, the hard-working chapter created 700 nametags. And, to get the campus excited for rush members created a banner depicting two ΔZ turtles holding hands and the caption, "For Friends for Life, Go Greek!" At National Convention Omicron won awards for pledging quota for five years and sorority education. Panhellenic external vice president Andrea Gourney, O, chaired Lantern Night, a ceremony welcoming freshman to Pitt. Patty Maloney co-chaired and organized the event.

Slippery Rock, Zeta Phi — Sixteen Spring pledges have been initiated and there are nine new pledges from Fall rush. ZΦ had a display table at SRU's organizational fair and joined ΛΧΑ in Homecoming float plans. The chapter has been selected to usher for the Artist series on campus. Kathy Fitske ran in "Run for the Gold" for the upcoming Special Olympics soccer tournament. Wendy Wanswer was named Outstanding Greek Woman at Greek Week and Diane Paul is president of the Public Administration organization.

West Chester, Iota Rho — First in scholar-ship for the fourth consecutive year pleased Iota Rho who has just completed their most successful rush in years. Chester County alums again furnished all the food for rush. They took first in Greek Games and second in Greek skits. Lynne Ciervo is captain of varsity cheerleaders, assistant vice president of WCU Intercollegiate Governmental Association and head cheerleading coach at a nearby high-school. She is also Iota Rho's rush vice president and a nominee for Homecoming queen.

SOUTH CAROLINA

South Carolina, Beta Delta — Delta Zetas put on a fantastic rush and welcomed 41 new pledges. Edi Rose, Sami Mureddu and Carol Monson served as rush counselors. Julianne Neal and Tina McDowell sing with Carolina Alive. Toddie Fetcher dances with the USC Dance Company. Delynn Bradley is a trainer for the all women's team and USC football team.

Lisa Huffman, Findlay- Θ T, is Panhellenic president.

Sharolyn Wallace was named Miss Appearance at Miss Pinto of America competition in the International Pinto Show. She is also Miss 101 Ranch Rodeo Queen and a member of Oklahoma State University-AE chapter.

TENNESSEE

Memphis State, Gamma Iota — For the second consecutive time, Delta Zeta took first place honors in mixed division of All Sing. The highlight of the Phi Gamma Delta-Delta Zeta presentation was a solo of Maybe by reigning Miss Memphis Lisa Hatchett, Fl. Under the direction of Fielder Diane Sorensen, Fl began the excitement of a growing Delta Zeta chapter. Susan McKee is a Resident Hall Association representative. Kathryn Thomas is a member of Honors Student Association and a senator.

Middle Tennessee, Iota Iota — Members have joined together to paint, remove carpet and clean the chapter room in a redecoration project. The pride in the project prompted members to vote "no eating or drinking" in the chapter room in order to maintain its beauty. Members distributed helium filled balloons reading "AZ Summer Fling" at fall registration to start off a great year. Members sold donuts in dorms and aided Kappa Alpha Fraternity by selling tickets to their All Star Football Game Muscular benefitting Dystrophy. Donaldson won a $300 award from the Physical Education Department.

TEXAS

Houston, Delta Theta — $\Delta\Theta$ pledged quota for the 20th consecutive year and participated in the Jerry Lewis MD Telethon. The chapter had an ice skating party at the Houston Galleria the night before initiating spring pledges.

North Texas, Kappa Zeta — Hard-working Kappa Zetas, joined by Lewisville and Dallas alumnae, conducted a successful rush including a Garden Party, Wiz Skit and Fame Skit, to pledge quota for the second consecutive year. This year's pledge class numbers 37. Members treated campus fraternities with cakes, are collecting aluminum cans for philanthropy, and are teamed with Kappa Sigma for Homecoming. Alison Alves is fourth runner-up in the Olympic division of ice-skating. Wendy Kramme is a member of the Marketing Association. During Kappa Zeta's Goodwill program, members attempted to bake cakes to be decorated by the chapter. Both Karen Keith and Lisa Gallehugh ran into some difficulty. After burning their first cakes to a char, they persisted, baked second attempts — and burned them, too!

