JOAN LOWRY IS WOMAN

Joan Dondrea Lowry, Baldwin-Wallace College, Gamma Alpha chapter, has been named 1995 Delta Zeta Woman of the Year.

Joan was raised in Euclid, Ohio, and graduated from Euclid Senior High School. She went on to attend Baldwin-Wallace College where she majored in education. She did graduate work at Kent State University.

Joan was initiated into Gamma Alpha chapter in 1954. While in college, she served as pledge class president and chapter secretary, and was chosen "Dream Girl of Delta Zeta." Her other collegiate activities included class vice president, Student Council vice president, Homecoming court and head cheerleader.

Active in the sorority since she pledged, Joan has brought recognition to Delta Zeta through her professional and volunteer roles.

Professionally, Joan has been in the field of broadcasting for over 20 years. However, she originally started as a teacher. After taking time off when her son was born, she was unable to find a teaching job. Through agency contacts she had made as a teenage model, Joan landed the job as spokeswoman for such major companies as General Electric and Goodyear. This job led to radio and television commercials. She enjoyed the work so much that she enrolled at the Ohio School of Broadcasting. Joan is currently the Community Affairs Manager for Continental Cablevision in Ohio and the host of "North Coast Connection," a weekly television program. In this capacity, she interviews celebrities, as well as the next-door neighbor, and puts everyone at ease with her warm, charming personality. Joan has received several awards for her work in television, including the Telly Award in 1993. This award was given for Joan's work as narrator and producer of the documentary "Downtown Commons Project." In 1994, she also won the award for "Overall Commitment to Community" from the Ohio Cable Television and "Best Entertainment" and "Community Affairs" awards from the Cable Association.

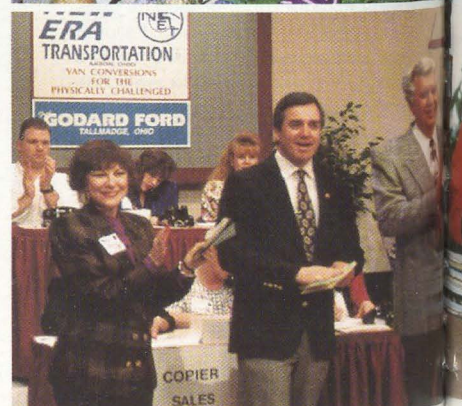

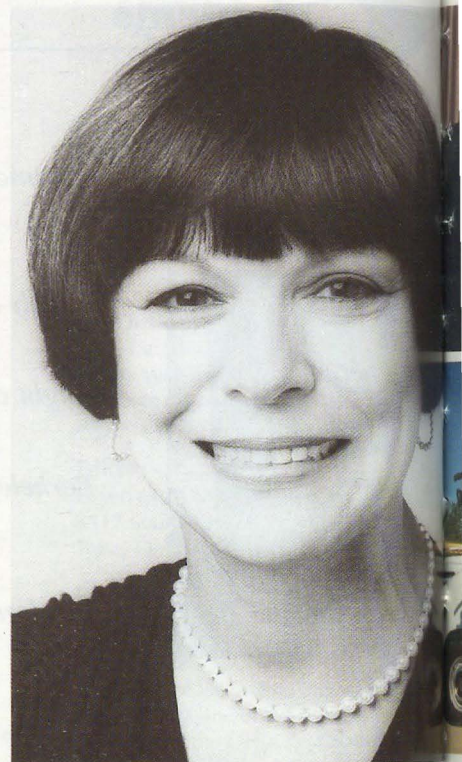

Joan's professional memberships include Women in Communications, Women in Cable, Ohio Cable Television Association, National Television Public Affairs Association, Cable Television Public Affairs Association and National Association of Television Arts and Sciences. She is listed in Who's Who in America, Who's Who in the World, Who's Who in Entertainment and Who's Who in the Midwest.

As a Delta Zeta alumna, Joan has been vice president and president of the Berea, Ohio, Alumnae Chapter. She was named Ohio Delta Zeta Woman of the Year in 1987. On the national level, Joan has been National Standards Chairman, National Scholarship Chairman, National Philanthropy Chairman and served on the National Rush Committee. In June 1995, Joan completed twelve years of service on the Board of Trustees of the Delta Zeta Foundation. From 1987 to 1995 she served as the Foundation president.

As a member of the Foundation Board, Joan has been committed to Delta Zeta's philanthropy of speech and hearing. She has involved herself in improving the quality of life for the deaf and educating the public. Joan has worked tirelessly to inform those with hearing loss about their options for better hearing through surgery or the use of hearing aids.

Joan also believes in furthering the cause of better hearing with organizations that support the deaf and hearing impaired. In 1995, she was elected president for the Better Speech and Hearing Month Campaign. Twenty-eight organizations are involved in promoting public awareness through posters and magazine ads. Joan was personally responsible for having Delta Zeta's name included in these ads.

Two years ago, Joan was a commentator on a thirty-minute video "People Vs. Noise."

This nationally produced film, narrated by LA Law star Richard Dysart and other celebrities, discussed hearing conservation and available hearing help. It has been shown on The Discovery Channel, BET Network, The Learning Channel, Lifetime, Kaleidoscope, Canadian Television and Continental Cablevision. According to the June 1994 issue of Better Hearing Institute News, "People Vs. Noise" has been seen by 124 million people.

The video spotlighted Joan and gave her credentials as not only a television personality, but also president of the Delta Zeta Foundation. Joan constantly strives to give recognition to Delta Zeta, so she asked that her segment be taped in the Delta Zeta Room at Kent State University.

Joan has also been active in the Better Hearing Institute. She has been on their Board of Directors for several years, and was elected treasurer in 1991. Because of her long standing association with BHI, Joan has been instrumental in seeing that Delta Zeta's involvement with the deaf receives a great deal of exposure in BHI literature.

Joan has also written public service announcements that have served to educate the deaf and give recognition to Delta Zeta Sorority. Most Delta Zetas will remember the PSA starring Florence Henderson. Joan not only wrote the script, she also co-directed and produced the tape. This PSA received an award for "Outstanding Public Service Announcement."

Joan is also involved with many organizations on a local and state level. She has volunteered with the Girl Scouts, Easter Seal Society, Salvation Army, American Heart Association, Animal Protection League and

YWCA, to name a few. Known for her philanthropic work, she has received a "Service to Mankind" award from Sertoma International; a "Communications Award" from the Easter Seal Society and an "Outstanding Service" plaque from the American Cancer Society. The Air Force has presented Joan with the highest award given to a civilian. In 1988, she received the "Community Leader of America" award. The Ohio House of Representatives presented Joan with a resolution commending her for her public service. Her own industry gave Joan an "Outstanding Service to Broadcasting" award.

To promote interest in entering the communications and government fields, Joan serves as a mentor in the Shadow Program in the Lorain City School District. She gives her time and talent to provide guidance to these high school students. Joan is also active in the alumni association of her alma mater, Baldwin-Wallace College, and served as president in the '70s.

Joan is married to her college sweetheart, Bob-Bill, Lambda Chi Alpha. They have a son, Christopher, a Beta Theta Pi from Miami University, now living in Cincinnati.

Delta Zetas everywhere can be proud of this very special sister and her many accomplishments. In everything she does, Joan leaves her personal mark of professionalism and graciousness. She has touched the lives of many through her professional and volunteer roles. Joan Dondrea Lowry will bring honor to our Sorority as the 1995 Delta Zeta Woman of the Year.