Southwest Texas, Iota Alpha — Thirty beautiful pledges now have a home in Delta Zeta! Iota Alphas will perform their top winning Campus Sing song rendition, "Delta Zeta, The Greatest Show on Earth," for Homecoming entertainment. Officers in Strutters Drill Team are Paige Lucking, head captain, Lisa Stone, Kim Pickett and Patsy Haenelt. Order of Omega honorary includes Birdget Kennedy and Charlotte Maxwell. Student Foundation includes Charlotte Jackson, Bridget Kennedy and Lisa Stone. SW Texan Spirit Group members are Mechelle Branch, Kelly Jinks and Marla Evans. Fraternity sweethearts are Julie Rhoades, ∑N, and Jean Rich, TKE.

Stephen F. Austin, Zeta Psi — A successful formal rush brought 21 new pledges into Delta Zeta. Members and pledges alike made a spirited appearance at SFA's first football game carrying helium filled pink and green balloons.

Texas-Arlington, Iota Psi — A successful Fall rush brought 33 new pledges and the new chapter house is finally on the way up! Iota Psi sponsored another Battle of the Sexes on the UTA campus and raised funds by working at the Show-Biz pizza place with campus Greeks coming to show their support. Jan Gibson is Liberal Arts representative to the Student Congress.

VIRGINIA

team won two second places in Greek Week while Stephanie Hewitt and Janine Clarke earned top honors in obstacle course. Members helped host an open house for the speech and hearing clinic, volunteered hours at a local juvenile detention home, and organized their first formal rush. Fund raisers included car washes and a candy sale. Allison Merkle serves on the Campus Judicial Board. College Chapter Director Christine Sleight was named Most Outstanding Faculty Member.

WASHINGTON

Washington, Kappa — Members entertained friends, initiates and alumnae with a Hawaiian Luau which also proved a profitable fund raiser. Member Rocky Tsuboi provided authentic Hawaiian dancing. Members are excitedly preparing for their first formal rush. Debbie Wakefield won a $1000 scholarship from the Bishop Foundation.

WEST VIRGINIA

Concord, Epsilon Delta — Chapter President Cindy Parker brought home a pledge training certificate and silver standards award from National Convention. $\rm E\Delta$ won best song and standards award at Province Day. Carol Fox was named the province's outstanding treasurer. Sarah Pate earned highest senior average awards at the Panhellenic banquet. Teri Poulos serves Panhellenic as vice-president. Thirty-two per cent of Epsilon Delta, the largest percentage of any Greek organization, participated as Orientation Staff members welcoming new students to Concord. A successful Bridal Show, chaired by Laura Hill, included an open house for students, faculty and the public.

Fairmont, Epsilon Iota — At presstime the chapter is preparing for rush and working with Sigma Pi fraternity on Homecoming activities. Christine Phillips is Miss Fairmont State and was a finalist in the Miss West Virginia pageant. Jean Williams is the Mountain State Forest Festival Queen. CCD Marylinn Kidd and president Kathy Stone, along with Kaye Yost and Pam Pugh, attended Naitonal Convention in Dallas.

Shepherd, Kappa Mu — Members traveled to Cooper Country Farm in Front Royal, Virginia for their annual summer picnic and, at presstime, were participating in Panhellenic formal rush. Robyn Flack is captain of the pom pon team and Sally Startzman is captain fo the cheerleading squad. Sally also won the Milton L. Schifman Scholarship at Shepherd. Kelly Weese won a Founders Memorial Scholarship.

West Liberty, Iota Tau — Delta Zetas got acquainted with freshman girls by delivering pink and green iced cookies to them. Upperclassmen got to know Delta Zetas at a pizza and popcorn open rush party. Members provided an information booth for freshmen on dormitory move-in day. As a fund raiser, Iota Tau sponsored an all campus disc jockey dance in the College Union. Jennifer Ramby won an athletic scholarship for volleyball.

WISCONSIN

Carroll, Gamma Theta — Delta Zeta won the Panhellenic scholarship award and enjoyed a fun-filled weekend retreat in July. Members participated in Al's Run, which benefits Milwaukee Children's Hospital. Sandy Micker won the Social Work Department Award.

Wisconsin-Eau Clarie, Epsilon Omega — With the help of National Field Representative Linda Regner, Epsilon Omega had a successful rush in the terms of parties, reports chapter editor Ann Langel. Greek Week was reinstated on campus, but, unfortunately, sororities were unable to participate. It seems participation in Greek Week activities might bring possible rushing infractions since events were scheduled for the same week as rush.

Wisconsin-Whitewater, Epsilon Kappa — Delta Zetas are trying to put a little ZING into the chapter by setting a goal of creating unity among sisters. Within a week, ZING went from a goal on a piece of paper to an anonymous chapter member leaving ZING notes on chapter memo boards, writing, ZING-ZING-ZING-ZING on the sidewalk leading to the house, and leaving mysterious surprises for the chapter on the back steps. Delta Zeta welcomed 14 pledges in formal rush and was excited over National Convention awards for membership, standards, newsletters and activities. Leila Yancy and Amy Huber both won scholarships from Delta Zeta.

New IΦ pledge Karen Hare is a cheerleader at UN-Las Vegas.

THE SRC'S DREAM

Fall rush is a dither,
As we go fro and hither
To show the young girls
A sorority world,
With or without references.

We rush, plan, and giggle As we try to fi-niggle Our new freshman misses To be our ΔZ misses With or without references.

We rush by the book, By hook or by crook We pledge our dears Without any fears . . . Did someone mention references?

If directions you elicit
The manual's explicit
"In five days from pledging . . ."
There should be NO hedging
Turn preferences into references.

Busy ΔZ Alumnae Here and There

Rena Pierami Maruna

Rena Pierami Maruna, Drexel-EZ, dirctor of supplier quality assurance at Kentucky Fried Chicken in Louisville was one of 27 women in the United States selected to receive a Tribute to Women in International Industry award from the National Board of the YWCA.

The YWCA organized the TWIN awards in 1978 for three purposes: to honor outstanding women in executive, managerial or professional roles in business and industry; to recognize corporations for establishing progressive personnel policies that provide opportunities for the advancement of women in industry; and to identify successful management women as role models.

Rena began her career at Kentucky Fried Chicken in 1974 as a microbiologist. She has progressed steadily to management positions, serving as manager of technical services and manager of poultry quality assurance before being promoted to her present position in 1981. She is responsible for monitoring the quality of all major ingredients used for Kentucky Fried Chicken products.

A native of Philadelphia, Rena received her bachelor of science degree from Drexel University and a master of science in food science from Michigan State. We are indebted to her sister Delta Zetas at Kentucky Fried Chicken, Clara Lamkin, Kentucky-A Θ '68 and Diane Beck Ogle, Kentucky-A Θ '67 for the information and picture!

Sandra Jongsma Madden, Newcomb-BY, sent an article from her Tulane alumni magazine relating achievements of ΔZ Gayle John Howell, a Newcomb grad who is manager of production engineering at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) Michoud facility of Martin-Marietta in New Orleans East.

Martin-Marietta has the contract to build the external fuel tanks for the NASA space shuttle which went into space for its seventh run in June. Gayle - the only female manager at the facility - supervises the 471 employees who are the step between the design and construction phases.

Gayle emphasized that as a woman in a male-dominated field, women who expect to be treated equally have to do equal work! She said she remembered her first class at Tulane when she entered the engineering school in 1956: "I remember my first class - Math 175. It was for engineering students. So I showed up and everybody tried to convince me that I was in the wrong class. They kept saying, 'You want to be down the hall, not in this class.' I just kept saying, 'No, this is exactly where I'm supposed to be.'"

Gayle John Howell, another Delta Zeta Lady of Achievement!

And then there is Kathryn Linkhart Jones, NSU- $\Delta\Phi$ chapter, who is serving her fifth year as executive director of the Greater Southwest Music Festival in Amarillo, Texas.

The annual festival attracts around 10,000 high school and junior high school musicians, plus another 135 directors and studio teachers — constituting Amarillo's single largest annual event. Altogether more than 205 organizations participated in the 1983 festival.

The festival has a 45-member Board of Directors who are doctors, lawyers, businessmen, educators, musicians and housewives - all interested in young people and music. The festival operates under a charter from the State of Texas as a nonprofit organization.

Kathryn, who attended Northeastern State in Tahlequah, Oklahoma, with your editor as a classmate, has also taught school and worked with husband Pat in his music store. She's an avid golfer who has won her share of tournaments. The Jones' are living on a small farm (by Texas standards) with 8 horses (6 registered paints, one Palomino and one fine riding horse), two dogs, three mama cats and ten kittens.