Congratulations may be sent to:

Heart-to-Heart Advice

BY MERYL LIN MCKEAN, ALUMNAE PROGRAMS CHAIRMAN

Everyone knows heart disease is a man's disease. The trouble is, everyone is wrong. Heart disease is the number one killer of American women. More than 500,000 women will die of heart disease this year, compared to 43,000 deaths from breast cancer and 55,000 from lung cancer.

Men have more heart attacks than women and men have them earlier in life. But women have lower chances of surviving them. What are the most important things a woman can do to reduce her risk of heart disease?

- Don't smoke. Smoking is a woman's biggest risk factor for heart attack. Cigarette smoke puts an added strain on the heart because it causes the blood vessels to clamp down or constrict.
- Maintain a healthy blood pressure (below 140/90). Almost one in every four women aged 20 and older have high blood pressure. Bringing blood pressure levels to normal with diet, exercise, or medication substantially reduces the risk of heart attack and stroke.

- Maintain a healthy blood lipid profile. A high level of cholesterol in the blood can result in clogged arteries. The American Heart Association recommends that you have your blood cholesterol checked starting at age 20. Your doctor can use a simple blood test to measure your total blood cholesterol, your HDL (good cholesterol), LDL (bad cholesterol), and triglycerides.
- Get regular exercise. Heart disease is almost twice as likely to develop in inactive women than in those who are more active. The best exercises to strengthen the heart and lungs are aerobic ones like walking, jogging and swimming. But even low-intensity activities such as gardening and housework may lower cardiovascular risk if done daily. Control your blood sugar level if you have diabetes.
- Practice stress management. Simplify your life, get organized, let go of anger and hostility, and nurture your funny bone.
- Maintain a healthy weight. People who are obese are more likely to develop heart disease and stroke even if they have no other risk factors.

For post-menopausal women, estrogen replacement therapy looks very promising as a long-term protection against heart disease, but it may also promote the growth of certain cancers. You and your doctor together can decide whether the therapy is appropriate for you.

Miracles Do Happen

Do you have a member of your family who abuses alcohol or drugs? I am a member of NAR-ANON. I am a member because my son is a cocaine addict. He has now been in recovery for almost two years. NAR-ANON has saved my sanity. COCAINE ANONYMOUS has saved my son's life. I would like to share my experience with you, because if there is anyone who needs help, I know the answer.

NAR-ANON is a self-help group. We learn how to take care of ourselves, not the addict. It helps families and friends of addicts who abuse any drugs — alcohol, cocaine, amphetamines, barbiturates, hallucinogens, tranquilizers, etc. At our meetings we learn that drug addiction is a disease. This is a medically proven fact. We share our problems with and get support from each other. We learn how to encourage the user to seek help. We learn how to take care of ourselves and improve our attitude and regain our own self-confidence. We learn to shed the guilt.

My husband and I attended our first NAR-ANON meeting four years ago. We thought that we would learn how to help our son. Instead we learned that only he could help himself. No one can help an addict except the addict. We did learn all of the things not to do to enable the addict.

Enabling or caretaking is the fundamental fault of family members. As long as we enable the addict, the addict continues on the downhill slide. When we pay the rent or the phone bill, bail them out of jail, co-sign on their loans, pay their fines, all in the name of "I'm only trying to help," we are providing the addict with money to continue using drugs.

NAR-ANON program is based on the 12 Steps of ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS. Most everyone is familiar with AA. The sister group is AL-ANON. The 12 Steps can be applied to any phase of your life, not just to a drug or alcohol problem. The change in you does not come immediately, it comes in time. To really follow the program you must attend the meetings. I can hear you now. Why should I go to the meetings? I am not the addict. If you have an addict in your home, you are as sick as he/she. YOU ARE ADDICTED TO THE ADDICT. In NAR-ANON we learn to detach, live our own lives, let the addict live his/her own life and still love each other. We learn that a power greater than ourselves is in control. NAR-ANON does not support any religious organization, but we do learn a spiritual way of life. That is the power that sustains us.

My son had been seeking help for seven years. He had been in and out of many treatment centers. The miracle happened almost three years ago. He has been clean for 22 months. I heard him say recently that he is a recovered addict in the sense that he no longer craves cocaine. That is a miracle, for he had abused cocaine for almost 20 years.

Three years ago he became suicidal. He had reached the bottom of the down-hill slide. He then entered his fifth treatment center and has continued his recovery. He has become a responsible person, working, paying his bills and leading a normal life. My husband and I were attending our NAR-ANON meetings during the dark time. I could not have lived through the pain without the support of my husband and my friends in the program. There is no one in the outside world who understands the agony and pain family and friends suffer.

DO YOU NEED NAR-ANON?

- Do you find yourself making excuses, lying or covering up for your child or spouse?
- Do you have reason not to trust your child or spouse?
- Do you lie awake at night worrying about your child or spouse?
- Are your savings mysteriously disappearing?
- Does your whole life seem a nightmare?

YES, YOU NEED NAR-ANON.

Where do you find help? Almost every major city in the USA has either a NAR-ANON or CO-ANON program. If it does not, then AL-ANON is your next choice. You can look in the Yellow Pages under drugs. The hotlines are listed there. Many hospitals have recovery programs for addicts. Some can direct you to a 12 Step program in your city. Go to your local library and check out books on the subject by Melody Beattie. Educate yourself. Read every book you can find about drug addiction, enabling, recovery, co-dependency, etc.

There is help. There are miracles. I sought help and the miracle happened.

I remain your anonymous Delta Zeta sister.

Water — A Friendly Environment

Water can be a most inviting friendly environment. Remember how babies smile, kick and gurgle at bath times? Remember what fun it was as a youngster to wile away hours at the old swimming hole? Or perhaps you have memories of the relaxing joy of rhythmic lap swimming as an adult while toning muscles and relieving stress? Now as older adults with "twinges in our hinges" water can seem even more friendly.

Let me introduce you to the Arthritis Foundation YMCA Aquatic Program (AFYAP). This program can be found across the United States in YMCAs or public recreation facilities. The exercises used in these classes are especially designed for the 40 million men, women and children in the United States who have arthritis. The certified instructor leading the class will caution you to go at your own pace while listening to your body. No swimming skills are required, your hair stays dry and your attire need not be stylish!

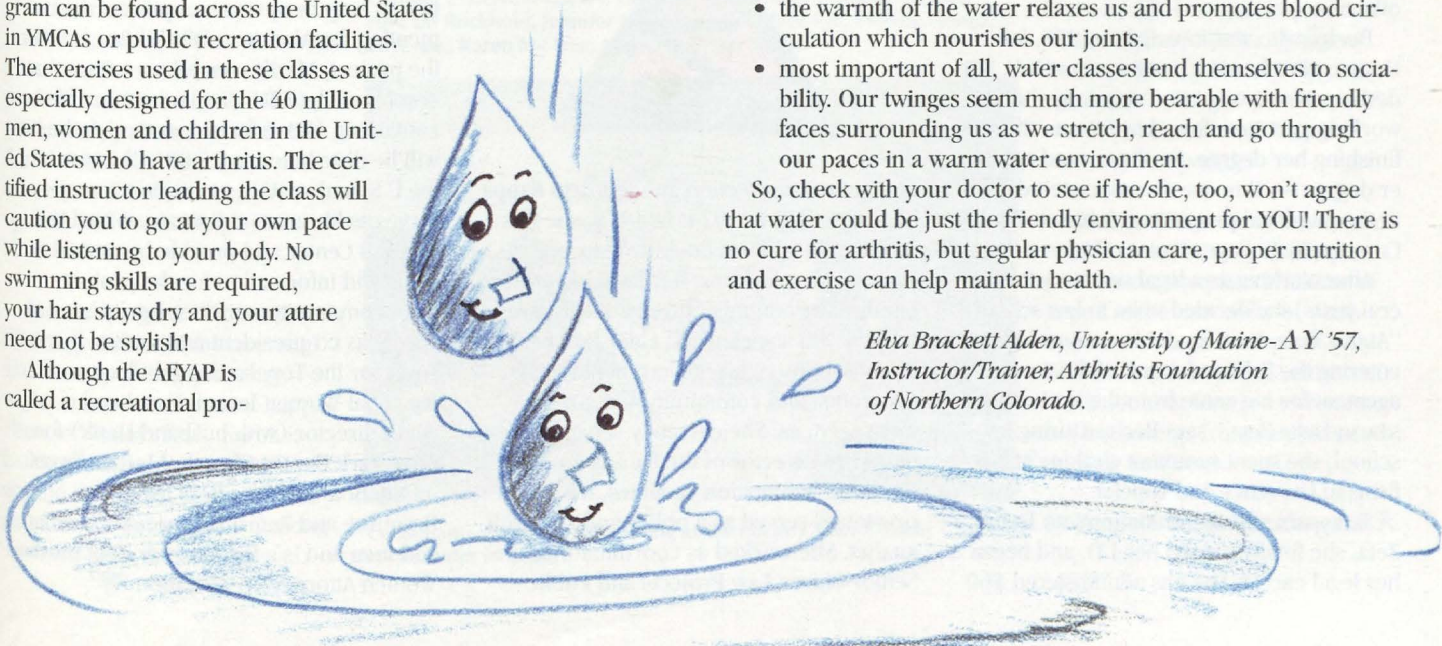

Although the AFYAP is called a recreational program many participants may derive therapeutic benefits because

- water provides resistance which can help strengthen muscles. As joints deteriorate, muscles need to be kept strong to provide support for the joints.
- since water buoyancy assists our movements we can become real ballerinas as we put our joints through their range of motion-sweet mobility that we but dream about on land.
- when we are immersed in water to shoulder depth our hips and knees will feel but 10 percent of our body weight.
- the warmth of the water relaxes us and promotes blood circulation which nourishes our joints.
- most important of all, water classes lend themselves to sociability. Our twinges seem much more bearable with friendly faces surrounding us as we stretch, reach and go through our paces in a warm water environment.

So, check with your doctor to see if he/she, too, won't agree that water could be just the friendly environment for YOU! There is no cure for arthritis, but regular physician care, proper nutrition and exercise can help maintain health.

Lady Lawyers in Kansas

BY DIANE JONES SKELTON

You won't hear any lawyer jokes at a meeting of the Topeka, Kansas, alumnae chapter — that is unless the Delta Zeta lawyers are doing the telling! The fact is that 10 percent of the chapter's 21 dues paying members are lawyers, quite an accomplishment since only 26 members of the Kansas Bar Association are women! And, the chapter's 10 percent, Becky Beutler Miller, Delta Omega, and Martha Hodgesmith, Lambda, find time for Delta Zeta alumnae activities, as well as time for community service, family, and thriving legal careers.

Both earned their juris doctors at nearby University of Kansas, but neither started out at K.U. In fact, Becky first did undergraduate work on the opposite side of the state at Fort Hays; Martha began her undergraduate work at K.U.'s rival university, Kansas State. It was in those undergraduate years that they found Delta Zeta and formed a commitment to the sorority. Then they began following the yellow-brick road to legal careers, one a bit more tortuous than the other.

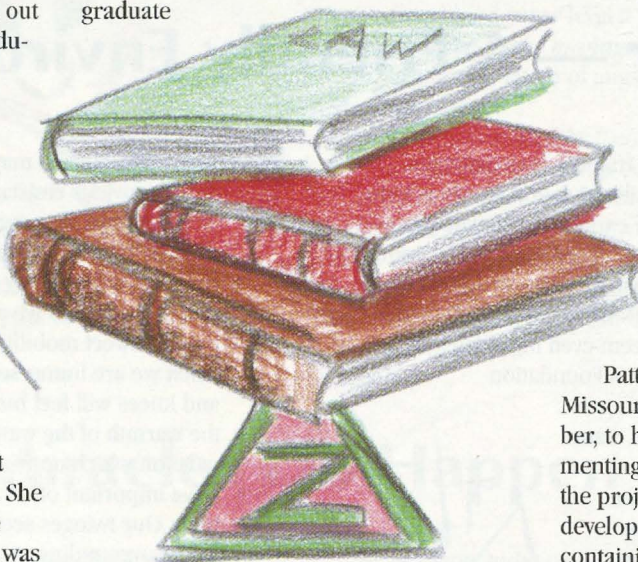

Becky, who was initiated in 1978, left Hays to earn her B.A. in German at K.U. She developed a strong interest in law while working part-time for a law firm as she was finishing her degree. So she earned another degree — this one an associate's degree in the paralegal program at Johnson County Community College (Kansas City).

After working as a legal secretary for several years, she decided to go to law school. "At that time, more and more women were entering the field and much of the encouragement for me came from the leadership I saw in Delta Zeta," says Becky. During law school, she spent summers clerking at law firms in Lawrence and Topeka.

Ten years after her initiation into Delta Zeta, she finally earned her J.D. and began her legal career. She has administered $60 million of assets for personal, corporate and funeral trusts for UMB Bank, and maintained oil lease revenues for Koch Oil Co. of Wichita. She currently commutes to Kansas City where she is a lease administrator in the Retail Real Estate Department for Hallmark Cards, Inc. "It's nice to see other young women with professional careers," says Becky, who still finds inspiration in leadership roles of women.

Martha Hodge, who has merged husband Ken Smith's surname into Hodge-smith, took the shorter road to her J.D. She, too, left her original university to earn an undergraduate degree with distinction and Phi Beta Kappa honors at K.U. in 1974. In 1978, she was awarded her J.D. at the University of Kansas School of Law. Her legal experience emphasizes administrative and legislative advocacy in social areas: elder law, health law, disability rights, government benefit programs, and community and government services. She currently serves as Associate Director of the Kansas Association of Rehabilitation Facilities, where she previously served as a policy and research analyst. She worked as coordinator of the Senior Citizen Law Projects and Public Benefits Specialist for Kansas Legal Services, Inc. for seven years and as a staff attorney for the Kansas Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services for six years.

In 1988, she received the Outstanding Service Award from the Kansas Bar Association. She currently serves on the Board of Governors and is fulfilling special appointments by the governor to the Kansas Rehabilitation Services Advisory Council and the Kansas Statewide Independent Living Council. The Chief Justice appointed her to Access to the Courts Task Force of the Kansas Supreme Court, a two-year commitment.

Both Martha and Becky consider Delta Zeta an important part of their lives, even though their collegiate experiences were abbreviated. Both co-host an alumnae meeting annually and Martha recently called upon Nancy Patton Vaughn, Epsilon Rho, Northwest Missouri, a fellow alumnae chapter member, to help her prepare a project documenting the American Disabilities Act. For the project, Martha served on a team that developed the ADA Box, a resource file box containing ADA reference material; the box will be distributed in 15,000 libraries in the U.S. and six U.S. territories. Nancy serves as librarian at Colmery O'Neil V. A. Medical Center and provided practical ideas and information for the project.