Beverly George Everett, Iowa State-BK '49 was recently named to the Iowa Women's Hall of Fame. Beverly is pictured on page 67 of the new History of Delta Zeta when she attended a commission meeting for International Women's Year.

Beverly, who farms with her husband near New Sharon, Iowa, "has spent a lifetime involved in programs advocating equality for women here and abroad, and dealing with agriculture and food problems, rural and international development, cross-cultural understanding and continuing education."

Because much of her life has been spent on farms, Beverly is a vocal advocate of soil conservation, a subject she has frequently written about. She was appointed by then-Secretary of State Cyrus Vance to the U.S. National Commission for UNESCO, a United Nations group where she was vice chairman and has served on boards that range from local agencies to world-wide organizations.

The Chattanooga News-Free Press carried an article about Dee Kindelberger (Diane Santmyer Kindelberger, Baldwin-Wallace-ΓA) and her rewarding hours of volunteerism. The newspaper reported that in 45 minutes she taught a young girl at a children's home who had never played an instrument before to play the piano.

While the child did not become an immediate virtuoso, the mere fact that she learned so quickly must attest to a certain talent which Dee shares with those in trouble and distress.

Dee admits she is a doer. She does volunteer work five out of seven days a week. In addition to working as a CONTACT telephone counselor once a week and teaching Sunday School at the Brainerd United Methodist Church, she teaches singing and piano at the Chambliss Home Delinquent Unit, teaches piano to female prisoners at Silverdale and teaches singing to youngsters at the Children's Home.

Kathryn Linkhart Jones

Married to Lou Kindelberger, her degree is in Music Education and she just loves to pass on her knowledge to others. Their children are daughter Kelly, 14 (who is "very good" at the piano and also plays the flute) and son Scott, 12. Dee also jogs five miles at a time.

Dee sums it all up: "I find that there's great joy giving to the community through my music to people who have never been exposed to music as such... I really feel like the small things in life are the things that are the most rewarding, even if it's just a smile from a happy child from a new song that you've taught him."

The New York Times recently pictured Kathy Klinkefuss Manatt, Iowa State-BK '58 and her husband Charles T. Manatt, Chairman of the Democratic Committee as they entertained former Cabinet Members from the past three Democratic Administrations in their home. The information, sent by Kathy's classmate Betsy Aldershof, BK '59, mentioned that Chuck is also an Iowa State graduate and was well known around the Delta Zeta house, loaning his car for their philanthropic projects and of course, being Kathy's date at all their parties. She mused further, "I'll bet Kathy never dreamed as she was busy learning how to cook and entertain at Iowa State that she would have such distinguised dinner guests in her home!"

Ft. Collins Alumnae Give Scholarships

by Gail A. Harmon, South Carolina-ΒΔ

Many hearing-impaired children miss out on things the rest of us take for granted, but for ten years the Fort Collins, Colorado alumnae chapter has enriched the lives of twenty one children with hearing loss. Their success story, while not over, reached a high point in May. At that time, the chapter awarded scholarships to two students who had been in the program since childhood, and who were now graduating from high school.

The Fort Collins alums began planning their enrichment program for hearing-impaired students about ten years ago. At that time, they decided to help Beattie Elementary School teachers who had twenty one such students, ages three to twelve, in their classes. Two members instrumental in starting the program and seeing it through were Martha Whitehead Larsen, Northwest Missouri-EP '62, and Elva Brackett Alden, Maine-AY '57, both still active in the chapter.

At first, "help" meant providing field trip transportation, but within a few months, the alumnae organized a card party to raise funds for camp. The previous year, only three of the Beattie kids had been able to afford camp in Aspen, Colorado; however, the winter of 1974-75, seventeen went, thanks to ΔZ donations and the children's bake sales. Alums also sent popcorn, cookies, and rolls of film along.

From then on, the local alumnae chapter worked to provide an "enlarged environment," so that hearing loss didn't handicap the children's experience any more that necessary. Each year, the Beattie teachers planned five learning units which would lend themselves to hands-on experience and field trips, provided by the chapter. These included:

Spinning/textiles: demonstrations of dirty fleece and how to clean it and spin it. Children were encouraged to pull and twist fleece into yarn on a spinning wheel, and had the story of "Rapunzel" signed to them. In addition, they brought cat and dog hair from pets at home and made thread from it. Later, a weaving demonstration was held as a follow-up.