In community activities, Becky has served as co-president and secretary-treasurer for the Topeka Capitol Chapter of Financial Women International and is co-youth director (with husband Hank) for Gage Park Baptist Church. Martha serves on the Board of Directors for ERC Resource and Referral service for women and men and is a former president for the Women Attorney's Association.

China Today: Another View

BY MARTHA DUNLAP PETERSON, CALIFORNIA/BERKELEY-M

Children amazed at American teacher.

I have just returned from teaching English during the academic year of 1994-1995 at a teachers college in Hebei Province, Peoples' Republic of China. I went to learn of their language and culture, to teach, and to make new friends. I came home slightly frayed, 30 pounds lighter, but richer for this unique experience.

I was given no rules of conduct and so felt free to answer the students' questions on any subject. I also was allowed to travel alone by plane, bus, river boat and train. I met and talked with women of differing ages and professions, using my emergency Chinese and body language. I was invited into private homes for meals and also spent the night (after registering with the local police) in the home of student Wang Na Li.

Most Chinese have never seen an American and so I was an object of curiosity. I incidentally had 10 percent exposure to the 1.2 billion Chinese via television and radio when giving a joint recital with tenor Rui Li.

My new friend Sung Hong Yong had retired from teaching at age 60 and was surprised that I am older than she and still very active. She had a devoted husband who did most of the cooking. Marriage was for a lifetime, but now divorce is creeping into more westernized cities such as Beijing. She said Mao's 1949 Revolution brought women freedom to choose their husbands, freedom to work and vote.

Most of my 300 students had never gone to Beijing and none of the girls aspired to attending the Women's Conference, though they wanted to go. I found the students (over 6,000) dressed very stylishly — heels, jackets, ties. They were also polite and got along well with each other, though crowded eight to a dormitory room. Most students come from peasant parents and feel duty-bound to excel in their studies because of their parents' great sacrifice in sending them to college. Their energy goes into sports, studies and developing their talents.

I didn't see any sexual overtones on campus or on television. The Chinese are very conservative. Many girls felt they were too young to date, and took their mother's advice about marriage. Students cannot marry, then must wait until age 23. Homosexuality is taboo. Birth control appliances are only given to married women and sex education has only started in

Beijing. One boy said, "They haven't told us anything!" So when our text touched on health issues, I threw in a lecture on AIDS under general knowledge for future teachers.

"Psychology" was in the vocabulary list but the meaning was unknown, calling forth a lecture on Freud, Jung and the subconscious mind as related to mental and physical health. "Theology" and "American Holidays" drew forth another new field of information on world religions and the meanings of Good Friday, Easter and Christmas, using the Bible as a text. Religious freedom is now official (though no proselytizing) so I was allowed to receive these books and to donate them to the college library on departing.

Though my students have several brothers and sisters, they agree with the government policy of one family-one child. Parents of only one child are more prosperous and can raise the child on a higher living standard. These children are doted on (and spoiled too).

China is obviously overcrowded. I was squashed, squeezed and knocked down (needing surgery) just trying to cross a street after having looked both ways. Bicycles and trucks (sparse cars) jam the streets and sidewalks and stores are wall-to-wall people.

Many students want to come to the United States for study but have to pass a difficult language examination, have a sponsor to vouch for $16,800 each year at Sonoma State University, AND get a visa. My student Wang Na Li passed the test, has a rich father, but fears she won't get the visa as she has been told, "You are too young — You won't return to China." (Seventy percent don't!)

So, will Wang Na Li get to attend SSU, and will the Beijing Conference For Women bring more equity and human rights to women? I certainly pray so, but meanwhile let's get to work on human rights for men, women and children in our own backyard. Only by stopping crime amongst ourselves can we point out the abuse in other countries.

Meet Colonel Michele Manning, USMC

Are you aware that there are only 10 women colonels in the United States Marine Corps? And, one of these is our own Michele Manning, Eastern Michigan University-ΓΣ '65.

Mitzi Manning joined the Marine Corps in 1971 after teaching in Michigan and South Carolina for five years. On May 1 of this year she assumed command of Western Sector, United States Military Entrance Processing Command. She is stationed in Denver, Colorado.

Before assuming this post, Mitzi was assigned to the Marine Forces Pacific at Camp Smith, Hawaii, where she was Assistant Chief of Staff, G-1.

Her military career began in 1972 when she reported to the 30th Woman Officer Candidate Course at Quantico, Virginia. She is a graduate of the Marine Corps Command and Staff College and the College of Naval Warfare. Her awards and decorations include the Meritorious Service Medal with two gold stars and the Navy Commendation Medal.

The Western Sector which Mitzi commands spans a geographical area from the Mississippi River to Hawaii to Alaska. (Interesting also is the fact that the commander of the Eastern Section of the United States is Colonel Kathy Carlson, U.S. Army, a Zeta Tau Alpha from the University of South Carolina!)

The USMEPCOM is a Department of Defense joint-service command whose mission is to process individuals for enlistment into the Armed Forces. The Command, through its 68 Military Entrance Processing Stations, determines an applicant's qualifications for enlistment based on standards set by each branch of military service.

Traditionally known as "induction stations" or Armed Forces Examining and Entrance Stations, today's modern MEPS bear little resemblance to fading memories of endless lines of inductees herded through drab, green-walled military buildings. Today's applicants receive dignified, personalized customer service in efficiently designed MEPS.

Our Colonel Mitzi Manning is a native of Washington and Wayne, Michigan. She graduated from Eastern Michigan University with a bachelor of science degree in physical education. She has also earned a master of education degree in guidance and counseling from Winthrop College and a master of arts degree in international and strategic studies from the Naval War College.

From the Lampwriter

First off, my apologies to President Jack Magruder of Northeast Missouri State University. I knew he was not president of Northwest Missouri State, but apparently my fingers didn't get the message! Sorry for the slip-up!

I think it's neat that when Joy Cerreta Bacci and Florence Monroe decided to return to their alma mater, New York University, for their 50th anniversary they invited other Beta Omega sisters to join them.

It was a weekend of festivities as some 20 members of the chapter, some older and some younger, joined the Golden Anniversary pair. A catered reception greeted the group at the NYU guest suites where some stayed, followed by dinner at a Gramercy Park restaurant.

An alumni relations van transported the group on Thursday morning to an alumni breakfast and they later joined the procession, led by the alumni council, into Washington Square Park for the commencement ceremony. Joy wrote that "commencement began with the traditional trumpet fanfare from atop the Washington Square Memorial Arch. After various awards the Ceremony of the Torch followed, with the senior member of the faculty passing the torch to the youngest baccalaureate graduate. The torch was designed by Tiffany and Company and was given to the university in 1911. Then 8,000 new graduates joined over 300,000 alumni worldwide."

The rest of the weekend was spent at special lunches, a dinner, and a nostalgic tour around the area. Joy wrote, "It is not by chance our group has stayed together, meeting more than 300 times over the past 50 years. And, yes, there are intangible factors — our pride in our university, our pride in our sorority and most important, the special love and friendships we share with one another. I was overwhelmed to have so many friends with whom to share in the joy of these three glorious days."

Last issue when I wrote of Ruth Rue Benke's service award from Northwestern University, I did not know that former Woman of the Year Sue Hastings Bohle, AA

'65, was also one of the 11 honored. Sue, a graduate of the Medill School of Journalism at Northwestern, helped found the Medill Alumni Club of Southern California. She is a public relations professional with more than 20 years of experience as a consultant to U. S. and foreign countries. Sue and her husband John live in Sherman Oaks, California, with their children Christine, 16 and Jason, 18.