- History; a visual program—with signing—based on the Constitution, Declaration of Independence, Betsy Ross House, flag, etc. Also visits to the local museum and to Centennial Village, where the movie Centennial was filmed.
- Plants: visit to local greenhouse, where children chose a small potted plant to take with them; the alumnae paid for the plants. Discussions on plant care and feeding.
- Animals: to teach responsibility for pets, a visit to the Humane Society, followed up later by a visit from a vet with his Mobile Pet Hospital.
 - Trip to the Fish Hatchery, and picnic outdoors under the colorful changing aspen trees.
- Food and health: McDonald's tour followed by free meal that they had supervised. Also a tour of a doughnut shop — with snacks — and lecture about health regulations.

 Other countries: Fort Collins is a university town, and there was easy access to foreign shops trip to East-West Imports, with demonstration of kimono wearing, tea ceremony, doll exhibit.

In addition, there were parties, scavenger hunts, attendance at a dress rehearsal of Cinderella (signed for them) at Children's Theater, and other excursions that truly met the criteria of enlarging the children's environment and perceptions of the world around them.

In 1976, the chapter decided to look to the future, and established a scholarship fund for any child deciding to go past high school. To that end, collections were taken at larger social events, such as the progressive dinner to which husbands were invited.

By 1978, seven of the original Beattie bunch were in junior high. After one semester, they presented a program at a chapter meeting about how they were coping with a larger school and hundreds of strangers. Most were happy with lecture situations, either because teachers used the microphone which fed into the students' phonic ear devices, or their

Alumnae Profiles

Several members of the Phoenix alumnae chapter attended the high school graduation ceremony at the Phoenix Day Shcool for the Deaf. This was the school's first commencement since becoming fully accredited by the State of Arizona. The Phoenix alumnae presented a scholarship to class member Tina Champion to help defray costs of attending Gallaudet College in the fall. Pictured (I to r) are alumnae president Susan Norman, Appalachian- $\Lambda\Phi$, secretary Pat Knowles Wells, San Jose- $\Gamma\Lambda$, graduate Tina Champion, philanthropy chairman Claudia Edwards Hosking, Cal Long Beach- $\Delta\Lambda$, and Panhellenic delegate Marge Poe, Ashland- $\Theta\Psi$.

VIRGINIA ODLE VOELKER, Houston- $\Delta\Theta$, currently resides in Tyler, Texas. After 26 years in Houston and her husband Wendell's death, Virginia moved to the piney woods of East Texas "where life is more leisurely." When a moderately severe hearing impairment curtailed her secretarial work to the Director of Physical Therapy at the University of Texas Health Center at Tyler, she took training as a certified sitter and is now employed at First Baptist Church with their nursery division. Because of her continued interest in hearing impaired and totally deaf children and adults, she is secretary and board member of the East Texas Hearing Association. Seventeen years service to the Texas Business and Professional Women's Clubs, including five years on the state board, earned her the 1983 Woman of the Year award of the Tyler BPW Club. Past Delta Zeta service includes National Endowment Chairman from 1960 to 1963.

DENISE LYNN FIELDS, FSU-AΣ, is manager of marketing services for a 60 million dollar worldwide telecommunications organization. Responsibilities include market planning and research; design and implementation of marketing management information systems which includes entry, sales and inventory control; marketing communications which includes advertising, sales promotion, brochures, exhibits, public relations, distributor co-op, in-house production, proposal production and translation, Denise likes racquetball, sailing, training parrots, water skiing, dancing and sewing.

LEONA TRAIN RIENOW, Minnesota-Γ, and her husband Rob began their writing career just after Rob returned from four years in WWII. They have written more than 35 books for public consumption and much of their work has appeared in Harper's, The Rotarian, This Week, Saturday Review, New York Times Magazine, Defenders of Wildlife, The Nation, Audubon Magazine and others. Their MOMENT IN THE SUN (Dial Press 1967) has been said to have "sparked the advent of the environmental age." Lee has also done fiction — two or three satires. The Rienows live near Selkirk, NY in a 1746 farmhouse surrounded by 135 acres which now encompass a beautiful wild park with uncountable numbers of birds and animals. Rob is just retired as Distinguished Service Professor at the State University of New York at Albany.

VICKI LYNN JINNETTE, South Carolina-B Δ , graduated in May 1983 and went to work as news editor of the Dispatch News, a weekly newspaper in Lexington, SC. Her duties include a little of everything except selling advertising . . . and she's even done that. She assigns stories, edits copy, takes pictures, writes stories, lays out the paper, even glueing down copy and takes abuse from the readers. But, she added, just one "the paper looks good" makes it all worthwhile! She'd like to start a ΔZ alumnae chapter in her area, and likes reading, cross stitch, water skiing and writing.

DANA LEIGH FOX, Central Arkansas-E\(\pi\), taught English for three years and then was awarded a Rotary Foundation Scholarship to do graduate studies in English at University College, Cork, in Cork, Ireland. She plans to return to Central Arkansas and obtain her M.A. in English. Dana likes golf, tennis, teaching swimming, reading and writing.

KATHERINE RAICHLE RUE, Washington-K, taught home economics in Olympia, Washington during the time the state capitol was being built. She has participated in all the usual groups - PTA, Campfire, AAUW and after teaching ended, became involved in Delta Zeta - her greatest interest. She received the Achoth Award in 1977 and wrote that she has just recommended a wonderful prospect!

JEANNE HIRSCH BLAYLOCK, William Jewell-ZP, is news reporter/anchor for KTAB-TV, the CBS Affiliate in Abilene, TX. Duties include regular journalism features and news coverage. Special assignments include "All God's Children," a weekly series featuring a child who needs a Big Brother or adoptive parents or sponsor families, etc. Husband Mark is a public accountant.

The mission of the aircraft is to perform in-air refueling for almost all other aircraft in the air force (fighters, bombers, AWALS, etc.) Recently she began work on her master of science in systems management with University of California, Kadena Branch. She likes all exercise, aerobics, dancing, water skiing, reading and writing lots of letters (so she gets lots of letters back!)

MICHELE HARRINGTON, Creighton- Θ H, is a Captain, Judge Advocate General's Corps. She is chief of military justice for Camp Humphreys, Korea. Her duties involve the prosecution of criminal cases for the 19th Support Command at Camp Humphreys. She is also the Legal Assistance Officer and her duties include consumer complaints, divorce matters and financial counseling. She likes travel and calligraphy.

She was installed by Gay McNaughton Shirley (Westminster- $\Theta\Delta$ '64), who was Delta Zeta's last Panhellenic president 10 years ago.

Carol was elected by the nearly 300 women from 22 national sororities who comprise the membership. The presidency is an elected office, not one filled by a rotation system.

Carol held a number of offices in both Panhellenic and St. Petersburg alumnae chapter, which she served as president in 1977-78. She planned to miss only one Panhellenic meeting this year, in September, when she and her husband, Ray Mathis, expected their second child. (Daughter Alison is 3.)

mentor/teacher from Beattie was able to attend classes and sign for them.

By this time, there were only twelve children in the hearingimpaired unit at Beattie Elementary, and while the local alumnae chapter still helped, the main focus was the scholarship fund. The fund, although quite small, was growing at a regular rate with donations throughout the years. At the Installation Luncheon in May, 1983, the alumnae chapter presented scholarships, for the first time, to Kevin Sheldon and Yann Hofmann. We were proud to see two young men-whom we'd watched from childhood and come to know well-go on for more education, and proud to know that we had helped!

Application for Field Representative

A Field Representative has many diversified assignments. Her duties entail assisting with the growth and strengthening of chapters by encouraging the development of sound sorority programs, helping with routine chapter business and problems, training officers and assisting chapters with rush.

Each young woman selected as a Field Representative will receive specialized and intensive training before she is assigned to chapter work. The training session will be conducted by sorority leaders who will further her knowledge of sorority background, rushing methods and techniques.

The employment contract for a Field Representative usually extends from August 15th to late in May, and Delta Zeta encourages its Field Representatives to work more than one year in the position. In addition to monthly salary, board, room and all travel expenses are provided while on assignment. Most travel will be by plane. Field Representatives are given one free weekend a month and extra time at Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter.

If you are interested in applying for a position as Field Representative, will you complete the application form and return it as soon as possible? Your application and recommendations should be sent to National Headquarters, 202 East Church Street, Oxford, Ohio 45056.