Dr. Lynn Weber (Cannon), University of Memphis- TI '68, who is a professor of sociology and director of the Center for Research on Women at Memphis, has won two research awards from the university.

The summer issue of The Saga of Tau Gamma carried a story about three finalists for their White Rose crown. The delegates to their summer conclave would determine who would be their White Rose Sweetheart.

One of the nominees was Delta Sigma chapter's Nicole M. Shine, a junior at Northeast Missouri. She is a biology major maintaining a 3.9 overall grade point average.

Nicole is a Bright Flight Scholarship recipient, a member of Order of Omega and a National Merit Scholar. She was named Missouri's outstanding Delta Zeta. One of her professors at NMSU called her one of his top students in 30 years of teaching. He said "She reminds me of Joe DiMaggio going after a fly ball — you know it will be a great catch if he gets to it, but he makes it look so easy."

Well, I am happy to tell you that our Nicole Shine was named Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity's Diamond Anniversary White Rose Sweetheart on August 5 at their National Conclave in Washington, D. C.

Along the same line, I must tell you that Lambda Xis at Texas A&M are proud of their Sheila Payne, the reigning Miss

A press release from Florida informed us that Dana Morgan, Florida State University-AΣ '93, has been named the new Miss Florida Citrus and as such, becomes the industry's official national public relations representative. This full-time position will keep her on the road during most of the year, spreading news about Florida. To prepare for her exciting role, Dana traveled to New York City for three days of comprehensive media training with Hill and Knolton Advertising and Public Relations, along with two weeks of instruction at the Department of Citrus in Lakeland and the Florida Citrus Showcase in Auburndale. One of her most exciting appearances came in mid-August at the Pathmark Tennis Classic in Mahwah, New Jersey, with a week of work covered by ABC-TV and ESPN.

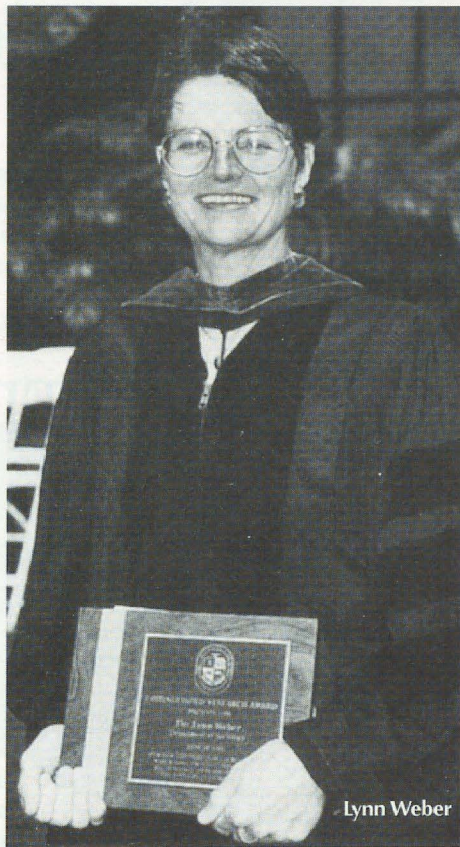

Hazel DuVal Buffmire, Northwestern-AA, sent a newsletter from the International Society of Poets. The annual convention issue, the newsletter announced that the world's finest poets are "again assembling in the United States Capital for the annual International Society of Poets Convention and Symposium."

Delta Zeta's Florence Henderson was the honored keynote speaker. Florence's speech was different and musical — certainly memorable. Nice of Hazel to share with Delta Zeta. Incidentally, Hazel's husband Wallace, a retired graphic arts teacher, has long been a critic of The LAMP. Hazel reported he rates us "A+"... and on that note, until next time.

WHERE WE GIVE

BHI

Television commercials show grandparents not hearing their grandchildren, but sometimes it's the other way around — the child doesn't hear the grandparent.

Presenters of the Delta Zeta-Better Hearing Institute Speaker's Bureau can now address the problems of both grandparents and grandchildren effectively with the use of two new BHI brochures. The brochures, free for all presentations made by the Delta Zeta-BHI Speaker's Bureau, include a 22-page booklet, Guide to Child's Hearing, and Your Guide to Better Hearing, a comprehensive adult guide on hearing for adults in every age group. The adult guide, a new edition printed this fall, is made possible through a grant from the Delta Zeta Foundation and the International Hearing Society.

The children's brochure, which covers birth to preteen years, is written for parents and is ideal for presentations to PTA groups and alumnae chapters. The adult brochure is geared for presentations at community adult groups and is appropriate for presentations at senior centers.

To order brochures for presentations, alumnae and collegiate chapter representatives should call Janice Little, Better Hearing Institute at 1-800-327-9355. When calling, have available an estimated number that may attend, and the date and location of the presentation. Better Hearing Institute will forward enough brochures for the presentation within 24 hours.

College and alumnae chapters interested in participating with the Speaker's Bureau may call 1-800-327-9355.

Gallaudet on the Net

Delta Zeta "net surfers" interested in learning more about Gallaudet University can now browse Gallaudet's Home Page at URL: (<http://www.gallaudet.edu>). The home page gives access to visitor information; surfers just click onto a campus map. The page also offers access to information on services, academics, entertainment and research information. News and information may include details on the upcoming dedication of the Delta Zeta Dance Studio.

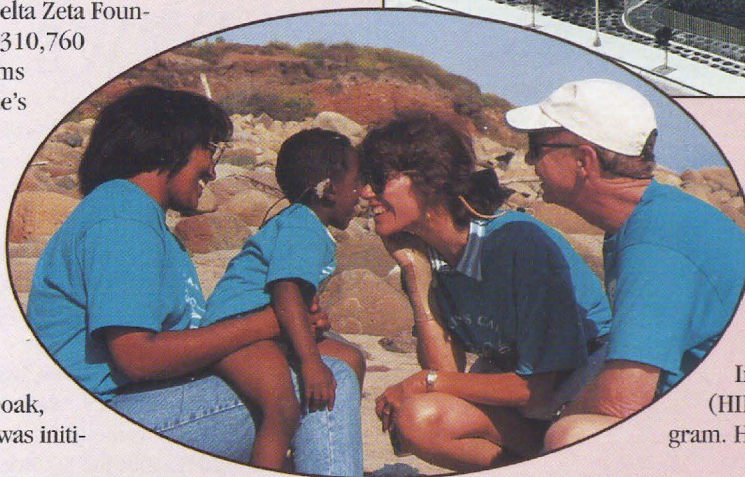

House Ear Institute Celebrates 50!

House Ear Institute is preparing for its biggest celebration yet — the 50th Anniversary. And, Delta Zetas nationwide are celebrating the sorority's 15-year affiliation with House Ear Institute — an internationally recognized hearing research and education center.

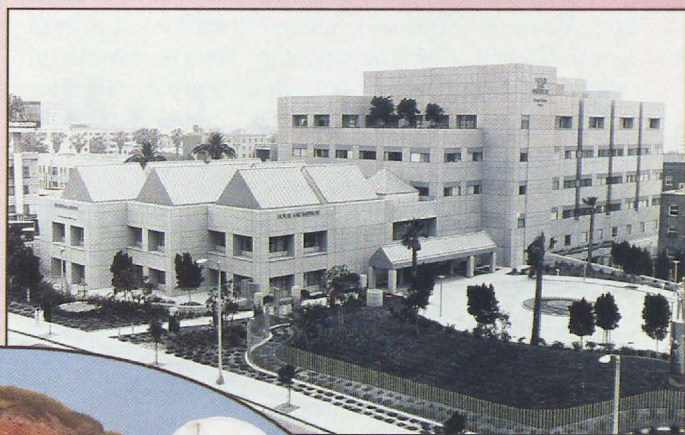

In Delta Zeta's 15-year association with the non-profit organization in Los Angeles, the Delta Zeta Foundation has contributed a total of $310,760 in support of the research programs and clinical services in the Institute's Children's Auditory Research and Evaluation (CARE) Center. When the Institute moved to its new facility in 1990, the Delta Zeta Foundation designated a portion of the money for a Family Conference Room.

But the relationship between Delta Zeta and House Ear Institute has gone beyond financial. Janet Doak, Institute Executive Vice President, was initiated into Delta Zeta, as were long-time institute supporters Nanette Fabray and Florence Henderson. June Stendahl House, wife of Dr. William House, was a 1985 Convention initiate.

The friendship between the organizations has grown as Delta Zeta collegians frequently volunteer at the Institute's outreach programs where they have an opportunity to interact with the deaf and hard-of-hearing community; and the Institute benefits from the involvement of caring Delta Zetas. The famed California Flame Fantasy events, celebrity fashion shows coordinated by alumnae and collegians, net thousands of dollars annually for the Institute, as does the yearly Turtle Tug sponsored by Loyola-Marymount collegians. Last year's event raised $1,000. And, it's not unusual to have House Ear Institute representatives on hand at the Delta Zeta events, says Dilys Jones, Associate Director of Public Relations, who has attended several Flame Fantasy events, including A Day at the Races, as well as Loyola-Marymount's Turtle Tug.

Top: The House Ear Institute and the House Ear Clinic have shared the same facility since 1990. Above: John W. House, M.D. (right) and his wife Barbara enjoy a moment with a young camper and his mother.

A number of Delta Zeta chapters across the country have become sponsors of the Institute's Hearing is Priceless (HIP) hearing conservation program. HIP educates the hearing population on the issues of noise pollution in the environment, the dangers of over exposure to loud sound, and hearing protection. A segment of the program is a school package containing teaching materials and student activities that may be purchased and introduced into local high schools.

The relationship between House Ear Institute and Delta Zeta began when the Foundation became aware of the pioneering work done in the Institute's Children's Center. The cochlear implant, a device that provides a sensation of sound to profoundly deaf people, was about to be tested in children. As Delta Zeta learned more about the mission and achievements of the Institute, it was designated as one of the Delta Zeta Foundation's national philanthropies.

House Ear Institute continues to work for better understanding of causes, cures and prevention of otologic and neurologic disorders, and to disseminate and apply the knowledge through professional education and training. Physicians and scientists at the Institute have developed surgical procedures to repair nerve problems and balance disorders; tested methods for early diagnosis of tumors growing on the auditory nerve; perfected infant and newborn hearing screening methods, and developed the workable, manufacturable cochlear implant. The Institute, long world famous for hearing research, garnered national attention when the Institute fitted Ronald Reagan with a hearing aid. Other celebrity patients included Bob Hope, Jimmy Stewart, Nancy Reagan and Buddy Ebsen.

Educational and networking programs sponsored by House Ear Institute include Family Camp, a three-day weekend retreat with educational workshops for hearing-impaired children and their parents; Safety Patrol, a program to educate hearing-impaired children on a variety of emergency issues; Summer Work Program, a full-time and part-time work program for hearing-impaired youth; and Teen Leadership Camps, a forum for teens to discuss issues they face growing up deaf or hard-of-hearing.

To learn more about House Ear Institute, chapters may order a videotape for $15, plus mailing, which provides a look and feel of the research being conducted at the facility. Write: House Ear Institute, Public Relations Department, 2100 West Third, Los Angeles, CA 90057.

WHY WE GIVE . . .

Something special happened at Delta Zeta's Omicron chapter at the University of Pittsburgh between 1923 and 1924. . . and we can't quite pinpoint what occurred.

Perhaps it was another visit from Maybelle Minton or when Omicron transformed from a "streetcar chapter" to an "apartment chapter." Whatever the spark, it kindled for nearly 75 years within the hearts of Helen Ruth Milar, 1923, and Vee Shakarian Toner, 1924.

Delta Zeta so touched their lives that each willed a considerable amount of her estate to the Delta Zeta Foundation. From these bequests, they are remembered as the first and second members of the Oxford Society, the Foundation's newest giving level.

Helen Milar, a life-long resident of the Pittsburgh-Carnegie area, remembered several individuals and charities in her will and "each meant something special." Helen, who taught Latin for many years in the Pittsburgh area schools, had a special affection for children, blind children in particular. Perhaps the Foundation's work with hearing-impaired children encouraged her gift.

Helen died at the age of 89 in March 1994. Little family was left, just a cousin aged 90. Highly educated, Helen held bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees from the University of Pittsburgh. After leaving teaching she enjoyed a second career as an executive secretary in the steel industry. Her avid interest in the stock market was more than a hobby—she followed the stock market daily—and made her own financial decisions. Once a prolific reader, when her eyesight began to dwindle she filled her apartment with radios — almost one in every room.

Why did Helen remember Delta Zeta so generously? Maybe it was the early years in Omicron, maybe the work with hearing-impaired children, maybe her Delta Zeta friends in the Pittsburgh area, maybe because most of her family preceded her in death.

Vee Toner, who also died in 1994, bequeathed a portion of her estate to the Vee Toner Loan Fund of the Delta Zeta Foundation. Vee, acclaimed for her participation in Olympic and AAU sports circles, had served the Foundation as vice-president, president pro-tem, and national endowment chairman. Many will remember the national convention in Scottsdale when Vee, with her signature dark tan, dark glasses and "rose" hat, manned the Rose Shop, encouraging purchases of notepads, pens and pencils — all to benefit Delta Zeta scholarships. She was Delta Zeta's Woman of the Year in 1969, the first woman named to the Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame and the first American woman to be named as a chair umpire at Wimbledon. Amidst her international travels, work with Pittsburgh altruistic groups, and sports obligations, she always found time for Delta Zeta and the Foundation. By careful estate planning, Vee's memory lives on to benefit Delta Zeta collegians.

To enroll in the Oxford Society, donors should send the Delta

Zeta Foundation at National Headquarters notice in writing that the Foundation has been named a beneficiary in an estate plan. Notification may be in letter form. Donors are encouraged, but not required, to disclose the exact or estimated size of the gift. New members of the Oxford Society will be listed each year in the Foundation's Annual Report, but the value of the gift will not be published.

In addition to providing generous support to the Foundation, estate gifts can benefit donors and heirs as well. Income, capital gains and estate taxes can be significantly reduced through careful estate planning.

The Foundation is looking for . . .

Delta Zeta attorneys, financial planners and estate planners to assist with the writing of a series of articles and brochures on estate planning and wills. If you'd like to volunteer to work on this joint project, please contact Gwen McKeeman, LAMP editor.

Foundation Trustees

If one Texas woman can govern a state, there's no doubt that two Texas women will make an impact on the future of the Delta Zeta Foundation — especially when it's Nancy Jones Holliman and Elsie Wheeler McTee, two of the Foundation's newest trustees.

Both are well-known in Texas altruistic circles and both are Alpha Taus and graduates of the University of Texas. Nancy, with a B.S. in mathematics, brings community service, sorority service and strong business credentials to the Foundation having served on the Board of Directors of the Houston Speech and Hearing Center, and as president of both Houston Alumnae chapter (two different two year terms) and Houston Junior Forum. She also served in four different vice presidential positions for Junior Forum, and as president of Houston Specialty Advertising Association. In her career, Nancy has taught math, worked as a mathematician for Shell Oil, co-owned Butterflies Cards and Gifts, and is owner of Harry E. Hones and Associates, a promotional advertising company. She is also Administrative Director of Quilts, Etc.

Nancy hopes to increase awareness of the Foundation to Delta Zetas of all ages to create a broader base of support and to become actively involved in the financial stability and forward direction of the Foundation.

A long time Delta Zeta leader, Nancy has worked on the local, state and province level and served on the national membership committee. A Houston Foundation scholarship is named in her honor, and she's a recipient of the Achoth Award. Nancy has two children, Michelle, a Delta Gamma at U.T., and Russell Scott.

Another Achoth winner, Elsie Wheeler McTee, has served Delta Zeta as president of three alumnae chapters, PAD of two provinces, house corporation president, national committee member, and, most recently, alumnae committee coordinator.

But she has room for much more in her life. For eight years, Elsie served as a trustee of the Corpus Christi Area Council for Deaf, having chaired the Board for two years and co-chaired the fund-raising celebrity dinner for five years. When she and husband Cliff recently moved from Corpus Christi, the Corpus Christi Area Council for Deaf named her an honorary trustee. Elsie served on the administrative board and finance committee of the First Methodist Church, as well as a consumer credit counselor for the local United Way agency. She also participated actively in the family business. Her degree is in journalism.

She and Cliff have three grown children and three grandchildren. Now living in San Antonio, Elsie and Cliff divide their time between their new home and their ranch, where she loves feeding the cattle, watching the wildlife, and entertaining friends and family.

Elsie encourages everyone to honor Delta Zeta sisters and friends with donations to the Foundation, and wishes that each Delta Zeta collegian and alumna would donate to the Foundation annually with monetary gifts and magazine subscriptions. "Just think of all the extra scholarships we could award if every Delta Zeta donated only the cost of a few soft drinks," she says.

*Amy Barta, ΓK
Marguerite Havens Scholarship Recipient*

Editor's Note: A decrease in availability of scholarship funds is anticipated this year due to a National Council decision on funding redistribution. All receipts from magazine sales will now go to the Andrisek Educational Fund rather than the general scholarship fund. If you choose to donate to the Scholarship Fund, designating the name of a particular scholarship or "Foundation Scholarship" on your contribution will ensure that your contribution goes to scholarships.

Two letters about collegiate success in philanthropy illustrate just how appreciated hard work and healthy donations are.

Cynthia Jacobsen, Ph.D., Children's Mercy Hospital, Kansas City, Missouri, writes:

"I would like to bring to your attention the excellent program "BMOC-Big Man on Campus" planned and conducted by the University of Missouri-Kansas City-ΞΦ chapter. The women of this chapter planned a fund-raising event to help hearing-impaired children. It involved a male talent contest and included door prizes, corporate sponsors for T-shirts and lots of fun. The women were very diligent at organizing the event to run smoothly. They had arranged scoring folders so that each talent round could be scored as soon as it was completed. I thoroughly enjoyed participating as a judge in the program. If there is chapter recognition for programs that help hearing-impaired individuals, I would certainly recommend the U.M.K.C. chapter."

Winfield McChord Jr., Executive Director of American School for the Deaf, West Hartford, Connecticut, writes:

"...to express my deep appreciation to the Delta Zeta Sorority at the University of Connecticut for its continuing support of the American School for the Deaf, and its recent gift of $416.69. Your gift this year will support our school's core academic and vocational education programs. These are the programs which set our school apart, and are so vital to the development of our students. The children at our school have benefitted for several years from the generosity of several Delta Zeta chapters. These contributions have been responsible for many remarkable achievements by them...."

Only two months earlier, Winfield McChord had written Joan Lowry to thank the Foundation for its $100 gift to the Early Childhood Program at the school.

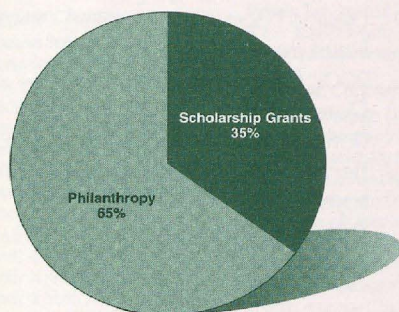

Mary Elsie Daisey, Executive Director of the Cued Speech Center, Inc., in Raleigh, North Carolina, also wrote to thank the Foundation for a $500 contribution for the purchase of a "much-needed portable audiometer for the preschool classrooms. An audiometer is a device which measures hearing through detection of various levels of tones. It helps deaf children prepare for hearing tests by focusing on auditory stimuli. Our teachers are especially excited about this instrument because it also promotes development of the child's residual hearing. We thank you for such an important gift."

Long Beach alumnae and Delta Alphas from CSU/Long Beach have had a networking year. Recently Katie Graham, AA, Corresponding Secretary, as a representative of Cutco Cutlery, made presentations to her alumnae sisters. One of them, Claire Peterson Abel, Miami-BN, purchased a set of cutlery which made her eligible for a cash drawing. Her name was drawn for the April sweepstakes of $1,000. Left, Claire Abel, right, Katie Graham.

It's About Philanthropy

BY DIANE JONES SKELTON

Morehead State-KT collegians Amanda McAllister and Christa Wooten visit a young patient at St. Claire Hospital.

ALABAMA

Alabama, Alpha Gamma—To help others and to raise funds for philanthropy, members participated in a blood drive and a canned food drive in the fall, and hosted a basketball tournament in the spring. The tournament raised funds for the U. of A. Speech and Hearing Center. The successful event offered a cash prize for the winning team, with remaining funds going to the campus speech and hearing center. The tournament was held in the Ferguson Student Center and received extensive coverage in the campus newspaper, The Crimson White. Creative members donated the balloons used in fall rush to pediatric patients at the local hospital. Alpha Gammas Christmas caroled at a local nursing home. Members walked more than six miles with Tuscaloosa residents in the March of Dimes Walk America. In the spring, Alpha Gamma sponsored a philanthropy Rock-a-thon, and assisted with the campus Easter egg hunt for faculty children.

Alabama-Huntsville, Lambda

Kappa—In the fall, the chapter's second annual Mr. Fraternity contest featured approximately 20 fraternity contestants vying for the title. Contestants were judged on activities, fraternity involvement, talent or interview and appearance. The project raised $250 through entrance fees and a coin drop. Proceeds went to help bring the Gallaudet dancers to Huntsville. Other activities included painting the home of an elderly woman, taking telephone pledges for Cerebral Palsy, and participating in a worldwide line-dancing fund-raiser, "Honk If You Love to Honky Tonk."

Auburn-Beta Xi—Members raised funds for Auburn's Speech and Hearing Clinic with the sale of "crush cans" to students and faculty. Those who received a can had to pay $1 to learn the identity of their secret admirer. In Beta Xi's efforts to get Julie Wilson elected as Sweetheart of Alpha Phi Omega, they volunteered to work at Special Olympics. Members who participated had such a wonderful time that the chapter volunteered to help organize the Track and Field Special Olympics with the fraternity in the spring.

Auburn-Montgomery, Lambda Nu—Jubilee Weekend is one of Montgomery's largest events, and this year Delta Zetas volunteered to attend to children at the event. The chapter also entertained the crowd with a skit on the last day of the festival. Members collected canned goods for a Montgomery area food bank, sponsored a Most Eligible Bachelor auction, and provided clothing and gifts for a retarded child at Christmas.

It's about caring ...

Iota Xi's Trischa Kneale works at the Deaconess Health System family picnic in St. Louis.

Samford, Alpha Pi—The chapter sponsored a hot apple cider and hot chocolate booth at fall carnival with all proceeds going to Samford summer missions. Several members served dinner to patrons at the Masquerade Ball benefiting the children's hospital. The chapter also assisted the Children's Hospital by decorating a Christmas tree for the Festival of Trees. In the spring, Alpha Pi sponsored a fund-raiser for the Gallaudet dancers. Community service included assisting with registration at the Birmingham Multiple Sclerosis Walk, volunteering for Spring Fling and participating in the Birmingham clean-up.

ARKANSAS

Arkansas State, Omicron Epsilon—The chapter won first-place honors in a philanthropy fund-raiser, Li'l Olympics; sponsored a highway clean-up, and participated in an AIDS walk-a-thon. For a Christmas philanthropy, members co-hosted a Christmas party with Alpha Gamma Delta. At the party, sorority women brought mittens or earmuffs for needy children, and the women enjoyed good food, good company, and having their pictures made with Santa.

Central Arkansas, Epsilon Xi

—The chapter's Valentine's Cookie Swap doubles as a philanthropy. Each member brings an extra dozen cookies which are donated to the Conway Human Development Center and the Haven House, a home for unwed mothers and abused women and children. Members also donated canned goods and toiletries to Haven House. Epsilon Xis helped raise $2,000 for the fight against AIDS, and accepted an appreciation plaque from RAIN for a financial contribution and for having the highest attendance at a play on AIDS awareness.

CALIFORNIA

California State-Chico, Delta Chi—Members gathered in the Free Speech area of campus for their annual teeter-totter-a-thon, which benefits the Sacramento Deaf Camp. Delta Chis also assisted with the Wildcat Wipeout graffiti clean-up of the city, and participated in a blood drive and in Greek Week's community challenge to raise money for Boys and Girls Club of Chico. The chapter adopted two families and provided food and gifts for Christmas. Delta Chis also answered letters to Santa from local school children, and prepared valentines for Enloe Hospital.

California State-Fresno,

Epsilon Epsilon—The chapter won the philanthropy competition and the overall competition for Greek Goddess.

California State-Fullerton,

Iota Upsilon—Members teamed with other C.S.U.F. Greeks to raise over $12,000 for philanthropy. Members also donated $500 to PUSH philanthropy, and participated in the blood drive and canned food drive. Several members volunteered at Acacia Elementary as part of the Adopt-a-School program. Delta Zetas participated in an all-Greek activity to assist the community. In the event, three bus-loads of Greeks were shuttled to designated areas. One group handed out snow cones and cotton candy at an event for disabled children and their families, while another painted over graffiti and picked up trash.

California State-Long

Beach, Delta Alpha—Family members, friends and community residents are all welcome to the chapter's annual pancake breakfast, a fund-raiser for philanthropy. The event is held at the house and provides a great opportunity to meet members' families.

California State-Los Angeles, Theta Rho—Pasadena Foothill alumnae prepared food for the chapter's International Dinner, which feeds friends, families and guests. Proceeds from the International Dinner go to House Ear Institute, Gallaudet, and Jerry's Kids. Nine members participated in a 10-K walk for AIDS, and the fall new member class helped clean up a local elementary school. Proceeds from a turkey raffle went to the L.A. Mission. Delta Zetas were featured in The University Times for their support and assistance in organizing the University Hill Community Association, an organization to prevent vandalism and keep the neighborhood clean.

Loyola Marymount, Xi

Omicron—Members have volunteered to form two full groups of leaders for the special games program on campus. Delta Zeta is the only sorority to provide that many volunteers. A barbecue, deejay and a tug-of-war over a pit of green Jell-O provided a fun-filled day for the chapter's Turtle Tug to benefit House Ear Institute. It took 150 boxes of Jell-O to prepare the "pit."

San Francisco, Xi

Lambda—Members teeter-tottered the day away as they earned money for speech and hearing impaired with the chapter's first ever teeter-totter marathon. The event built better sisterhood and earned the chapter campus recognition. Members also sponsored a spring Day of Play for homeless children.

COLORADO

Denver, Rho—The chapter's philanthropy volleyball tournament featured 11 teams and raised $2,000 for Gallaudet.

Delta Zeta on Campus

Always eager to get involved in philanthropic events, Rhos participated in many philanthropies with fraternities, including the Woodsmen's Ball benefiting the animal shelter, and another for a homeless shelter. The chapter sponsored a Valentine's Day philanthropy benefiting hearing-impaired children. Each child received special Valentine's Day cards and goody bags from Delta Zetas.

Northern Colorado, Delta Xi—Delta Zetas teamed with other Greeks in a bowling tournament for philanthropy. The one-day event raised $500. Delta Xis raised $2,900 for the Ronald McDonald House. The chapter combined sisterhood and philanthropy programming by first decorating Easter eggs, and then hiding the eggs for a hunt at the Boys and Girls Club. At Province Day, Stacie Smith led a workshop on sign language.

CONNECTICUT

Connecticut, Gamma Beta—Members enjoyed a philanthropy education program where they gathered at the chapter house to watch videos about Gallaudet and the hearing impaired. The program helped members understand how the money they donate is used. Delta Zeta placed second in "Penny Wars" by collecting the second largest number of pennies for philanthropy. Members also participated in Panhellenic Council's Jail-n-Bail to benefit the American Cancer Society. Delta Zeta's Jackie Ahnert won the Greek Goddess title during Greek Week when the chapter raised the most money for charity.

FLORIDA

Florida State, Alpha

Sigma—Collegians teamed with alumnae to make neo-natal nesters for a local hospital. The chapter teamed with a local fraternity and presented gifts and

Dean's Cup for philanthropy at the Second Annual Greek Awards Ceremony. Delta Delta placed second overall and raised $250 for Scottish Rite Children's Hospital; raised $750 with Delta Zeta Turtle Races for speech and hearing-impaired, and placed second in a volleyball tournament to benefit Egleston's Children's dinner to underprivileged children at Christmas.

Columbus College, Lambda

Pi—This spring the chapter sponsored its first ever Delta Zeta Classic to benefit Gallaudet. The event is a four-man scramble gold tournament, this year held at Bull Creek Golf Club. Local businesses donated money and prizes; the chapter plans to make the tournament an annual event. Members also participated in a cancer walk.

Georgia State, Delta

Delta—Delta Zeta won the Hospital. Members also participated in the AIDS Walk, and teamed with other Greeks in a community clean-up of elementary schools and high schools. Junior Panhellenic members sponsored a canned food drive.

North Georgia, Xi Xi—

Members placed first in competition for People Understanding the Severely Handicapped (PUSH), a national fraternity philanthropy, and participated in the American Red Cross Blood Drive. Members spent an entire day with cotton balls in their ears in an attempt to relate to people with hearing disabilities. They raised $200 for speech and hearing-impaired with a roadblock fund-raiser on campus. Xi Xi donated magazine subscriptions to the campus library and to the Lumpkin County Head Start Program. They participated in various Greek philanthropy benefits including a softball tournament, Derby Days and an aerobic-a-thon.
